J.P.Morgan

Joint Bookrunner

The date of this Prospectus is 7 July 2016

This Prospectus relates to the offering of up to 29,913,479 new ordinary shares of the Company (the “New Ordinary Shares”), each with a nominal value of €2.00, pursuant to a capital increase through a rights offering (the “Offering”) approved by the Company’s general shareholders’ meeting of 21 April 2016 and the Board of Directors on 6 July 2016, for a total nominal amount of €59,826,958 and a total subscription amount of €147,174,316.68, with possibility of incomplete subscription.

Subject to the terms and conditions set out herein, the Company is granting transferable subscription rights (“Preferential Subscription Rights”) to holders of the Company’s ordinary shares (the “Existing Ordinary Shares”) who acquire their shares up to 8 July 2016 and whose transactions are settled up to 13 July 2016 in the Spanish securities clearance and settlement system (Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores, S.A.U.) (“Iberclear”) (the “Eligible Shareholders”). Each Existing Ordinary Share held by the Eligible Shareholders entitles its holder to receive one Preferential Subscription Right. The exercise of 91 Preferential Subscription Rights entitles the relevant Eligible Shareholder to subscribe for 45 New Ordinary Shares in exchange for payment of a subscription price of €4.92 per New Ordinary Share, which is referred to as the “Subscription Price”.

The preferential subscription period will commence on the calendar day following the announcement of the Offering in the Spanish Commercial Registry Official Gazette (Boletín Oficial del Registro Mercantil or “BORME”) and will last up to and including the fifteenth calendar day thereafter. During the preferential subscription period the Eligible Shareholders will be able to sell all or part of their Preferential Subscription Rights if they decide not to subscribe, or to subscribe in part, for New Ordinary Shares, subject to any applicable restrictions on transfer described in this Prospectus. In addition, other investors apart from the Eligible Shareholders may acquire Preferential Subscription Rights in the market in the required proportion and subscribe for the corresponding New Ordinary Shares. Eligible Shareholders and other investors that may acquire Preferential Subscription Rights may also subscribe for additional New Ordinary Shares during the additional allocation period, as described in this Prospectus. Preferential Subscription Rights not exercised within the preferential subscription period will expire without value or any payment to the holders of Preferential Subscription Rights who have decided not to exercise or sell them. Assuming the New Ordinary Shares are fully subscribed, they will represent approximately 33.04% of the Company’s issued and paid up share capital following the Offering.

The Existing Ordinary Shares are listed on the Madrid, Barcelona, Bilbao and Valencia stock exchanges (the “Spanish Stock Exchanges”) and are quoted through the Automated Quotation System (SIBE - Sistema de Interconexión Bursátil or Mercado Continuo) of the Spanish Stock Exchanges. Application will be made to list the New Ordinary Shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges and to have the New Ordinary Shares quoted through the SIBE (“Admission”). The Company expects the New Ordinary Shares to be listed and quoted on the Spanish Stock Exchanges on or about 3 August 2016. On 6 July 2016, the last reported sale price of the Existing Ordinary Shares was €7.89 per Existing Ordinary Share.

The Company has entered into an underwriting agreement with J.P. Morgan Securities plc and Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc as joint global coordinators and joint bookrunners (the “Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners”) together with Fidentiis Equities, Sociedad de Valores, S.A. acting as Joint Bookrunner, and together with the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, the “Managers”) in connection with the Offering (the “Underwriting Agreement”). The Managers will seek to place any New Ordinary Shares that are not subscribed for during the preferential subscription period or the additional allocation period to the extent described herein with qualified institutional investors during a discretionary allocation period, and any such underwritten New Ordinary Shares that remain unsold after such discretionary allocation period will, subject to the terms of the Underwriting Agreement, be acquired by the Managers at the Subscription Price.

The New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or with any securities regulatory authority of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States, and may not be exercised (with respect to the Preferential Subscription Rights), offered, sold, subscribed for, pledged or otherwise transferred except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and in compliance with any applicable state securities laws. Accordingly, the Preferential Subscription Rights may only be exercised (i) within the United States by ‘qualified institutional buyers’ (“QIBs”) (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act (“Rule 144A”)) in reliance on Section 4(a)(2) under the Securities Act who have executed and timely returned an investor letter to the Company in the form set forth in Annex A to this Prospectus, or (ii) outside the United States in offshore transactions (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act (“Regulation S”)) in reliance on Regulation S.

The New Ordinary Shares are expected to be delivered through the book entry facilities of the Spanish securities, clearance and settlement system Iberclear, subject to payment, on or about 2 August 2016 (with respect to New Ordinary Shares subscribed during the preferential subscription period and additional allocation period) and on or about 5 August 2016 (with respect to New Ordinary Shares placed during the discretionary allocation period).

Investing in the Preferential Subscription Rights or the New Ordinary Shares involves risk. See Risk Factors beginning on page 30 of this Prospectus.

In addition, the Managers may arrange for New Ordinary Shares not taken up in the preferential subscription period or the additional allocation period to be offered and sold (i) within the United States only to persons they reasonably believe are QIBs in reliance on Rule 144A or another exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act, or (ii) outside the United States in offshore transactions (as defined in Regulation S) in reliance on Regulation S. For a description of these and certain further restrictions on the offering, sale, exercise or transfer of the Preferential Subscription Rights and the New Ordinary Shares, see Part XV ("The Offering"). In connection with each Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity (i) the Investment Manager shall offer to the Anchor Investor Entity the stake in such investment that would have remained available to the Investment Manager (and not to third parties) after deducting (a) any stake in such investment that the Company accepts from the Investment Manager and which is offered to it pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, and (b) any stake in such investment that the Investment Manager chooses to retain for itself; and (ii) the Anchor Investor Entity shall have the right to participate in the stake offered to it by the Investment Manager (but not less than such stake) in the relevant Residential Property Investment.

Reciprocity obligations of Anchor Investor and right of first offer of Investment Manager

The Anchor Investor has agreed not to compete, directly or through any member of the Anchor Investor Group, with the Company or with the Investment Manager in competitive processes (including offerings for sale or tenure through an expression of interest, public lot draws, public auctions, requests for offers to purchase or requests for proposals) in respect of Commercial Property Investments and Residential Property Investments in Spain, but rather partner with the Company and the Investment Manager, as applicable, subject to certain exceptions if the Anchor Investor believes in good faith that a co-investment with the Company or the Investment Manager is impossible or inadvisable.

In addition, the Anchor Investor has agreed to provide the Investment Manager with a right of first offer to participate together with the Anchor Investor or an Anchor Investor Entity in any co-investment opportunity in respect of any Commercial Property Investment or Residential Property Investment (in each case only where management services of the type set out in the Investment Manager Agreement are expected to be provided in relation to such opportunity) which is being considered by the Anchor Investor Group in Spain (each, an “Anchor Investor Co-investment Opportunity”). In connection with each Anchor Investor Co-investment Opportunity, the Anchor Investor shall offer to the Investment Manager the stake in respect of which it is seeking a co-investor, subject to certain exceptions if the Anchor Investor believes in good faith that a co-investment with the Investment Manager or the Company (if applicable) is not possible or not advisable.

Regulatory Restrictions

As of the date of this Prospectus, the Company complies with the investment criteria and the dividend distribution requirements set forth under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime.

Applicant's Service Providers

Investment Manager Agreement

Pursuant to the agreement entered into between the Company, as managed entity, and the Investment Manager, as investment manager, on 12 February 2014 (the “Investment Manager Agreement”), the Investment Manager has been appointed on an exclusive basis to, among other responsibilities: (i) acquire real estate properties on behalf and for the account of the Company using the Company's cash assets and manage the property and property-related assets of the Company, pursuant to and in accordance with the Investment Strategy and to enter into any agreement, contract, transaction or arrangement in relation to the purchase, acquisition, holding, exchange, transfer, sale or disposal of any property or property-related investment in Spain and has full authority to bind the Company in connection therewith and to delegate such authority; (ii) provide or procure the provision of various accounting, administrative, registration, reporting (including assistance and cooperation for due reporting by the Company to the CNMV), record keeping and other services to the Company as the Company may from time to time reasonably require including, without limitation, the preparation and submission to the Company of a report for review at any periodic meeting of the Board of Directors; (iii) act as the Company's agent in the performance of the services under, and the conduct of material contractual dealings pursuant to, and in accordance with, the Investment Manager Agreement (subject to certain reserved matters described in this Prospectus); (iv) carry out all actions required to provide the management services to be provided by the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement; and (v) structure all investments in a manner which allows the Company to comply with the Spanish SOCIMI Regime requirements.

Management fees

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is entitled to receive a base fee (the “Base Fee”) and a performance fee (the “Performance Fee”) to the extent it becomes payable in accordance with the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement. The Investment Manager is also entitled to additional fees to be agreed with the Company in respect of the provision of any additional agreed services. To the extent such services are provided in respect of assets jointly owned by the Company and others, the Company shall only be responsible for the payment of its pro rata share of the resulting fees. Fees that fall due and payable to the Investment Manager are not subject to reduction or clawback due to any subsequent decrease that may occur in the net asset value of the Company adjusted to include properties and other investment interests at fair value and to exclude certain items not expected to crystallise in a long-term investment property business in accordance with guidelines issued by the European Public Real Estate Association (December 2014 version only, unless otherwise agreed between the Company and the Investment Manager) (“EPRA NAV”) of the Company.

Payment of the Performance Fee is dependent on performance exceeding an annual hurdle and it is also subject to an annual high-water mark, each as described in greater detail below.

Section B—Issuer

Base Fee and expenses

The Base Fee is paid to the Investment Manager monthly in arrears in cash. The Base Fee in respect of each month is calculated by reference to 1.25% per annum of the EPRA NAV (excluding net cash (cash minus debt)) as of the prior 31 December. The EPRA NAV as of 31 December 2013 was deemed to be equal to the net proceeds of the Company's initial public offering (the "Initial EPRA NAV"). The EPRA NAV as of 31 December 2014 was €389,962,000 and as of 31 December 2015 was €577,970,000.

Performance Fee

The Performance Fee has been designed to incentivise and reward the Investment Manager for generating returns to the shareholders of the Company. The return to shareholders for a given year is equivalent to the sum of (a) the change in the EPRA NAV of the Company during such year less the net proceeds of any issues of ordinary shares during such year; and (b) the total dividends (or any other form of remuneration or distribution to the shareholders) that are paid in such year (the result of the addition of (a) and (b), the "Shareholder Return"). The "Shareholder Return Rate" is the Shareholder Return for a given year divided by the EPRA NAV of the Company as of 31 December of the immediately preceding year.

The "Relevant High Water Mark" at any time is the higher of (i) the Initial EPRA NAV, and (ii) the EPRA NAV on 31 December (adjusted to include total dividends paid during that year and exclude the net proceeds of any issuance of ordinary shares during that year) of the most recent year in respect of which a Performance Fee was payable.

The Performance Fee is due in respect of a given year if both of two key hurdles are met:

- (a) the Shareholder Return Rate for such year exceeds 10% (the amount in euro by which the Shareholder Return for the year exceeds the Shareholder Return that would have produced a 10% Shareholder Return Rate being the "Shareholder Return Outperformance" and the extent of the Shareholder Return Rate above 10% being "Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate"); and
- (b) the sum of (A) the EPRA NAV of the Company on 31 December of such year and (B) the total dividends (or any other form of remuneration or distribution to the shareholders) that are paid in such year or in any preceding year since the most recent year in respect of which a Performance Fee was payable exceeds the Relevant High Water Mark (the amount by which such sum exceeds the Relevant High Water Mark being the "High Water Mark Outperformance").

If the above hurdles are met, the Performance Fee in respect of such year will be a "promote" equal to the lesser of (x) 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance and (y) 20% of the High Water Mark Outperformance (the "Promote").

Furthermore, in respect of a year in which the Performance Fee is payable and is based on Shareholder Return Outperformance, the Performance Fee will also include a "promote equalization" feature (the "Promote Equalization"), once a Shareholder Return Rate of 12% has been achieved, and it will apply only until a Shareholder Return Rate of 22% is achieved. The Promote Equalization feature entitles the Investment

Manager to receive an additional 20% of the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance that reflects a Shareholder Return Rate of between 12% and 22%. Above 22% only the Promote will continue to apply. The Promote Equalization is intended to allow the Investment Manager to earn fees up to a maximum equivalent to 20% on the first 10% of the Shareholder Return for such year, which would not otherwise be payable.

The Performance Fee is calculated annually as of 31 December of each fiscal year, expressed in euros. Subject to certain limited exceptions, the Performance Fee will be paid in cash and the Investment Manager must use such cash (after deduction of corporate income tax and any other taxes applicable thereto) to subscribe for or acquire ordinary shares (the “Performance Fee Shares”). Any such payment will not be considered net proceeds of any issues of ordinary shares for purposes of calculating Shareholder Return. Subject to certain customary exceptions, the Performance Fee Shares will be subject to a three-year lock-up.

Through the date of this Prospectus the Investment Manager has received the following fees from the Company:

Concept	Amount 2014	Amount 2015	Amount 1Q 2016
	(in thousands of €)
Base Fee ⁽¹⁾	€2,083	€3,883	€1,505

(1) Before deduction of any taxes applicable thereto.

Property Appraisers

Valuations of the Company’s real estate assets are made (i) as at 30 June in each year through an external desktop valuation (i.e., a limited valuation which does not involve a physical inspection of property and which is intended to update the previous 31 December valuation incorporating significant changes that may have taken place in the market conditions and/or within the relevant assets (i.e., leases, capital expenditures investments or legal liabilities)) and (ii) as at 31 December in each year through a physical valuation, in both cases performed by a suitable qualified RICS accredited appraiser to be appointed by the Audit and Control Committee. The first external valuation took place on 31 December 2014. Valuations of the Company’s real estate assets are made in accordance with the appropriate sections of the RICS Red Book at the date of valuation. B.4a	A description of the most significant recent trends affecting the issuer and the industries in which it operates:	The impact of the international credit crisis, the European sovereign debt crisis and the domestic economic crisis since 2007 on the Spanish property market has been considerable, leading to a strong cyclical downturn and structural re-pricing of real estate assets. Since peaking in 2007, the Spanish commercial property market has seen a severe decline in the value of real estate assets, with the capital values of real estate assets in Madrid falling by approximately 29.2% in offices, 42.0% in retail and 43.4% in industrial from 2007 to 31 March 2016 (Source: CBRE, Q1 2016). Rental levels have also adjusted sharply since 2007. The average rent price per square metre of an office in Madrid and Barcelona has decreased by 33.1% and 25.5%, respectively, from 2007 to 31 March 2016, 39.1% and 10.0%, respectively, for retail and 41.2% and 27.1%, respectively, for industrial (Source: CBRE, Q1 2016). Real estate transaction activity was also significantly and adversely affected by the economic downturn, with commercial investment volumes dropping from almost €13.6 billion in 2007 to about €2.9 billion in 2013, with a partial recovery in 2014 (€7.8 billion) and higher volumes reached in 2015 (€8.8 billion) (Source: Real Capital Analytics / Knight Frank, March 2016). Since the start of the credit crisis in mid-2007, the number of banks advancing new loans for the purchase of Spanish commercial property has fallen substantially and that decline, together with a tightening of lending policies by financial institutions, resulted in a significant contraction in the amount of debt available to fund real estate investments mainly until 2014. From 2008 to 2013, the Spanish commercial real estate market contracted in terms of volume to the point that deal activity consisted of a limited number of relatively small scale transactions each year and there was no longer a fully functioning investment market. This negative trend has reverted since 2014. The lack of transactions during the 2008-2013 period was due to a number of factors including an overhang of excess supply, the absence of bank funding and deleveraging by foreign and domestic banks. Another key factor was the fact that the Spanish commercial real estate investment market was historically dominated by domestic participants who by the start of the credit crisis were holding a substantial amount of highly leveraged syndicated real estate investments. As asset values declined, the equity value within a vast number of those investments was eliminated, creating unsustainable leverage ratios and consequently leaving debt providers with significant exposure to impaired loans secured by commercial real estate assets. This ultimately led to the transfer of a significant portion of the Spanish banking system's real estate exposure to the Spanish Company for the SAREB.

C.4	A description of the rights attached to the securities:	When issued, the New Ordinary Shares will rank pari passu with the Existing Ordinary Shares, including in respect of the right to receive dividends approved by the shareholders after the date on which ownership of such New Ordinary Shares is registered in the book-entry registries of the Spanish securities, clearance and settlement system (Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores, S.A.U.) (“Iberclear”), which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to take place on 2 August 2016. The ordinary shares of the Company grant their owners the rights set forth in the By-Laws and under Spanish Companies Act, such as, among others, (i) the right to attend general shareholders’ meetings of the Company with the right to speak and vote, (ii) the right to dividends proportional to their paid-up shareholding in the Company, (iii) the pre-emptive right to subscribe for newly-issued ordinary shares in capital increases with cash contributions, and (iv) the right to any remaining assets in proportion to their respective shareholdings upon liquidation of the Company.
C.5	Restrictions on the free transferability of the securities:	Under Spanish law, the Company may not impose restrictions on the free transferability of its ordinary shares in its By-Laws. However, the By-Laws contain indemnity obligations from Substantial Shareholders in favour of the Company designed to discourage the possibility that dividends may become payable to Substantial Shareholders. If a dividend payment is made to a Substantial Shareholder, the Company will be entitled to deduct an amount equivalent to the tax expenses incurred by the Company on such dividend payment from the amount to be paid to such Substantial Shareholder. In addition, the By-Laws contain certain information obligations with respect to shareholders or beneficial owners of ordinary shares who are subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans (such as ERISA). Furthermore, according to the By-Laws, the Company will be able to take any measures it deems appropriate to avoid any adverse effects to the Company or its shareholders resulting from the application of laws and regulation relating to pension funds or benefit plans (in particular, ERISA). The purpose of these provisions is to provide the Company with the ability to minimize the risk that Benefit Plan Investors (or other similar investors) hold 25% or greater of any class of equity interest in the Company. The acquisition, exercise and holding of Preferential Subscription Rights and ordinary shares by an investor may also be affected by the law or regulatory requirements of its own jurisdiction, which may include restrictions on the free transferability of such securities. Investors should consult their own advisors prior to an investment in the Preferential Subscription Rights or the ordinary shares. Additionally, the Company and the Investment Manager have assumed certain lock-up undertakings described in section E.5 of this Summary.

2. PART II: RISK FACTORS

Any investment in the New Ordinary Shares and/or the Preferential Subscription Rights is subject to a number of risks. Accordingly, prior to making any investment decision, shareholders and prospective investors should carefully consider all the information contained in this Prospectus and, in particular, the risk factors described below.

This Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. See “Forward looking statements” in Part VIII (“Important Information”) of this Prospectus. The Company’s actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the risks faced by the Company described below and elsewhere in this Prospectus.

Shareholders and prospective investors should note that the risks relating to the Company, its industry (being mainly the commercial real estate market in Spain), the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights summarised in the section of this Prospectus headed Part I (“Summary”) are the risks that the Company believes to be the most essential to an assessment by a shareholder or a prospective investor of whether to consider an investment in the New Ordinary Shares and/or the Preferential Subscription Rights. However, as the risks that the Company faces relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future, shareholders and prospective investors should consider not only the information on the key risks summarised in the section of this Prospectus headed Part I (“Summary”) but also, among other things, the entire description of such risks described below in this section.

The Board of Directors of the Company considers the following risks to be material for shareholders and prospective investors in the Company. However, the following is not an exhaustive list or explanation of all risks that shareholders and prospective investors may face when making an investment in the New Ordinary Shares and/or the Preferential Subscription Rights and should be used as guidance only. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Board, or that the Board currently deems immaterial, may also have an adverse effect on the Company’s financial condition, business, prospects and/or results of operations. In such case, the market price of the New Ordinary Shares and/or the Preferential Subscription Rights could decline and shareholders and prospective investors may lose all or part of their investment.

Shareholders and prospective investors should consider carefully whether an investment in the New Ordinary Shares and/or the Preferential Subscription Rights is suitable for them in light of the information in this Prospectus and their personal circumstances. If shareholders or prospective investors are in any doubt about any action they should take, they should consult a competent independent professional advisor who specialises in advising on the acquisition of listed securities. The order in which risks are presented is not necessarily an indication of the likelihood of the risks actually materialising, of the potential significance of the risks or of the scope of any potential harm to the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Shareholders and prospective investors should read this section in conjunction with this entire Prospectus.

2.1 Risks inherent to investing in a recently formed company

The limited operating history and the management structure of the Company may make evaluating an investment in the Company and, therefore, in the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights, difficult

The Company was recently formed, has a limited operating history and limited financial information, and the Company’s performance relies, among other things, on the expertise of an external Investment Manager. These factors may make evaluating an investment in the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights difficult. As a result, institutional and qualified investors may be more capable than other investors of understanding an investment in the Company or in securities issued by the Company and the risks involved therewith, and, in any event, consultation with financial, legal and tax advisors is strongly recommended in order to assess any such potential investment.

The Company has limited available financial information, so investors in the Company will have limited data to assist them in evaluating the prospects of the Company and the related merits of an investment in the Company

The Company was formed on 17 January 2014 and acquired most of the properties currently comprising its Portfolio (as defined herein) after 30 June 2014. As a result, the Company has a limited operating history with its current assets and liabilities and limited representative consolidated historical information on which you can evaluate the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects and the related merits of an investment in the Company.

Moreover, the financial information included in or incorporated by reference to this Prospectus is not intended to comply with the reporting requirements of the US Securities and Exchange Commission. Compliance with such requirements would generally require the presentation of pro forma financial information giving effect to certain significant acquisitions made by the Company. While the Prospectus includes information on the properties currently comprising the Company's Portfolio in section 5 of Part X ("Information on the Company"), including the purchase price, and valuation information on each property is included in the Valuation Reports (as defined herein), there is limited financial information in respect of the revenues and expenses generated by certain of the Company's properties.

Furthermore, any investment in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights will be subject to all of the risks and uncertainties associated with a recently formed business, including without limitation the risk that the Company cannot implement its Business Strategy (as defined herein) or achieve its objectives and that the value of the assets of the Company, and of the ordinary shares, could substantially decline.

2.2 Risks relating to the management structure of the Company and the Investment Manager Agreement

The Company is reliant on the performance of the Investment Manager and the expertise of the Management Team

The investment manager agreement entered into by the Company and Grupo Lar Inversiones Inmobiliarias, S.A. ("Grupo Lar" or the "Investment Manager") on 12 February 2014 (the "Investment Manager Agreement") sets forth the management structure of the Company, the procedure to be followed by the Company in order to carry out acquisitions and the mechanics for the estimation of the accrual of management fees to be paid by the Company to Grupo Lar. The Company's Portfolio is externally managed by the Investment Manager and the Company relies on the Investment Manager, and the experience, skill and judgment of the management team appointed by the Investment Manager which currently comprises Mr. Luis Pereda, Mr. Miguel Pereda, Mr. Jorge Pérez de Leza, Mr. Miguel Ángel González, Mr. Arturo Perales and Mr. José Manuel Llovet (together, the "Management Team"), to implement its Business Strategy, which includes the management of the Company's Portfolio and the identification, selection, and negotiation of suitable acquisitions and dispositions of properties and ultimately on its ability to create a property portfolio capable of generating shareholder returns through a rental business.

In addition, the Company is reliant on the Investment Manager to manage the Company's properties on behalf of the Company and to provide or procure the provision of various accounting, administrative, registration, reporting (including the provision of assistance and cooperation for reporting by the Company to the CNMV), record keeping and other services to the Company. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be successful in achieving the Company's objectives.

Moreover, the ability of the Company to achieve its objectives is significantly dependent upon the expertise and operating skills of the Management Team. The departure for any reason of a member of the Management Team could have an adverse impact on the ability of the Investment Manager to achieve the objectives set forth in the Company's Business Strategy. Any member(s) of the Management Team could become unavailable due, for example, to death or incapacity, as well as due to resignation. In the event of such departure or unavailability of any member of the Management Team, there can be no guarantee that the Investment Manager would be able to find and attract other individuals with similar levels of expertise and experience in the Spanish commercial property market or similar relationships with commercial real estate lenders, property funds and other market participants in Spain. The loss of any member of the Management Team could also result in lost business relationships and reputational damage for the Company and, in particular, if any member of the Management Team transfers to a competitor this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's competitive position within the Spanish commercial real estate market. If alternative personnel are found, it may take time for the transition of those persons to the Investment Manager and the transition might be costly and ultimately might not be successful. The departure of any member of the Management Team without timely and adequate replacement of such person by the Investment Manager may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Investment Manager is also responsible for carrying out the day-to-day management and administration of the Company's affairs and, therefore, any disruption to the services of the Investment Manager (whether due to termination of the Investment Manager Agreement or otherwise) could cause a significant disruption to the Company's operations until a suitable replacement is found.

The Company is also dependent on the Investment Manager's ability to procure and maintain access to the asset management operations of Grupo Lar, as well as systems and other supporting functions, and to retain the services of the members of the Management Team (and any support staff to the extent it employs support staff directly). As the Company and the Investment Manager rely on the asset management operation of Grupo Lar, the Company is also dependent on the ability of Grupo Lar to attract and retain the services of suitable property, financial and support staff.

The Investment Manager Agreement, has an initial term of five years from the date on which the Company's ordinary shares were initially admitted to trading on the Spanish Stock Exchanges (i.e. 5 March 2014) and thereafter will continue for consecutive three-year periods, unless terminated by either party in accordance with the terms further described in section 11.1 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information") of this Prospectus. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager Agreement will be renewed at the end of the initial five-year term or any subsequent three-year term. Furthermore, in limited circumstances the Investment Manager may terminate the Investment Manager Agreement upon notice in writing to the Company. Upon expiry or termination (whether in accordance with its terms or otherwise) of the Investment Manager Agreement, there is no assurance that an agreement with a new investment manager can be entered into on similar terms or on a timely basis or that suitable personnel can be hired by the Company to internalize operations. Any entry into an agreement with less favourable terms or the replacement of the Investment Manager (whether on a timely basis or not) or the internalisation by the Company of operations performed by the Investment Manager may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company has entered into an Investment Management Agreement whereby functions normally exercised by the board or other corporate bodies of listed companies are carried out by the Investment Manager, except where such functions are considered expressly reserved for approval by the Board

The Company has entered into an Investment Management Agreement whereby functions normally exercised by the board or other corporate bodies of listed companies are carried out by the Investment Manager, except where such functions are considered expressly reserved for approval by the Board. See section 11.1 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information") for information on matters reserved to the Board. Such a structure is normally found in collective investment schemes or investment funds but the regulations applicable to these types of entities do not apply to the Company. In particular, even if certain changes affecting Mr. Luis Pereda and Mr. Miguel Pereda (the "Key Persons") or their positions as directors in the Investment Manager may trigger termination events under the Investment

Manager Agreement, changes or alterations in the shareholding of the Investment Manager would not trigger an obligation to launch a public tender offer.

Actions taken by the Investment Manager may adversely affect the Company and the Company may not be able to terminate the Investment Manager Agreement at its discretion

There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager, which can exert substantial discretion over the services it provides to the Company under the Investment Manager Agreement, including the appointment of the Management Team, will be successful in advancing the Company's interests or that its actions or any failure to act will not adversely affect the Company's interests. For example, the Company has no control over the personnel of or used by the Investment Manager. If any such personnel were to do anything or be alleged to do anything that may be the subject of public criticism or other negative publicity or may lead to investigation, litigation or sanction, this may have an adverse impact on the Company by association, even if the criticism or publicity is factually inaccurate or unfounded and notwithstanding that the Company may have no involvement with, or control over, the relevant act or alleged act. Any damage to the reputation of the personnel of the Investment Manager could result in potential counterparties and other third parties such as tenants, joint venture partners, lenders or developers being unwilling to deal with the Investment Manager and/or the Company. This may have a material adverse effect on the ability of the Company to successfully pursue its Business Strategy and may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Prior to expiration of its initial term of five years or any of the subsequent consecutive three-year periods, if any, the Company may terminate the Investment Manager Agreement only in limited circumstances, including, among other things, if the Investment Manager is in breach of a material term of the Investment Manager Agreement. Additionally, the Investment Manager Agreement does not provide for termination in the event of a change of control in the Company, even if it is pursuant to a takeover bid. This could discourage other persons from attempting to acquire control of the Company or launching a takeover bid over its ordinary shares, even if such acquisition could be beneficial to the Company's shareholders, which could have a negative effect on the market value of the ordinary shares of the Company. See section 11.1 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information") for details on the Company's termination rights under the Investment Manager Agreement.

The past performance of the Management Team and the Investment Manager is not a guarantee of the future performance of the Company

The Company is a recently created entity reliant on the Investment Manager and the Management Team to identify and manage investments in order to create value for shareholders. However, the past performance of the Management Team and the Investment Manager is not indicative, or intended to be indicative, of the future performance or results of the Company. The investment objectives, fee arrangements, structure (including for tax purposes), terms, leverage, performance targets, market conditions and investment horizons used or prevailing in connection with acquisitions made in the past by the Investment Manager on its behalf may not be comparable to the conditions and circumstances faced by the Investment Manager when providing its services to the Company under the Investment Manager Agreement. All of these factors can affect returns and impact the usefulness of performance comparisons and, as a result, none of the publicly available historical information relating to the Investment Manager is directly comparable to the Company's business or the returns which the Company may generate. In addition, the previous experience of the Management Team and companies and ventures advised and/or operated by members of the Management Team may not be directly comparable with the Company's experience or performance.

The Investment Manager may fail to retain the Key Persons or to identify suitable replacement members

The successful implementation of the Business Strategy of the Company depends mainly on the availability of the Key Persons. Thus, if for any reason the Investment Manager is unable to retain the Key Persons as part of the Management Team, the Company's Business Strategy, and therefore its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected. In addition, the Company will have the ability to terminate the Investment Manager Agreement if either of the Key Persons ceases to be a member of the Management Team only in certain limited circumstances. See section 11.1 of Part XVIII (“Additional Information”) of this Prospectus for additional details on the Investment Manager’s obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement with respect to the Key Persons.

Moreover, the Investment Manager may fail to identify a replacement member for the Management Team if one of the Key Persons ceases to be significantly or materially involved in the delivery of the services provided for under the Investment Manager Agreement. In such case, the Company’s Business Strategy, and therefore its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may also be adversely affected.

There may be circumstances where the Investment Manager has a conflict of interest with the Company

There may be circumstances in which the Investment Manager has, directly or indirectly, a material interest in a transaction being considered by the Company or a conflict of interest with the Company. Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager has agreed that, during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement, it will not, and it will require that none of the Investment Manager Affiliates (as defined herein) will (i) acquire or invest (on its own behalf or on behalf of third parties or through joint venture agreements) in Commercial Property (as defined herein) in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy (as defined herein) of the Company or (ii) act as investment manager, investment adviser or agent, or provide administration, investment management or other services, for any person, entity, body corporate or client other than the Company, for Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company subject to limited exceptions. For more information on these exceptions and the aforementioned undertakings, see section 11 of Part XVIII (“Additional Information”) of this Prospectus. Beyond the scope of this exclusivity agreement, the Company expects that there will be conflicts of interest among the Investment Manager and the Company. These conflicts may include:

- Investment terms: in instances where the Company carries out a joint venture with the Investment Manager, the Investment Manager may control the structure and terms of the transaction;
- Shared legal counsel: the Company and the Investment Manager will generally engage common legal counsel in transactions in which both are participating, including transactions in which they may have conflicting interests; and
- Competition for tenants: the Investment Manager’s portfolio comprised approximately €3.3 billion of assets under management as of 31 March 2016 (approximately 46% of which were located in Spain). The Investment Manager’s real estate portfolio could be put in direct competition for attraction and retention of tenants with the Company’s real estate portfolio.

In addition, the number of Performance Fee Shares (as described herein) that the Investment Manager may receive each year in pay-out of its services according to the Investment Manager Agreement depends on the average closing price on the Spanish Stock Exchanges of the ordinary shares during certain period preceding the delivery of such shares. The number of Performance Fee Shares that the Investment Manager may receive is inversely related to the average closing price of the ordinary shares (i.e., a lower average closing price will lead to a higher number of Performance Fee Shares being paid to the Investment Manager). As a result, the interests of the Investment Manager with respect to the trading performance of the Company’s ordinary shares may differ from those of the Company or other shareholders of the Company during such certain period preceding the delivery of the Performance Fee Shares to the Investment Manager. Moreover, a member of the Management Team sits on the Company’s Board and is a member of the Company’s Audit and Control Committee, which is responsible for supervising the calculation of the Performance Fee (as described herein) to be paid to the Investment Manager according to the Investment Manager Agreement among other matters.

Moreover, conflicts of interest could arise as a result of the provision of property management services by Gentalia 2006, S.L., a property management joint venture (“Gentalia”), to the Company due to the differing economic interests of the Investment Manager in Gentalia and the Company. The Investment Manager currently has a 66.6% participation in Gentalia, and Servicios e Inversiones en GLA, S.L. holds the remaining 33.4%. In addition, one of the members of the Management Team is a member of the Board of Directors of Gentalia. Moreover, Gentalia, which is not a party to, and is not bound by, the Investment Manager Agreement, could in the future undertake activities or operations that compete with those undertaken by the Company. Gentalia is one of the leading companies in Spain in shopping centre property management, providing consultancy, asset management, leasing and day-to-day management services to shopping centres. It currently manages 46 shopping centres in Spain, with a gross leasable area of over 1,425,540 square meters (“sqm”). Gentalia has been appointed as property manager of all the Company’s shopping centres, except for Megapark. See section 11.5 of Part XVIII (“Additional Information”) for information on the framework agreements entered into with Gentalia.

If conflicts of interest with the Investment Manager result in decisions that are not in the best interests of the Company’s shareholders, the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be adversely affected.

Members of the Management Team may have conflicts of interest in allocating their time and activity between the Company and the Investment Manager

Members of the Management Team, in particular Luis Pereda and Miguel Pereda (who are members of the Pereda Family, which owns a controlling stake in the Investment Manager, and who hold executive positions in the Investment Manager), and the support staff available to the Investment Manager (including the staff of Gentalia) may have conflicts of interest in allocating their time and activity to matters relating to the Company. The Investment Manager is an active real estate developer, investor and asset manager in Spain. While pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is to ensure that the Key Persons devote such time to the supervision and performance of the obligations of the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement as is necessary to enable the Investment Manager to comply with its obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement, the Company cannot assure you that such contractual obligation will achieve the desired results.

The calculation of the compensation to be paid to the Investment Manager is based on EPRA NAV and volatility in property values might lead to overpayment ahead of a cyclical peak

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is entitled to receive a Base Fee and a Performance Fee to the extent such fees become payable in accordance with the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement. The calculation of fees is based on the net asset value of the Company adjusted to include properties and other investment interests at fair value and to exclude certain items not expected to crystallise in a long-term investment property business in accordance with guidelines issued by the European Public Real Estate Association by December 2014 unless otherwise agreed (the “EPRA NAV”). Increases in the EPRA NAV of the Company will lead to an increase in the compensation to be paid to the Investment Manager. If increases in the EPRA NAV are the result of price overheating in the real estate sector, it is possible that the Management Team is overpaid ahead of a cyclical peak. Fees that fall due and payable to the Investment Manager are not subject to reduction or clawback due to any subsequent decrease that may occur in the EPRA NAV of the Company. In addition, in general, the net asset value of real estate companies and the evolution of such companies’ share prices are not perfectly correlated. Accordingly, the Investment Manager’s compensation is not directly linked to the price performance of the Company’s ordinary shares and may be payable or increase even when the price performance of the Company’s ordinary shares is deteriorating.

The arrangements among the Company and the Investment Manager were negotiated in the context of an affiliated relationship and may contain terms that are less favourable to the Company than those which otherwise might have been obtained from unrelated parties

The Investment Manager Agreement and the Company’s internal policies and procedures for dealing with the Investment Manager were negotiated in the context of the Company’s formation and the Company’s initial public offering by persons who were, at the time of negotiation, members of the Management Team and affiliates of the Investment Manager. While the Company believes that the terms of these arrangements are broadly similar to what would have been obtainable from unaffiliated third parties, the Company cannot assure you that their terms, including terms relating to fees, performance criteria, contractual or fiduciary duties, conflicts of interest, limitations on liability, indemnification and termination, are not less favourable to the Company than otherwise might have resulted if the negotiations had involved unrelated parties from the outset.

2.3 Risks relating to the Company's activity and properties

The Company's growth might be affected by the impact on profitability of increased competition

The Company believes that Spain continues to remain a reference market with opportunities available for the Company. However, increased competition in the market with the entrance of new international players as well as the active role of other SOCIMIs may reduce future opportunities available to the Company, which may challenge the ability of the Management Team to deploy capital (including the proceeds of the New Ordinary Shares) in new profitable investments.

As a result of the increased competition in the market, the expected returns that potential buyers may obtain from new acquisitions may be lower.

Growth will require recurring capital increases and feasibility / pricing remains uncertain

Based on the Company's business model, the Company will need to undertake future capital increases in order to increase its size by acquiring the properties identified by the Management Team which conform the pipeline. The Company's ability to undertake future capital increases will depend upon prevailing market conditions which may impact their feasibility and the pricing that the Company would be able to obtain. If the Company is not able to undertake further capital increases whether due to unfavourable market conditions or otherwise, the Company's growth potential may be limited, which could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company faces numerous risks related to its rental business

The Company's core business is the leasing of properties which form part of the Company's Portfolio. If the Company fails to adequately manage its leased premises, including if the Company is unable to retain its current tenants due to the non-renewal of their lease agreements upon expiry and where the Company is unable to find new tenants, there is a risk that premises will become vacant, resulting in a decrease in the Company's revenues. Even if the Company enters into new lease agreements with its existing tenants or new tenants, there is a risk that the Company may have to do so on less favourable terms due to prevailing market conditions at the time of entering into such new leases or other reasons.

In addition, the Company is exposed to the risk of insolvency or illiquidity of its tenants, which might cause them to default on their rental payment commitments. If the Company's gross rental income were to decline as a result, the Company would have less cash available and the value of its properties could significantly decline. Also, acquiring real estate properties for rent implies significant upfront investment, and, consequently, any increase in costs and/or any reduction in the targeted rental revenues from such assets could result in a materially reduced return on investment. Moreover, significant expenditures associated with the holding and managing of a property, such as taxes, service charges, insurance, maintenance and refurbishment costs, are generally not reduced proportionally to any decline in rental revenues from that property. If rental revenues from a property were to decline while the related costs did not decline, the Company's revenues and cash receipts could be materially adversely affected.

Any of the foregoing may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company's properties are concentrated in the Spanish property market and the Company's properties have therefore greater exposure to political, economic and other factors affecting the Spanish market than more diversified businesses

The Company's Portfolio consists, and is expected to continue consisting in the future, primarily of direct or indirect interests in commercial property in Spain. This means that the Company has a significant industry and geographic concentration risk relating to the Spanish commercial property market, and an investment in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights may therefore be subject to greater risk than investments in securities issued by companies with more diversified portfolios. Accordingly, the Company's performance may be significantly affected by events beyond its control affecting Spain, and the Spanish commercial property market in particular, such as a downturn in the Spanish economy, changing demand for commercial property in Spain, changing supply within a particular geographic location, the attractiveness of property relative to other investment choices, changes in domestic and/or international regulatory requirements and applicable laws and regulations (including in relation to taxation and land use), Spain's attractiveness as a foreign direct investment destination, political conditions, the condition of financial markets, the availability of credit, the financial condition of tenants, interest rate and inflation rate fluctuations, accounting and control expenses and other developments. Political uncertainty in Spain (mainly as a result of the general elections in December 2015 and June 2016 failing to produce a majority government) and certain regions thereof could significantly affect Spain's economic prospects and lead to changes in its regulations. In addition, the Spanish economy may be materially adversely affected by the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU. The full effects of the vote by the United Kingdom to exit the EU are impossible to predict but may result in significant market volatility and dislocation, and adversely affect the UK, European and global economy. Any of these events could reduce the rental and/or capital values of the Company's Portfolio and/or the ability of the Company to acquire or dispose of properties and to secure or retain tenants on acceptable terms and, consequently, may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. In addition, significant concentration of the Company's Portfolio in the Spanish commercial real estate market (and/or any particular sector within that market) may result in greater volatility in its value and any downturn in such market may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The value of any acquired properties and the rental income those properties yield are subject to fluctuations in the Spanish property market

The Company's performance is subject to, among other things, the conditions of the property market in Spain, which affect both the value of the Company's properties and the rental income those properties yield. The value of real estate in Spain declined sharply starting in 2007 as a result of economic recession, the credit crisis, increased unemployment rates, an overhang of excess supply, overleveraged local real estate companies and developers and the absence mainly of bank debt financing. Since peaking in 2007, the Spanish commercial property market has seen a severe decline in the value of real estate assets, with the capital values of real estate assets in Madrid falling by approximately 29.2% in offices, 42.0% in retail and 43.4% in industrial from 2007 to 31 March 2016 (Source: CBRE, Q1 2016). Spanish property values could decline further and those declines could be substantial, particularly if the economy were to suffer a decline or the recent increase in demand for Spanish real estate were to fade. Declines in the performance of the Spanish economy or the Spanish property market could have a negative impact on consumer spending, levels of employment, rental revenues and vacancy rates and, as a result, have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Factors that may materially adversely affect the Spanish economy include the risks posed by political uncertainty, the deteriorating pattern of global growth, social challenges in Europe and the outcome of the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU.

In addition to the general economic climate, the Spanish commercial property market and prevailing rental levels and asset values may also be affected by factors such as an excess supply of properties, the availability of credit, the level of interest rates and changes in laws and governmental regulations (both domestic and international), including those governing real estate usage, zoning and taxes. In addition, rental levels may also be affected by a fall in the general demand for rental property and reductions in tenants' and potential tenants' space requirements. All of these factors are outside of the Company's control and may reduce the attractiveness of holding property as an asset class.

These factors could also have a material effect on the Company's ability to maintain the occupancy levels of the properties it has acquired or may acquire in the future through the execution of leases with new tenants and the renewal of leases with existing tenants, as well as its ability to maintain or increase rents over the longer term. In particular, non-renewal of leases or early termination by significant tenants in the Company's Portfolio could materially adversely affect the Company's net rental income. If the Company's net rental income declines, it would have less cash available to service and repay its indebtedness or make distributions to shareholders. In addition, significant expenditures associated with a property, such as taxes, service charges and maintenance costs, are generally not reduced in proportion to any decline in rental revenue from that property. If rental revenue from properties decline while the related costs do not decline, the Company's income and cash receipts could be materially adversely affected. Declines in rent and demand for space might render refurbishment and redevelopment investments unattractive which may cause the value of properties to decline.

Any deterioration in the Spanish commercial property market, for whatever reason, could result in declines in market rents received by the Company, in occupancy rates for the Company's properties, in the carrying values of the Company's property assets and the value at which it could dispose of such assets. A decline in the carrying value of the Company's Portfolio may also weaken the Company's ability to obtain financing for new acquisitions. Any of the above may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Competition in the real estate market may affect the ability of the Company to make appropriate acquisitions and to secure tenants at satisfactory rental levels

The Company faces competition from other property investors for the purchase of desirable properties and in seeking creditworthy tenants for acquired properties. Competitors include not only regional Spanish investors and real estate developers with in-depth knowledge of the local markets, but also other property portfolio companies, including funds that invest nationally and internationally, institutional investors and foreign investors. Competitors may have greater financial resources than the Company and a greater ability to borrow funds to acquire properties, and may have the ability or inclination to acquire properties at a higher price or on terms less favourable than those the Company may be prepared to accept. Competition in the commercial property market may also lead to an over-supply of commercial properties through over-development or prices for existing properties being driven up through competing bids by potential purchasers. Furthermore, the number of entities and the amount of funds competing for suitable properties may increase. There can be no assurance that the Company has been or will be successful in identifying or acquiring suitable investment opportunities. The existence and extent of competition in the commercial property market may also have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to secure tenants for its properties at satisfactory rental levels and on a timely basis and to subsequently retain such tenants. Competition may cause difficulty in achieving rents in line with the Company's expectations and may result in increased pressure to offer new and renewing tenants financial and other incentives. Any inability by the Company to compete effectively against other property investors or to effectively manage the risks related to competition may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company's business may be materially adversely affected by a number of factors inherent to real estate

Revenues earned from, and the capital value and disposal value of, properties held or sold by the Company and the Company's business may be materially adversely affected by a number of factors inherent in asset sales and management, including, but not limited to:

- sub-optimal tenant rotation policies or lease renegotiations;
- decreased demand by potential buyers for properties or tenants for space;
- material declines in property and/or rental values;
- excessive investment in extensions/refurbishment;

- the inability to recover operating costs such as local taxes and service charges on vacant space;
- incorrect repositioning of an asset in changing market conditions;
- exposure to the creditworthiness of buyers and tenants, which could result in delays in receipt of contractual payments, including rental payments, the inability to collect such payments at all including the risk of buyers and tenants defaulting on their obligations and seeking the protection of bankruptcy laws, the re-negotiation of purchase agreements or tenant leases on terms less favourable to the Company, or the termination of purchase agreements or tenant leases;
- defaults by a number of tenants with material rental obligations (including pre-let obligations (which are contracts entered into with potential tenants which allow the tenant to agree to lease a building before the construction has started)) or a default by a significant tenant at a specific property that may hinder or delay the sale or re-letting of such property;
- material litigation with buyers or tenants;
- material expenses in relation to the construction of new tenant improvements and re-letting a property, including the provision of financial inducements to new tenants such as rent free periods;
- reduced access to financing for tenants, thereby limiting their ability to alter existing operations or to undertake expansion plans; and
- increases in operating and other expenses or cash needs without a corresponding increase in turnover or tenant reimbursements, including as a result of increases in the rate of inflation in excess of rental growth, changes in or increased costs of compliance with governmental rules, regulations and fiscal policies, property taxes or statutory charges or insurance premiums, costs associated with tenant vacancies and unforeseen capital expenditure affecting properties which cannot be recovered from tenants.

The Company's properties may not generate sufficient income to meet operating expenses, including debt servicing and capital expenditures, including unforeseen capital expenditures. In addition, there are significant expenditures associated with an investment in real estate (such as mortgage payments, real estate taxes and maintenance costs) that generally do not decline when circumstances reduce the income from the property. If the Company's revenues earned from sales or tenants or the value of its properties are adversely affected by the above or other factors, the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially adversely affected.

Default by tenants could cause significant losses of income, create additional costs, or cause a reduction in asset value and increased bad debts

The Company derives a significant portion of its revenue directly from rent received from its tenants. Rent received from a small number of tenants may represent a significant portion of the total revenue. As of 31 March 2016, the ten largest tenants represented 40.03% of the Company's total rental income (based on their contribution to the rental income of the Company during the first quarter of 2016). In particular, the three largest tenants, Carrefour, S.A., Inditex and Media Markt, represented 8.43%, 5.54% and 5.51%, respectively, of the Company's total rental income (based on their contribution to the rental income of the Company during the first quarter of 2016). A downturn in the business, or the bankruptcy or insolvency of any tenant could result in a significant loss of income, additional expenses, an increase in bad debts and decreased property value. In the event of a tenant default, the Company may experience delays in enforcing its rights as landlord and may incur substantial costs in protecting its investment. Moreover, such a default may prevent the Company from increasing rents or result in lease terminations by, or reductions in rent for, other tenants under the conditions of the leases or otherwise. In addition, adverse economic conditions affecting a particular industry of one or more of the Company's tenants could affect the financial ability of one or more of its tenants to make payments under their leases, which could cause delays in the Company's receipt of rental revenues or a vacancy in one or more of its properties for a period of time. Any of the above may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company faces risks related to the dependence on the revenue from its main properties

A significant portion of the Company's business depends on the revenue from its main properties. In the three months ended 31 March 2016, the revenue from (i) Megapark represented 29.2% of the total revenues generated by the shopping centres; (ii) Egeo represented 48.5% of the total revenues generated by the offices; and (iii) Alovera II represented 50.1% of the total revenues generated by the logistic centres. As a result of their substantial contribution to the Company's revenue, any event or condition affecting these properties, such as the discovery of construction defects or developments affecting the areas where such properties are located, could materially adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Property valuation is inherently subjective and uncertain and the Company's net asset value is expected to fluctuate over time

The success of the Company depends significantly on the ability of the Company and the Investment Manager to assess the values of properties, both at the time of acquisition and the time of disposal. Valuations of the Company's property Portfolio also have a significant effect on the Company's financial condition on an on-going basis and on its ability to obtain financing. The valuation of property and property-related assets is inherently subjective, in part because all property valuations are made on the basis of assumptions which may not prove to be accurate (particularly in periods of volatility or low transaction flow in the commercial real estate market), and in part because of the individual nature of each property.

In determining the value of properties, the appraisers are required to make assumptions in respect of matters including, but not limited to, the existence of willing sellers in uncertain market conditions, title, condition of structure and services, existence of deleterious materials, plant and machinery conditions, environmental matters, permits and licenses, statutory requirements and planning, expected future rental revenues from the property and other information. Such assumptions may prove to be inaccurate. Incorrect assumptions underlying the valuation reports could negatively affect the value of any property that the Company owns or may acquire in the future and thereby have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition. This is particularly so in periods of volatility or when there are limited comparable real estate transactions against which property valuations can be benchmarked. There can also be no assurance that these valuations have been or will be reflected in the actual transaction prices, even where any such transactions occur shortly after the relevant valuation date, or that the estimated yield and annual rental income prove to be attainable. For more information on the valuation of the Company's Portfolio and the assumptions made in determining the value of the Company's properties, see Annex B ("Valuation Reports") of this Prospectus.

The Company has acquired and may acquire properties in the future through different property-owning vehicles, and has utilised and may in the future utilise a variety of structures for the purpose of acquiring properties, such as joint ventures and minority stakes. Where a property or an interest in a property is acquired through another company or another structure, the value of the entity or the structure may not be the same as the value of the underlying property due, for example, to tax, environmental, contingent, contractual or other liabilities, or structural considerations. As a result, there can be no assurance that the value of property acquired through those structures accurately reflects the value of the underlying property.

As a result of each of these factors, shareholders should note that actual net asset value may fluctuate from time to time, potentially materially.

Valuations of the Company's properties, including the Valuation Reports, may not accurately reflect the value of the underlying properties due to the above factors or otherwise, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Valuation Reports may not be indicative of the value of the Company's properties or the Company's performance

According to the Cushman & Wakefield valuation report dated 7 July 2016 and included in Annex B (“Valuation Reports”) of this Prospectus (the “C&W Valuation Report”), the market value (net of acquisition costs) of the Company’s properties to which it refers as at 30 June 2016 was as follows: Txingudi €32.000 million, Portal de la Marina shopping centre €1.500 million, Las Huertas €12.000 million, Marcelo Spínola €27.000 million, Alovera I €15.000 million, Alovera III €3.250 million, Alovera IV €7.850 million, Almussafes €8.800 million, Eloy Gonzalo €14.000 million, As Termas €72.200 million, the land plot of Lagasca 99 €16.600 million (€8.300 million considering the Company’s 50.00% interest in the property), Portal de la Marina Hypermarket €7.750 million, Parque Galaria €9.800 million, Palmas Altas €40.700 million and Megapark €178.000 million.

According to the Jones Lang LaSalle valuation report dated 7 and included in Annex B (“Valuation Reports”) of this Prospectus (the “JLL Valuation Report” and together with the C&W Valuation Report, the “Valuation Reports”), the market value (net of acquisition costs) of the Company’s properties to which it refers as at 30 June 2016 was as follows: Albacenter shopping centre €33.521 million, L’Anec Blau €87.470 million, Nuevo Alisal €17.502 million, Villaverde €10.350 million, Albacenter Hypermarket and two Retail Units €12.602 million, Alovera II €37.380 million, Arturo Soria €25.990 million, Egeo €71.850 million, Joan Miró €20.990 million, Vistahermosa €42.540 million, Cruce de Caminos €16.060 million and El Rosal €3.290 million.

The valuation of property and property-related properties is inherently subjective. As a result, valuations are subject to uncertainty. See the risk factor above “Property valuations is inherently subjective and uncertain and the Company’s net asset value is expected to fluctuate over time”. Moreover, all property valuations, including the Valuation Reports, are made on the basis of material assumptions which may not prove to be correct and which, in the case of the Valuation Reports, have not been confirmed or investigated by any third party. In the case of the Valuation Reports, these assumptions include the existence of marketable title to the properties, the lack of contamination of the properties or the fact that tenants are capable of meeting their leasehold obligations. In addition, the appraisers have made assumptions specific to certain properties, which are further described in the Valuation Reports, and which include assumptions regarding a forthcoming license to modify the Lagasca 99 property and the approval of a planning license and the modification of a construction license relating to Palmas Altas by certain dates. The Company cannot assure that any of the properties covered by the Valuation Reports could have been or could be sold at their respective market values set forth in the respective Valuation Reports, if at all, or that the actual market value of such properties, whether or not equivalent to the values set forth in the respective Valuation Reports, will not decline significantly over time due to various factors, including changing macro and microeconomic conditions and other factors set forth in this Part II (“Risk Factors”). The appraised value of properties covered by the Valuation Reports cannot, therefore, be construed as a guarantee of the prices which could be obtained should the Company seek to sell properties in the open market and is not an indication of the value of the Company’s properties, the Company’s performance or the price at which the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights may trade on the Spanish Stock Exchanges. Moreover, the Valuation Reports are as of 30 June 2016. The Company can give no assurance that a valuation at a more recent date would not produce a significantly lower or higher value.

Any costs associated with potential acquisitions that do not proceed to completion affect the Company’s performance

Before making an acquisition, the Company needs to identify suitable opportunities, investigate and pursue such opportunities and negotiate property acquisitions on suitable terms, all of which require significant expenditure prior to consummation of the acquisitions. The Company may incur certain third party costs, including in connection with financing, valuations and professional services associated with the sourcing and analysis of suitable properties. There can be no assurance as to the level of such costs and, given that there can be no guarantee that the Company will be successful in its negotiations to acquire any given property, the greater the number of potential acquisitions that do not reach completion, the greater the likely adverse impact of such costs on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company's due diligence of a potential acquisition may not identify all possible risks and liabilities

Prior to entering into an agreement to acquire any property or make a significant investment, the Investment Manager, on behalf of the Company, performs due diligence on the proposed acquisition. In doing so, it typically relies on third parties to conduct a significant portion of this due diligence (including providing legal reports on title and property valuations). In some cases the due diligence performed by the Investment Manager is limited due to lack of information or other reasons and there can be no assurance that due diligence examinations carried out by the Investment Manager, the Company or third parties in connection with a property or acquisition have revealed or will in the future reveal all of the risks associated with that property or acquisition, or the full extent of such risks. Properties the Company has acquired or may acquire or invest in may be subject to hidden material, structural or other defects that were not apparent at the time of acquisition or investment. This risk is aggravated by the fact that most purchase agreements the Company has entered into contain indemnity exclusions and limitations, including with respect to the validity and sufficiency of permits and licenses. To the extent that the Company, the Investment Manager or other third parties underestimate or fail to identify risks and liabilities associated with an investment, the Company may be subject to one or more of the following risks:

- defects in title;
- environmental liabilities or structural or operational defects or liabilities requiring remediation and/or not covered by indemnities or insurance;
- lack of or insufficiency or revocation of permits and licenses;
- an inability to obtain permits allowing the property to be used as intended; or
- the acquisition of properties that are not consistent with the Company's Business Strategy or that fail to perform in accordance with expectations.

Any of these risks may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company may not acquire 100% control of certain properties and may therefore be subject to the risks associated with joint ownership

Pursuant to the Company's Business Strategy, the Company may enter into a variety of acquisition structures through which the Company would acquire less than a 100% interest in a particular asset or entity while the remaining ownership interest is held by one or more third parties. As of the date of this Prospectus, the Company holds 50% of the Lagasca 99 land plot with the PIMCO Investor (as defined herein) holding the remaining 50%.

The Company intends to acquire minority stakes in properties in the future. Minority stakes or joint venture arrangements may expose the Company to the risk that:

- business partners become insolvent or bankrupt, or fail to fund their share of any capital contribution which might be required, which may result in the Company having to pay the business partner's share or risk losing the investment;
- business partners have economic or other interests that are inconsistent with the Company's interests and are in a position to take or influence actions contrary to the Company's interests and plans (for example, in implementing active asset management measures), which may create impasses on decisions and affect the Company's ability to implement its strategies and/or dispose of the asset or entity;
- disputes develop between the Company and business partners, with any litigation or arbitration resulting from any such disputes increasing the Company's expenses and distracting the Board and/or the Investment Manager from their other managerial tasks;
- business partners do not have enough liquid assets to make cash advances that may be required in order to fund operations, maintenance and other expenses related to the property, which could result in the loss of current or prospective tenants and may otherwise adversely affect the operation and maintenance of the property;

- a business partner breaches agreements related to the property, which may cause a default under such agreements and result in liability for the Company;
- income obtained from these minority investments does not qualify as income received from Qualifying Subsidiaries (as defined below), which may affect the Company's ability to comply with the SOCIMI Regime (as defined below). Failing to comply with the requirements to apply the SOCIMI Regime will lead the Company to be subject to regular Spanish corporate income tax ("Corporate Income Tax"), without being entitled to the tax regime corresponding to a SOCIMI. "Qualifying Subsidiaries" refers to (i) Spanish SOCIMIs (as defined below), (ii) foreign entities with a similar regime, corporate purpose and dividend distribution regime as a Spanish SOCIMI and (iii) Spanish and foreign entities which main corporate purpose is investing in real estate for developing rental activities and that shall be subject to the same dividend distribution regime and investment and income requirements as set out in the SOCIMI Act which share capital is fully owned by SOCIMIs or foreign entities with a similar regime and that do not hold participations in other companies. A Spanish SOCIMI is a Spanish Listed Corporation for Investment in the Real Estate Market (Sociedad Anónima Cotizada de Inversión en el Mercado Inmobiliario or "SOCIMI" according to its initials in Spanish). The "SOCIMI Regime" refers to the special regime applicable to Spanish SOCIMIs;
- the Company is liable for the actions of business partners;
- a default by a business partner constitutes a default under mortgage loan financing documents relating to the investment, which could result in a foreclosure and the loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment made by the Company; and
- there is a change to the Company's status under the US Investment Company Act.

Any of the foregoing may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Real estate assets are relatively illiquid

Real estate assets can be relatively illiquid for reasons including but not limited to the long-term nature of leases, commercial properties being tailored to tenants' specific requirements and varying demand for commercial property. Such illiquidity may affect the Company's ability to vary the composition of its Portfolio or dispose of properties in a timely fashion and/or at satisfactory prices in response to changes in economic, property market or other conditions. This may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company is exposed to certain risks related to the maintenance and repair of its properties

The Company intends to maintain its Portfolio in good condition. For this reason, and also to avoid loss of value, the Company performs maintenance and repairs on its properties. In addition, modernization of properties may be necessary to increase their appeal or to meet changing legal requirements, such as those relating to energy savings. Such measures can be large-scale and expensive. As a result, the Company could face higher than budgeted costs for maintenance, repair or modernization that it may be unable to pass onto the tenant. Moreover, required maintenance, repair or modernization work could be delayed, for example, by reason of bad weather, poor performance or insolvency of contractors, or the discovery of unforeseen structural defects which may result in increased costs to remedy such defects. Any of the above may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

There is no assurance that the Company will realise anticipated returns on an investment in the construction, refurbishment, renovation or restoration of real estate properties

The Company currently participates in the development of three projects (Lagasca 99, the Cruce de Caminos Project and Palmas Altas) and is undertaking a significant refurbishment with respect to one of its properties (Marcelo Spínola). Moreover, it intends to undertake additional development projects after the Offering.

Construction, refurbishment, renovation or restoration projects are based on business plans devised by the Investment Manager and actual results might differ from anticipated results. There is no assurance that the Company will realise anticipated returns on an investment in property construction, refurbishment, renovation or restoration. Failure to generate anticipated returns may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. In addition, construction, refurbishment, renovation or restoration projects often require significant capital expenditures. In particular, as of 31 March 2016, the Building Capex for the Company's then-existing Portfolio amounted to €208 million for the following five-year period.

Furthermore, the Company may be subject to claims due to defects relating to the construction, refurbishment, renovation or restoration of its properties, including following the disposal of such properties. In certain circumstances, it is possible that defects could give rise to a right by a purchaser to unwind a contract in addition to the payment of damages.

In addition, in circumstances where the Company seeks to create value by undertaking development, refurbishment or redevelopment of its Portfolio, it will typically be dependent on the performance of third party contractors who undertake the management or execution of such development, refurbishment or redevelopment on behalf of the Company.

The risks of development, refurbishment or redevelopment include, but are not limited to:

- failure by such third party contractors in performing their contractual obligations;
- insolvency of such third party contractors;
- the inability of the third party contractors to retain key members of staff;
- cost overruns in relation to the services provided by the third party contractors;
- delays in properties being available for occupancy;
- failure to obtain the necessary funding to fully develop a property;
- fraud or misconduct by an officer, employee or agent of a third party contractor, which may result in losses to the Company and damage to the Company's reputation;
- disputes between the Company and third party contractors, which may increase the Company's expenses and distract the Board and the Management Team;
- liability of the Company for the actions of the third party contractors;
- inability to obtain governmental and regulatory licenses, permits, authorisations or extensions thereof on a timely basis or at all;
- inability to sell the developed, redeveloped or refurbished properties at prices that are favourable to the Company or at all; and
- inability to rent the properties to tenants at rental levels that are favourable to the Company or at all.

If the Company's third party contractors fail to successfully perform the services for which they have been engaged, either as a result of their own fault or negligence, or due to the Company's failure to properly supervise any such contractors, this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company may be subject to liability following the disposal of its properties

The Company may be exposed to future liabilities and/or obligations with respect to the properties that it sells (such as Claudio Coello). The Company may be required to or may consider it prudent to set aside provisions for warranty claims or contingent liabilities in respect of property disposals. The Company may be required to pay damages (including but not limited to litigation costs) to a purchaser to the extent that any representations or warranties given to a purchaser prove to be inaccurate or to the extent that the Company breaches any of its covenants or obligations contained in the disposal documentation. In certain circumstances, it is possible that representations and warranties incorrectly given could give rise to a right by the purchaser to unwind the contract in addition to the payment of damages. Further, the Company may become involved in disputes or litigation in connection with such disposed properties. Certain obligations and liabilities associated with the ownership of properties can also continue to exist notwithstanding any disposal, such as certain environmental liabilities. Any claims, litigation or continuing obligations in connection with the disposal of any properties may subject the Company to unanticipated costs and may require the Management Team to devote considerable time to dealing with them. As a result, any such claims, litigation or obligations may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company may suffer losses in excess of insurance proceeds, if any, or from uninsurable events

The Company's properties may suffer physical damage resulting in losses (including loss of rent) which may not be compensated for by insurance, either fully or at all. In addition, there are certain types of losses, generally of a catastrophic nature, that may be uninsurable or are not economically insurable. Inflation, changes in building codes and ordinances, environmental considerations, and other factors, might also result in insurance proceeds being unavailable or insufficient to repair or replace a property or pay for environmental clean-up costs. Should an uninsured loss or a loss in excess of insured limits occur, the Company may lose capital invested in the affected property as well as anticipated future revenue from that property. In addition, the Company could be liable to repair damage caused by uninsured risks or pay for uninsured environmental clean-up costs. The Company may also remain liable for any debt or other financial obligations related to that property. Any material uninsured losses may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Investment Manager's insurance may not be sufficient to recoup all of the losses claimed by the Company

Pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is required to maintain at its own cost appropriate professional indemnity insurance to cover potential claims from the Company under said agreement until two years after the date of its termination. However, such insurance is subject to customary deductibles and coverage limits and may not be sufficient to recoup all of the losses claimed by the Company. Therefore, the Company could suffer losses which may not be fully compensated for by the referred insurance, or at all. Any material losses uninsured under the Investment Manager Agreement may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company may dispose of properties at a time which results in a lower than expected return or a loss on such properties, and may be unable to dispose of properties at all

The Company may elect to dispose of properties and may also be required to dispose of properties in its Portfolio at any time, including due to a requirement imposed by a third party (for example, a lending bank). There can be no assurance that, at the time the Company seeks to dispose of properties (whether voluntarily or otherwise) relevant market conditions will be favourable or that the Company will be able to maximise the returns on such disposed properties. It may be especially difficult to dispose of certain types of real estate assets during recessionary times. To the extent that market conditions are not favourable, the Company may not be able to dispose of properties at a gain and may even have to dispose of properties at a loss. Furthermore, the Company may be unable to dispose of properties at all, which would tie up the capital invested in such properties and could impede the Company's ability to take advantage of other opportunities. The Company could be particularly exposed to this risk in residential properties, as the prices in residential property have typically been more volatile. If the Company is required to dispose of a property on unsatisfactory terms, it may realise less than the value at which such property was previously recorded, which could result in a decrease in net asset value and lower returns to shareholders. In addition, if the Company disposes of a property without complying with the minimum holding period (as described in section 1 of Part XVI ("Taxation Information")), gains arising from disposal of the property and the entire income derived from such asset, including rental income, will be taxable at regular Corporate Income Tax rates, i.e., currently 25%. See “Certain disposals of properties may have negative implications under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime” in this section 3 of this Part II (“Risk Factors”).

Further, in acquiring a property, the Company may agree to restrictions that prohibit the sale of that property for a period of time or impose other restrictions, such as a limitation on the amount of debt that can be placed or repaid on that property. In addition, if the Company purchases properties when the rate of return is low and purchase prices are high, the value of such properties may not increase over time, and if the property is then sold the Company may incur a loss.

Any inability of the Company to dispose of its properties or to do so at a gain, or any losses on the disposal of the Company’s investments, may have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Delays or difficulties in locating and/or acquiring suitable properties may have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects

The Board aims to expand the Company’s Portfolio of properties in Spain, principally Commercial Property in Madrid, Barcelona and certain secondary locations.

There can be no assurance as to how long it will take for the Company to expand its Portfolio, as it may not find suitable properties to acquire. The Company is likely to face competition from a variety of other potential purchasers in identifying and acquiring suitable properties. The longer the period before investment the greater the likelihood that the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects, and its ability to make distributions to shareholders, will be materially adversely affected.

Market conditions may have a negative impact on the Company’s ability to identify and carry out acquisitions in suitable assets for rental purposes that generate acceptable returns for shareholders. As was evident during the recent market downturn, market conditions have had a significant negative impact on the availability of credit, property pricing and liquidity levels. Lenders have also tightened their lending criteria, including lending lower loan to value and increasing leverage restrictions. Furthermore, locating suitable properties, conducting due diligence, negotiating acceptable purchase contracts and ultimately completing the purchase of a property typically require a significant amount of time. The Company may face delays in locating and acquiring suitable investments and, once the properties are identified, there could also be delays in completing the purchases, including delays in obtaining any necessary approvals. Necessary approvals may be refused, or granted only on onerous terms, and any such refusals, or the imposition of onerous terms, may result in an investment not proceeding as originally intended and could result in significant costs associated with aborting the transaction being incurred by the Company.

Moreover, the Company may acquire minority stakes in properties or joint ventures (which could include minority investments or joint ventures with sellers of properties). In such cases, it will need to negotiate suitable arrangements with each of its proposed business partners, which may also prove to be time-consuming or could restrict the Company’s ability to act quickly or unilaterally. The Company’s inability to select and invest, alone or as business partner, in properties on a timely basis may have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects and may delay or limit distributions to shareholders by the Company.

2.4 Risks relating to the Company’s Board

The Company is reliant on the performance and retention of the members of the Board

The Company relies on the expertise and experience of the directors of the Company (the “Directors”) to supervise the management of the Company’s affairs. Although, pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager manages the Company’s Portfolio, certain reserved matters require the consent of the Board, including, among other things, all acquisitions or disposals of the properties above certain thresholds, financing and hedging arrangements above certain thresholds and entry into joint venture agreements to acquire any property. The performance of the Directors and their retention on the Board are, therefore, significant factors in the Company's ability to achieve its Business Strategy. The Directors' involvement with the Company is on a part time, not full time basis, and if there is any material disruption to the Investment Manager's performance of its services, the Directors may not have sufficient time or experience to manage the Company's business until a new investment manager is appointed. In addition, there can be no assurance as to the continued service of such individuals as Directors of the Company. The departure of any of these individuals from the Company without timely and adequate replacement may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Reputational risk in relation to the Board may materially adversely affect the Company

The Board may be exposed to reputational risks. In particular, litigation, allegations of misconduct or operational failures by, or other negative publicity and press speculation involving any of the Directors, whether or not accurate, will harm the reputation of the relevant Director. Any damage to the reputation of any of the Directors could result in potential counterparties and other third parties such as tenants, landlords, joint venture partners, lenders or developers being unwilling to deal with the Company. This may have a material adverse effect on the ability of the Company to successfully pursue its Business Strategy and may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

There may be circumstances where Directors have a conflict of interest

There may be circumstances in which a Director has, directly or indirectly, a material interest in a transaction being considered by the Company or another conflict of interest with the Company. Any of the Directors and/or any person connected with them may from time to time act as director, investor or be otherwise involved in other investment vehicles (including vehicles that may have business strategies similar to the Company's) which may also be purchased or sold by the Company, subject at all times to the provisions governing such conflicts of interest both in law and in the by-laws of the Company (the "By-Laws"). Mr. Miguel Pereda, who is a Director of the Company, is also a director of the Investment Manager, a member of the Management Team and a member of the Pereda Family (which owns a controlling stake in the Investment Manager). Although procedures have been put in place to manage conflicts of interest, it is possible that any of the Directors and/or their connected persons may have potential conflicts of interest with the Company.

2.5 Regulatory risks

See "Risks relating to structure and taxation" for information on certain risks relating to the SOCIMI Regime.

Changes in laws and regulations may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects

The Company's operations must comply with laws and governmental regulations (both domestic and international (including in the European Union)) which relate to, among other things, property ownership and use, land use, development, zoning, health and safety requirements and environmental compliance. These laws and regulations often provide broad discretion to the administering authorities. Additionally, all of these laws and regulations are subject to change, which may be retrospective, and changes in regulations could adversely affect existing planning consents, costs of property ownership, the capital value of the Company's assets and the rental income arising from the Company's Portfolio. Such changes may also adversely affect the Company's ability to use a property as intended and could cause the Company to incur increased capital expenditure or running costs to ensure compliance with the new applicable laws or regulation which may not be recoverable from tenants. The occurrence of any of these events may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Environmental and health and safety laws, regulations and standards may expose the Company to the risk of substantial costs and liabilities

Laws and regulations, which may be amended over time, may impose environmental liabilities associated with the properties of the Company (including environmental liabilities that were incurred or that arose prior to the Company's acquisition of such properties). Such liabilities may result in significant investigation, removal, or remediation costs regardless of whether the Company originally caused the contamination or other environmental hazard. In addition, environmental liabilities could adversely affect the Company's ability to sell, lease or redevelop a property, or to borrow using a property as security and may in certain circumstances (such as the release of certain materials, including asbestos, into the air or water) form the basis for liability to third persons for personal injury or other damages. Environmental laws and regulations may limit the development of, and impose liability for, the disturbance of wetlands or the habitats of threatened or endangered species. The Company's Portfolio may include properties historically used for commercial, industrial and/or manufacturing uses. Such properties are more likely to contain, or may have contained, storage tanks for the storage of hazardous or toxic substances. Leasing properties, such as those containing warehouses, to tenants that engage in industrial, manufacturing and other commercial activities will cause the Company to be subject to increased risk of liabilities under environmental laws and regulations. In the event the Company is exposed to environmental liabilities or increased costs or limitations on its use or disposal of properties as a result of environmental laws and regulation this may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The assets of the Company could be deemed to be "plan assets" that are subject to certain requirements of ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code, which could restrain the Company from making certain investments

Under the current Plan Asset Regulations (as defined herein), if interests held by Benefit Plan Investors (as defined herein) are deemed to be "significant" within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations (broadly, if Benefit Plan Investors hold 25% or greater of any class of equity interest in the Company) then the assets of the Company may be deemed to be "plan assets" within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations. The Company will be unable to monitor whether Benefit Plan Investors acquire ordinary shares and therefore, there can be no assurance that Benefit Plan Investors will never acquire ordinary shares. If the Company's assets were deemed to constitute "plan assets" within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations, certain transactions that the Company may enter into in the ordinary course of business and operation may constitute non-exempt prohibited transactions under ERISA or the Code, resulting in the imposition of excise taxes and penalties. In addition, any fiduciary of a Benefit Plan Investor or a governmental, church, non-US or other plan which is subject to Similar Law (as defined herein) that is responsible for such plans, investment in the ordinary shares could be liable for any ERISA fiduciary violations or violations of such Similar Law relating to the Company.

The Company may take measures which are detrimental to certain investors in order to avoid any adverse effects to the Company or its shareholders resulting from the application of laws and regulation relating to pension funds or benefit plans (such as ERISA)

The By-Laws contain certain information obligations with respect to shareholders or beneficial owners of ordinary shares who are subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans (such as ERISA). Moreover, the Company will have the ability to request from any shareholder or beneficial owner of ordinary shares such information as the Company considers necessary or useful to determine whether any such person is subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans. Furthermore, according to the By-Laws, the Company will be able to take any measures it deems appropriate to avoid any adverse effects to the Company or its shareholders resulting from the application of laws and regulation relating to pension funds or benefit plans (in particular, ERISA). The purpose of these provisions is to provide the Company with the ability to minimize the risk that Benefit Plan Investors (or other similar investors) hold 25% or greater of any class of equity interest in the Company. However, no assurance can be given that the Company's assets will not be deemed to constitute "plan assets" within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations in the future.

The Company believes that it is, and expects to continue to be, a passive foreign investment company for US federal income tax purposes, which may result in adverse US federal income tax consequences to US investors

In general, a non-US corporation will be a passive foreign investment company (a “PFIC”) for US federal income tax purposes for any taxable year in which (i) 75% or more of its gross income consists of passive income or (ii) 50% or more of the average quarterly value of its assets consists of assets that produce, or are held for the production of, passive income. Passive income generally includes interest, rents, dividends, royalties and certain gains.

The Company believes that it is a PFIC for US federal income tax purposes. In addition, the Company has invested and may invest in the future, directly or indirectly, in equity interests in subsidiaries and other entities that are PFICs (“Lower-tier PFICs”). US investors may be subject to adverse US federal income tax consequences on a disposition of the Company’s ordinary shares (and, under proposed Treasury regulations, Preferential Subscription Rights) or a deemed disposition of interests in Lower-tier PFICs and on certain distributions made by the Company or such Lower-tier PFICs. The Company does not intend to provide to US investors the information necessary for US investors to make “qualified electing fund” elections. Prospective US investors should review “Certain US Federal Income Tax Considerations” in section 3 of Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) and consult their tax advisers regarding the US federal income tax consequences applicable to shareholders in a PFIC.

The Company may not impose restrictions on the free transferability of its ordinary shares and the acquisition of the ordinary shares (including the New Ordinary Shares) by certain investors could adversely affect the Company

Under Spanish law, the Company may not impose restrictions on the free transferability of its ordinary shares in its By-Laws. Accordingly, the Company cannot refuse to register a transfer of any shares in the capital of the Company in favour of a person to whom a sale or transfer of shares, or whose direct, indirect or beneficial ownership of shares, would or might (i) cause the Company to be required to register as an “investment company” under the US Investment Company Act or to lose an exemption or status thereunder to which it might otherwise be entitled; (ii) cause the Company to be required to register under the US Exchange Act (as defined herein) or any similar legislation; (iii) cause the Company not to be considered a “foreign private issuer” as such term is defined in rule 3b-4(c) under the US Exchange Act; (iv) result in a person holding shares in violation of the transfer restrictions set forth in any offering memorandum published by the Company (including in this Prospectus), from time to time; (v) result in any shares being owned, directly or indirectly, by Benefit Plan Investors or Controlling Persons; (vi) cause the assets of the Company to be considered “plan assets” under the Plan Asset Regulations; (vii) cause the Company to be a “controlled foreign corporation” for the purposes of the Code; (viii) result in the ordinary shares being owned by a person whose giving, or deemed giving, of the representations as to ERISA and the Code set forth in the By-Laws is or is subsequently shown to be false or misleading; (ix) result in a person becoming a Substantial Shareholder (as defined herein), or (x) otherwise result in the Company incurring a liability to taxation or suffering any pecuniary, fiscal, administrative or regulatory or similar disadvantage. Any of the above could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

2.6 Risks relating to the Company’s financial structure

The Company’s Business Strategy includes the use of leverage, which exposes the Company to risks associated with borrowings

The real estate business is highly capital intensive. The Company’s strategy is to fund the acquisition of properties, in part, through borrowings, which may be secured by the related or other properties. In addition, the Company may seek funding to make improvements that may be necessary in order to attract and retain tenants or to provide financial inducements to potential new tenants such as rent free periods. However, since the middle of 2007, domestic and international financial markets have experienced significant disruptions mainly driven by tensions in the banking system. These disruptions have severely affected the availability of, and the terms applicable to, credit and have contributed to rising costs associated with obtaining credit. There can be no guarantee that the Company will be able to obtain the credit it may need on acceptable terms which could adversely affect its ability to achieve its investment strategy. If the Company is unable to obtain credit, it may seek additional capital through the issuance of debt or equity securities to fund further acquisitions.

As of 31 March 2016, the Company had directly or indirectly entered into eleven mortgage financing facilities in connection with the properties listed below with an aggregate outstanding balance of €316,995 thousand:

- Egeo;
- Nuevo Alisal;
- Lagasca 99;
- As Termas;
- El Rosal;
- Megapark;
- Arturo Soria;
- Joan Miró;
- Parque Galaria;
- Villaverde; and
- Portal de la Marina shopping centre.

These facilities, which are secured by the above properties, provide for covenants regarding loan to value and debt service coverage ratios to be met by the Company. See section 6 of Part X (“Information on the Company”) for further information on the Company’s capitalisation and indebtedness.

In addition, on 19 February 2015 the Company issued the Notes (as defined herein), with an aggregate principal amount of €140 million. The obligation of the Company under the Notes are, and must be, secured by: (i) first ranking mortgages (hipotecas inmobiliarias de primer rango) over certain properties owned by the Company and its subsidiaries with an aggregate maximum secured amount of 20% of the principal amount of the Notes (that could be extended to an aggregate maximum secured amount of 130% of the principal amount of the Notes under certain circumstances); and (ii) first ranking pledges (prendas ordinarias de primer rango) over the shares (acciones) or share quotas (participaciones sociales), as applicable, of LE Retail Hiper Albacenter, S.A., LE Logistic Alovera I y II, S.A.U., LE Offices Eloy Gonzalo 27, S.A., LE Retail Albacenter, S.L.U., LE Retail Anec Blau, S.L.U., LE Retail Txingudi, S.L.U., LE Retail Las Huertas, S.L.U., LAR España Parque de Medianas Villaverde, S.L., LAR España Offices Arturo Soria, S.L. and LE Offices Marcelo Spinola 42, S.L.U. The Notes provide for covenants and events of default. See section 6 of Part X (“Information on the Company”) for further information on the Company’s capitalisation and indebtedness.

The indebtedness incurred by the Company, or that it may incur in the future, is and will be subject to certain financial and operating covenants. The Company’s indebtedness could reduce the Company’s financial flexibility and cash available to pay dividends to shareholders due to the need to service its debt obligations. Prior to agreeing the terms of any debt financing, the Company expects to comprehensively consider its potential debt servicing costs and all relevant financial and operating covenants and other restrictions, including restrictions that might limit the Company’s ability to make distributions to shareholders in light of cash flow projections. However, if certain events occur, including breach of financial covenants, the Company’s borrowings and any hedging arrangements that they may have entered into may be repayable prior to the date on which they are scheduled for repayment or could otherwise become subject to early termination. If the Company is required to repay borrowings early, it may be forced to sell assets when it would not otherwise choose to do so in order to make the payments and it may be subject to pre-payment penalties.

In addition, if the rental income of the Company's Portfolio falls (for example, due to tenant defaults), the use of borrowings will increase the impact of such a fall on the net income of the Company and accordingly, will have an adverse effect on the Company's ability to pay dividends to shareholders. Moreover, in circumstances where the value of the Company's assets is declining, the use of borrowings by the Company may depress its net asset value.

The Company may also find it difficult or costly to refinance indebtedness as it matures, and if interest rates are higher when the indebtedness is refinanced, the Company's costs could increase.

Any of the foregoing events may have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, business, prospects, results of operations, taxes and ability to make distributions to shareholders, which may affect the Company ability to retain its SOCIMI status.

Floating rate debt exposes the Company to risks associated with movements in interest rates

The Company has incurred and may incur in the future debt with floating interest rates. As of 31 March 2016, 22.13% of the Company's total indebtedness was subject to floating interest rates. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors, including international and domestic economic and political conditions, and other factors beyond the Company's control. The level of interest rates can fluctuate due to, among other things, inflationary pressures, disruptions to financial markets and the availability of bank credit. If interest rates rise, the Company will be required to use a greater proportion of its revenues to pay interest expenses on its floating rate debt. Whilst the Company intends to hedge, totally or partially, its interest rate exposure, any such measures may not be sufficient to protect the Company from risks associated with movements in prevailing interest rates. In addition, any hedging arrangements will expose the Company to credit risk in respect of the hedging counterparty. Increased exposure to adverse interest rate movements through floating rate debt may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

2.7 Risks relating to structure and taxation

The Company may cease to be qualified as a Spanish SOCIMI which would have adverse consequences for the Company and its ability to deliver returns to shareholders

The Company has elected for Spanish SOCIMI status under the SOCIMI Act and, thus, it will be subject to a 0% Corporate Income Tax rate –with the exceptions set forth in Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus–. The requirements for maintaining Spanish SOCIMI status, however, are complex and the Spanish SOCIMI Regime is relatively new with no practical history of interpretation (see Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus for additional information on these requirements). Furthermore, there may be changes subsequently introduced (including a change in interpretation) to the requirements for maintaining Spanish SOCIMI status. Investors in the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights should note that there is no guarantee that the Company will continue to maintain its SOCIMI status (whether by reason of failure to satisfy the conditions for Spanish SOCIMI status or otherwise).

A company may lose its SOCIMI status due to any the following:

- delisting;
- substantial failure to comply with its information and reporting obligations, unless such failure is remedied by preparing fully compliant annual accounts which contain certain required information in the following year;

- failure to adopt a dividend distribution resolution or to effectively satisfy the dividends within the deadlines described in “Mandatory dividend distribution” in Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus. In this case, the SOCIMI status would be lost in respect of the tax year when the undistributed profits were obtained and any subsequent period; or
- failure to meet the requirements established in the SOCIMI Act unless such failure is remedied within the following fiscal year.

Assets must be held for a minimum period of time; however, the failure to observe such minimum holding period requirement would not give rise to the loss of SOCIMI status, but (i) the assets that do not meet such requirement would be deemed to be non-qualifying assets; and (ii) income derived from such assets or from their transfer would be taxed at the standard Corporate Income Tax rate (currently 25%).

If the Company were to lose its SOCIMI status as a result of any of the above, it would have to pay Spanish Corporate Income Tax on the profits deriving from its activities at the standard Corporate Income Tax rate (currently 25%), and would not be eligible to become a SOCIMI (and benefit from its special tax regime) for three years. The shareholders in a company that loses its SOCIMI status are expected to be taxable as if the SOCIMI Regime had not been applicable to the company.

If the Company is unable to maintain its SOCIMI status, the resultant consequences may have a material adverse effect on the Company’s financial condition, business, prospects or results of operations and could adversely impact the marketability and liquidity of the ordinary shares and their value.

Any change in tax legislation (including the Spanish SOCIMI Regime) may adversely affect the Company

The Company is a Spanish SOCIMI. Provided certain conditions and tests are satisfied (see Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus), as a Spanish SOCIMI, the Company does not have to pay Spanish Corporate Income Tax on most of the profits deriving from its activities. Therefore any change (including a change in interpretation) in the legislative provisions relating to Spanish SOCIMIs or in tax legislation more generally, either in Spain or in any other country in which the Company may operate in the future, including but not limited to the imposition of new taxes or increases in tax rates in Spain or elsewhere, may have a material adverse effect on the Company’s financial condition, business, prospects or results of operations.

Restrictions under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime may limit the Company’s ability and flexibility to pursue growth through acquisitions

The Spanish SOCIMI Regime distribution requirements may limit the Company’s ability to fund acquisitions and capital expenditures through retained income and debt financing.

In order to benefit from a 0% Spanish Corporate Income Tax rate, the Company is required, among other things, to adopt resolutions for the distribution of dividends, after fulfilling any relevant Spanish Companies Act requirement, to shareholders annually within the six months following the closing of the fiscal year of: (i) at least 50% of the profits derived from the transfer of real estate properties and shares in Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; provided that the remaining profits must be reinvested in other real estate properties or participations within a maximum period of three years from the date of the transfer or, if not, 100% of the profits must be distributed as dividends once such period has elapsed; (ii) 100% of the profits derived from dividends paid by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; and (iii) at least 80% of all other profits obtained (e.g., profits derived from ancillary activities).

If the relevant dividend distribution resolution is not adopted in a timely manner, the Company will lose its SOCIMI status as per the year to which the dividends relate and the Company will be required to pay Spanish Corporate Income Tax on the profits deriving from its activities at the standard rate (currently 25%) as from the relevant tax period in which the Company loses such status. In such case, the Company will not be eligible to become a SOCIMI (and benefit from its special tax regime) for three years. Summarized information on the Spanish SOCIMI Regime is included in Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus.

As a result of the restrictions referred to above, the Company is able to apply only a limited amount of its income to acquiring additional properties and its ability to grow through acquisitions will be limited if it is unable to obtain further debt or equity financing. If the Company elects to rely on equity financing, shareholders’ interests in the Company may be diluted.

In addition, differences in timing between the receipt of cash and the recognition of income for the purposes of the rules governing Spanish SOCIMIs and the effect of any potential debt amortisation payments could require the Company to borrow funds to make cash distributions.

The dividend distributions requirements that are necessary to achieve the full tax benefits associated with qualifying as a Spanish SOCIMI can be met by approving such distribution and satisfying the dividend in kind or immediately thereafter, converting credits deriving from such dividends into share capital of the Company, provided such dividends qualify as income for tax purposes. However, the Company cannot provide assurance that any such distribution will be approved by a general shareholders’ meeting or that the distribution will be considered as income for all shareholders.

These requirements to maintain status as a Spanish SOCIMI could limit the Company’s ability and flexibility to make investments and pursue growth through acquisitions.

Certain disposals of properties may have negative implications under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime

At least 80% of a SOCIMI’s net annual income must derive from the lease of qualifying assets (as described in Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus), or from dividends distributed by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds.

Capital gains derived from the sale of qualifying assets are in principle excluded from the 80%/20% net income test. However, if a qualifying asset is sold before the minimum holding period (as described in Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus) is achieved, then (i) such capital gain would compute as non-qualifying revenue within the 20% thresholds that must not be exceeded for the maintenance of the SOCIMI Regime; and (ii) such gain would be taxed at the standard Corporate Income Tax rate (currently 25%). Furthermore, the entire income, including rental income, derived from such asset also would be subject to the standard Corporate Income Tax rate.

Further, if the Company generates income out of a non-property rental business, the 80%/20% gross asset or net income tests may not be met. In such case, the Company will have one-year grace period to cure that infraction. If the gross asset or net revenue tests are not met within that fiscal year, the Company will lose its SOCIMI status.

For more information on the Spanish SOCIMI Regime please see Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus.

The Company may become subject to an additional tax charge if it pays a dividend to a Substantial Shareholder which may result in a loss of profits for the Company

The Company may become subject to a 19% Corporate Income Tax on the gross dividend distributed to any shareholder that holds a stake equal or higher than 5% of the share capital of the Company and either (i) is exempt from any tax on the dividends or subject to tax on the dividends received at a rate lower than 10% (for these purposes, final tax due under the Spanish Non Resident Income Tax Law is also taken into consideration) or (ii) does not timely provide the Company with the information evidencing its equal or higher than 10% taxation on dividends distributed by the Company in the terms set forth in the By-Laws (a “Substantial Shareholder”).

The Spanish General Directorate of Taxes (Dirección General de Tributos) (the “DGT”) has recently issued two binding rulings (n.3308-14 and n.0323-15) indicating that the 10% test to be carried out in order to identify substantial shareholders shall be focused on the tax liability arising from the dividend income considered individually, taking into account (a) exemptions and tax credits affecting the dividends received by the shareholder, and (b) those expenses incurred by the shareholder which are directly linked to the dividend income (e.g., fees paid in relation to the management of the shareholding in the relevant SOCIMI distributing the dividends, or financial expenses (interest) deriving from the financing obtained to fund the acquisition of the shares of the relevant SOCIMI). According to these rulings, the tax treatment applicable to other items of income that may be obtained by the shareholder should not be taken into account. In addition, the DGT has confirmed that the withholding tax levied on a dividend payment (including any non-resident income tax liability) should also be taken into consideration by the shareholder for assessing this 10% threshold.

The By-Laws contain indemnity obligations from Substantial Shareholders in favour of the Company designed to discourage the possibility that dividends may become payable to Substantial Shareholders. If a dividend payment is made to a Substantial Shareholder, the Company will be entitled to deduct an amount equivalent to the tax expenses incurred by the Company on such dividend payment from the amount to be paid to such Substantial Shareholder (the Board will maintain certain discretion in deciding whether to exercise this right if making such deduction would put the Company in a worse position). However, the Company cannot provide assurance that these measures will be effective. If these measures are ineffective, the payment of dividends to a Substantial Shareholder may generate an expense for the Company (since it may have to pay a 19% Corporate Income Tax on such dividend) and, thus, may result in a loss of profits for the rest of the shareholders.

2.8 Risks relating to the economy

Since the Company's properties are concentrated in Spain, adverse developments in general economic conditions in Spain and elsewhere and concerns regarding instability of the Eurozone may adversely affect the Company

The Company's Portfolio consists primarily of direct or indirect interests in commercial property assets in Spain. Accordingly, the performance of the Spanish economy affects the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The global financial system began to experience difficulties in mid-2007. This resulted in severe dislocation of financial markets around the world, including Spain, significant declines in the values of nearly all asset classes and unprecedented levels of illiquidity in capital markets. After rapid economic growth since 2004, Spain entered into a severe economic crisis which led to a GDP contraction between 2008 and 2013.

After years of recession (since 2008), Spain's economy began to grow again in 2014 experiencing a GDP increase of 1.4% due to better labour market prospects, strengthened confidence, lower economic uncertainty and falling energy prices. During 2015 the GDP expanded by 3.2% and 3.4% in the second and third quarters respectively, and continued growing during the last quarter of the year with an increase of 3.5%, leading to an overall GDP growth of 3.3% for 2015 as a whole (Source: Spanish National Statistic Institute (INE)). In the first quarter of 2016 the Spanish economy registered a GDP growth of 3.4% compared to the previous quarter (Source: INE). Despite the growth in GDP, the unemployment rate continues to be high (21% in the first quarter of 2016 (source: INE)) and the fiscal deficit amounted to 5.1% of GDP in 2015, the second largest in the Eurozone after Greece (source: Eurostat).

Despite the recent improvement in GDP, there continues to be uncertainties in the EU and Spanish economic and political outlook. Sovereign debt defaults, European Union and/or Eurozone exits, including instability caused by the outcome of the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU, political uncertainty in Spain (mainly as a result of the general elections in December 2015 and June 2016 failing to produce a majority government) and certain regions thereof and the evolution of the Chinese economy, among other matters, could have a material adverse effect on the Company by, for example, impacting the cost and availability of credit to the Company and causing uncertainty and disruption in relation to financing. In particular, while the full effects of the vote by the United Kingdom to exit the EU are impossible to predict, it may result in significant market volatility and dislocation, and adversely affect the UK, European and global economy. Moreover, austerity and other measures (including, but not limited to currency redenomination or the reintroduction of exchange controls) introduced to limit, or to contain the effects of these issues, whether in Spain or elsewhere, may themselves lead to economic contraction and result in adverse effects on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Negative macroeconomic conditions have in the past significantly affected, and may continue to affect, rental and/or capital values of property assets, may reduce the ability of the Company to obtain liquidity or acquire or dispose of properties and to secure or retain tenants on acceptable terms or may otherwise have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

2.9 Risks relating to the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights

The Underwriting Agreement between the Company and the Managers provide that such agreement may be terminated in certain circumstances and the underwriting commitment by the Managers is subject to certain conditions precedent. If the capital increase is revoked investors who have acquired Preferential Subscription Rights will not recover monies paid

The Underwriting Agreement between the Company and the Managers may be terminated in certain circumstances, including upon the occurrence of, among other things, certain material adverse changes in the condition (financial or otherwise), business affairs or prospects of the Company, and certain changes in, among other things, certain national or international political, financial or economic conditions and an event of force majeure. In addition, the Underwriting Agreement is subject to certain conditions precedent. For more information about the Underwriting Agreement, see section 3 of Part XV ("The Offering"). Should the Underwriting Agreement be early terminated or should the Managers fail to comply with their commitments under the Underwriting Agreement, the Offering may not be fully subscribed or revoked, which could have an adverse effect on the Company. See also "The Offering within the discretionary allocation period may not proceed or may be revoked in certain circumstances" in this Part II ("Risk Factors").

If the capital increase is revoked and terminated, the monies paid for New Ordinary Shares by subscribers would be returned to them. However, any investors who have acquired Preferential Subscription Rights would not receive any amounts paid for such Preferential Subscription Rights from the Company. See also "Termination" in section 1.14 of Part XV ("The Offering").

There can be no assurance that an active trading market will develop for the Preferential Subscription Rights or that there will be sufficient liquidity for such rights

The Preferential Subscription Rights to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares offered hereby do not have an established trading market. Although the Preferential Subscription Rights offered hereby will be admitted to trading on the Spanish Stock Exchanges through the SIBE during the preferential subscription period described herein, the Company cannot assure holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that an active trading market will develop for these rights on the Spanish Stock Exchanges or that any over the counter trading market in the Preferential Subscription Rights will develop or that there will be sufficient liquidity for such rights during such period.

A significant decline in the Company's ordinary share price would likely have a material adverse effect on the value of the Preferential Subscription Rights

Because the trading price of the Preferential Subscription Rights depends on the trading price of the ordinary shares, a significant decline in such ordinary share price would be likely to have material adverse effect on the value of the Preferential Subscription Rights. Accordingly, all of the risks that affect the market price of the ordinary shares, including those risks described in this Prospectus, may also affect the trading price of the Preferential Subscription Rights. In addition, the Company cannot assure holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that the trading price of the ordinary shares will not decline below the Subscription Price after they elect to exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights. If that occurs, holders of Preferential Subscription Rights will have committed to buy the New Ordinary Shares at a price above the prevailing market price, and will suffer an immediate unrealised loss as a result. Moreover, the Company cannot assure holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that following the exercise of the Preferential Subscription Rights they will be able to sell their New Ordinary Shares at a price equal to or greater than the Subscription Price.

The ordinary shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights may be sold on the market during the preferential subscription period (in the case of Preferential Subscription Rights), or during or after the preferential subscription period (in the case of ordinary shares), which may have an unfavourable impact on the value of the Preferential Subscription Rights or the market price of the ordinary shares

The ordinary shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights may be sold on the market, or such sales may be anticipated, during the preferential subscription period (in the case of Preferential Subscription Rights) or during or after the preferential subscription period (in the case of ordinary shares), which may have an unfavourable impact on the market price of the ordinary shares (including the New Ordinary Shares) or the value of the Preferential Subscription Rights. The Company cannot predict the possible effects on the value of the Preferential Subscription Rights or the market price of the ordinary shares of any such sales.

Any delay in the admission to listing and trading of the New Ordinary Shares would affect their liquidity and would prevent their sale until they are so admitted

The issuance of the New Ordinary Shares is subject to the registration of the capital increase deed with the Commercial Registry (Registro Mercantil) of Madrid. Although such deed is scheduled to be registered promptly with such Commercial Registry once it has been granted, such registration may, despite the Company's best efforts and for reasons beyond its control, not take place in time to enable the New Ordinary Shares to be admitted to listing on the Spanish Stock Exchanges or to trading on the SIBE on the expected date (currently, 2 August 2016). Any postponement of the admission to listing and/or trading of the New Ordinary Shares due to a delay in the registration of the capital increase deed with the Commercial Registry or for any other reason would affect the liquidity of the New Ordinary Shares and would make it more difficult for an investor to sell such New Ordinary Shares until they are admitted to listing and trading.

The Offering within the discretionary allocation period may not proceed or may be revoked in certain circumstances

The Underwriting Agreement contemplates the possibility for the Managers to terminate the Underwriting Agreement until the time of registration of the capital increase deed with the Commercial Registry of Madrid under certain circumstances and in such a case any allocation within the discretionary allocation period will be automatically cancelled. See section 1.14 of Part XV ("The Offering") for further details on the circumstances in which the Underwriting Agreement may be terminated.

Investors who exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights during the preferential subscription period will not be able to revoke their subscriptions

Shareholders who exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights, and investors who acquire and exercise those Preferential Subscription Rights during the preferential subscription period described herein, will not be able to revoke the subscriptions made during that period even if the Underwriting Agreement is terminated (except where a supplement to the Prospectus is published, in which case investors who have already agreed to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares will have the right, exercisable within two Madrid business days after publication of such supplement, to withdraw their subscriptions, provided that the new factor, mistake or inaccuracy to which the supplement refers arose before the final closing of the Offering and the delivery of the New Ordinary Shares). Also, orders relating to the request for additional New Ordinary Shares to be allocated in the additional allocation period described herein and requests for subscription of New Ordinary Shares in the discretionary allocation period described herein will be deemed to be firm, irrevocable and unconditional whether or not the full amount of New Ordinary Shares ordered by the relevant investor will be delivered in full. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of termination of the Underwriting Agreement or if the pre-funding or other obligations of the Managers do not become effective due to the Company's failure to fulfil one of the conditions precedent in the Underwriting Agreement, requests for subscription of New Ordinary Shares in the discretionary allocation period will be without effect.

Shareholders who do not exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights will have their interest in the Company diluted

The Offering is designed to enable the Company to raise capital in a manner that gives the opportunity to existing shareholders to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares. Shareholders who do not exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights during the preferential subscription period described herein will have their equity interest diluted by approximately 33.04% with respect to their current holding, if all the New Ordinary Shares are subscribed for in full, by current shareholders or other investors exercising their Preferential Subscription Rights and/or subscribing for additional New Ordinary Shares in excess of their pro rata entitlement during the additional allocation period described herein, or by qualified investors during the discretionary allocation period or by the Managers in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement.

Even where a shareholder sells unexercised Preferential Subscription Rights, the consideration received by such shareholders who elect to sell their Preferential Subscription Rights prior to the expiration of the preferential subscription period may not be sufficient to fully compensate them for the dilution of their percentage ownership of the Existing Ordinary Shares that may result from the Offering. Furthermore, after the preferential subscription period ends, Preferential Subscription Rights that have not been exercised will expire and shareholders that have not exercised those Preferential Subscription Rights will not receive compensation for any expired Preferential Subscription Rights.

The Preferential Subscription Rights must be exercised through the Iberclear member entity in whose book entry registry such rights are registered and the Subscription Price must be paid for in euros

The Preferential Subscription Rights will have to be exercised through the Iberclear member entity in whose book entry registry such rights are registered. Such Iberclear member will be located in Spain. In addition, payment of the Subscription Price must be made in euros to such Iberclear member. As a result, it may be difficult for those shareholders and investors who are located outside Spain to exercise the Preferential Subscription Rights they hold, request any additional allocation of New Ordinary Shares and pay the Subscription Price in respect thereof.

Shareholders outside Spain may be unable to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares in the Offering or to exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights

The Company may not be able to offer the New Ordinary Shares to shareholders in certain jurisdictions pursuant to the Preferential Subscription Rights, including to shareholders in the United States, where unless a registration statement under the Securities Act is effective with respect to such New Ordinary Shares and Preferential Subscription Rights, or an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available, no such offer may be made. The Company is not obliged to file a registration statement relating to the Preferential Subscription Rights or the New Ordinary Shares, and the Company has no intention to do so. The Preferential Subscription Rights not exercised will lapse and shareholders will not be compensated.

The share price may be volatile and subject to sudden and significant decline and may not reflect the value of the assets of the Company

The market price of the ordinary shares, including the New Ordinary Shares, may be volatile and their trading illiquid. Factors, including those outside the Company's control such as stock market analyst recommendations, negative publicity, expectations of the market with respect to the timing of any proposed acquisitions, developments affecting our industry or our competitors, the departure of members of the Board or the Management Team, changes in conditions in financial or securities markets or changes in the legal and regulatory framework in which the Company operates may have a significant effect on the market price and liquidity of the ordinary shares of the Company. Moreover, the market price of the ordinary shares may not reflect the value of the assets of the Company.

In addition, during the past few years, securities markets in Spain and worldwide have experienced significant volatility in prices and trading volumes. This volatility could have a negative impact on the market price of the ordinary shares, irrespective of our financial condition and results of operations. Therefore, investors might not be able to sell their ordinary shares easily or at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments at a price equal to or greater than their trading price.

The Company may in the future issue new ordinary shares, which may dilute investors' interest in the Company

In case a share capital increase or the issue of any instruments convertible into new ordinary shares is approved excluding pre-emption rights or existing shareholders choose not to subscribe for new ordinary shares (or any instruments convertible into new ordinary shares), the issuance of new ordinary shares may be dilutive to such existing shareholders and could have an adverse effect on the market price of the ordinary shares as a whole.

The Spanish Companies Act provides for pre-emptive rights in respect of equity offerings for cash to be granted to its existing shareholders except in certain circumstances, including where such rights are disappplied. In addition, the issuance of Performance Fee Shares to the Investment Manager will dilute investors' interest in the Company.

The Company has agreed under the Underwriting Agreement that, without the prior written consent of the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, it will not, during the period commencing on the date of the Underwriting Agreement and ending 180 days after the Admission, directly or indirectly, issue any new ordinary shares; provided however, the foregoing restriction shall be subject to certain exceptions, including the issue and/or sale and offer of the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights pursuant to the Offering as described in this Prospectus. See section 6 of Part XV ("The Offering") for further information on the Underwriting Agreement and the restrictions on equity securities of the Company.

A current minority shareholder or a third party may acquire a significant stake in the Company in the context of the Offering or otherwise

It is possible that a current minority shareholder and/or a third party acquires a significant number of New Ordinary Shares in the Offering or acquires ordinary shares otherwise, which could potentially reduce the free float of the ordinary shares which are available for trading on the open market, having an adverse effect on the liquidity of the ordinary shares.

Sales of ordinary shares by significant shareholders, or the possibility of such sales, may affect the market price of the ordinary shares

Sales of ordinary shares or interests in ordinary shares by significant shareholders such as the Anchor Investor (as defined herein), or the possibility of such sales, could cause the market price of the ordinary shares to decline.

The sale of a substantial number of ordinary shares, or the perception that sales of this type could occur, could depress the market price of the ordinary shares. The occurrence of either or both of these scenarios could make it more difficult for other shareholders to sell the ordinary shares at a favourable price and time or at all.

The interests of the Company's major shareholders may conflict with those of other shareholders

A significant investor may potentially possess sufficient voting power to have a significant influence on matters requiring shareholder approval. The interests of a significant investor may conflict with those of other shareholders. In addition, any significant investor may make investments in other businesses in the Spanish property market that may be, or may become, competitors of the Company.

Moreover, pursuant to the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement (as defined herein), the Anchor Investor has a right of first offer with respect to certain Commercial Property Investments (as defined herein), undertaken by the Company. The Investment Manager has also granted the Anchor Investor with a right of first offer with respect to certain Residential Property Investments (as defined herein) undertaken by the Investment Manager. Co-investment and first offer rights granted to the Anchor Investor may conflict with other shareholders' interests.

The Company and the PIMCO Investor (which, like the Anchor Investor, is advised by PIMCO (as defined herein)) have invested in the Lagasca 99 land plot described in section 5.27 of Part X ("Information on the Company"). In addition, the Company and the PIMCO Investor invested in a residential building in Claudio Coello which was sold in January 2016.

Given its shareholding and, in certain instances, its diverging business interests, the Anchor Investor may attempt to block strategies intended to be pursued by the Company.

It may be difficult for shareholders outside Spain to serve process on or enforce foreign judgments against the Company or the Directors

The Company is a public limited company (a sociedad anónima or S.A.) incorporated in Spain. The rights of the shareholders are governed by Spanish law and by the By-laws. These rights may differ from the rights of shareholders in non-Spanish corporations. A majority of the current Directors are resident in Spain and all of the assets of the Company are currently located in Spain. As a result it may be difficult for shareholders outside Spain to serve process on or enforce foreign judgments against the Company or the Directors.

An investor whose currency is not the euro is exposed to exchange rate fluctuations

The assets of the Company and any acquisitions made by the Company are and will be in euro. Additionally, the ordinary shares have been priced in euro on their primary trading market and any future payments of dividends on the ordinary shares will be denominated in euros. Any investment in Ordinary Shares by an investor whose principal currency is not the euro exposes the investor to foreign currency exchange risk. The US dollar or other currency equivalent of any dividends paid on the ordinary shares or any distributions made on an investment made in the ordinary shares could be adversely affected by the depreciation of the euro against other currencies.

Shareholders may face difficulties in protecting their interests because of differences in shareholders' rights and fiduciary responsibilities between Spanish laws and the laws of other jurisdictions, including most US states

Corporate governance matters for the Company are principally determined by Spanish corporate law, the By-Laws and the Company's internal rules governing the meetings of the Board and the shareholders. Shareholders' rights and the fiduciary responsibilities of directors, officers and controlling shareholders are different under Spanish law when compared with the statutes and judicial precedents of other jurisdictions, including most states in the United States. As a result, shareholders may have more difficulty in protecting their interests with regard to any acts on any failure to act by the Company's directors, officers or controlling shareholders than would shareholders of a corporation incorporated in another jurisdiction or a state in the United States.

The Company's ability to pay dividends will depend upon its ability to generate profits available for distribution and access to sufficient cash

All dividends and other distributions paid by the Company will be made at the discretion of the Board and will be dependent on the availability of profits available for distribution (after fulfilling any relevant Spanish Companies Act requirement) and sufficient cash. The generation of profits available for distribution depends on a number of factors including the successful management of the Company's investments, the yields on the Company's properties, interest costs, taxes and profits on the development and sale of properties. The payment of any such dividends or other distributions will depend on the Company's ability to generate profits available for distribution and cash flow.

Pursuant to the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, the Company will be required to adopt resolutions for the distribution of dividends, after fulfilling any relevant Spanish Companies Act requirement, to shareholders annually within the six months following the closing of the fiscal year of: (i) at least 50% of the profits derived from the transfer of real estate properties and shares in Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; provided that the remaining profits must be reinvested in other real estate properties or participations within a maximum period of three years from the date of the transfer or, if not, 100% of the profits must be distributed as dividends once such period has elapsed; (ii) 100% of the profits derived from dividends paid by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; and (iii) at least 80% of all other profits obtained (i.e., profits derived from ancillary activities). See section 12 of Part X (“Information on the Company”) for further details on the dividend requirements of the Spanish SOCIMI Regime.

There is a risk that the Company may generate profits, but not have sufficient cash to make distributions. If the Company does not have sufficient cash, it may have to borrow to fund the distribution, which would increase its finance costs, could reduce its ability to borrow to finance property acquisitions and could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The dividend distributions requirements that are necessary to achieve the full tax benefits associated with qualifying as a Spanish SOCIMI can be met by approving such distribution and satisfying the dividend in kind or immediately thereafter, converting credits deriving from such dividends into share capital of the Company, provided such dividends qualify as income for tax purposes. However, the Company cannot provide assurance that any such distribution will be approved by a general shareholders’ meeting or that the distribution will be considered as income for all shareholders.

Dividend payments to Substantial Shareholders may be subject to deductions

The By-Laws contain indemnity obligations from Substantial Shareholders in favour of the Company designed to discourage the possibility that dividends may become payable to Substantial Shareholders in order to avoid that an additional 19% Corporate Income Tax be due on the gross amount of such dividend corresponding to a Substantial Shareholder. If a dividend payment is made to a Substantial Shareholder, the Company will be entitled to deduct an amount equivalent to the tax expenses incurred by the Company on such dividend payment from the amount to be paid to such Substantial Shareholder. As a result, Substantial Shareholders may receive less dividends per ordinary share than shareholders that are not Substantial Shareholders.

Pre-emptive rights for US and other shareholders outside Spain may be unavailable

In the case of certain increases in the Company’s issued share capital, existing holders of ordinary shares are generally entitled to pre-emptive rights to subscribe for such shares, unless shareholders waive such rights by a resolution at a shareholders’ meeting. However, US holders of ordinary shares in Spanish companies are customarily excluded from exercising any such pre-emptive rights they may have, unless a registration statement under the Securities Act is effective with respect to those rights, or an exemption from the registration requirements thereunder is available. The Company does not intend to file any such registration statement in future capital increases, and the Company cannot assure prospective US investors that any exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act or applicable non-US securities laws would be available to enable US or other shareholders outside Spain to exercise such pre-emptive rights or, if available, that the Company will utilise any such exemption.

3. PART III: USE OF PROCEEDS

The Company's principal use of the net proceeds of the Offering (the "Net Proceeds") will be to expand its existing Portfolio, enhance it through capital expenditures as well as to fund the Company's operating expenses consistently with the Business Strategy of the Company disclosed in section 4 of Part X ("Information on the Company"). The Company expects to have fully invested the Net Proceeds of the Offering within the twelve months following the Offering.

As of the date of this Prospectus, the Company has identified market opportunities with an estimated size of €38.54 million (without considering Building Capex), of which approximately €45 million correspond to a retail complex in the North of Spain in respect of which the Company has entered into a share deal agreement on 29 June 2016 and which acquisition is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2016 (please refer to section 5 of Part X ("Information on the Company") for further details). The remaining €93.54 million correspond to market opportunities under negotiation and analysis. In terms of property categories or nature of businesses, 81.09% of the referred market opportunities (in terms of euro amounts) are retail facilities, 14.20% are logistic properties and the remaining 4.71% are properties that belong to other categories.

These acquisitions, if completed, may be funded with the Net Proceeds and/or debt, which will be assumed in accordance with the leverage criteria further described in section 6.1 of Part X ("Information on the Company"), and may result in changes to the Company's leverage.

The Company expects the acquisition of the retail complex in the North of Spain referred to above to be completed in the short term and will inform the market and investors in due course through the relevant significant information announcement (Hecho Relevante).

4. PART IV: DILUTION

The Eligible Shareholders will receive Preferential Subscription Rights to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares and, thus, in the event they exercise such rights in full, they will suffer no dilution of their holdings of the Company's share capital.

In the event that none of the Eligible Shareholders subscribe for New Ordinary Shares in the percentage to which their Preferential Subscription Rights entitle them, and further assuming that the New Ordinary Shares were entirely subscribed for by third party investors, the holdings of the Eligible Shareholders would represent approximately 66.961% of the total number of ordinary shares following the Offering, which would represent a dilution in ownership percentage of approximately 33.039%.

The table below sets forth the increase in the number of the ordinary shares as a result of the Offering.

	Prior to the Offering		Following completion of the Offering
Number of ordinary shares outstanding prior to the Offering	60,627,083	100.0%	60,627,083	66.961%
Number of ordinary shares issued in the Offering ⁽¹⁾	-	-	29,913,479	33.039%
Total	60,627,083	100.0%	90,540,562	100.0%

(1) Assuming that there is no incomplete subscription (suscripción incompleta) of the Offering.

The Company may decide to carry out additional share capital increases in the future. In the event that share capital increases were effected, shareholders could be diluted were they not to exercise their preferential subscription rights or in the event such share capital increases excluded preferential subscription rights for existing shareholders in accordance with Spanish law.

8. PART VIII: IMPORTANT INFORMATION

8.1 Forward looking statements

This Prospectus includes statements that are, or may be deemed to be, forward looking statements. These forward looking statements can be identified by the use of forward looking terminology, including the terms “anticipates”, “believes”, “estimates”, “expects”, “intends”, “may”, “plans”, “projects”, “should” or “will”, or, in each case, their negative or other variations or comparable terminology, or by discussions of strategy, plans, objectives, goals, future events or intentions. These forward looking statements include all matters that are not historical facts. They appear in a number of places throughout this Prospectus and include, but are not limited to, statements regarding the Company’s intentions, beliefs or current expectations concerning, among other things, the Company’s results of operations, financial position, prospects, growth, Business Strategy, financing strategies, prospects for relationships with tenants, liquidity of the Company’s assets, the Company’s pipeline and its intended acquisitions and expectations for the Spanish real estate industry.

By their nature, forward looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to future events and circumstances. Forward looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and the actual results of the Company’s operations, and the development of the markets and the industry in which the Company operates, may differ materially from those described in, or suggested by, the forward looking statements contained in this Prospectus. In addition, even if the Company’s results of operations, financial position and growth, and the development of the markets and the industry in which the Company operates, are consistent with the forward looking statements contained in this Prospectus, those results or developments may not be indicative of results or developments in subsequent periods. A number of factors could cause results and developments of the Company to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward looking statements including, without limitation, general economic and business conditions, Spanish real estate market conditions, industry trends, competition, changes in law or regulation, changes in taxation regimes or development planning regime, the availability and cost of capital, currency fluctuations, changes in its business strategy, political and economic uncertainty and other factors discussed in Part II (“Risk Factors”). The Company undertakes no obligation to update these forward looking statements and will not publicly release any revisions it may make to these forward looking statements that may occur due to any change in the Company’s expectations or to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this Prospectus, except where required by applicable law. Investors should note that the contents of these paragraphs relating to forward looking statements are not intended to qualify the statements made as to sufficiency of working capital in this Prospectus.

8.2 Market, economic and industry data

This Prospectus includes certain market, economic and industry data, which were obtained by the Company from industry publications, data and reports compiled by professional organisations and analysts, data from other external sources and internal surveys conducted by or on behalf of the Management Team. The market, economic and industry data sourced from third parties used to prepare the disclosures in this Prospectus have been accurately reproduced and, as far as the Company is aware and is able to ascertain from the information provided to them by third parties, no facts have been omitted which would render the reproduced information inaccurate or misleading in any material respect.

Some of the aforementioned third party sources may state that the information they contain has been obtained from sources believed to be reliable. However, such third party sources may also state that the accuracy and completeness of such information is not guaranteed and that the projections they contain are based on significant assumptions. As the Company does not have access to the facts and assumptions underlying such market data, statistical information and economic indicators contained in these third party sources, the Company is unable to verify such information.

Information on the Company’s properties

Certain measures included in this Prospectus have been calculated on the basis of information provided to the Company by third parties (including the sellers of the properties acquired by the Company). While such information is believed by the Company to be accurate, it has not been independently verified.

8.3 Currencies

Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Prospectus to euro and € are to the lawful single currency of member states of the EU that adopt or have adopted the euro as their currency in accordance with the legislation of the EU relating to European Monetary Union and all references to US dollars are to the lawful currency of the United States of America. The Company intends to prepare its financial statements in euro.

8.4 Presentation of financial information

The Company was formed on 17 January 2014 and acquired most of the properties currently comprising its Portfolio after 30 June 2014. As a result, the Company has a very limited operating history with its current assets and liabilities and limited representative consolidated historical information on which you can evaluate the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The Company's audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the years ended 31 December 2015 and 2014, which have been audited by Deloitte, S.L. ("Deloitte"), who has issued audit reports with an unqualified opinion, and have been prepared in accordance with IFRS-EU; and the interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements as of and for the three months ended 31 March 2016, which have been subject to limited review by Deloitte and have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 on "interim financial reporting" (jointly, the "Consolidated Financial Statements") are incorporated by reference to this Prospectus. The Consolidated Financial Statements are available at the website of the Company (www.larespana.com). No other information included on such website is incorporated by reference herein or forms a part hereof.

The financial information included in or incorporated by reference to this Prospectus is not intended to comply with the reporting requirements of the US Securities and Exchange Commission. Compliance with such requirements would generally require the presentation of pro forma financial information giving effect to certain significant acquisitions made by the Company since its incorporation. To assist investors in their evaluation of the Company and its Portfolio, the Prospectus includes Valuation Reports covering all of the properties currently comprising its Portfolio.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Company, the terms of the Offering and the financial information in this Prospectus.

Non-GAAP measures

Total GAV (as defined herein) and EPRA NAV as well as other data presented in this Prospectus are supplemental measures of the Company's performance that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, IFRS-EU. Total GAV, EPRA NAV and such other data presented in this Prospectus are not measures of the Company's performance under IFRS-EU and should not be considered as an alternative to performance measures derived in accordance with IFRS-EU or as an alternative to cash flow from operating, investing and financing activities as a measure of the Company's liquidity.

The Company believes that Total GAV and EPRA NAV and such other data presented in this Prospectus, facilitate comparisons of operating performance from period to period and company to company by eliminating potential differences caused by variations in capital structures, tax positions, the age and booked amortisation of assets amongst other. The Company also presents Total GAV and EPRA NAV and such other data because the Company believes that they are frequently used by securities analysts, investors and other interested parties in evaluating similar companies in the Company's industry, many of whom present such non-GAAP financial measures as a supplemental measure of the Company's performance.

Nevertheless, such non-GAAP measures have limitations as analytical tools, and should not be considered in isolation from, or as a substitute for analysis of, the Company's financial conditions or results of operations, as reported under IFRS-EU. Furthermore, the Company's computation of these measures may not be comparable to those reported by other companies that define or calculate these measures differently; therefore, caution should be exercised when comparing these non-GAAP measures to those of other companies.

8.5 Alternative Performance Measures

This Prospectus contains certain management measures, such as liquidity ratio, solvency ratio, return on equity (ROE), return on assets (ROA), EPRA earnings and EPRA NAV which are used to evaluate the Company's overall performance. These management measures are not audited, reviewed nor subject to a pro forma review by the Company's auditors and are not measurements required by, or presented in accordance with, IFRS-EU. These management measures are not measurements of the Company's financial performance under IFRS-EU and should not be considered as alternatives to the information in the Consolidated Financial Statements or to any performance measures prepared in accordance with IFRS-EU. Many of these management measures are based on the Company's internal estimates, assumptions, calculations, and expectations of future results and there can be no guarantee that these results will actually be achieved. Furthermore, these management measures, as the Company defines and calculates them, may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures used by other similarly titled measures used by other companies. Investors should not consider such information in isolation, as alternatives to the information calculated in accordance with IFRS-EU, as indications of operating performance or as measures of our profitability or liquidity. Such financial information must be considered only in addition to, and not as a substitute for or superior to, financial information prepared in accordance with IFRS-EU.

Investors are advised to review them in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements incorporated by reference in this Prospectus. Accordingly, investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these management measures.

The Company believes that the description of these management measures in this Prospectus follows and complies with the "European Securities and Markets Authority Guidelines on Alternative Performance Measures (APM)" dated 5 October 2015.

Through this Prospectus, and except as otherwise stated, the rental surface is presented in square metres for different types of properties. The GLA (as defined herein) provided for a particular property reflects the property's entire above-ground rental surface, according to market standards, plus retail spaces and excluding square metres of parking spaces and storage keys, unless otherwise indicated.

8.6 Rounding

Some financial information in this Prospectus has been rounded. As a result of this rounding, figures shown as totals in this Prospectus may vary slightly from the exact arithmetic aggregation of the figures that precede them. In addition, certain percentages presented in this Prospectus reflect calculations based upon the underlying information prior to rounding and, accordingly, may not conform exactly to the percentages that would be derived if the relevant calculations were based upon the rounded numbers.

8.7 No incorporation of website information

This Prospectus will be made available to the public in Spain at the website of the Company (www.larespana.com) and at the website of the CNMV (www.cnmv.es). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the contents of the Company's website, the contents of any website accessible from hyperlinks on the Company's website, or any other website referred to in this Prospectus are not incorporated in and do not form part of this Prospectus.

8.8 Investment considerations

An investment in the Company is suitable only for investors who are capable of evaluating the risks and merits of such investment, who understand the potential risk of capital loss and that there may be limited liquidity in the underlying investments of the Company and in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights, for whom an investment in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights constitutes part of a diversified property portfolio, who fully understand and are willing to assume the risks involved in investing in the Company and who have sufficient resources to bear any loss (which may be equal to the whole amount invested) which might result from such investment.

A prospective investor should be aware that the value of an investment in the Company is subject to normal market fluctuations and other risks inherent in investing in securities. There is no assurance that any appreciation in the value of the New Ordinary Shares will occur or that the investment or business objectives of the Company will be achieved. The value of investments and any income derived therefrom may fall as well as rise and investors may not recoup the original amount invested in the Company.

The contents of this Prospectus are not to be construed as advice relating to legal, financial, taxation, accounting or regulatory matters, investment decisions or any other matter. Prospective investors must rely upon their own representatives, including their own legal advisors and accountants, as to legal, tax, accounting, regulatory, investment or any other related matters concerning the Company and an investment therein. An investment in the Company should be regarded as a long-term investment. There can be no assurance that the Company's business objective will be achieved. It should be remembered that the price of the New Ordinary Shares, and any dividends paid on the New Ordinary Shares (if any), can go down as well as up.

This Prospectus should be read in its entirety before making any investment in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights. All shareholders are entitled to the benefit of, are bound by, and are deemed to have notice of, the provisions of the By-Laws, which prospective investors should review. A summary of the By-Laws is contained in section 6 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information").

8.9 Available Information

The Company has agreed that, for so long as any New Ordinary Shares are "restricted securities" as defined in Rule 144(a)(3) under the Securities Act, it will during any period that it is neither subject to section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act nor exempt from reporting pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) thereunder furnish, upon request, to any holder or beneficial owner of ordinary shares or any prospective purchaser designated by any such holder or beneficial owner the information required to be delivered pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

8.10 Service of Process and Enforcement of Liabilities

The Company and the Investment Manager were incorporated and are domiciled in Spain. All of the Directors and all of the members of the Management Team, are resident outside the United States, and a substantial portion of the assets of such persons and the Company are located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States upon the Company or such persons or to enforce against any of them in the United States courts judgments obtained in United States courts, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of the United States or any state or territory within the United States.

9. PART IX: MARKET OVERVIEW

9.1 Spanish Commercial Real Estate Market

The impact of the international credit crisis, the European sovereign debt crisis and the domestic economic crisis since 2007 on the Spanish property market has been considerable, leading to a strong cyclical downturn and structural re-pricing of real estate assets. Since peaking in 2007, the Spanish commercial property market has seen a severe decline in the value of real estate assets, with the capital values of real estate assets in Madrid falling by approximately 29.2% in offices, 42.0% in retail and 43.4% in industrial from 2007 to 31 March 2016 (Source: CBRE, Q1 2016). Rental levels have also adjusted sharply since 2007. The average rent price per square metre of an office in Madrid and Barcelona has decreased by 33.1% and 25.5%, respectively, from 2007 to 31 March 2016, 39.1% and 10.0%, respectively, for retail and 41.2% and 27.1%, respectively, for industrial (Source: CBRE, Q1 2016). Real estate transaction activity was also significantly and adversely affected by the economic downturn, with commercial investment volumes dropping from almost €13.6 billion in 2007 to about €2.9 billion in 2013, with a partial recovery in 2014 (€7.8 billion) and higher volumes reached in 2015 (€8.8 billion) (Source: Real Capital Analytics / Knight Frank, March 2016). Since the start of the credit crisis in mid-2007, the number of banks advancing new loans for the purchase of Spanish commercial property has fallen substantially and that decline, together with a tightening of lending policies by financial institutions, resulted in a significant contraction in the amount of debt available to fund real estate investments mainly until 2014.

From 2008 to 2013, the Spanish commercial real estate market contracted in terms of volume to the point that deal activity consisted of a limited number of relatively small scale transactions each year and there was no longer a fully functioning investment market. This negative trend has reverted since 2014. The lack of transactions during the 2008-2013 period was due to a number of factors including an overhang of excess supply, the absence of bank funding and deleveraging by foreign and domestic banks. Another key factor was the fact that the Spanish commercial real estate investment market was historically dominated by domestic participants who by the start of the credit crisis were holding a substantial amount of highly leveraged syndicated real estate investments. As asset values declined, the equity value within a vast number of those investments was eliminated, creating unsustainable leverage ratios and consequently leaving debt providers with significant exposure to impaired loans secured by commercial real estate assets. This ultimately led to the transfer of a significant portion of the Spanish banking system's real estate exposure to the Spanish Company for the Management of Assets Proceeding from Restructuring of the Banking System (Sociedad de Gestión de Activos procedentes de la Reestructuración Bancaria) ("SAREB").

SAREB was established in November 2012 as one of a number of initiatives taken by the Spanish Government to address the serious problems that arose in Spain's banking sector as the result of excessive property lending. Fourteen institutions initially participated in the capital of SAREB, including eight Spanish banks (Ibercaja, Bankinter, Unicaja, Cajamar, Caja Laboral, Banca March, Cecabank and Banco Cooperativo Español), two non-Spanish banks (Deutsche Bank and Barclays) and four insurers (Mapfre, Mutua Madrileña, Catalana Occidente and Axa). Participation has subsequently increased to include another six Spanish banks (Santander Group, Caixabank, Banco Sabadell, Banco Popular, Kutxabank and Banco Caminos) and the Spanish energy company Iberdrola. Insurers Generali, Zurich, Seguros Santa Lucía, Reale, Pelayo Seguros and Asisa have invested in purchases of subordinated debt from SAREB. Private institutional shareholders own a 55% stake in SAREB, while the remaining 45% is owned by the Spanish Government's Fund for the Orderly Restructuring of Banks (Fondo de Reestructuración Ordenada Bancaria) (the "FROB") (Source: SAREB public website).

SAREB has acquired (i) foreclosed assets whose net carrying amount exceeds €100,000, (ii) loans/credits to real estate developers whose net carrying amount exceeds €250,000, calculated at the borrower, rather than the transaction, level, and (iii) controlling corporate holdings linked to the real estate sector, from banks in Spain that have required recapitalisation with Government aid (BFA-Bankia, Catalunya Banc, Novagalicia Banco, Banco de Valencia, Banco Mare Nostrum, CEISS, Caja3 and Liberbank). Assets estimated to have been acquired by SAREB total approximately €1 billion (roughly 80% financial assets and 20% real estate assets). In exchange for such assets, SAREB issued Spanish government-guaranteed securities to these institutions. The overall objective of SAREB is the management and orderly divestment of the portfolio of assets received, maximising their recovery, over a maximum time horizon of 15 years from 2012. In pursuing its activity, SAREB has to contribute to the restructuring of the financial system, while minimising the use of public funds and any market distortions it may cause.

Market recovery

Macroeconomic recovery

The Management Team believes that there are indications of recovery in the Spanish economy and certain segments of the Spanish commercial property market already reflected in 2015. The GDP growth in Spain amounted to 3.4% in the first quarter of 2016 (on year on year basis) (Source: Spanish National Statistics Institute, Q1 2016).

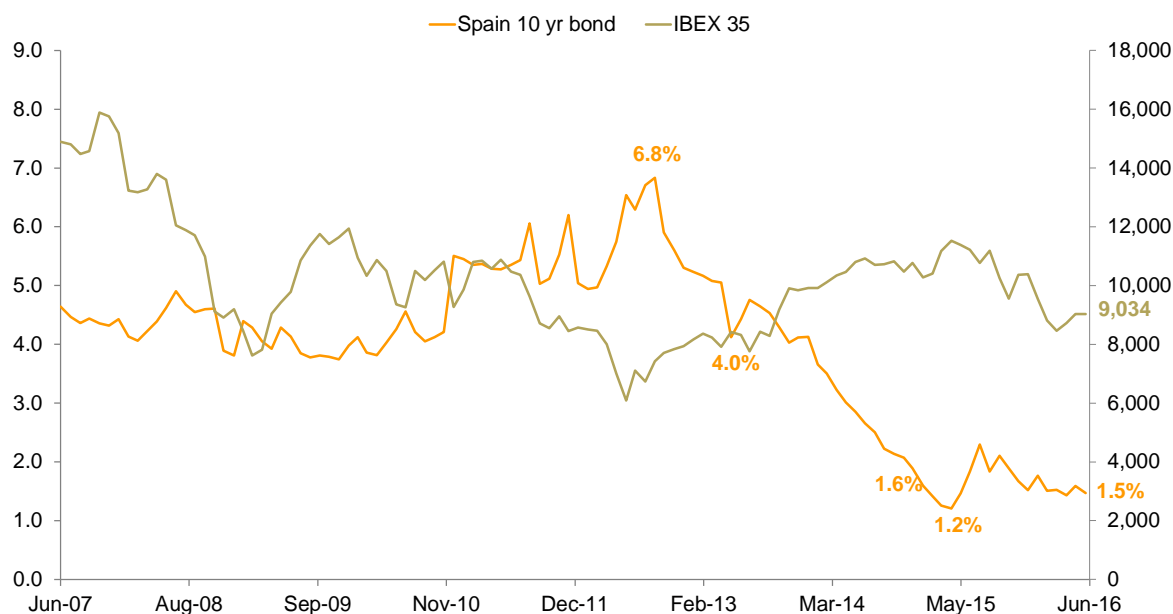

Domestic demand remained as one of the main growth drivers. Consumer spending is estimated to have grown by around 3.1% in 2015, with similar growth anticipated for 2016 (Source: Cushman and Wakefield Economic snapshot Q1 2016). The consumer confidence indicators published by CIS (Centro de Investigaciones Sociológicas) were at 38.1 as of May 2016 (compared to 32.5 in May 2008) which suggests better prospects on the economy expected by consumers. Additionally lower energy costs, the modestly expansionary 2016 budget, recent income tax changes and a slowly improving labour market are expected to support private consumption in 2016 (Source: Savills World Research, September 2015). However, political uncertainty in Spain remains a challenge, mainly as a result of the general elections in December 2015 and June 2016 failing to produce a majority government. In addition, the Spanish economy may be materially adversely affected by the outcome of the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU.

On top of the existing signs of macroeconomic recovery, growth is expected to continue receiving a major boost from expanding net exports (exports of goods and services are expected to grow 4.5% in 2016; source: IMF website database, June 2016). According to estimates of the International Monetary Fund, GDP will continue to increase in the coming years with real GDP growth rates expected to be around 2.6% and 2.5% respectively in 2016 and 2017 (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016). However, these forecasts were prepared before the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU, and may need to be revised downwards per such outcome.

S&P upgraded Spain's rating from BBB to BBB+ in February 2015, mainly due to the rebalancing of the Spanish economy towards a more sustainable growth model. In addition, yields on Spanish bonds have dropped, an indication that investors view Spain as a more attractive investment destination. Yields on 10-year Spanish sovereign debt crept down, after peaking to above 6.5% in August 2012, to a minimum of 4.0% in 2013, 1.6% in 2014, 1.2% in 2015 and reaching 1.5% in June 2016 (Source: Bloomberg, 10 June 2016).

Real estate sector recovery

Investment volume

2014 was the year when the Spanish real estate market turned around, a trend that was confirmed over 2015. Since the end of 2013, the improvement in macroeconomic indicators boosted confidence in Spain resulting in greater interest and investment flows from international investors, which saw it as a good moment to enter the Spanish market, taking advantage of the bottom of the cycle.

2015 was a remarkable year in terms of investment volume. Commercial property investment (offices, retail, industrial and logistics) reached €8.8 billion in Spain primarily driven by the acquisition of Testa Inmobiliaria by Merlin Properties, which is the highest-value transaction since 2008. Investment in Spain increased by 13% compared to the previous year. Shopping centres and High Street (retail) recorded €4.6 billion in investment, accounting for 52% of investment, followed by offices (€3.3 billion, representing 38% of investment) and the logistics sector (more than €500 million). In 2016, investment volumes are expected to normalise, while still reaching high levels (estimated to be around €8.5 billion) but being affected by external factors (including the impact of a rising dollar on businesses and emerging economies, the evolution of the US bond market, a slowdown in China's economy and geopolitical tensions) (Sources: Real Capital Analytics / Knight Frank, March 2016 and Spain Real estate market outlook 2016, CBRE).

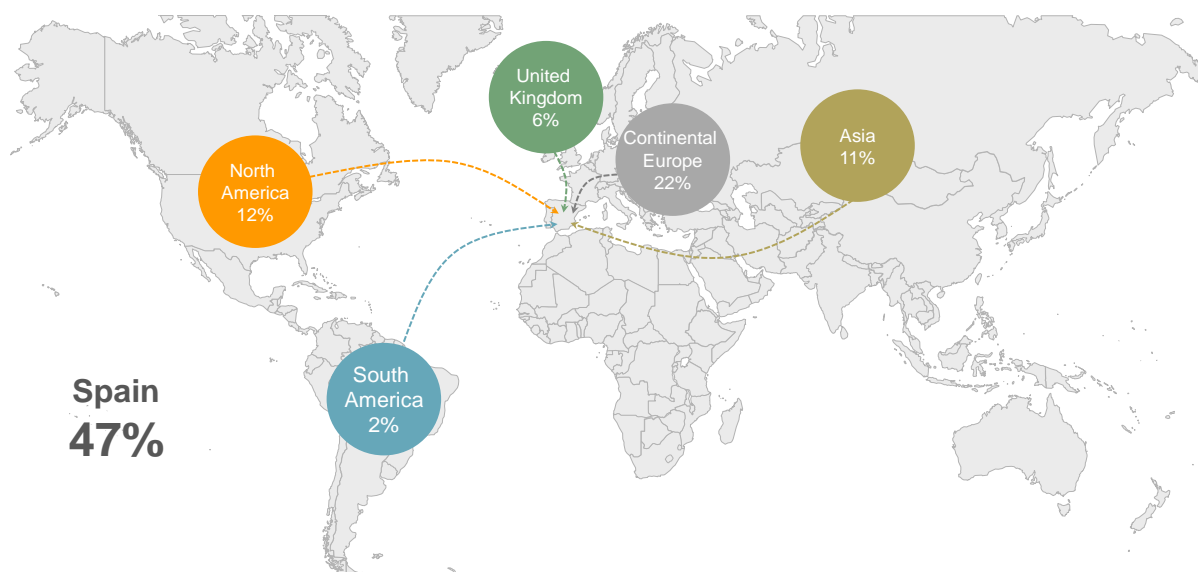

Spain's investment market has evolved from an opportunistic market in 2013 to a more core market, with institutional, insurance and private rental portfolio investors entering the market in 2015. Active in Spain since 2013, SOCIMIs have increased their market share to become one of the main players in the sector, driving the market in the process (accounting for 42% of overall investment volumes in 2015) (Sources: Real Capital Analytics / Knight Frank, March 2016 and Spain Real Estate market outlook 2016, CBRE).

Yield

After a year of decline across asset classes in 2014, yields started stabilizing in 2015 with a similar trend followed in the first quarter of 2016 for retail, office and industrial investments. Confidence in the Spanish economy remains relatively positive and good quality assets are getting scarcer as competition between investors for prime products still available in the market is strong. The yields are expected to remain stable in the short term but may experience reductions in the medium term due to continued increase of capital targeting the market and strong competition for core assets. Prime retail yields in the first quarter of 2016 stood at 3.75% in both Madrid and Barcelona, while prime office yields stood at 4.00% in Madrid and 4.25% in Barcelona (Source: Investment market update, Cushman and Wakefield Q1 2016).

Occupancy

With regards to occupancy levels, they are showing increasing signs of recovery, which still have to be translated into significant movements in rents and vacancies:

- i) Retail market. The economic recovery continued in the first quarter of 2016 with retail sales growth at 3.9% year-on-year in February 2016. The positive economic backdrop is being reflected in higher take-up volumes across all retail segments, with strong demand from new and existing fashion and restaurant operators. There is a steady flow of new international entrants, who are targeting opportunities to open flagship stores on prime retail thoroughfares in key cities and in regionally dominant shopping centres. On the supply side, there is scarcity of prime units in core locations, particularly in Barcelona and Madrid, and this is forcing some tenants to look at non-central location for opportunities. While prime rents in dominant shopping centres remained unchanged in the first quarter of 2016, rents in prime high streets saw slight 1.9% growth, year-on-year (Source: Cushman & Wakefield Retail Snapshot Spain Q1 2016).
- ii) Office market. With respect to the office market, Madrid and Barcelona remain the focal cities. Barcelona recorded a take-up of 69,000 square metres in the first quarter of 2016 while Madrid recorded a take-up of around 98,000 square metres. Typically the city centre is the most popular area and with supply falling, incentives are being withdrawn and rents are rising although they remain some way off the last peak. In a sign of growing confidence amongst occupiers, there has been greater appetite for larger floorplates particularly in Barcelona. Speculative development is limited but the potential for refurbishment space is strengthening and developers are increasingly willing to consider such projects. Lower levels of quality supply and rising levels of occupier demand has resulted in positive rental growth in the first quarter of 2016 (9.6% year over year rental growth in Madrid central business district (CBD) and 13.9% in Barcelona CBD) (Source: Cushman & Wakefield Office Snapshot Spain Q1 2016).
- iii) Logistics market. In the first quarter of 2016, the logistics market saw a solid performance in the occupier markets of Madrid and Barcelona. Madrid recorded one of its strongest take-up levels in five years, with 184,000 square metres committed to in such period (with Amazon signing up for 57,000 square metres of logistics space in Madrid's San Fernando de Henares submarket, and Luis Simoes taking 48,500 square metres in Guadalajara), while Barcelona recorded a 120,000 square metres take-up. There is also growing demand for larger logistics and warehousing space located close to the main urban centres, with some companies looking to consolidate their operations within a single location. However, the general lack of speculative development is likely to be the major hurdle to the further progression of the industrial sector. Currently this lack of space is positively influencing rents in Barcelona which have increased by 10% year-on-year while rents in Madrid increased by 5% over the same period. (Source: Cushman & Wakefield Industrial Snapshot Spain Q1 2016).

The Company believes that investor confidence in the Spanish market will continue in 2016. As the economic situation continues to improve, and despite political uncertainties as a result of the general elections in December 2015 and June 2016 failing to produce a majority government, there is a growing consensus that the Spanish property market has bottomed out, in turn attracting more foreign investors and channelling investment towards offices, retail and logistic assets.

With this market background, the Management Team believes that prospects for negotiating attractive investment opportunities should exist for investors such as the Company with readily available resources for acquisitions and the ability to source deals both from distressed and more conventional sellers. The Company believes that the market is at a stage in the cycle where there are positive gaps between investment yields and borrowing costs that should enable attractive risk adjusted returns to be generated in an environment of relatively modest leverage. The Management Team believes that following the completion of the Offering, the Company, as a strongly capitalised company with a strong investment capacity, will be well placed to invest in assets which require a high level of active management.

9.2 The Spanish Economy

Shareholders and prospective investors should note that the forecasts and projections included below (including those from third parties) were formulated prior to the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU. The full effects of the vote by the United Kingdom to exit the EU are impossible to predict but may result in significant market volatility and dislocation, and adversely affect the UK, European and global economy, including the Spanish economy.

The global financial crisis and the EU credit crisis have had a severe impact on the economy in Spain. Throughout Spain, as in certain other markets, there have been dramatic declines in the housing market, with falling home prices and increasing foreclosures, high levels of unemployment and underemployment, and reduced earnings or, in some cases losses, for businesses across many industries, and reduced investments.

During 2012, the sovereign debt crisis in the Eurozone continued to be the central focus of the global economy. While the Eurozone focused on strengthening the economic and fiscal governance of its Member States and introducing financial aid mechanisms, there has been continued instability in the European financial sectors. During the first half of 2012, the European sovereign debt crisis worsened and its impact on Spain and certain other countries such as Greece and Italy was particularly damaging. The instability of the situation led to fragmentation of the capital markets and threatened the very existence of the single currency.

The actions taken by European and Spanish authorities starting in mid-2012 contributed to a clear improvement in the European financial markets. Firstly, the European Central Bank stated that it would undertake all necessary measures to preserve the euro and announced a program of unlimited purchases of European sovereign debt in the secondary markets subject to certain conditions. Secondly, European authorities showed a political willingness to implement programs to strengthen European banking institutions and, in particular, the establishment of a banking union. Lastly, in Spain, the national authorities requested external financial assistance in late June 2012 in order to recapitalize the Spanish banking sector. The agreed program provided financing of up to €100 billion as stipulated in a Memorandum of Understanding. The combination of these initiatives has contributed to a normalization of the financial markets, as well as to a gradual reversal of the fragmentation process in the banking sector.

The Spanish economy remained weak in 2013 in large part due to subdued domestic demand. Domestic demand was hampered by factors such as the restrictive character of Spain's national fiscal and public spending policies and the deterioration of the labour market. Since 2010, Spain's government adopted a number of fiscal consolidation and structural reforms, including reforms relating to the pension system and labour laws, and has implemented the reinforcement plan (Plan de Reforzamiento) to strengthen the financial sector. Economic activity was adversely affected by onerous financing conditions.

After years of recession (since 2008), Spain's economy began to grow again in 2014 experiencing a GDP increase of 1.4% due to better labour market prospects, strengthened confidence, faded economic uncertainty and falling energy prices. During 2015 the GDP expanded by 3.2% and 3.4% in the second and third quarters respectively, and continued growing during the last quarter of the year with an increase of 3.5%, leading to an overall GDP growth of 3.3% for 2015 as a whole (Source: Spanish National Statistic Institute (INE)). In the first quarter of 2016 the Spanish economy registered a GDP growth of 3.4% compared to the previous quarter (Source: Spanish National Statistic Institute (INE)). Growth is expected to remain robust over the medium term on the back of positive labour market developments, improved access to credit for firms and households, and low oil prices (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016). The European Commission has projected GDP growth of 2.6% in 2016 and 2.5% in 2017 mainly driven by domestic demand (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016).

After the Spanish economic and financial crisis suffered in the previous years, Spain is currently on a recovery trajectory and is one of the fastest-growing economies in the Eurozone. However, the economy is likely to lose some pace in the medium term due to the high current unemployment rate and households enduring significant past income and wealth losses (Source: Global Insight – Spain Quarterly Review and Outlook). In addition, the Spanish economy may be adversely affected by the outcome of the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU. The drag on domestic demand from private sector deleveraging is expected to fade out. Although private consumption growth slowed down slightly in the third quarter of 2015 and is expected to decelerate throughout 2016, it is set to remain the main growth driver. Private consumption is also expected to be supported by low inflation and steadily improving labour market conditions (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016). Positive demand prospects, easing financing conditions and the projected growth in exports in 2017 are expected to underpin investment volumes, despite the ongoing balance-sheet correction of non-financial corporations. After seven years of adjustment, construction investment, including residential investment, is forecast to accelerate from 2017 onwards. The current deceleration is explained by non-residential construction, especially non-residential construction driven by public investment (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016).

As for the labour market, there has been a continued recovery trend over the previous quarters, with the unemployment rate falling from 22.4% in the second quarter of 2015, to 21.2% in the third quarter of 2015 and 20.9% in the fourth quarter of 2015 (Source: INE – Press Release). In the beginning of 2016 job creation has decelerated moderately although it is expected that the recovery trend will continue over the coming years with an employment growth rate of 2%. It is expected that by 2017 the unemployment rate will fall to 18% (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016). This positive trend is supported by continued wage moderation and only modest increases in nominal unit labour costs. Additionally, the 10-year sovereign bond yield fell from above a 600 bps premium vs. Germany in the summer of 2012 to around a 130 bps premium in June 2016, and nominal yields reached historical lows during 2015 (Source: Factset, Bloomberg). However, political and economic uncertainties pose downside risks to the growth forecasts.

Against a backdrop of weak economic conditions and low inflation rates, the European Central Bank Governing Council decided at its first monetary policy meeting of 2015 to launch an Expanded Asset Purchase Programme for euro-denominated investment-grade securities issued by euro area governments and agencies and EU institutions. The combined monthly asset purchases of public and private securities amounted to €60 billion. This quantitative easing was intended to be carried out from March 2015 until the end of September 2016 and will continue until the Governing Council sees a sustained adjustment in the path of inflation that is consistent with its aim of achieving an inflation rate that is close to, but below 2% over the medium term.

Thanks to economic growth and the positive effect of improved financing conditions, Spain's public finances continued to improve in 2015. After reaching a public deficit of 5.9% of GDP in 2014, 0.1 percentage points higher than previously reported as a result of a downward revision of nominal GDP levels, the general government deficit narrowed to 5.1% of GDP in 2015. Spain's general government deficit is expected to narrow to 3.9% in 2016 and is projected to reach 3.1% of GDP by 2017 (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016). Spain's structural deficit is expected to increase further by around 0.25% over the forecast period to reach 3.25% of GDP in 2017. Thanks to a narrowing deficit and relatively strong nominal GDP growth, the public debt to GDP ratio is expected to peak in 2016 at 100.3% before falling back to 99.6% in 2017 (Source: European Economic Forecast – Spring 2016).

Overall, the Spanish economy has been improving with exports performing well and playing a key role in guiding the economic recovery, domestic spending reviving in line with less acute financial and fiscal tensions, lifting confidence alongside lower inflation helping to revive household income. Nevertheless, one particular concern is that the recovery will be accompanied by net job creation dominated by the use of temporary employment contracts. The governments' ability to boost sluggish labour productivity performance in recent years will be key determinant of future growth (Source: Global Insight – Spain Quarterly Review and Outlook).

10.2 The Management Team

The Company has outsourced its management to Grupo Lar according to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement. In order to manage the Company's activity, Grupo Lar has appointed a management team which currently consists of Mr. Luis Pereda, Mr. Miguel Pereda, Mr. Jorge Pérez de Leza, Mr. Miguel Ángel González, Mr. Arturo Perales and Mr. José Manuel Llovet (together, the "Management Team"). All of the members of the Management Team are property and finance professionals with extensive experience in Spanish real estate and a notable track record of creating value for shareholders.

The Company believes that the extensive experience of the Management Team, which is one of the most experienced real estate management teams in Spain, and the Investment Manager's management professionals will continue providing the Company with business opportunities which fit with its Business Strategy. The track record of the Management Team is concentrated principally within Grupo Lar.

10.3 The business strengths

The Company benefits from its position as one of the first established Spanish SOCIMIs and the aid of an experienced active asset manager such as Grupo Lar to develop its Business Strategy and take advantage of the ongoing recovery in the real estate market in Spain. In order to successfully implement its Business Strategy, the Company has access to the Investment Manager's management and administration function which addresses various operational matters, including the provision of various accounting, administrative, registration, reporting and record keeping services. This way, the Management Team can seize opportunities fitting the Company's Business Strategy in a timely manner without having to build a large internal infrastructure, and the Company has access to the property management functions of a leading Spanish real estate group in the most management-intensive cycle of the Company.

In June 2015, the Company was included in the "FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Global Real Estate Index", a stock market index comprised of eligible property companies, which is expected to enhance the stock visibility of the Company among investors.

Additionally, the Company is focused on creating shareholder value by leveraging the following key strengths:

Diversified property Portfolio

The Company has gradually fully deployed the net proceeds raised in its initial public offering and the capital increase carried out on 7 August 2015 in the acquisition of real estate properties throughout Spain. As of the date of this Prospectus, the aggregate purchase price of the 28 properties currently held by the Company totalled approximately €55.7 million.

The current Portfolio is diversified throughout different property classes. The main classes are retail and offices, which represent 73% and 15% of the total acquisition price, respectively. Additionally, the Company has acquired five prime logistic properties accounting for 7% of the total acquisition price and a residential project accounting for the remaining 5% of the total acquisition price.

Geographically, the respective locations of the properties within the Portfolio are a consequence of the implementation of the Company's Business Strategy. Retail properties are mainly located in Northern Spain and in selected coastal areas. Office properties are located in Madrid and Barcelona and logistic properties are mainly located in a prime location in the Henares Corridor, one of Spain's main logistic hubs located in metropolitan Madrid in the area where the highway leading toward Barcelona and Valencia is located. Acquisitions have been done at attractive levels given the initial yields on cost reported by the Company (see details in table of section 5 below).

Portfolio acquired at an attractive entry price that offers material growth potential and room for accretive capital expenditure

Since the Company went public in March 2014 achieving gross proceeds of €400 million, proceeds of the initial public offering and subsequent securities offerings have been deployed to configure what the Company believes to be a best-in-class real estate Portfolio primarily focused on commercial property (mainly retail and office). Acquisitions carried out to date have been executed at an average EPRA Initial Yield (as defined herein) which the Company believes is attractive: approximately 6.5% in retail, approximately 3.8% in offices and approximately 7.2% in logistics.

Built Portfolio has a strong cash flow potential and the Company has distributed its second dividend on the back of the 2015 fiscal year as well as share premium (€0.075 gross dividend per ordinary share plus €0.125 gross per share with charge to share premium), which was paid to shareholders on 20 May 2016. Properties acquired are mainly prime/good secondary real estate products in need of property management. The Company believes that there is room for accretive capital expenditure. As of 31 March 2016, Building Capex (as defined herein) expected for the Company's Portfolio as of such date for the following five-year period amounted to €208 million of which €21 million corresponded to the development of Lagasca 99 (based on the Company's stake in such project), €35 million corresponded to the development of the Cruce de Caminos Project and €133 million corresponded to the development of Palmas Altas. The Company has been able to reposition to date three properties—two office buildings and one shopping centre—which reflects management capabilities in creating value through active property management.

The Company believes that it continues to offer investors an attractive investment opportunity in the Spanish real estate market as a result of the relatively limited competition in its niche segments, its focused Business Strategy, the opportune timing with which it entered the market and acquired the properties within its Portfolio and a robust pipeline of identified potential acquisitions.

Disciplined value creation on the back of an active property management

The Company's Business Strategy is to own, operate and rent its existing Portfolio through active property management and expand it through the acquisition and operation of undermanaged high quality real estate properties with the aim of capturing their cash flow and value.

The Management Team pursues a disciplined value creation strategy mainly focused on: (i) quality properties that, when combined with the Management Team's value creation expertise, can produce attractive yields in the medium term, (ii) off-market opportunities (meaning opportunities that are not sourced through a public competitive process) where the upside potential is higher than in the case of properties sold through highly marketed auctions processes, and (iii) real estate properties located mainly in Madrid and Barcelona (for offices), but also on locations with limited density and higher GDP per capita than average throughout Spain (for retail).

The Management Team believes it has developed a unique approach to identify opportunities and operate properties which allows its members to bring valuable insight on each phase of a property's ownership cycle. The Management Team follows a disciplined property acquisition and operation process.

The Company relies on active property management to maximize operating efficiency, profitability and value creation at the property level, mainly focusing on mispriced properties or undermanaged high-quality properties with active management opportunities, for example, through repositioning, rental extension and/or rental optimization. The Management Team directly undertakes value creation activities, such as improving the quality of currently held properties through investing in conservation and modernization, improving the energy efficiency of currently held properties or renegotiating or surrendering leases.

Strong track record of the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team in commercial and residential real estate in Spain with access to a valuable and highly experienced asset management platform

The Investment Manager is one of Spain's most recognisable real estate companies. The Investment Manager has a long and successful track record of creating value for shareholders by investing in and managing properties in a wide range of real estate property classes in Spain. Moreover, the Investment Manager's market position is enhanced by its ability to utilise the scale, experience and specialist expertise of its complementary business activities to maximise value through each property's ownership cycle. Notwithstanding the foregoing, as a result of the economic downturn occurred in the Spanish commercial real estate market in recent years, Grupo Lar obtained negative returns in 2011 and 2012.

The members of the Management Team, which have been appointed by the Investment Manager, have been well known within the Spanish real estate markets for many years and have established relationships in these markets with all of the main stakeholders in the property and rental markets, including with commercial real estate lenders, domestic banks, property funds, planning authorities, tenants and private investors. The Company believes that the Management Team's distinct knowledge of, and competence within, the Spanish commercial and residential property market make the Company well placed to capitalise on the opportunities presented by current and expected market conditions.

Through the Investment Manager, the Company has access to the asset and property management operation of Grupo Lar which (including Gentalia), includes 278 full time property, financial and support staff. The Investment Manager has over 16 years of experience in the investment, development and management of shopping centres.

In addition, Grupo Lar currently has a 66.6% participation in Gentalia, one of the leading companies in Spain in shopping centre property management. Gentalia provides consultancy, asset management, leasing and day-to-day management services to shopping centres. It currently manages 46 shopping centres in Spain, with a gross leasable area of over 1,425,540 sqm.

In-depth access to potential business opportunities and visible pipeline

The Management Team has extensive and long-standing relationships in the Spanish real estate market and has in-depth relationships with deal sources including corporate and private landlords, brokers, all major domestic banks and the SAREB. These relationships and knowledge have enabled members of the Management Team and Lar España to access both off-market and more widely marketed real estate transactions. The Company believes that the Management Team's relationships and experience provide the Company with the access and ability to cultivate appropriate business opportunities to meet the Company's Business Strategy as shown by the fact that approximately 75% of the transactions executed to date have been sourced as off-market deals (meaning deals that have not been sourced through public competitive processes).

On the back of the Management Team's strong network, the Company has been able to identify an acquisition pipeline comprised of €838.54 million (without considering Building Capex), of which approximately €145 million correspond to a retail park in the North of Spain in respect of which the Company has entered into a share deal agreement on 29 June 2016 and which acquisition is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2016 (please refer to section 5 of Part X ("Information on the Company") for further details). The remaining €693.54 million correspond to market opportunities under negotiation and analysis. In terms of property categories or nature of businesses, 81.09% of the referred market opportunities (in terms of euro amounts) are retail facilities, 14.20% are logistic properties and the remaining 4.71% are properties that belong to other categories.

Focus on an under-served niche market for medium size properties, often too small for remaining foreign and institutional investors and too big for local players trying to act with limited financing

The Investment Manager has extensive experience in the acquisition of medium size properties, which are often too small for foreign and other institutional investors and too big for local players trying to act with limited access to financing. The Company works to leverage this experience in order to be positioned as the partner of choice for these types of properties by combining detailed local knowledge, availability of funding, strategic flexibility and cost of capital management.

Strong domestic banking contacts and access to debt capital markets with low cost of debt and long-term maturing profile

The Investment Manager has existing relationships with many Spanish financial entities. These relationships have enabled the Investment Manager to access debt financing packages in various phases of the economic cycle during the past 30 years. In addition, the Management Team has extensive knowledge of possible sources of third party capital, allowing it to tailor the risk profile of each investment and potentially extend its investment reach through joint ventures.

On the back of the strong relationship with the banking sector, Lar España has been able to source debt at a low cost (Euribor + 1.86% on average as of the date of this Prospectus). The Company has also been able to tap the debt capital markets through the issuance of Notes traded in the Main Securities Market of the Irish Stock Exchange for an amount of €140 million.

As of 31 March 2016, c.36% of the Company's existing debt was due in the following six years (2016-21) allowing the Company to have a healthy maturity profile in the mid-term. The Company's total leverage target, represented by the Company's aggregate borrowings (net of cash) as a percentage of the most recent Total GAV of the Company, is around 50%. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board, including upon the proposal of the Investment Manager, may modify the Company's leverage policy (including the amount of leverage) from time to time in light of then-current economic conditions, the relative costs of debt and equity capital, the fair value of the Company's assets, growth and acquisition opportunities or other factors it deems appropriate.

An experienced Board with real estate, financial and legal background and following best-in-class corporate governance principles

All of the members of the Board of Directors have been elected on the basis of their proven long-term experience in the real estate or financial sectors. Moreover, the Board of Directors of the Company, which is composed exclusively of non-executive members, with most of them —four out of five— being independent, is strongly committed to carry out its duties following at all times best-in-class corporate governance principles, in line with the corporate governance recommendations included in the Spanish Corporate Governance Code and other good governance practices associated with the real estate sector.

Alignment of interests of the Investment Manager with those of other shareholders

Various factors contribute to the alignment of interests of the Investment Manager with those of other shareholders, including:

- (i) the fact that the Investment Manager acquired approximately a 2.5% stake in the Company in the context of the Company's initial public offering, which, with certain limited exceptions, is subject to a lock-up period of three years from the date on which the Company's ordinary shares were initially admitted to trading on the Spanish Stock Exchanges (i.e., 5 March 2014) and the fact that it acquired a further 0.5% stake in the open market on 23 March 2015. Moreover, in the capital increase carried out by the Company on 7 August 2015, the Investment Manager exercised the required number of preferential subscription rights in order to maintain a 2.5% stake in the Company (i.e. the stake held by the Investment Manager immediately following the initial public offering of the Company). As a result of the Performance Fee payment carried out on 29 April 2016, the Investment Manager currently holds 3.512% of the Company's share capital. The Investment Manager considers that its current investment in the Company sufficiently reflects the alignment of its interest with those of the Company. However, to maintain its alignment and commitment, it intends to exercise all the Preferential Subscription Rights corresponding to its Existing Ordinary Shares in order to maintain its current 3.512% stake in the Company;

- (ii) the fact that, in accordance with the Investment Manager's compensation structure, the Investment Manager receives ordinary shares of the Company (in addition to cash) as compensation for the services provided to the Company (such shares being also subject, with certain limited exceptions, to a lock-up period of three years from the date of their delivery to the Investment Manager);
- (iii) the fact that the Investment Manager is only able to conduct certain activities through the Company (as the Investment Manager has undertaken, subject to certain exceptions, not to acquire or invest in commercial property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company); and
- (iv) the fact that the Investment Manager Agreement can be terminated at the Company's election at the end of its initial five-year term with no penalty if the Company is not satisfied with the Investment Manager's performance.

As a result of the above, the Company believes that the interests of the Investment Manager should be closely aligned with those of the other shareholders.

10.4 Business Strategy

The Company's principal activity is to acquire, own and operate real estate properties through direct ownership of the property and other acquisition structures (primarily retail and offices and, to a lesser extent, other property classes such as logistics and residential) in Spain. The Company's Business Strategy focuses on owning and operating for rental its existing property Portfolio through active property management and expanding it through the acquisition and operation of real estate properties that fit its Investment Strategy, mainly undermanaged high quality commercial real estate properties. Additionally, the Company has expanded its strategy by entering in retail and residential development as a way to provide quality assets and increase income in the medium- to long-term. The Company expects to continue acquiring commercial properties with the aim of creating value through active property management and maximizing operating efficiency and profitability at the property level in order to capture their cash flow and value.

The Management Team believes it is creating a high quality Portfolio of commercial real estate properties (and selective residential properties) with strong income and potential for value creation, based on their long term experience of active management. This growing Portfolio combines high value creation potential properties with a low risk rental profile that are expected to generate recurrent income. The Company considers the potential for value enhancement that may be realized following the improved management of the property through, amongst other things, repositioning or re-leasing strategies, or as a result of investments in refurbishing or developing the property.

To date, the Company's particular value creation niche has been less crowded (the Company believes it is not sufficiently attractive for opportunistic money) than other segments. In this niche, real estate expertise is key and value creation potential, beyond the macro cycle, is achieved through a specialist approach to property management. The Company expects that, as values improve, its value creation strategy will become an increasingly important means of achieving returns. The Company targets good quality properties (or properties with high potential to become good quality properties) with vacancy, refurbishment requirements or more complex property management needs. The Company intends to continue to seek opportunities in the same consolidated areas as it has to date and expects that these areas will enjoy an earlier and more sustainable recovery.

Strategy on the existing Portfolio

The Company, through the Management Team, intends to continue implementing a thorough and disciplined approach to property acquisition and management with a view to managing the risk profile of income streams and in-depth underwriting of each capital expenditure plan (including rigorous analysis of tenant financial strength) with the aim of ensuring the optimization of its existing Portfolio in terms of occupancies and achievable rental income through the application of the following key operating principles and measures:

- renegotiating or surrendering of leases, when appropriate. Renegotiating rents at market value to maximize rental yields through a considered approach to contract terms. The Company proactively manages lease renewals and pursues new leases to reduce vacancy periods through measures such as (i) early negotiations with tenants whose tenancies are about to expire and (ii) increasing rent on leases which are at below-market rental levels;
- improving lease lengths and tenant profile and establishing direct relationships with tenants to better understand their needs and requirements with an orientation towards creation of long term relationships with tenants with robust credit profiles, which includes satisfaction surveys. Such enhanced relationships may lead to tenant retention and thus increase the attractiveness of the properties;
- repositioning and upgrading properties by improving their condition through refurbishment or otherwise. As of 31 March 2016, Building Capex expected for the then-current Portfolio amounted to €208 million for the following five-year period, of which €21 million corresponded to the development of Lagasca 99 (based on the Company's stake in such project), €35 million corresponded to the development of the Cruce de Caminos Project and €133 million corresponded to the development of Palmas Altas;
- improving the quality and marketability of the Company's Portfolio through investing in its conservation and modernization.

The Company, if deemed necessary, will work to reconfigure each of its properties to enhance and optimize the overall condition of the Portfolio with the aim of increasing occupancy and income generation;

- improving the energy efficiency of the properties;
- improving floor plans and space efficiency of specific properties;
- increasing control over the Company's shopping centre properties by acquiring the premises of other co-owners; and
- taking advantage of planning opportunities where appropriate.

Acquisition strategy

The Company has a clear strategy driving property allocation and has identified a sizable pipeline to continue with its value-added strategy through the acquisition of selective properties. The Company's acquisition strategy is based on the Investment Strategy set forth in the Investment Manager Agreement and aims to follow the following criteria:

Property Class	Investment strategy	Location
Retail (mainly Shopping Centres)  71% GAV	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Top retail player ▪ Leading Shopping Centres in their catchment area ▪ Retail parks with proven demand and profitability potential ▪ Good quality properties with excellent access and visibility 	Locations with limited density or higher GDP per capita than average, throughout Spain
Office  16% GAV	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Offices in consolidated locations of Madrid and Barcelona with good connections / public transport ▪ Recurrent activity with selective rotation 	Madrid and Barcelona
Logistics  7% GAV	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Focus on logistic properties on a selective basis with low rents, low capital values and high yields 	Main logistic hubs: Madrid, Barcelona and Valencia
Residential  6% GAV	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Development of first homes in niche markets without zoning risk, limited supply and clear demand 	Madrid and other big cities on a very selective basis

In the above table, “catchment area” refers to the geographical area where the retail properties are able to attract customers, mainly categorized by being located within driving distance.

Investment criteria

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, in carrying out their functions under the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team must follow certain investment and leverage criteria (the “Investment Strategy”).

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the total gross asset value of the assets forming part of the Company’s real estate Portfolio (“Total GAV”) must be distributed as follows (measured as at the time investments are made):

- (a) Over 80% of the Total GAV shall be invested in the following target properties (herein jointly referred to as “Commercial Property”):
 - (i) Office properties across Spain, primarily focusing on office properties in Madrid and Barcelona.
 - (ii) Retail:
 - shopping centres in Spain;
 - retail parks including big boxes on a selective basis;
 - high street retail properties on a selective basis;
 - (iii) Other selected commercial real estate properties including logistics, which are expected to represent a limited percentage of the Total GAV.
- (b) Up to but less than 20% of the Total GAV may be invested in first-home residential properties across Spain (herein referred to as “Residential Property”). For the avoidance of doubt, second homes are excluded from Residential Property.

When acquiring Commercial Property, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team shall focus on mis-priced properties or properties with active property management opportunities, for example through repositioning, rental extension or rental optimisation, and adopt a conservative approach with regard to development opportunities in the context of the whole Portfolio.

When acquiring Residential Property, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team primarily focus on the following investment criteria: (i) fully-built properties, (ii) in very specialised cases, properties with development risk, and (iii) new developments in niche markets with limited supply of first-homes (for example, in prime neighbourhoods of large cities in which there are limited residential developments).

The Company has the ability to enter into (including at the Investment Manager's request) a variety of acquisition structures, including joint ventures, acquisitions of controlling interests or acquisitions of minority interests within the parameters stipulated in the Spanish SOCIMI Regime. There is no limit imposed by the Spanish SOCIMI Regime on the proportion of the Company's Portfolio that may be held through joint ventures. In addition, acquisitions of assets may be done through any type of agreement and structure, including though the acquisition of non-performing loans and other types of financial instruments.

When implementing the Company's Business Strategy, the Investment Manager will not in any event invest more than 20% of the Company's equity capital in a single asset.

Pursuant to the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, the Company is required, among other things, to conduct a property rental business and comply with the following requirements: (i) it must invest at least 80% of the Total GAV in leasable urban real estate properties, land plots acquired for the development of leasable urban real property to the extent that development starts within the following three-year period as from acquisition of shares of other SOCIMIs, foreign entities or subsidiaries engaged in the aforementioned activities with similar distribution requirements, and (ii) at least 80% of its net annual income must derive from rental income and from dividends or capital gains in respect of the abovementioned assets.

As of the date of this Prospectus, the Company complies with the investment criteria and the dividend distribution requirements set forth under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime.

2. Shows Total GLA. The Company owns 50.00% of the property.

- “Total GLA” or “Total Gross Lettable Area” represents the total floor area within a property. This area typically excludes common space.
- “Initial Occupancy” refers to the occupied area of a property divided by its GLA as of the date of acquisition by the Company of the relevant property.
- “Initial Yield on Cost” refers to the initial yield on cost of a property calculated as the annualised NOI derived from such property in the quarter of its acquisition divided by its acquisition costs.

The below table shows the market value net of acquisition costs (the “Net Market Value” or “NMV”) of the properties comprising the Portfolio as of 30 June 2016, as of the dates indicated, based on the respective valuations carried out by Cushman & Wakefield (C&W) and Jones Lang LaSalle (JLL), as well as their respective purchase price (in euros). See Part II (“Risk Factors”) for information on the risks related to valuations of real estate properties.

10.5.25 Cruce de Caminos Project

On 3 August 2015, the Company, through its wholly-owned subsidiary Global Regimonte, S.L., entered into an agreement with Actividades Integradas Urbanísticas, S.L., Urban Developer of the PAI (Plan de Actuación Individualizado) for Macrosector-IV and the adjoining PGOUs (Plan General de Ordenación Urbana) relating to Sagunto, for the acquisition of a 120,000 square metre land plot in Macrosector-IV in Sagunto, Valencian Community, on which a retail complex is expected to be developed with a GLA of approximately 45,000 square meters.

The acquisition price of the land plot amounted to €14 million, and as of 31 March 2016 the expected Building Capex amounted to €35 million.

The retail complex, which the Company intends to name “Cruce de Caminos”, was initially designed to comprise (i) a shopping centre, with a GLA of approximately 20,000 square metres, with a hypermarket and a retail arcade; and (ii) a retail park with a GLA of approximately 25,000 square metres. However, the current project consists exclusively of a retail complex with a GLA of approximately 43,000 square metres. The site works are expected to finish at the end of 2017.

The retail complex is located in a prized location because, in addition to the approximately 250,000 people that live near the shopping centre, many tourists spend their holidays in the area.

10.5.26 Vistahermosa

On 16 June 2016, the Company, through a wholly-owned subsidiary, acquired the retail complex “Parque Vistahermosa” located in Alicante, with a GLA of approximately 33,550 square metres. Grupo Lar, the Investment Manager, has been the asset manager of this retail complex since 2014 and owns a 3.5% non-controlling stake in the seller.

The acquisition was carried out for a total amount of €42.5 million and was fully paid with the funds of the Company.

The retail complex has well-established tenants such as Media Markt and Leroy Merlin and includes an Alcampo Hypermarket, which has led to an estimated increase in footfall of approximately 44% since its opening on November 2015. Vistahermosa benefits from a strategic location, with a surrounding residential area and several land plots available for future developments. It harbours a catchment area of 466,000 inhabitants, with near 64% of such population living within a 12 minutes' drive.

The Initial Yield on Cost of the project amounts to 5.7%. It had an Initial Occupancy of 80%.

This retail complex is registered with the Land Registry of Alicante.

Residential

10.5.27 Lagasca 99

On 30 January 2015, the Company, through two respective joint venture companies with the Luxembourg entity LVS II LUX XIII S.à r.l. –advised by Pacific Investment Management Company LLC or its affiliates (“PIMCO”)– (the “PIMCO Investor”), each of the joint ventures 50% owned by each of Lar España and the PIMCO Investor, formalised the acquisition of the following real estate properties located in one of the prime areas of Madrid:

- (i) a plot located at Lagasca 99, which is destined to residential development and has a surface available for building of 26,203 sqm, of which 19,453 sqm are buildable above ground according to the relevant special urban plan and 6,750 sqm below ground distributed in three floors; and
- (ii) the residential building located at Calle Claudio Coello 108, with a GLA of approximately 5,318 sqm, of which 4,479 sqm are above ground and 839 sqm below ground.

In January 2016 the Company (along with the PIMCO Investor) sold the residential building located at Calle Claudio Coello 108.

The acquisitions referred to above are the first co-investment projects carried out between the Company and an entity advised by PIMCO. In connection with the Lagasca 99 acquisition, the Company entered into a shareholders' agreement with the PIMCO Investor that provides for a board of directors consisting of two nominees from each of the Company and the PIMCO Investor and no casting vote rights, an event of default upon a change of control, rights of first offer and both tag-along and drag-along rights for both parties. In addition, the Company and the PIMCO Investor entered into an asset management agreement that appoints Grupo Lar as the asset manager for such property. The asset management agreement provides for base fees for Grupo Lar that are set annually by the parties as well as a scale of performance fees. For the avoidance of doubt, these fees are already considered when calculating the Management Fees (as defined herein), and therefore, do not imply additional costs for the Company beyond those included in the Management Fees. A shareholders' agreement and an asset management agreement with substantially the same terms were entered into in connection with the residential building located at Claudio Coello 108.

The acquisition of the two properties referred to above was carried out for a total maximum amount subject to adjustments of €20.0 million, which was paid by the two joint ventures with a combination of equity and bank financing.

As of the date of this Prospectus, the investment in Lagasca 99 is deemed to relate to a non-qualifying asset and income arising from such investment in the future is expected to compute as non-qualifying income deriving from ancillary activities that do not fall under the scope of the main corporate purpose of the Company. According to the SOCIMI Regime, such ancillary activities must not exceed 20% of the assets or 20% of the revenues of the SOCIMI in each tax year as this would affect the Company's ability to comply with the SOCIMI Regime requirements.

Once the residential development in Calle Lagasca 99 is completed, the properties, which are registered with the Land Registry number 1 of Madrid, will be put up for sale.

10.6 Financial strategy

10.6.1 Investment funding

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, when implementing the Company's Investment Strategy, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team shall seek to use leverage over the long-term and shall consider using hedging where appropriate to mitigate interest rate risk, subject to the following principles:

- (a) The Company's total leverage target, represented by the Company's aggregate borrowings (net of cash) as a percentage of the most recent Total GAV of the Company, is around 50%. As of 31 March 2016 the total leverage level as a percentage of Total GAV was 38%.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board, including at the proposal of the Investment Manager, may modify the Company's leverage policy (including the level of leverage) from time to time in light of then-current economic conditions, the relative costs of debt and equity capital, the fair value of the Company's assets, growth and acquisition opportunities or other factors it deems appropriate.

- (b) Debt financing for acquisitions is assessed on a deal-by-deal basis initially with reference to the capacity of the Company to support leverage.

- (c) Debt on development properties is, to the extent possible, ring-fenced in order to exclude recourse to other assets of the Company.

The Investment Manager has undertaken, as a general rule and unless the nature of the acquisitions advises otherwise, to carry out acquisition using proceeds obtained from the initial public offering of the Company and any other issue of ordinary shares by the Company (including the Offering). When necessary, debt may be raised in line with the leverage criteria described above.

For additional information regarding the Company's indebtedness see section 7 of Part XI ("Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations").

10.6.3 Operating expenses

In addition to using cash to make acquisitions and distributions to shareholders, the Company incurs operating expenses that need to be funded. In addition to the Investment Manager's fees under the Investment Manager Agreement, described in section 2 of Part XII ("Grupo Lar and the Investment Manager Agreement") such operating expenses include (i) acquisition costs and expenses (such as due diligence costs, legal costs and taxes); (ii) costs in connection with debt financings; (iii) non-executive Director's fees and audit fees; (iv) office lease and annual and semi-annual valuations of the Company's Portfolio; and (v) other operational costs and expenses.

The Company's operating costs for the year ended 31 December 2015, were €3.9 million per annum of Base Fee, €7.3 million per annum of Performance Fee and €8.8 million of other costs not related to the Investment Manager, including Board's remuneration, auditing costs, valuation costs, legal and tax advice expenses and property management expenses. Operating expenses, including the Base Fee, totalled €5.3 million in the three months-ended 31 March 2016.

10.6.4 Other sources of finance

As substantially all of the cash raised pursuant to the Offering will be used in connection with the Company's acquisitions of property, the Company's future liquidity will depend primarily on: (i) the collection of rents from its Portfolio; (ii) the timing of the sale of the properties and property-holding entities it acquires; (iii) the Company's management of available cash; and (iv) the use of borrowings to fund acquisitions and, if necessary, to fund short-term liquidity needs. The Company may also use further equity offerings or consideration in the form of equity to finance the growth of its Portfolio.

The Company carried out a rights offering to increase the share capital of the Company from 40,030,000 ordinary shares to 59,997,756 ordinary shares, representing 50% of its share capital, on 7

August 2015. The Company received approximately €130,219 thousand in net proceeds from such rights offering after the deduction of commissions and expenses payable by the Company in connection with the offering.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, when implementing the Company's Investment Strategy, the Investment Manager has undertaken, as a general rule and unless the nature of the investment dictates otherwise, to carry out investments using proceeds from the Offering and any other issuance of the Company's ordinary shares. When necessary, debt may be raised in line with the leverage criteria described above.

10.7 Exclusivity, co-investment rights and conflicts of interest

In accordance with the Investment Manager Agreement, subject to certain exceptions, the Investment Manager has agreed not to acquire or invest in Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company (or to provide services to any person other than the Company in connection with such types of properties) and is required to offer to the Company at least a 20% interest of the overall investment in any Residential Property Investment Opportunity in Spain it (or any of its affiliates, as defined in the Investment Manager Agreement) may plan to carry out. In addition, subject to certain exceptions, each member of the Management Team has undertaken to offer the Company a 20% share (if in connection with a Residential Property) or the full share (if in connection with a Commercial Property) of the stake available to such member of the Management Team in any investment in which such member of the Management Team intends to participate and which fits within the Investment Strategy of the Company.

Additionally, the Company has granted to one of its main shareholder, LVS II Lux XII S.á r.l., a Luxembourg law-governed entity having PIMCO as investment advisor, which acquired 12.49% of the share capital of the Company in the context of its initial public offering in March 2014 (the "Anchor Investor"), a right of first offer in connection with certain Commercial Property Investments in respect of which the Company seeks or intends to seek equity capital from one or more third parties, subject to certain exceptions. In addition, the Investment Manager has granted the Anchor Investor with a right of first offer in connection with any Residential Property Investment it intends to undertake, subject to certain exceptions. The Anchor Investor has in turn agreed, with certain exceptions, not to compete with the Company or the Investment Manager in competitive processes relating to Commercial Property or Residential Property in Spain and, under certain circumstances, has granted the Investment Manager a right of first offer in connection with such potential acquisitions or investments.

These commitments are described in greater detail below.

10.7.1 Investment Manager and Management Team

Set forth below is a detailed description of the Investment Manager and Management Team's undertakings under the Investment Manager Agreement.

Exclusivity in Commercial Property with respect to Investment Manager

The Investment Manager has agreed that, during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement, it will not, and it will require that none of the "Investment Manager Affiliates" (meaning, with respect to the Investment Manager, (a) a subsidiary or a subsidiary undertaking (whether direct or indirect) of the Investment Manager; (b) a direct or indirect (through controlled entities under article 42 of the Spanish Commercial Code) shareholder of the Investment Manager (other than those which are not part of the Pereda Family); or (c) another subsidiary or subsidiary undertaking controlled directly or indirectly pursuant to Article 42 of the Spanish Commercial Code by the entities referred to in (b) above) will (i) acquire or invest (on its own behalf or on behalf of third parties or through joint venture agreements) in Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company (except for the following investments (each an "Exception") which are expressly permitted: (a) one or more investments carried out by shareholders of the Investment Manager on their own behalf, provided that such investment or investments do not exceed €2 million in the aggregate throughout the life of the Investment Manager Agreement (or such a higher amount, if any, approved by the Company's Board in exceptional circumstances), and that they are notified to the Board of the Company following their undertaking, and (b) investments by the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliate in Commercial Property for its own occupation if expressly waived by the Board) or (ii) act as investment manager, investment adviser or agent, or provide administration, investment management or other services, for any person, entity, body corporate or client other than the Company, for Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the investment strategy of the Company.

However, this exclusivity shall not apply:

- (i) to any dealings by the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliate in respect of any property or property-related asset owned or managed, totally or partially, by it as of the date of the Investment Manager Agreement (i.e., 12 February 2014). Therefore, the Investment Manager and Investment Manager Affiliates may continue or agree to act as investment manager or investment adviser for other persons or provide administration, investment management or other services for other clients without making the same available to the Company, in each such case provided that (a) it is done pursuant to a then existing agreement which in each case was in place with the Investment Manager or such Investment Manager Affiliate at the date of the Investment Manager Agreement, or (b) such work relates to real estate properties which are subject to such an existing agreement.
- (ii) to any acquisition or investment (directly or indirectly) by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate of or in assets or properties which are adjacent to assets or properties held by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate as of the date of the Investment Manager Agreement or which are or have been acquired, pursuant to an Exception, by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate following the date of the Investment Manager Agreement in accordance with its terms;
- (iii) following the passage of a resolution of the Company's general shareholders' meeting to discontinue the investment strategy of the Company, cease the business and operations of the Company, or sell, liquidate or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company; or
- (iv) following the service by the Investment Manager of notice of termination of the Investment Manager Agreement due to a winding up event, an insolvency or court protection event or other similar event affecting the Company or an unremedied breach by the Company of a material term thereof.

Co-investment right in Residential Property with respect to Investment Manager

The Company has no exclusivity on any investment in Residential Property made or to be made by the Investment Manager or the Investment Manager Affiliates in or outside of Spain. However, pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager has committed to offer to the Company at least a 20% stake of the overall investment in each Relevant Residential Opportunity in Spain it (or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates) may plan to carry out. If the stake available to the Investment Manager (and any of the Investment Manager Affiliates (as the case may be)) in a Relevant Residential Opportunity is less than 20% of the overall investment, the Investment Manager has undertaken not to participate in such investment opportunity (and shall procure the same of the Investment Manager Affiliates) and the Investment Manager shall be under no obligation to offer a stake in such investment opportunity to the Company.

The Company shall not be entitled to elect less than a 20% stake of the overall investment in each Relevant Residential Opportunity offered by the Investment Manager unless the Company and the Investment Manager agree otherwise on a case by case basis.

The Investment Manager must, before proceeding to effect the investment that is the subject of a Relevant Residential Opportunity, present such opportunity to the Company for consideration as a possible co-investment.

If the Company elects to co-invest, it shall notify the Investment Manager of this as soon as reasonably practicable, and, in any event, within ten Madrid business days of service of notice to the Company by the Investment Manager.

If the Company gives notice to the Investment Manager that it does not intend to proceed with the co-investment, or if it does not serve notice within the prescribed period, the Investment Manager shall be free to carry out the Relevant Residential Opportunity in Spain without the Company.

Commitment by members of Management Team

Pursuant to the respective commitment letters entered into by the members of the Management Team in accordance with the Investment Manager Agreement, if any member of the Management Team identifies an investment opportunity which fits within the Investment Strategy of the Company (each such opportunity, a “Management Team Investment Opportunity”) in which such member of the Management Team or a person that is controlled by such member of the Management Team (excluding the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliate which is a corporation) (a “Controlled Person”), whether directly or indirectly, intends to participate, such member of the Management Team shall, before proceeding to effect such participation or the acquisition of the property which is the subject of that Management Team Investment Opportunity, give notice in writing of such opportunity to the Company and offer (a) at least a 20% share of the total stake available to such member of the Management Team or the Controlled Person (as the case may be) in the Management Team Investment Opportunity if such opportunity relates to a Residential Property, or (b) the full stake available to such member of the Management Team or the Controlled Person (as the case may be) in the Management Team Investment Opportunity if such opportunity relates to a Commercial Property. These commitments are subject to certain exceptions and shall end on the earlier of: (a) the date of termination of the Investment Manager Agreement; (b) with respect to a particular member of the Management Team, the date on which the relevant member of the Management Team ceases to be a member of the Management Team; and (c) the date on which a resolution is passed to cease the business and operations of the Company.

Conflicts of interest with respect to the Investment Manager

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager shall not (and shall procure that no Investment Manager Affiliate shall), during the term of the agreement (i) sell, transfer or lease assets or properties to the Company or (ii) launch or invest in a property investment/real estate listed or unlisted fund or a property investment/real estate investment trust carrying on business in Spain to invest in Commercial Property.

Notwithstanding the above, on 30 March 2016 the Company acquired the remaining 41.22% stake in Puerta Marítima Ondara, S.L. owned by Grupo Lar, pursuant to a waiver of this provision granted by the extraordinary general shareholders meeting held on 18 December 2015.

The Investment Manager is not prohibited from launching a property investment/real estate listed or unlisted fund or a property investment/real estate investment trust carrying on business in Spain to invest in Residential Property, although the Company would have certain co-investment rights as described above.

In addition, the Company shall not, during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement, sell, transfer or lease assets or properties to the Investment Manager, unless approved by the Company's Board.

The Investment Manager shall disclose in writing to the Company any actual or potential conflicts of interests which it and/or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates have or may have from time to time, subject to any obligations of confidentiality to which the Investment Manager is contractually bound.

10.7.2 Anchor Investor rights

Pursuant to the subscription agreement entered into between the Company, the Investment Manager and the Anchor Investor on 12 February 2014 (the “Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement”), so long as an Anchor Investor Agreement Termination Event (as defined herein) has not occurred, the Company, the Anchor Investor and the Investment Manager shall have the rights and obligations summarised below. For additional information on the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, see section 11.4 of Part XVIII (“Additional Information”).

Anchor Investor's right of first offer with respect to certain Commercial Property Investments undertaken by the Company

If the Company seeks or intends to seek equity capital from one or more third parties in connection with any Commercial Property Investment (as defined herein) under consideration by the Company in Spain (a “Commercial Property Co-Investment Opportunity”), the Company shall in good faith provide the Anchor Investor or any entity in the Anchor Investor Group named by the Anchor Investor (any of them, an “Anchor Investor Entity”) with a right of first offer to participate together with the Company in any such investment, except in certain cases where the Commercial Property Co-Investment Opportunity is offered by a third party investor to the Company. In connection with each applicable Commercial Property Co-Investment Opportunity (i) the Company shall offer to the Anchor Investor Entity the full stake in the relevant Commercial Property Investment for which the Company is seeking a co-investor and (ii) the Anchor Investor Entity shall have the right to participate in the stake offered to it by the Company (but not less than such stake) in the relevant Commercial Property Investment.

Anchor Investor's right of first offer with respect to certain Residential Property Investments undertaken by the Investment Manager

Subject to certain exceptions relating to Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunities (as defined below) relating to purchases from SAREB or offered by a third party investor to the Investment Manager, the Investment Manager shall in good faith provide the Anchor Investor Entity with a right of first offer to participate together with the Investment Manager in any Residential Property Investment undertaken by the Investment Manager (a “Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity”). In connection with each Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity (i) the Investment Manager shall offer to the Anchor Investor Entity the stake in such investment that would have remained available to the Investment Manager (and not to third parties) after deducting (a) any stake in such investment that the Company accepts from the Investment Manager and which is offered to it pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, and (b) any stake in such investment that the Investment Manager chooses to retain for itself; and (ii) the Anchor Investor Entity shall have the right to participate in the stake offered to it by the Investment Manager (but not less than such stake) in the relevant Residential Property investment.

According to the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, in any situation where a conflict of interest exists or may exist, regarding any Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity between the Company and the Anchor Investor Entity based on their relationships with the Investment Manager pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement and the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, respectively, or otherwise, the relationship between the Company and the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager's obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement shall prevail over the relationship between the Anchor Investor Entity and the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager's obligations under the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement. Therefore, the Company's first offer or co-investment rights in connection with any Residential Property Investment under the Investment Manager Agreement may override any first offer or co-investment rights of the Anchor Investor Entity under the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement.

Reciprocity obligations of Anchor Investor and right of first offer of Investment Manager

The Anchor Investor has agreed not to compete, directly or through any member of the Anchor Investor Group, with the Company or with the Investment Manager in competitive processes (including offerings for sale or tenure through an expression of interest, public lot draws, public auctions, requests for offers to purchase or requests for proposals) in respect of Commercial Property Investments and Residential Property Investments in Spain, but rather partner with the Company and the Investment Manager, as applicable, subject to certain exceptions if the Anchor Investor believes in good faith that a co-investment with the Company or the Investment Manager is impossible or inadvisable.

In addition, the Anchor Investor has agreed to provide the Investment Manager with a right of first offer to participate together with the Anchor Investor or an Anchor Investor Entity in any co-investment opportunity in respect of any Commercial Property Investment or Residential Property

Investment (in each case only where management services of the type set out in the Investment Manager Agreement are expected to be provided in relation to such opportunity) which is being considered by the Anchor Investor Group in Spain (an “Anchor Investor Co-Investment Opportunity”). The Anchor Investor has acknowledged and agreed that the Investment Manager may be required to offer all or part of the participation in any such Anchor Investor Co-Investment Opportunity to the Company pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, in which case the Company shall also have the right to participate in such investment opportunity in accordance with the terms of the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement. In connection with each Anchor Investor Co-Investment Opportunity, the Anchor Investor shall offer to the Investment Manager the stake in respect of which it is seeking a co-investor, subject to certain exceptions if the Anchor Investor believes in good faith that a co-investment with the Investment Manager or the Company (if applicable) is not possible or not advisable. There is no requirement that any co-investment opportunity offered by the Anchor Investor to the Investment Manager will be consistent with the Investment Strategy of the Company.

10.8 Valuation policy

The Company is required to calculate its EPRA NAV semi-annually, which is communicated at the time of publication of the Company’s interim and annual financial results through the publication of a significant information announcement (Hecho Relevante). The EPRA NAV as of 31 December 2015 was €577,970 thousand and €582,780 thousand as of 31 March 2016.

For purposes of the Investment Manager Agreement, “EPRA NAV” is the net asset value of the Company adjusted to include properties and other investment interests at fair value and to exclude certain items not expected to crystallise in a long-term investment property business in accordance with guidelines issued by the European Public Real Estate Association (December 2014 version only, unless otherwise agreed between the Company and the Investment Manager).

The EPRA NAV of the Company is based on the Company’s real estate assets most recent valuation. Valuations of the Company’s real estate assets are made (i) as at 30 June in each year through an external desktop valuation (i.e., a limited valuation which does not involve a physical inspection of property and which is intended to update the previous 31 December valuation incorporating significant changes that may have taken place in the market conditions and/or within the relevant assets (i.e., leases, capital expenditures investments or legal liabilities)) and (ii) as at 31 December in each year through a physical valuation, in both cases performed by a suitable qualified RICS accredited appraiser to be appointed by the Audit and Control Committee. The first external valuation took place on 31 December 2014. Valuations of the Company’s real estate assets are made in accordance with the appropriate sections of the RICS Red Book at the date of valuation. This is an internationally accepted basis of real estate valuation.

10.9 Treasury policy

The Company carries out a treasury policy designed to ensure capital preservation. Accordingly, the Company seeks to generate positive and steady rates of return with limited risk exposure. In particular, the Company focuses on highly liquid financial products where any early cancelation would result in no or a limited penalty.

The Company also intends to hedge, totally or partially, its interest rate exposure through the use of forward contracts, options, swaps or other forms of derivative instruments.

10.10 Dividend policy

The Company intends to maintain a dividend policy which has due regard to sustainable levels of dividend distribution and reflects the Company’s view on the outlook for sustainable recurring earnings. The Company will not create reserves that are not available for distribution to its shareholders other than those required by law. The Company intends to pay dividends when the Board considers it appropriate. However, under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, the Company is required to adopt resolutions for the distribution of dividends, after fulfilling any relevant Spanish Companies Act requirement, to shareholders annually within the six months following the closing of the fiscal year of:

- (i) at least 50% of the profits derived from the transfer of real estate properties and shares in (a) Spanish SOCIMIs, (b) foreign entities with a similar regime, corporate purpose and dividend distribution regime as a Spanish SOCIMI, and (c) Spanish and foreign entities which main corporate purpose is investing in real estate for developing rental activities and that shall be subject to an equal dividend distribution regime and investment and income requirements as set out in the SOCIMI Act which share capital is fully owned by SOCIMIs or foreign entities with a similar regime and that do not hold participations in other companies (jointly, “Qualifying Subsidiaries”) and real estate collective investment funds; provided that the remaining profits must be reinvested in other real estate properties or participations within a maximum period of three years from the date of the transfer or, if not, 100% of the profits must be distributed as dividends once such period has elapsed;
- (ii) 100% of the profits derived from dividends paid by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; and
- (iii) at least 80% of all other profits obtained (i.e., profits derived from ancillary activities).

If the relevant dividend distribution resolution is not adopted in a timely manner, the Company would lose its SOCIMI status in respect of the year to which the dividends relate.

In compliance with the described SOCIMI Regime dividend distribution requirements, the annual ordinary general shareholders’ meeting of the Company held on 21 April 2016 approved a dividend distribution of €0.075 per ordinary share plus a share premium distribution of €0.125 per ordinary share, which was paid to shareholders on 20 May 2016 as provided for in the By-Laws and the relevant significant communication event (hecho relevante).

Through the date of this Prospectus the Company has distributed the following dividends among its shareholders:

The following discussion contains certain forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. The Company's future results could differ materially from those discussed below. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, without limitation, those discussed in Part II ("Risk Factors"), Part X ("Information on the Company") and elsewhere in this Prospectus.

References in this section to "we", "our" and "us" refer to the Company. References to the "year ended 31 December 2014" when referring to financial data, refer to the 11 months and 14 days ended 31 December 2014.

11.1 Overview

Lar España Real Estate SOCIMI, S.A. is a Spanish company which was incorporated as a sociedad anónima on 17 January 2014. The Company has an experienced Board, chaired by Mr. José Luis del Valle, and is externally managed by Grupo Lar on the terms and under the conditions set forth in the Investment Manager Agreement. The ordinary shares of the Company are listed on the Spanish Stock Exchanges and quoted through the Automated Quotation System (SIBE - Sistema de Interconexión Bursátil or Mercado Continuo) of the Spanish Stock Exchanges. The Company is set up as a Spanish SOCIMI and, thus, is taxed under the SOCIMI Regime, which is further described in Part XVI ("Taxation Information") of this Prospectus.

The Company's Business Strategy is to own and operate for rental its Portfolio consisting of properties fitting its Investment Strategy through active property management to deliver income and capital growth for its shareholders. The Company relies on active property management to maximise operating efficiency and profitability at the property level.

For further information on our Business Strategy, Portfolio and Investment Strategy, see Part X ("Information on the Company") of this Prospectus.

11.2 Key factors affecting our results of operations

Our results of operations are affected by a number of factors, including the following:

Macroeconomic market conditions

The rental income and market value of our real estate Portfolio depend to a significant degree on general macroeconomic and market factors. In recent years, the Spanish economy has experienced a period of economic and financial uncertainty, with the economy declining by 1.6% in 2012 and 1.2% in 2013. Moreover, the Spanish fiscal deficit (expressed as a percentage of GDP) was 6.8% in 2012 and 6.6% in 2013. In addition, the Spanish banking sector underwent a profound restructuring process, generating uncertainty about its ability to generate income, its risk profile, its access to external financing and the cost of such financing. This restructuring process, together with unemployment rates in Spain that increased significantly since the beginning of the global economic crisis in 2007, affected the evolution of the Spanish economy, including the recovery of the real estate market.

Although the Spanish economy remained weak in 2013, that year saw the beginning of improved global macroeconomic conditions, increased global financial stability and some growth in developed economies, fuelled by accommodative monetary policies. The Spanish economy returned to growth in the third quarter of 2013 and grew by 1.4% in 2014, 3.2% in 2015 and 0.8% in the first quarter of 2016 (source: INE). The improvement of the Spanish economy was attributable in part to the economic policies implemented by the Spanish government, including the three primary structural reforms of 2012: labour reform, a strengthening of the fiscal framework and the restructuring of the financial sector. Despite the growth in GDP, the unemployment rate continues to be high (21% in the first quarter of 2016 (source: INE)) and the fiscal deficit amounted to 5.1% of GDP in 2015, the second largest in the Eurozone after Greece (source: Eurostat). According to the latest estimates published by the Spanish Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness on 29 April 2016, the real GDP is expected to grow by 2.7% and 2.4% in 2016 and 2017, respectively, and is expected to reach 2.5% growth in 2019. However, these estimates may need to be revised to reflect the possible impact of the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU.

The level of economic activity in Spain has an impact on the desire and ability of prospective tenants to rent the Company's properties, which in turn increases the Company's rental income. Furthermore, increased demand in the Spanish real estate market results in higher property valuations, because these valuations reflect the rental income-generating potential of the properties in question. Therefore, the level of demand in the Spanish real estate market drives the valuation of the Company's portfolio and, as a result, the Company's EPRA NAV.

Although continued growth is currently expected, any adverse change in general economic conditions in Spain or in the real estate market in Spain, including as a result of the referendum held by the United Kingdom on 23 June 2016 on continuing membership in the EU, which resulted in the decision to leave the EU, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Cyclical nature of the real estate industry

Our results of operations are affected by the cyclical nature of the real estate industry. Property values and rental rates are affected by, among other factors, supply and demand for comparable properties, the liquidity of real estate investments, interest rates, inflation, the rate of economic growth, tax laws and political and economic developments and demographic and social factors in the regions in which we have operations. Cyclical changes in the real estate market, particularly in Spain, could result in fluctuations in our results of operations.

The slowdown of activity in the Spanish real estate sector, which up to the middle of 2007 was moderate, sharpened during the second half of 2007, and activity in the sector continued to decline through 2012. However, investment volumes started to increase in Spain during 2013 and 2014, and this trend continued in 2015 and 2016. Commercial investment volumes dropped from almost €13.6 billion in 2007 to about €2.9 billion in 2013, with a partial recovery in 2014 (€7.8 billion) and higher volumes reached in 2015 (€8.8 billion) (Source: Real Capital Analytics/ Knight Frank, March 2016). See Section 9.1 of Part IX ("Market Overview") for additional information. Since the start of the credit crisis in mid-2007, the number of banks advancing new loans for the purchase of Spanish commercial property fell substantially and that decline, together with a tightening of lending policies by financial institutions, resulted in a significant contraction in the amount of debt available to fund real estate investments mainly until 2014.

Although investment levels have increased, the companies operating in the real estate sector in Spain suffered significant downward adjustments of the valuation of asset portfolios. Given the cyclical nature of the real estate industry, such downturns and valuation adjustments are likely to occur again in the future. At the end of 2013 and through 2014, Spanish real estate values began to stabilize, and values for prime assets rallied through the end of 2014. While this trend continued in 2015 and 2016, we cannot predict whether this trend will continue. Our results of operations could be materially adversely affected by a downturn in the real estate market.

Impact of interest rate changes and cost of financing

Changes in interest rates and in risk premium affect our business in a number of ways. Interest rates and risk premiums affect capitalization and discount rates, which in turn influence the fair value of our properties. Moreover, lower interest rates in the regions in which we operate tend to increase demand for properties, resulting in higher acquisition costs but lower interest expenses. Conversely, rising interest rates lead to economically less favourable financing terms and may negatively affect the sale of properties.

In addition, changes in interest rates affect our cost of financing. They affect the conditions at which we may obtain fixed rate financing and affect interest payment obligations under our floating rate debt obligations. A portion of our business is debt-financed, according to the leverage criteria described in section 6.1 of Part X (“Information on the Company”). We depend on the availability of debt financing and our results of operations may be materially affected by financing costs.

Portfolio size and occupancy and rental rates

Our gross rental income is a material factor affecting our income. The amount of gross rental income earned depends primarily on our rent per square meter and relevant rented space, which in turn depends primarily on the location and quality of our properties, as well as general economic conditions. Significant changes in our levels of rental income result primarily from property acquisitions, which affect the size of our total Portfolio and may have an impact on the average gross rental income per square meter. Moreover, as leases expire or are terminated, the corresponding properties become available again for rental to the market. Our rental income is dependent on our ability to attract tenants and increase or maintain rental rates.

Occupancy rates also have a considerable effect on our earnings, as a decline in occupancy rates can negatively affect the level of rental income and allocable operating expenses. The occupancy rate of our Portfolio was 93.1% at 31 March 2016, 93.0% at 31 December 2015 and 92.73% at 31 December 2014. Occupancy rates can also vary by region and asset class throughout the real estate cycle.

Investment in our real estate portfolio

We have invested, and we plan to continue investing, in the acquisition of new properties as well as the refurbishment of properties in our real estate Portfolio. Some of our properties require refurbishment or development before they begin generating rental income, and given the timing of our investments relative to the income that they produce, our results of operations or other indicators of our financial performance may not be directly comparable across different financial periods. Our actual investments in our real estate Portfolio, as well as the contribution to the revenue of our real estate business in the future, may be less or more than the amounts we currently expect or describe in this Prospectus. See “Forward-Looking Statements” in Part VIII (“Important Information”) of this Prospectus.

Property values and valuation

The value of the real estate properties that comprise our Portfolio has a significant effect on our financial performance, both in terms of the valuation of our real estate properties reflected in our financial statements and the prices we will be able to achieve upon the sale of any real estate properties. Furthermore, the management fee paid to Grupo Lar is based on our EPRA NAV.

Our consolidated EPRA NAV is based on the most recent valuation of our real estate properties on a consolidated basis. Valuations of our consolidated real estate assets are made as of each 30 June and 31 December.

We engage external, independent appraisers to value our real estate properties at each relevant reporting date, in accordance with the RICS Valuation Standards. However, real estate valuation is inherently subjective, in part because all real estate valuations are made on the basis of assumptions which may not prove to be accurate and in part because of the individual nature of each real estate properties.

We may seek to dispose of real estate properties from time to time. The price which we will be able to realise upon the sale of any real estate properties will depend on, amongst other things, market conditions at the time of the sale and may not always correspond with the most recent valuation of such properties. The price achieved by us upon the sale of a property will affect both our income during the financial reporting period in which the property is sold and the amount of proceeds we have available to reinvest in our business.

Tax treatment

The application of the SOCIMI Regime provides us with significant tax relief and in turn has a significant effect on our overall financial performance.

The Company has elected for Spanish SOCIMI status under the SOCIMI Act and, thus, it is subject to a 0% Corporate Income Tax rate subject to the exceptions set forth in Part XVI (“Taxation Information”) of this Prospectus. The requirements for maintaining Spanish SOCIMI status, however, are complex and the Spanish SOCIMI Regime is relatively new with no practical history of interpretation. Furthermore, there may be changes subsequently introduced (including a change in interpretation) to the requirements for maintaining Spanish SOCIMI status.

11.3 Considerations regarding the comparability of our financial condition and results of operations

Given our limited operating history and the significant increase in size of our Portfolio over the course of the periods under review, our financial condition and results of operations as of and for the financial periods discussed in this Prospectus are not fully comparable.

We were incorporated on 17 January 2014 but did not commence business operations, including the acquisition of properties, until after our initial public offering on 4 March 2014. As a result, we have no financial information for any period prior to 17 January 2014 and are therefore not able to compare our results of operations for the year ended 31 December 2014 with any prior period. In addition, given the timing of our initial public offering and the timing of the acquisition of our assets (we have acquired most of the properties comprising our portfolio after 30 June 2014), our financial information for the year ended 31 December 2014 is not fully comparable with our financial condition and results of operations for the year ended 31 December 2015. Similarly, given the significant acquisitions made after 31 March 2015, our financial information for the three months ended 31 March 2015 is not fully comparable with our financial condition and results of operations for the three months ended 31 March 2016.

Given the Company’s limited operating history, investors are cautioned against drawing any inferences from the Consolidated Financial Statements and/or other financial data included or incorporated by reference herein. The results for 2016 as a whole and future years depend and will depend upon the Company’s ability to derive value from the properties acquired so far and from the Company’s future investments, the Spanish economic environment and other factors described elsewhere in this Prospectus. In addition, although most of the properties purchased by the Company have been in operation for a number of years, there is limited historical financial data available to the Company in respect of these properties, the tenants occupying them and the historical rental income and costs relating to them for periods prior to the Company’s ownership of the properties. In acquiring these properties the Company placed somewhat greater emphasis on what it believed to be opportunities for capital appreciation and less on historical revenue and cost considerations.

Furthermore, the financial information included in or incorporated by reference to this Prospectus is not intended to comply with the reporting requirements of the US Securities and Exchange Commission. Compliance with such requirements would generally require the presentation of pro forma financial information giving effect to certain significant acquisitions we have made since our incorporation. While the Prospectus includes information on the properties currently comprising our Portfolio in section 5 of Part X (“Information on the Company”), including the purchase price, and the Valuation Reports include valuation information on each property, there is limited financial information in respect of the revenues and expenses generated by certain properties within the Company’s current Portfolio. In addition, since we intend to continue expanding our Portfolio in the future, the information included herein regarding our current Portfolio may not be indicative of our future business, financial condition or results of operations. The timing of our acquisition of real estate properties and any delays in when such properties begin to generate rental income may affect our revenue and operating profit, which may make comparisons between periods difficult.

11.4 Key statistics

We believe that the following key statistics relating to our business are helpful in understanding the discussion and analysis of our results of operations in this section. Additional operating statistics and other information concerning our business are set forth in Part X (“Information on the Company”) of this Prospectus.

The following table shows certain unaudited financial and operating data as of 30 June 2016, 31 March 2016 and 31 December 2015 and 2014.

1. Except with respect to 31 March 2016, Total GAV refers to the aggregate GAV resulting from the most recent valuations of the Company's portfolio performed by Jones Lang Lasalle and Cushman & Wakefield as of each date. Such valuations are prepared semi-annually. With respect to Total GAV as of 31 March 2016, see note (2).
2. Total GAV as of 31 March 2016 has been calculated on the basis of 31 December 2015 valuation reports plus any Building Capex invested in the Portfolio during the first quarter of 2016. Total GAV for 30 June 2016 amounts to €1,050 thousand.
3. Outstanding nominal debt minus the existing cash as of the relevant date.
4. The difference existing between debt net of cash and gross debt as of 31 December 2014 and 31 December 2015 arises as a result of the exclusion in the latter of the banking indebtedness of Puerta Marítima Ondara, S.L. (which for the calculation of gross debt was accounted for following the equity method).
5. Calculated as total loans (including the loans of subsidiaries accounted for following the equity method) and borrowings and Notes (net of cash) divided by Total GAV.
6. See section 3 of Part XIV ("Historical Financial Information") for information on the EPRA NAV calculation.
7. Consolidated financial statements as of 30 June 2016 are not available by the Company as of the date of this Prospectus.

11.5 Critical accounting policies

The 2015 audited consolidated financial statements and the accompanying notes contain information that is relevant to the discussion and analysis of our results of operations and financial condition set forth below. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS-EU requires our management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and the related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Estimates are evaluated based on available information and experience. Actual results could differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. We believe that, in particular, the critical accounting policies and estimates discussed below are important to an understanding of our financial information. For a detailed description of our significant accounting policies, see Note 5 to the 2015 audited consolidated financial statements.

Revenue recognition

We recognize revenue from leases at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Discounts, including rent-free periods and bonuses, granted to customers are recognised as a reduction in sales revenue when it is probable that the discount conditions will be met. Discounts are recognised by allocating the total amount of rent waived during the rent-free period or of the bonus on a straight-line basis over all the periods in which the tenant's contract is in force. Should the rental contract end sooner than expected, the unrecognised portion of the waived rent or bonus will be recorded in the last period prior to contract termination.

Investment property

Investment property is property, including that which is under construction or being developed for future use as investment property, which is earmarked totally or partially to earn rentals or for capital appreciation or both, rather than for use in the production or supply of goods or services, for administrative purposes or for sale in the ordinary course of business.

All properties classified as investment property are in operation and occupied by various tenants. These properties are intended for lease to third parties. We do not plan to dispose of these properties in the foreseeable future and have therefore decided to maintain these properties in the consolidated statement of financial position as investment property.

We recognize investment property at fair value at the reporting date, and it is not depreciated. Profits or losses derived from changes in the fair value of the investment properties are recognised when they arise. Execution and finance costs are capitalised during the period in which the works are carried out. When an asset enters into service, it is recognised at fair value.

When determining the fair value of an investment property, we commission independent appraisers to appraise all of our assets at each 30 June and 31 December (see Annex B (“Valuation Reports”) of this Prospectus). Buildings are appraised individually, taking into consideration each of the lease contracts in force at the appraisal date. Buildings with areas that have not been rented out are appraised on the basis of estimated future rents, minus a marketing period.

Three months ended 31 March 2016 compared to three months ended 31 March 2015 (unaudited)

Differences between our results of operation for the three months ended 31 March 2016 and the three months ended 31 March 2015 were due mainly to the acquisition of additional properties in the Portfolio after 31 March 2015 (including Megapark, As Termas and El Rosal).

Revenues. Revenues totalled €12,985 thousand in the three months ended 31 March 2016, a 100.7% increase compared to our revenues in the three months ended 31 March 2015 (€6,471 thousand). Revenues in the three months ended 31 March 2016 were principally due to rental income of the rental assets in our Portfolio during the period (except for the Portal de la Marina shopping centre, whose results were accounted for under the equity method until 30 March 2016). This rental income was principally from shopping centres, which represented 75.7% of our revenues for the three months ended 31 March 2016, with the Megapark shopping centre representing 29.2% of our rental income from shopping centres during such period. Rental income from office buildings represented 13.9% of our revenues for the three months ended 31 March 2016, with Egeo representing 48.5% of our rental income from office buildings during such period. Year ended 31 December 2015 compared to year ended 31 December 2014

Differences between our results of operations for the years ended 31 December 2015 and 2014 were due mainly to the acquisition of additional properties in the Portfolio after 31 December 2014 (including Lagasca 99, Megapark, As Termas and El Rosal) and the fact that many of the properties acquired in 2014 were acquired in the second half of such year (including Egeo and Alovera II).

11.7 Liquidity and capital resources

Our business is capital-intensive, and we expect to have significant liquidity and investment requirements in order to finance and grow our business.

Liquidity

To date, our liquidity needs have been met largely from the proceeds of our initial public offering and the proceeds of a rights offering carried out on 7 August 2015, as well as from a combination of financing from credit institutions, the proceeds from the issuance of the Notes and internally generated cash flow arising from the rental of our properties.

We will continue to need significant cash resources following the offering to, among other things:

- acquire additional properties;

- meet our debt service requirements
- fund our capital expenditure requirements; and
- fund our operating expenses.

We have acquired real estate properties using the proceeds primarily from our initial public offering and funds from the rights offering carried out in August 2015. In addition, on 19 February 2015 we issued the Notes for the purpose of financing the acquisitions of additional properties. For further information, see section 7 of Part X (“Information on the Company”) in this Prospectus. Additionally, we occasionally finance a property through a bank loan using such asset to secure its respective loan. As we seek financing for an asset, the credit institutions providing the financing and we typically consider the reasonableness of the loan-to-value ratio of the given asset, the ability of the property to generate sufficient cash flow to service the financing costs of the debt and the length of the maturities of the financing agreements, with respect to which we seek to have medium to long-term maturities.

Of the 28 properties that we own as of the date of this Prospectus, most were acquired fully paid using the proceeds of our initial public offering, the Notes issuance and the rights offering carried out in August 2015. Eleven of our 28 properties, including one property acquired through a partnership with another entity (i.e. Lagasca 99, which acquisition was carried out through a joint venture with the PIMCO Investor), were acquired with a combination of proceeds from our securities offerings and bank financing.

As of 31 March 2016, c.36% of our existing debt was due in the following six years (2016-21). If we are unable to refinance this debt prior to its maturity and do not have the funds to pay the outstanding balance thereunder, then we would default on the agreement, which could in turn trigger cross-default and cross-acceleration provisions in our other financing agreements. Moreover, if we do not have enough cash to service our other debt, meet obligations thereunder and fund other liquidity needs, we may be required to take actions such as reducing or delaying capital expenditures, selling assets, restructuring or refinancing all or part of our existing debt, or seeking additional equity capital. We cannot assure you that any of these remedies, including obtaining appropriate waivers from our lenders or refinancing our debt, can be effected on reasonable terms or at all.

We expect to continue to require significant levels of external finance to fund our capital requirements going forward. See “Risks relating to the Company’s Financial Structure—The Company’s Business Strategy includes the use of leverage, which exposes the Company to risks associated with borrowings” in Part II (“Risk Factors”) of this Prospectus.

11.8 Capital expenditures

Our capital expenditures consist primarily of investments we make in our properties for refurbishments and renovations designed to increase their future profitability. These investments are made to ensure that our properties, in particular our offices, shopping centres and logistic centres, remain at a high standard and are energy efficient, potentially leading to increases in value. Our capital expenditures were €3.3 million in the three months ended 31 March 2016 and €3.5 million in the year ended 31 December 2015.

As of 31 March 2016, we had invested an aggregate amount of €7.4 million in capital expenditures since the incorporation of the Company, consisting primarily of maintenance and improvements to our properties. As of such date, the Building Capex expected for the then-current Portfolio amounted to €208 million for the following five-year period of which €21 million corresponded to the development of Lagasca 99 (based on the Company's stake in such project), €35 million corresponded to the development of the Cruce de Caminos Project and €133 million corresponded to the development of Palmas Altas.

Our estimated capital expenditures are based on our current Business Plan. Our actual capital expenditures for 2016 and future periods may be less than or exceed these amounts, and will change as we acquire additional properties. See “Forward-Looking Statements” in Part VIII (“Important Information”) of this Prospectus.

11.9 Off-statement of financial position arrangements

As of the date of this Prospectus, we do not have any off-statement of financial position arrangements.

11.10 Risk management

Market risk

We are exposed to market risk due to the potential for vacancies in our properties or the need to negotiate rent reductions upon expiration of our leases. Should either of these risks materialise, it could have a direct negative impact on the valuation of our assets. We mitigate these risks with policies designed to select and attract reputable and financially-strong tenants and to negotiate leases with mandatory compliance, enabling us to maintain stable occupancy levels and to continue to receive steady rental income.

Interest rate risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk arising from our bank borrowings, which are mostly based on variable interest rates. Increases in interest rates would increase interest expenses relating to our outstanding variable rate borrowings and increase the cost of new debt. As of 31 March 2016 we had hedging arrangements against movements in interest rates under some of our outstanding borrowings, such as the loans obtained for the acquisition of As Termas (ING), El Rosal (La Caixa), Megapark (Santander, Natixis, Credit Agricole), Portal de la Marina (Caixabank, BBVA, Sabadell) and Joan Miro (BBVA).

Tax risk

We are exposed to the risk that we could be in breach of the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, for example if shareholders were not to approve a dividend distribution proposed by the Board and calculated in accordance with the Spanish SOCIMI Regime. In such an event, we would lose our SOCIMI status in respect of the year to which the dividends relate and would be required to pay Corporate Income Tax on the profits deriving from our activities at the standard Corporate Income Tax rate (currently 25%), and would not be eligible to become a SOCIMI (and benefit from its special tax regime) for three years.

11.11 Current trading and recent developments

We have not yet closed our books for the three months ended 30 June 2016. However, based on preliminary information, we expect our revenue for the three months ended 30 June 2016 to be slightly higher than the revenue recorded in the three months ended 31 March 2016 and largely in line with our internal estimates. Our actual results may differ from these expectations due to the completion of our financial closing procedures, final adjustments and other developments that may arise between now and the time the financial results for such period are finalized.

The GAV that will be reported in our results for the three months ended 30 June 2016 corresponds to the valuation reports included in this Prospectus.

As of 30 June 2016, our total borrowings and the weighted average maturity of our borrowings were in line with those reported in our interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements as of and for the three months ended 31 March 2016, since no new financings have been signed after that date.

On 16 June 2016, the Company, through its wholly-owned subsidiary LE Retail Vistahermosa, S.L.U., acquired the retail complex “Parque Vistahermosa” located in Alicante, with a GLA of approximately 33,550 square metres. See section 5 of Part X (“Information on the Company”) for additional information on this acquisition.

In addition, the Company has entered into a share deal agreement on 29 June 2016 in connection with a retail complex in the North of Spain, which acquisition is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2016. For additional information see section 5 of Part X (“Information on the Company”).

12. PART XII: GRUPO LAR AND THE INVESTMENT MANAGER AGREEMENT

12.1 Grupo Lar

12.1.1 Overview

The Company is, pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, managed by Grupo Lar. Grupo Lar was incorporated in Spain in 1985 and is currently one of the biggest property companies in Spain with more than 30 years of experience in the sector and with a presence in seven countries: Spain, Mexico, Brazil, Poland, Romania, Colombia and Peru. Grupo Lar has a diversified real estate business across asset classes (such as offices, retail, residential, etc.). Grupo Lar also has experience across the value chain through experience in investment, development, asset management and property management.

In addition, Grupo Lar currently has a 66.6% participation in Gentalia, one of the leading companies in Spain in shopping centre property management. Gentalia provides consultancy, asset management, leasing and day-to-day management services to shopping centres.

Grupo Lar is effectively controlled by the Pereda Family. Two of the six members of the Management Team (Mr. Luis Pereda and Mr. Miguel Pereda) are members of the Pereda Family and, therefore, shareholders of the Investment Manager. In addition, Mr. Luis Pereda and Mr. Miguel Pereda are, respectively, the Executive Chairman and Co-CEO of Grupo Lar. Mr. Miguel Pereda is also a member of the Company's Board. The remaining share capital of Grupo Lar is distributed among treasury shares (approximately 0.07%) and an entity sub-advised by Proprium Capital Partners, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.

Grupo Lar is operated by a team of property and finance professionals who between them have extensive experience in Spanish real estate and a strong track record of having successfully created value for shareholders and which includes the members of the Management Team. Thus, pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Company has access to the asset management operation of Grupo Lar, excluding Gentalia, which includes almost 153 full time property, financial and support staff members (of which 93 are located in Spain).

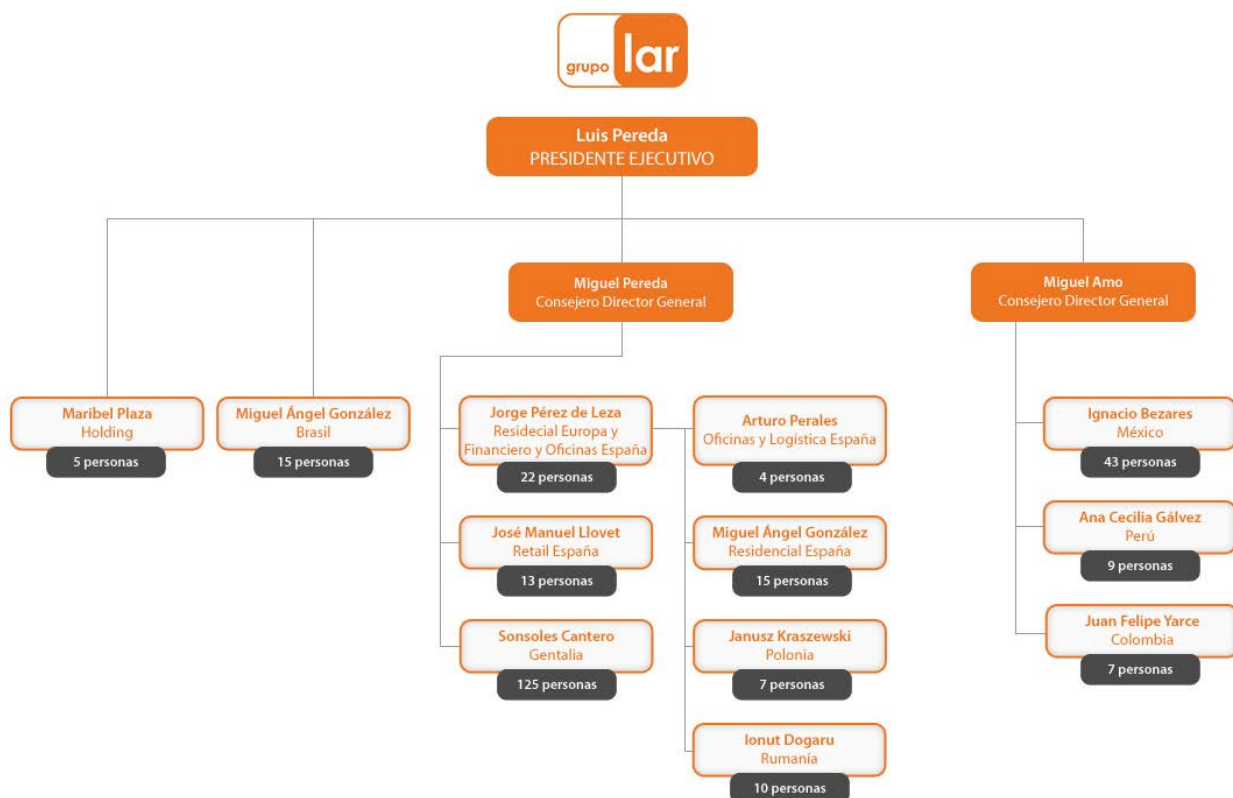

Grupo Lar is incorporated under the Spanish Companies Act as a public limited company (a sociedad anónima or S.A.). Grupo Lar is domiciled in Spain and its registered office and principal place of business is at Rosario Pino 14-16, 28020 Madrid, Spain.

Organizational structure of Grupo Lar

Grupo Lar has a broad organisational structure which relies mostly on independent country structures. Mr. Miguel Pereda heads the European platform and Mr. Miguel Amo is the head of the Latin American platform. There are individual teams in each major Latin American country where Grupo Lar operates, which report to the relevant country heads. There is also a team in charge of handling Central and Eastern Europe investments. In addition, there is a centralised support team which provides human resources, accounting and IT services.

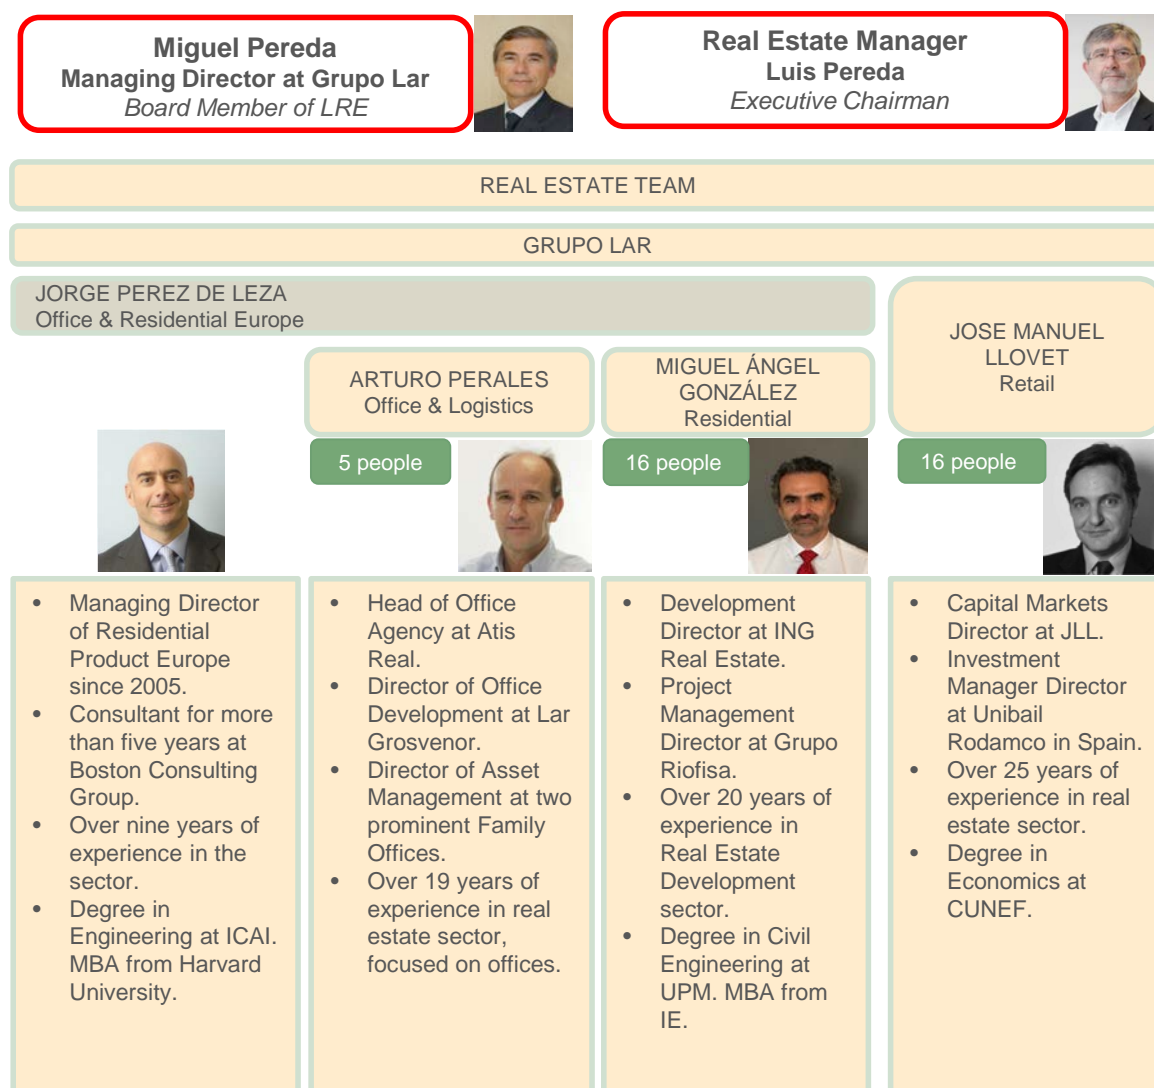

The Spanish platform is divided by sub-sectors, with a separate team for residential, shopping centres and offices.

As of 31 March 2016, Grupo Lar's consolidated portfolio comprised approximately €3.3 billion of assets under management (taking into account, in connection with residential property, a portfolio valuation as finished product (except for plots with a disposal strategy) and, in connection with shopping centres, the last available valuations provided by third parties and the "all in cost" method for centres under development). Approximately 46% of these assets were located in Spain. The Grupo Lar team (including Gentalia) comprises 278 full time property, financial and support staff of which 218 are located in Spain. Grupo Lar currently has a 66.6% participation in Gentalia, one of the leading companies in Spain in shopping centre property management. Gentalia provides consultancy, asset management, leasing and day-to-day management services to shopping centres. It currently manages 46 shopping centres in Spain, with a gross leasable area of over 1,425,540 sqm, and has a staff of 125 persons. As of the date of this Prospectus, Gentalia has been appointed as property manager of all the Company's shopping centres, except for Megapark.

12.2 Investment Manager Agreement

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager shall identify possible property acquisitions for, and opportunities with a view to investment by, the Company by reference to the Company's investment policy and strategy and is entitled to consult with professional advisors to assist it.

The Investment Manager has full discretionary authority to enter into transactions for and on behalf of the Company, subject to certain reserved matters which require the consent of the Board of the Company. Such matters include, among others, the acquisition or disposal of property investment where the aggregate acquisition cost/gross proceeds attributed to the Company in respect of such property investment is/are in excess of €30 million (in the case of income producing property) and entry into, or termination of, leases where the rent referable to the relevant lease is greater than 10% of the aggregate rental income of the Company. See section 11.1 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information") for additional information on the reserved matters which require the consent of the Board of the Company. The Board has in the past authorised the Investment Manager to take decisions on reserved matters and it may continue to do so in the future.

The Investment Manager Agreement has an initial term of five years from the date on which the Company's ordinary shares were initially admitted to trading in the Spanish Stock Exchanges (i.e. 5 March 2014) and thereafter will continue for consecutive three-year periods, unless terminated by either party in accordance with the terms further described in section 11.1 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information"). The Investment Manager Agreement is governed by Spanish law.

The Investment Manager currently owns 2,129,271 ordinary shares. The Company believes the Investment Manager's significant cash investment in the Company contributes to the alignment of its interests with those of the Company's other shareholders.

For additional information on the Investment Manager Agreement see section 11.1 of Part XVIII ("Additional Information").

Management fee and incentives

The Directors have sought to structure appropriate fees and incentive payments payable to the Investment Manager that provide a balance between incentivisation and alignment with shareholder interests. According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is entitled to receive a Base Fee and a Performance Fee during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement (with respect to the latter, to the extent it becomes payable in accordance with the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement). The Investment Manager is also entitled to additional fees to be agreed with the Company in respect of the provision of any additional agreed services. To the extent such services are provided in respect of assets jointly owned by the Company and others, the Company shall only be responsible for the payment of its pro rata share of the resulting fees. Fees that fall due and payable to the Investment Manager are not subject to reduction or clawback due to any subsequent decrease that may occur in the EPRA NAV of the Company.

Payment of the Performance Fee is dependent on performance exceeding an annual hurdle and it is also subject to an annual high-water mark, each as described in greater detail below.

Base Fee and expenses

The Base Fee is paid to the Investment Manager monthly in arrears in cash. The Base Fee in respect of each month is calculated by reference to 1.25% per annum of the EPRA NAV (excluding net cash (cash minus debt)) as of the prior 31 December. The EPRA NAV as of 31 December 2013 (the “Initial EPRA NAV”) was €90,579,296.5 (equal to the net proceeds of the initial public offering of the Company), as of 31 December 2014 was €89,962,000, and as of 31 December 2015 was €77,970,000.

The Base Fee (together with any applicable VAT and other costs) is payable by the Company to the Investment Manager in arrears within ten Madrid business days following receipt by the Company from the Investment Manager of the relevant supporting valuation documentation.

Other than as otherwise agreed in writing from time to time, and notwithstanding any other provision of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Base Fee is deemed to include (and therefore such fees, costs and expenses are not paid separately by the Company) the (i) out of pocket day-to-day expenses of the Investment Manager, (ii) the fees and expenses of certain third parties appointed by the Investment Manager to carry out any of the Investment Manager’s Services (as defined herein), and (iii) any fees, costs or expenses incurred by the Investment Manager when it or an Investment Manager Affiliate is performing the Services.

If, in connection with any co-investment undertaken by the Company under the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager receives any base fee or property management fees (for asset or portfolio management services) which are separate from the fees due under the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager has undertaken to grant the Company with a credit right equal to the Company’s pro rata share (based on the Company’s stake in the relevant co-investment) of the amount of any such fees received by the Investment Manager in connection with any such co-investment and, accordingly, the Company shall be entitled to set off an amount equal to such credit right against the Base Fee payable in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement.

The Base Fee is not deemed to include (and therefore such expenses must be paid separately by the Company) any costs to be borne by the Company such as the Company Costs (as defined herein) reasonably and properly incurred.

All development related expenses incurred including capital expenditures and any costs associated with them must be billed at cost.

Any and all expenses related to the Company’s officers and employees hired upon the proposal of the Investment Manager must be deducted from the Base Fee.

Performance Fee

The Performance Fee has been designed to incentivise and reward the Investment Manager for generating returns to the shareholders of the Company. The return to shareholders for a given year is equivalent to the sum of (a) the change in the EPRA NAV of the Company during such year less the net proceeds of any issues of ordinary shares during such year; and (b) the total dividends (or any other form of remuneration or distribution to the shareholders) that are paid in such year (the result of the addition of (a) and (b), the “Shareholder Return”). The “Shareholder Return Rate” is the Shareholder Return for a given year divided by the EPRA NAV of the Company as of 31 December of the immediately preceding year. The Initial EPRA NAV was deemed to be equal to the net proceeds of the Company’s initial public offering.

The “Relevant High Water Mark” at any time is the higher of (i) the Initial EPRA NAV, and (ii) the EPRA NAV on 31 December (adjusted to include total dividends paid during that year and exclude the net proceeds of any issuance of ordinary shares during that year) of the most recent year in respect of which a Performance Fee was payable.

The Performance Fee is due in respect of a given year if both of two key hurdles are met:

- (a) the Shareholder Return Rate for such year exceeds 10% (the amount in euro by which the Shareholder Return for the year exceeds the Shareholder Return that would have produced a 10% Shareholder Return Rate being the “Shareholder Return Outperformance” and the extent of the Shareholder Return Rate above 10% being the “Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate”); and
- (b) the sum of (A) the EPRA NAV of the Company on 31 December of such year and (B) the total dividends (or any other form of remuneration or distribution to the shareholders) that are paid in such year or in any preceding year since the most recent year in respect of which a Performance Fee was payable exceeds the Relevant High Water Mark (the amount by which such sum exceeds the Relevant High Water Mark being the “High Water Mark Outperformance”).

If the above hurdles are met, the Performance Fee in respect of such year will be a “promote” equal to the lesser of (x) 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance and (y) 20% of the High Water Mark Outperformance (the “Promote”).

Furthermore, in respect of a year in which the Performance Fee is payable and is based on Shareholder Return Outperformance, the Performance Fee will also include a “promote equalization” feature (the “Promote Equalization”), once a Shareholder Return Rate of 12% has been achieved, and it will apply only until a Shareholder Return Rate of 22% is achieved. The Promote Equalization feature entitles the Investment Manager to receive an additional 20% of the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance that reflects a Shareholder Return Rate of between 12% and 22%. Above 22% only the Promote will continue to apply. The Promote Equalization is intended to allow the Investment Manager to earn fees up to a maximum equivalent to 20% on the first 10% of the Shareholder Return for such year, which would not otherwise be payable.

Set out below are four examples¹. Examples (b), (c) and (d) assume that the hurdles to pay the Performance Fee are met and that the Performance Fees in respect of the relevant years are based on Shareholder Return Outperformance and so the Promote Equalization could apply (the Promote Equalization does not apply to years in respect of which the Performance Fee is based on High Water Mark Outperformance).

- (a) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 10%, the Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate would be 0% and the Investment Manager would receive no Promote or Promote Equalization in respect of that year.
- (b) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 12%, the Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate would be 2% and the Investment Manager would receive a Promote equal to 20% of the portion of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 2% (being the excess of 12% above 10%). In this case no Promote Equalization would apply. In total, the Investment Manager would receive $(20\% \times 2\%) = 0.4\%$ of the EPRA NAV as of 31 December of the previous year.
- (c) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 15%, the Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate would be 5% and the Investment Manager would receive (i) a Promote equal to 20% of the portion of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 5% (being the excess of 15% above 10%), plus (ii) a Promote Equalization equal to 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 3% (being the excess of 15% above 12%). In total, the Investment Manager would receive $(20\% \times 5\%) + (20\% \times 3\%) = 1\% + 0.6\% = 1.6\%$ of the EPRA NAV as of 31 December of the previous year.

- (d) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 25%, the Shareholder Outperformance Rate would be 15% and the Investment Manager would receive (i) a Promote equal to 20% of the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 15% (being the excess of 25% above 10%), plus (ii) a Promote Equalization equal to 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 10% (being the excess of 22% above 12%). In this example, the maximum Promote Equalization is reached at a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 22% and the Promote Equalization ceases to apply to the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate above 22% (above that level only the Promote will continue to apply). The Promote Equalization component is calculated on a yearly basis and does not allow for equalization of previous years' returns. In total, the Investment Manager would receive $(20\% \times 15\%) + (20\% \times 10\%) = 3\% + 2\% = 5\%$ of the EPRA NAV as of 31 December of the previous year.

The below example¹ intends to clarify the adjustment mechanisms relating to payments of dividends and issuances of new Ordinary Shares during a given year in the calculation of the Performance Fee, as well as to provide further clarity as to when the requirements for the payment of a Performance Fee would be met.

Item n°	Concept	Y1	Y2
1	EPRA NAV, BoP	100.0	112.0
2	EPRA NAV Growth	12.0	15.7
3	Dividend Paid	0.0	5.6
4	Capital Increase Proceeds	0.0	40.0
5	EPRA NAV, EoP	112.0	167.7
6	EPRA NAV EoP, Adjusted	112	133.3
7	High Water Mark	112.0	133.3
8	YoY Return	12.0%	19.0%
9	Return over HWM	12.0%	19.0%
10	Promote Payable:	Yes	Yes
11	Promote Equalization Payable:	No	Yes
12	Promote, Value	0.4	2.0
13	Promote Equalization, Value	0.0	1.6

Item n°	Concept	Explanation
1	EPRA NAV, BoP	BoP= Beginning of Period. Starting EPRA NAV assumed to be 100 for the sake of clarity. The subsequent year takes into consideration the previous year's return
2	EPRA NAV Growth	Assumption, example of yearly returns
3	Dividend Paid	Assumption, example of yearly dividends. Assumptions is that on first year no dividend would be paid out
4	Cap. Increase Proceeds	Example, assumes 40 of net proceeds. This is intended to showcase how a capital increase would be treated in terms of the Shareholder Return calculation
5	EPRA NAV, EoP	EoP = End of Period. In this case, it is 1 + 2 + 4
6	EPRA NAV EoP, Adjusted	5 + 3 - 4 (takes EPRA NAV, BoP, adds back the dividend paid in the period, and deducts net proceeds from any capital increase)
7	High Water Mark	The HWM is the maximum of: a) Initial EPRA NAV (for this example, 100), or b) the figure on row 6 for the most recent year where a performance fee was payable. The figures shown on row 7 represent the HWM that will be applicable for subsequent years (until a new HWM is established), and not the HWM against which the same year will be measured (e.g., the HWW of Y1 of 112.0 will apply to Y2 etc.)
8	YoY Return	For the first year, it is an assumption; for the rest of the years, it will use the data on row 6 (EPRA NAV EoP, Adjusted); $(EPRA\ NAV\ Adjusted\ Y(n) / EPRA\ NAV\ Adjusted\ Y(n-1)) - 1$
9	Return over HWM	Measures the figure on row 6, compared with the applicable HWM
10	Promote Payable:	If figure on row 8 is above hurdle (10%), and figure on row 9 is positive, Promote will be payable; otherwise it will not be payable
11	Promote Equalization Payable:	If Promote is payable, and figure on row 8 is above second hurdle (12%), Promote Equalization will be payable; otherwise it will not be payable
12	Promote, Value	If payable, it will be the lesser of $(20\% \times (\text{amount on row 8 less first hurdle of } 10\%))$, or $(20\% \times \text{amount on row 9})$, and then multiplied by the amount on row 1 for such year
13	Promote Equalization, Value	If payable, it will be $(20\% \times (\text{amount on row 8 less the second hurdle of } 12\%))$ and then multiplied by the amount on row 1 for such year

The Performance Fee is calculated annually as of 31 December of each fiscal year, expressed in euros. There is no maximum Performance Fee under the Investment Manager Agreement.

After delivery of a proposal from the Investment Manager setting out the Investment Manager's statement of the Performance Fee, the Company may agree with it, in which case the Investment Manager will issue an invoice within 10 Madrid business days and the Performance Fee shall become due and payable 20 Madrid business days after the date of the invoice. Alternatively, the Company may dispute the proposed amount by giving notice in writing to the Investment Manager within 10 Madrid business days of receiving it. If the Company disputes such proposal, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve the dispute, provided that if the parties do not reach agreement on the items in dispute within five Madrid business days of the Company having disputed it (or such longer period as they may agree in writing), the Performance Fee payable shall be determined by an independent expert by reference to the audited financial statements of the Company and the valuation made by a RICS accredited appraiser in respect of the relevant year, following the approval by the Board of such financial statements and the delivery by the auditors of an unqualified audit opinion in respect of such financial statements.

The Investment Manager will invoice the aforesaid amount, as amended, if applicable, to reflect the agreement between the parties or the determination of the independent expert (as the case may be), and such invoice shall constitute a statement of the Performance Fee payable to the Investment Manager in respect of the relevant year and it shall become due and payable by the Company to the Investment Manager on the fifth Madrid business day following such agreement or determination.

If following the approval by the Board of the accounts of the Company and receipt of an unqualified audit opinion in respect of such financial statements, the Company or the Investment Manager is reasonably of the opinion that the Base Fee and/or the Performance Fee (if any) already payable to the Investment Manager in respect of the relevant year are greater than, or less than, the amount that should have been paid having regard to the audited financial statements of the Company, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve the dispute, provided that if the parties do not reach agreement, any adjustment shall be determined by an independent expert by reference to the audited financial statements of the Company and the valuation made by a RICS accredited appraiser in respect of the relevant year. Following the agreement or determination of any adjustment, the Investment Manager shall: (i) where the adjustment relates to an overpayment of fees, pay or otherwise refund that sum to the Company within 20 Madrid business days (in Ordinary Shares if applicable); or (ii) where the adjustment relates to an underpayment of fees, deliver to the Company an invoice setting out the adjustment amount payable by the Company to the Investment Manager and such amount shall be deemed and be treated as a Performance Fee which fell due as of the date it should have been paid at originally (and the Average Closing Price in these circumstances for calculating the number of Performance Fee Shares to be allotted and issued shall be determined by reference to the date of the original invoice in respect of that Performance Fee; for these purposes, "Average Closing Price" is the average closing price on the Spanish Stock Exchanges in respect of ordinary shares of the Company over the period of twenty Madrid business days immediately prior to the business day immediately preceding the date of a relevant invoice from the Investment Manager setting out its statement of the Performance Fee that is payable in respect of a relevant period).

VAT due to the Investment Manager under the Performance Fee will be paid in cash.

The Investment Manager shall use the Performance Fee due to it (after deduction of corporate income tax and any other taxes applicable thereto) to subscribe for Performance Fee Shares (or, at the Company's choice, to acquire them from the Company), subject to certain limited exceptions described further below. Any such payment will not be considered net proceeds of any issues of ordinary shares for purposes of calculating Shareholder Return. The Company's liability to pay the Performance Fee in respect of any year shall be satisfied by the release by the Investment Manager of the sum due to it as that Performance Fee in consideration for the allotment and issue by the Company to the Investment Manager of such number of Performance Fee Shares, rounded down to the nearest whole number, as is determined by dividing the relevant Performance Fee by the Average Closing Price for the applicable period relating to that issue of Performance Fee Shares (such Average Closing Price being determined by reference to the period of twenty Madrid business days immediately prior to the business day immediately preceding the date of the invoice from the Investment Manager in respect of such Performance Fee). The Company may opt to recognize the accrued Performance Fee as a credit to be capitalised and therefore satisfied in Performance Fee Shares issued as a result of such capitalisation.

The Performance Fee Shares to be issued or sold to the Investment Manager shall be issued or sold on the date on which the Performance Fee becomes due and payable and shall be subject to a lock-up period of three years, during which time there shall be no disposal of the Performance Fee Shares by the Investment Manager, except that such lock-up shall not apply: (i) to a disposal of Performance Fee Shares effected to fund the payment or discharge by the Investment Manager of any liability to tax arising in connection with its receipt or acquisition of Performance Fee Shares and/or other Performance Fee Shares issued to the Investment Manager as part of the discharge of the Performance Fee; (ii) to a disposal of Performance Fee Shares in connection with a takeover or sale of the Company that is recommended by the Board or if the Investment Manager is required by law to dispose of such Performance Fee Shares; or (iii) following the termination of the Investment Manager Agreement by the Company (save in the case when the Company has elected to terminate it by reason of a material breach by the Investment Manager of a term of the Investment Manager Agreement), or due to a Company's material breach or insolvency event or due to other termination events which are not under the Investment Manager's sole control.

Any distributions or dividends attributable to Performance Fee Shares held by the Investment Manager declared and paid during the lock-up period shall be paid to and for the benefit of the Investment Manager.

If the Company determines (acting reasonably and having due regard to any reasonable representations made by the Investment Manager) that issuing any or all of the Performance Fee Shares to the Investment Manager on any relevant date is materially prejudicial for the Company for any reason (including as a result of any applicable law which prevents the issue of ordinary shares on that date or if the issue of ordinary shares to the Investment Manager would result in (i) the Investment Manager being required to make a mandatory offer to the Company's shareholders pursuant to the applicable Spanish takeover rules or other applicable law, or (ii) the Company or the Investment Manager breaching the applicable Spanish takeover rules, or (iii) the Investment Manager becoming beneficially entitled to or controlling, directly or indirectly, at least 10% of the share capital or voting rights in the Company (despite the Investment Manager having used reasonable endeavours to dispose of sufficient Performance Fee Shares, where permitted by law, to avoid this occurring), or (iv) the Company breaching any applicable listing rules), then the Company shall instead pay the Performance Fee to the Investment Manager in cash. Such cash will not be subject to any lock-up arrangement and will not be subject to any re-investment obligation in the Company's shares.

If any change in the Company's share capital arising from reorganisation, restructuring, scheme of reconstruction or arrangement, consolidation, subdivision, bonus issue, share buy-back or other capital reorganization or restructuring (a "Capital Restructuring") occurs during any year which the Company or the Investment Manager believes (acting reasonably) will change the calculation or the amount of the Performance Fee (if any) payable in respect of that or any subsequent year having regard to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement and (to the extent it is applicable) the basis of calculation of the Performance Fee, the Company and the Investment Manager shall negotiate in good faith to agree an appropriate adjustment to the calculation of the Performance Fee payable in respect of that or any subsequent year. If a dispute or difference arises between the Company and the Investment Manager in relation to the effect (if any) of a Capital Restructuring on any calculation of the Performance Fee and/or in relation to what adjustment (if any) is appropriate, which they cannot resolve by mutual agreement within two months of the matter first being notified by one party to the other in writing, the matter shall be referred to an independent expert for determination.

Through the date of this Prospectus the Investment Manager has received the following fees from the Company:

13.7 Corporate governance and Board practices

13.7.1 Corporate governance for the Company

The Board supports high standards of corporate governance and the development of corporate governance policies and procedures in compliance with the requirements of the Spanish Corporate Governance Code.

As set forth in the Annual Corporate Governance Report for 2015, available in the Company's website (www.larespana.com), the Company complies with most of the recommendations of good governance contained in the Code of Good Governance for Listed Companies approved by the CNMV on 18 February 2015. Action has been taken by the Company to comply with the remaining recommendations in the following periods. The remaining recommendations to be complied with are the following:

- Regarding the communication and relations with shareholders, institutional investors and proxy advisors policies, the Company has been working during 2016 on an update of the Company's internal rules of conduct in the Securities Market which fully complies with the Market Abuse Regulation.
- The recommendation which establishes that the percentage of proprietary directors out of all the non-executive directors should not be greater than the proportion between the share capital owned by the shareholders they represent and the rest of the Company's share capital, is not complied with due to the contractual obligation assumed by the Company and Grupo Lar under the Investment Manager Agreement, by virtue of which the latter will be entitled to appoint a non-executive director whenever the Board of Directors is composed of five members and to appoint two non-executive directors whenever the Board of Directors is composed of six members.

13.7.2 The Board

The Spanish Companies Act provides that a company's board of directors is responsible for the management, administration and representation of a company in all matters concerning the business of the company, subject to the provisions of the company's by-laws and the powers conferred by shareholders' resolutions.

The By-Laws and the regulations of the Board provide for a Board consisting of between five and 15 members. Directors are elected by the shareholders to serve for a term of three years and may be re-elected to serve for an unlimited number of terms (this notwithstanding, Directors holding office for a consecutive period of more than 12 years cannot qualify as independent Directors). A Director may resign or be removed from office at the recommendation of the Board at a general meeting of shareholders. However, the Board of the Company can only make such recommendation in the case of an independent Director if it is a "for cause dismissal" where, for example, a Director has breached an applicable corporate governance recommendation or has not fulfilled his or her duties or when he/she no longer complies with the definition of independent Director.

As at the date of this Prospectus, there are five Directors on the Board, all of whom are non-executive Directors. Mr. José Luis del Valle (the Chairman), Mr. Pedro Luis Uriarte, Mr. Alec Emmott and Mr. Roger M. Cooke are each considered independent pursuant to the Spanish Companies Act. Mr. Miguel Pereda is not considered to be independent as he is the Investment Manager's nominee pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement. Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, for so long as the Board of the Company is comprised of five or fewer Directors, the Investment Manager is entitled to nominate one person as a non-executive Director of the Company. For so long as the Board is comprised of six or more Directors, the Investment Manager is entitled to nominate up to two non-executive Directors.

The Board of the Company is responsible for the management and establishes the strategic, accounting, organizational and financing policies of the Company. The By-Laws provide that the Chairman of the Board shall be elected from among the members of the Board by the members of the Board. The Board appoints the senior management team and the authorized signatories and supervises the operations of the Company. Moreover, the Board is entrusted with preparing shareholders' meetings and carrying out their resolutions.

The Directors are also responsible for the determination of the investment policy of the Company and have overall responsibility for overseeing the performance of the Investment Manager and the Company's activities. The Company has entered into an Investment Manager Agreement with the Investment Manager, pursuant to which, among other things, the Investment Manager is required to produce a business execution plan, the Business Plan, for the Company setting forth the Investment Manager's strategy for the provision of its services under the Investment Manager Agreement and the management of the properties held or acquired by the Company for rental purposes. While the Investment Manager Agreement provides for annual Business Plans to be prepared each year, the Company's current Business Plan covers five years and is updated and reviewed by the Board on an ongoing basis rather than annually. The Investment Manager has full discretionary authority to enter into transactions for and on behalf of the Company subject to certain matters which require the consent of the Board.

The By-Laws provide that the Board of the Company meet as frequently as necessary to effectively execute its duties and whenever its Chairman deems appropriate, and in any event, at least once every four months. In addition, the Board must meet when required to do so by Directors representing at least one third of its members. The By-Laws provide that a majority of the members of the Board (represented in person or by proxy by another member of the Board) constitutes a quorum. Resolutions of the Board are passed by a majority of the Directors present or represented at a Board meeting unless otherwise indicated in applicable laws or the By-Laws or the regulations of the Board.

The Board must meet at least four times in each calendar year and all Directors are to be given full and timely access to the information necessary to assist them in the performance of their duties. During 2015 the Board held 16 meetings and as of the date of this Prospectus the Board has held eight meetings in 2016. As a general rule, an agenda and Board papers are circulated to the Directors in advance of Board meetings to allow them an adequate opportunity for review and preparation for Board meetings. The Company's Secretary will be responsible for ensuring Board procedures are followed and all Directors have access to his advice and services. Where they judge it appropriate, all Directors shall have access to independent professional advice at the expense of the Company.

Any Director co-opted to the Board by the Directors will be subject to election by the shareholders at the first annual general shareholders' meeting after his/her appointment and, pursuant to the By-Laws, all Directors are subject to dismissal decision at any shareholders' meeting of the Company.

The Investment Manager is entitled to require the Board to propose to the general shareholder's meeting to remove or replace any such person whom it has nominated as a member of the Board, provided that in the case of any such removal, the Investment Manager shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company (and any member of its group) against any and all costs, losses, liabilities and/or expenses suffered by the relevant company in connection with such removal. No Director appointed as a nominee of the Investment Manager to the Board shall be paid any fee or remuneration by the Company for his or her services as a non-executive Director.

In the performance of its duties, the Board is committed to maintaining a good understanding of the views of shareholders and considerable importance is given to communicating with shareholders. Regular contact is kept with institutional investors and presentations are given by members of the Management Team on the release of the Company's annual and interim results.

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Chairman of the Board shall be entitled to request the attendance of the Chairman of the Investment Manager to meetings of the Board and the Investment Manager shall procure that the Chairman of the Investment Manager shall attend such meetings when so required, unless there is a material cause impeding such attendance. The Company's By-Laws and the Board's regulations permit and regulate such attendance commitment.

Directors are expected to attend all Board meetings and the general shareholders' meeting of the Company.

13.7.3 Board Committees of the Company

Pursuant to the By-Laws, the Board has established an audit and control committee (the "Audit and Control Committee"), and a remuneration and nomination committee (the "Remuneration and Nomination Committee"). 13.7.4 Internal controls

The Board is responsible for overseeing the efficiency of the system of internal control and risk management maintained by the Investment Manager on behalf of the Company, in order to safeguard the Company's assets. Such a system is designed to identify, manage and mitigate financial, operational and compliance risks inherent to the Company. The system is designed to manage rather than eliminate the risk of failure to achieve business objectives and can only provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance against material misstatement or loss.

14. PART XIV: HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The tables below set forth the Company's selected consolidated statement of financial position, consolidated income statement and other financial data as of the dates and for the periods indicated. The selected financial information should be read in conjunction with section 6 of Part X ("Information on the Company") and the Consolidated Financial Statements incorporated by reference in this Prospectus.

The Company was incorporated and registered in Spain on 17 January 2014 pursuant to the Spanish Companies Act as a public limited company (a sociedad anónima or S.A.). However, it did not commence business operations until the completion of its initial public offering, related capital raising and listing on the Spanish Stock Exchanges, in March 2014. As of 31 March 2016, the Company owned a Portfolio of 27 commercial real estate properties located in Spain, which fit into the following categories: retail, offices and logistics, and one residential real estate property in Spain. Since 31 March 2016 we have acquired the Vistahermosa retail complex. See section 5 of Part X ("Information on the Company") and section 11 of Part XI ("Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations").

Given the Company's limited operating history, investors are cautioned against drawing any inferences from the Consolidated Financial Statements and/or other financial data included in or incorporated by reference to this Prospectus. The results for 2016 as a whole and future years will depend upon the Company's ability to derive value from the properties acquired so far and from the Company's future investments, the Spanish economic environment and other factors described elsewhere in this Prospectus. See Part X ("Information on the Company") and Part II ("Risk Factors"). In addition, although most of the properties purchased by the Company have been in operation for a number of years, there is limited historical financial data available to the Company in respect of these properties, the tenants occupying them and the historical rental income and costs relating to them for periods prior to the Company's ownership of the properties. In acquiring these properties the Company placed somewhat greater emphasis on what it believed to be opportunities for capital appreciation and less on historical revenue and cost considerations.

Furthermore, the financial information included or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus is not intended to comply with the reporting requirements of the US Securities and Exchange Commission. Compliance with such requirements would generally require the presentation of pro forma financial information giving effect to certain significant acquisitions we have made since our incorporation. While the Prospectus includes information on the properties currently comprising our Portfolio in section 5 of Part X ("Information on the Company"), including the purchase price, and the Valuation Reports include valuation information on each property, there is limited financial information in respect of the revenues and expenses generated by the Company's current Portfolio. In addition, since we intend to continue expanding our Portfolio in the future, the information included herein regarding our current Portfolio may not be indicative of our future business, financial condition or results of operations. The timing of our acquisition of real estate properties and any delays in when such properties begin to generate rental income may affect our revenue and operating profit, which may make comparisons between periods difficult.

The most significant variations in the statement of financial position have taken place in the following items due to the reasons described below:

- Investment property: mainly due to the full consolidation of Puerta Marina Ondara S.L. as of 31 March 2016.
- Equity-accounted investees: mainly due to the acquisition of the remaining 41.22% stake in Puerta Marina Ondara, S.L. Following such acquisition on 30 March 2016, the Company owns 100% of such entity and adopted the full consolidation method with respect to it.
- Cash and cash equivalents: mainly due to the proceeds received from the financing of Megapark in February 2016.
- Other reserves: mainly due to the distribution of the results for the year ended 31 December 2015.
- Treasury shares: mainly due to the purchase of treasury shares in the first quarter of 2016.
- Loans and borrowings: mainly due to the new financing signed in February 2016 related to Megapark.
- Trade and other payables: mainly due to the outstanding amount related to the acquisition of Palmas Altas and part of the amount paid to Grupo Lar in connection with the Performance Fee for 2015 used to attend applicable taxes in connection with the subscription of the Performance Fee Shares.

14.2 Income Statement

15. PART XV: THE OFFERING

15.1 The Offering

15.1.1 General

The Offering will be in respect of up to 29,913,479 New Ordinary Shares at a Subscription Price of €4.92 per New Ordinary Share.

The New Ordinary Shares will be issued pursuant to (i) a resolution of the general shareholders' meeting of the Company dated 21 April 2016 delegating to the Board the faculty to increase the share capital of the Company by up to 50% of the then existing share capital of the Company and (ii) a resolution of the Board dated 6 July 2016 authorising the capital increase in an aggregate nominal amount of €59,826,958 on the basis of the delegation under the resolution of the general shareholders' meeting. The possibility of incomplete subscription (suscripción incompleta) has been expressly foreseen.

The issue of the New Ordinary Shares does not require any authorisation or administrative pronouncement other than the general provisions on the CNMV's approval and registration of this Prospectus, according to the consolidated text of the Spanish Securities Market Act, approved by the provisions of Royal Decree 4/2015 of 23 October and its implementing regulations and the Spanish Companies Act.

The Company expects that the dates for the actions to occur in connection with the Offering will be as provided below. However, these dates are indicative only and actual dates for the Offering and such actions may vary from the indicative dates set forth below. The Company will communicate significant developments in the Offering via a significant information announcement (hecho relevante) filed with the CNMV in accordance with Spanish law. Information will also be made available on the Company's website (www.larespana.com).

The Company is granting Eligible Shareholders (that is, shareholders who acquire their shares up to 8 July 2016 and whose transactions are settled up to 13 July 2016 (both inclusive) in Iberclear) Preferential Subscription Rights to subscribe for an aggregate of 29,913,479 New Ordinary Shares with a nominal value of €2.00 each. Shareholders who have sold their shares prior to 8 July 2016 will not receive Preferential Subscription Rights with respect to such shares.

Each Existing Ordinary Share held by the Eligible Shareholders entitles its holder to receive one Preferential Subscription Right. The exercise of 91 Preferential Subscription Rights entitles the exercising holder to subscribe for 45 New Ordinary Shares against payment of the Subscription Price in cash.

The Subscription Price, which must be paid in euros, is €4.92 per New Ordinary Share. The Subscription Price represents a discount of 28.77% from the theoretical ex-rights price (TERP) (€6.91 based on the closing price of our shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges of €7.89 on 6 July 2016.)

The Offering, if all the New Ordinary Shares are fully subscribed, will result in an increase of 29,913,479 issued ordinary shares from 60,627,083 ordinary shares as of 6 July 2016 to approximately 90,540,562 ordinary shares, corresponding to an increase of 49.34% before the Offering and 33.04% after the Offering. Shareholders who do not participate in the Offering will have their ownership interest diluted.

15.1.2 Preferential Subscription Rights and New Ordinary Shares

The Offering provides Eligible Shareholders with pre-emptive Preferential Subscription Rights to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares in order to, among other things, maintain their current level of ownership in the Company, if they so choose. The Preferential Subscription Rights are options to subscribe for and purchase the New Ordinary Shares and may be sold, subject to applicable laws and the restrictions set forth herein, to third parties, which the Company refers to as purchasers of Preferential Subscription Rights. In accordance with Article 306.2 of the Spanish Companies Act, the Preferential Subscription Rights will be freely transferable on the same terms as the New Ordinary Shares in respect of which they are exercisable and will be tradable on the Spanish Stock Exchanges. Eligible Shareholders may, therefore, subscribe for New Ordinary Shares at the Subscription Price or sell their Preferential Subscription Rights through banks or brokers in Spain, subject, in each case, to applicable laws and the restrictions set forth herein. See section 6 of this Part XV (“The Offering”) for a description of certain selling and transfer restrictions in selected jurisdictions.

The Existing Ordinary Shares are listed and traded on the Spanish Stock Exchanges under the symbol “LRE”. The Company expects the New Ordinary Shares issued in the Offering to start trading on the Spanish Stock Exchanges from on or about 3 August 2016. When issued, the New Ordinary Shares will rank pari passu with the Existing Ordinary Shares, including in respect of the right to receive dividends approved by the shareholders after the date on which ownership of such New Ordinary Shares is registered in the book-entry registries of Iberclear, which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to take place on 2 August 2016.

On 6 July 2016, the last reported sale price of the Existing Ordinary Shares was €7.89 per Existing Ordinary Share. Below is additional historical trading price information:

15.1.3 Value of Preferential Subscription Rights

Based on the value of the Existing Ordinary Shares prior to the Offering (€7.89 per Existing Ordinary Share (the closing price of the Existing Ordinary Shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges on 6 July 2016)), the underlying theoretical value of the Preferential Subscription Rights for the New Ordinary Shares would be €0.98, which is the result of applying the following formula:

$$UVR = \frac{(CP - SP) * NNS}{PNS + NNS}$$

Where:

- UVR = underlying theoretical value of a Preferential Subscription Right
- CP = closing price of the ordinary shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges on 6 July 2016
- SP = Subscription Price
- PNS = number of ordinary shares outstanding prior to the Offering
- NNS = maximum number of New Ordinary Shares to be issued under the Offering

The Preferential Subscription Rights will be freely negotiable and the value that the market will attribute to them cannot be predicted.

15.1.4 Trading in Preferential Subscription Rights

Trading in Preferential Subscription Rights will take place on the SIBE of the Spanish Stock Exchanges during the period from 09:00 (Madrid time) on 11 July 2016 to 17:30 (Madrid time) on 22 July 2016, both inclusive.

Securities institutions that possess the required licenses will provide brokerage services for the sale and purchase of Preferential Subscription Rights. If an Eligible Shareholder does not exercise any or all of the Preferential Subscription Rights by way of payment by the close of business (Madrid time) on 22 July 2016, or does not sell the Preferential Subscription Rights on or before 17:30 (Madrid time) on 22 July 2016, such Preferential Subscription Rights to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares will lapse with no value and the holder will not be entitled to compensation.

15.1.5 Subscription of New Ordinary Shares

The Company has established a three-staged procedure for the subscription of the New Ordinary Shares:

- The preferential subscription period. According to the envisaged timetable, this period is expected to go from 9 July 2016 through 23 July 2016, in each case inclusive of the start and end dates (lasting fifteen calendar days), during which the Eligible Shareholders may exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights during the SIBE trading days of this period which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to begin on and include 9:00 (Madrid time) on 11 July 2016 and end on 17:30 (Madrid time) on 22 July 2016. Alternatively, Eligible Shareholders may sell all or part of their Preferential Subscription Rights in the market during the SIBE trading days of this period and other investors, including other Eligible Shareholders (the “purchasers of Preferential Subscription Rights”) who may acquire said Preferential Subscription Rights in the market in the required proportion and subscribe for the corresponding number of New Ordinary Shares, in each case, in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. During the preferential subscription period, Eligible Shareholders or purchasers of Preferential Subscription Rights may exercise or sell their rights in whole or in part, and those having exercised their Preferential Subscription Rights in full may confirm their agreement to subscribe for additional New Ordinary Shares in excess of their pro rata entitlement during the additional allocation period described below.

Subscriptions for New Ordinary Shares and requests to subscribe additional New Ordinary Shares received during the preferential subscription period will be deemed irrevocable, firm and unconditional and may not be cancelled or modified by holders of Preferential Subscription Rights (except where a supplement of the Prospectus is published, in which case investors who have already agreed to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares will have the right, exercisable within two Madrid business days after publication of such supplement, to withdraw their subscriptions, provided that the new factor, mistake or inaccuracy to which the supplement refers arose before the closing of the Offering and delivery of the New Ordinary Shares).

If an authorised Iberclear member has not received full payment of the Subscription Price for New Ordinary Shares on or before the last trading date of the preferential subscription period which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to be 22 July, 2016, the related Preferential Subscription Rights will lapse. Holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that lapse will not be compensated.

- The additional allocation period. To the extent that at the expiration of the preferential subscription period there are New Ordinary Shares that have not been subscribed for, the Company will allocate them to holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that have exercised their Preferential Subscription Rights in full and have indicated their agreement to subscribe for additional New Ordinary Shares in excess of their pro rata entitlement. This is currently expected to take place on the fifth SIBE trading day immediately following the end of the preferential subscription period (which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to be 29 July 2016), which the Company refers to as the additional allocation period. The Company will allocate any additional New Ordinary Shares in accordance with the procedures described in “—Procedures—Additional allocation” below. Depending on the number of New Ordinary Shares taken up in the preferential subscription period and the applications the Company receives for additional New Ordinary Shares, holders of Preferential Subscription Rights may receive fewer additional New Ordinary Shares than they have requested or none at all (but, in any event, not more additional New Ordinary Shares than those requested by them).

Promptly after the end of the additional allocation period, the Company will publicly announce, via a significant information announcement (hecho relevante), the results of subscriptions during the preferential subscription period and, as applicable, the number of additional New Ordinary Shares requested in the additional allocation period, results of prorating (if relevant) and the number of additional New Ordinary Shares assigned, communicating if the discretionary allocation period is opened or not.

Neither the orders to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares during the preferential subscription period nor the orders to subscribe for additional New Ordinary Shares will be affected by the termination of the Underwriting Agreement or by any unenforceability of any underwritten prefunding commitments.

The discretionary allocation period. If any New Ordinary Shares remain unsubscribed following the close of the additional allocation period, the Managers have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions of the Underwriting Agreement, to use reasonable efforts to procure subscribers (subject to the restrictions described in section 6 of this Part XV (“The Offering”)) during a discretionary allocation period and, failing which, to subscribe and pay for such unsubscribed New Ordinary Shares at the Subscription Price. The discretionary allocation period, if any, shall start any time after the publication of the significant information announcement (hecho relevante) announcing the results of the preferential subscription period and the additional subscription period on the fifth SIBE trading day immediately following the end of the preferential subscription period (this day is currently expected to be 29 July 2016) and end at 9:00 (Madrid time) on 2 August 2016) without prejudice to the ability of the Managers to terminate it early.

If there is a discretionary allocation period, any unsubscribed New Ordinary Shares will be allocated in accordance with the allocation process described in section 1.9 of this Part XV

(“The Offering”) below. The transfer to qualified investors of New Ordinary Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period (if any) shall be effected by the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners by means of a “special transaction” (operación bursátil especial) outside of market hours. In accordance with the envisaged timetable, and if the case may be, it is expected that such special transaction will be executed on 2 August 2016 and settled on 5 August 2016.

Allocations of New Ordinary Shares made during the discretionary allocation period will be deemed irrevocable and unconditional, unless the Underwriting Agreement is terminated before the granting of the notarial deed of capital increase before a Spanish notary public (which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to take place on 2 August 2016), in which case all such allocations will be automatically cancelled.

Promptly after the end of the discretionary allocation period, if any, the Company will publicly announce, through a significant information announcement (hecho relevante), the final results of the Offering, specifying the number of New Ordinary Shares taken up or allocated in each period.

The procedures for the Offering are described in detail under section 1.9 of this Part XV (“The Offering”) below. This description of the Offering should be read in conjunction with the other sections of this Prospectus, including but not limited to, the “Forward looking statements” in Part VIII (“Important Information”) of this Prospectus and Part II (“Risk Factors”) and the financial information included in this Prospectus.

15.1.7 Shareholders resident in certain unauthorised jurisdictions

No action has been taken, or will be taken, in any jurisdiction other than Spain that would permit a public offering of the Preferential Subscription Rights or the New Ordinary Shares, or possession or distribution of this Prospectus or other offering or publicity materials issued in connection with this Offering, in any country or jurisdiction where for that purpose action is required.

Accordingly, the Preferential Subscription Rights and the New Ordinary Shares may not be exercised, offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Prospectus nor any other offering or publicity materials issued in connection with this Offering may be distributed or published, in or from any country or jurisdiction except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable rules and regulations of any such country or jurisdiction.

The Preferential Subscription Rights may not be exercised by any persons in the United States who have not executed and timely returned an investor letter to the Company in the form set forth in Annex A to this Prospectus. For more information on this requirement, see section 6 of this Part XVII (“The Offering”).

15.1.8 Right to Dividends

The New Ordinary Shares carry rights to dividends for the first time on the first dividend record date occurring after the date on which ownership of such New Ordinary Shares is registered in the book-entry registries of Iberclear. The New Ordinary Shares will have the same right to dividends as the Existing Ordinary Shares. For a description of the Company's dividend policy, see section 10 of Part X ("Information on the Company").

15.1.9 Procedures

(A) Notice

The Company expects to announce the commencement of this Offering on 8 July 2016 in the BORME and the Spanish Stock Exchanges Official Gazette. The Company will communicate significant developments in the Offering via a significant information announcement (hecho relevante) through the CNMV website in accordance with Spanish law. Information will also be made available on the Company's website (www.larespana.com).

(B) Eligible Shareholders

Eligible Shareholders (that is, shareholders who acquire their shares up to 8 July 2016 and whose transactions are settled up to 13 July 2016 (both inclusive) in Iberclear) will be entitled to Preferential Subscription Rights and will be allocated one Preferential Subscription Right for each share owned. Shareholders who have sold their shares prior to 8 July 2016 will not receive Preferential Subscription Rights with respect to such shares.

(C) Preferential subscription

To exercise Preferential Subscription Rights, Eligible Shareholders and purchasers of Preferential Subscription Rights during the preferential subscription period should contact the Iberclear participant in whose register such securities are registered, indicating (i) their intention to exercise some or all of their Preferential Subscription Rights, and (ii) if they have elected to exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights in full, indicating whether they request additional New Ordinary Shares in the additional allocation period and, if so, specifying the maximum number (see "—Additional allocation" below). In accordance with the envisaged timetable, the preferential subscription period is expected to commence on 9 July 2016 and end on and include, 23 July 2016. The Preferential Subscription Rights are expected to be traded on the SIBE during the period from and including 09:00 (Madrid time) on 11 July 2016 to 17:30 (Madrid time) on 22 July 2016.

Orders to take up New Ordinary Shares received during the preferential subscription period will be deemed irrevocable, firm and unconditional and may not be cancelled or modified by holders of Preferential Subscription Rights (except where a supplement to the Prospectus is published, in which case investors who have already agreed to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares will have the right, exercisable within two Madrid business days after publication of such supplement, to withdraw their subscriptions, provided that the new factor, mistake or inaccuracy to which the supplement refers arose before the closing of the Offering and delivery of the New Ordinary Shares). Holders of Preferential Subscription Rights may exercise all or part of their Preferential Subscription Rights at their discretion.

During the preferential subscription period, the Iberclear members will notify Banco Santander, S.A., as the agent bank (the "Agent Bank") of the Offering daily, no later than 17:00 (Madrid time) by email or fax, of the aggregate total number of New Ordinary Shares subscribed in accordance with the exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights by Eligible Shareholders and purchasers of Preferential Subscription Rights and the number of additional New Ordinary Shares requested since the start of the preferential subscription period.

The Iberclear members shall communicate to the Agent Bank, on behalf of their clients or in their own name (as applicable), the aggregate amount of subscription orders for New Ordinary Shares received by them in accordance with the preferential subscription and, separately, the total volume of additional New Ordinary Shares requested, no later than 11:00 (Madrid time) on the fifth SIBE trading day following the end of the preferential subscription period (in accordance with the envisaged timetable, this would be 29 July 2016) in accordance with the operative instructions established by the Agent Bank.

Such communications must comply with the Guidance Handbook on Corporate Events of the Spanish Bank Association (AEB) and the Spanish Savings Bank Confederation (CECA) (Guía Práctica de Actuación de Eventos Corporativos Elaborada por AEB-CECA), published by Iberclear on 10 March 2016.

The Agent Bank may not accept communications from the Iberclear members submitted after the relevant deadline, or which do not comply with the relevant current legislation or the relevant requirements set out in the Prospectus. If this occurs, the Agent Bank does not accept any responsibility, without prejudice to the potential responsibility of the relevant Iberclear participant towards parties who have submitted their orders within the required timeframe or in the correct format.

If an authorised Iberclear participant does not receive full payment of the Subscription Price for New Ordinary Shares on or before the last trading date of the preferential subscription period, which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to be 22 July 2016, the related Preferential Subscription Rights will lapse. Holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that lapse will not be compensated.

(D) Additional allocation

Holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that have exercised all of their Preferential Subscription Rights in the preferential subscription period may request at the moment they exercise their Preferential Subscription Rights for additional New Ordinary Shares in excess of their pro rata entitlement. Requests of holders of Preferential Subscription Rights are not subject to any maximum number of additional New Ordinary Shares. While requests for additional New Ordinary Shares may not be satisfied in full or at all, such requests shall nevertheless be considered firm and unconditional.

To request additional New Ordinary Shares, holders of Preferential Subscription Rights should contact the Iberclear member with whom their Preferential Subscription Rights are deposited. The Iberclear members will be responsible for verifying that each holder of Preferential Subscription Rights taking up additional New Ordinary Shares has exercised his or her Preferential Subscription Rights in respect of all of the ordinary shares deposited by such holder of Preferential Subscription Rights with such Iberclear member.

On the fifth SIBE trading day following the expiration of the preferential subscription period (in accordance with the envisaged timetable, this would be 29 July 2016), the Agent Bank will determine the number of New Ordinary Shares that have not been taken up in the preferential subscription period. The Agent Bank will allocate on the date of the additional allocation period (in accordance with the envisaged timetable, this would be 29 July 2016) the New Ordinary Shares not taken up during the preferential subscription period subject to the following allocation criteria:

- i) If the number of additional New Ordinary Shares requested by holders who have exercised in full their Preferential Subscription Rights is equal to or less than the additional New Ordinary Shares available, then the additional New Ordinary Shares will be assigned to the holders of Preferential Subscription Rights who requested additional New Ordinary Shares until their requests are fully satisfied.
- ii) If the number of additional New Ordinary Shares requested by holders who have exercised in full their Preferential Subscription Rights is greater than the additional New Ordinary Shares available, the Agent Bank will apply without limit the following pro rata allocation:
 - The number of additional New Ordinary Shares will be allocated pro rata to the volume of additional New Ordinary Shares requested by each holder of Preferential Subscription Rights. To this end, the Agent Bank will calculate the percentage, which will be rounded down to three decimals, of the number of additional New Ordinary Shares a given holder of Preferential Subscription Rights has requested divided by such aggregate.

- The Agent Bank will then allocate to the holders of Preferential Subscription Rights the number of additional New Ordinary Shares that this percentage represents, rounded down to the nearest whole number of additional New Ordinary Shares.
- If after the pro rata allocation, additional New Ordinary Shares have not been allocated due to rounding, the Agent Bank will allocate these remaining additional New Ordinary Shares, one by one, starting with the holder of Preferential Subscription Rights who has solicited the greatest number of additional New Ordinary Shares. If two or more holders of Preferential Subscription Rights have requested the same number of additional New Ordinary Shares, the Agent Bank will determine allocations by alphabetical order, taking the first letter of the field “name and last name or corporate name”.

Allocation of the additional New Ordinary Shares will take place by no later than 17:00 (Madrid time) on 29 July 2016. The Agent Bank will inform the relevant Iberclear members of the definitive allocation of the additional New Ordinary Shares during the additional allocation period on the day of the additional allocation period (which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to take place on 29 July 2016). If there are no New Ordinary Shares remaining unsubscribed at the end of the additional allocation period, the discretionary allocation period will therefore not open, the Agent Bank will notify the Iberclear members by 18:00 (Madrid time) on such date. Any additional New Ordinary Shares allocated to Preferential Subscription Rights holders during the additional allocation period will, for the purposes of payment, be deemed subscribed during the additional allocation period, not the preferential subscription period. In no circumstances shall more New Ordinary Shares be assigned to Preferential Subscription Rights holders than those they have requested.

(E) Discretionary allocation and underwriting

The Company has entered into an Underwriting Agreement with the Managers in respect of the New Ordinary Shares subject to the terms set forth therein. The Managers will use reasonable efforts to procure subscribers during the discretionary allocation period for any New Ordinary Shares that remain unallocated after the additional allocation period (the “Rump Shares”), failing which the Managers will purchase the Rump Shares itself at the Subscription Price. The commitment of the Managers is subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent and the Underwriting Agreement and its underwriting commitment may be terminated by the Managers in certain circumstances. Main terms of the Underwriting Agreement are further described in section 3 of Part XV (“The Offering”).

If, following the preferential subscription period and the additional allocation period, New Ordinary Shares remain unsubscribed, the Agent Bank will notify the Managers by no later than 12:00 (Madrid time) on the fifth SIBE trading day immediately following the end of the preferential subscription period (which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to be 29 July 2016). The discretionary allocation period, if any, will commence at any time after the of publication of the significant information announcement (hecho relevante) announcing the results of the preferential subscription period and the additional subscription period (which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to be on 29 July 2016) and will end no later than 9:00 (Madrid time) on 2 August 2016. The Managers may declare the discretionary allocation period finished at any moment before its scheduled expiration.

If applicable, the Company will announce the commencement of the discretionary allocation period through a significant information announcement (hecho relevante).

During the discretionary allocation period, those persons who have the status of qualified investors in Spain, as this term is defined in article 39 of Royal Decree 1310/2005, of November 4, and those persons who have the status of qualified investors outside Spain pursuant to the applicable legislation in each country (so that complying with the relevant regulations, the subscription and payment of the Rump Shares do not require registration or approval of any kind) may submit proposals to the Managers to subscribe for Rump Shares.

The subscription proposals must be firm and irrevocable and shall include the number of Rump Shares that each investor is willing to subscribe at the Subscription Price.

The Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, acting unanimously, shall determine after consultation with the Company the definitive allocations of the Rump Shares to subscribers. The Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, acting unanimously, shall give notice of the definitive allocation of Rump Shares to the Company and the Agent Bank no later than 9:00 (Madrid time) on 2 August 2016 and to the subscribers of Rump Shares.

Once the allocations of Rump Shares have been communicated, such proposals shall automatically become firm subscription orders.

The underwriting commitment, if applicable, will be fulfilled by means of submission by the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, on behalf of the Managers, at the end of the discretionary allocation period, in its own name, of an irrevocable subscription proposal for Rump Shares at the Subscription Price.

Furthermore, the Managers shall send to the Agent Bank the communications containing the relevant information of the subscribers of Rump Shares allocated, no later than 9:00 (Madrid time) on the first date of trading following the date of execution of the special transaction (as defined further below, which is expected to take place on 2 August 2016). Such communications shall comply with the Guidance Handbook on Corporate Events of the Spanish Bank Association (AEB) and the Spanish Savings Bank Confederation (CECA) (Guía Práctica de Actuación de Eventos Corporativos Elaborada por AEB-CECA), published by Iberclear on 10 March 2016.

15.1.10 Method of Subscription and Payment

(A) New Ordinary Shares subscribed during the preferential subscription period

Subscribers must make payment in full of the Subscription Price, comprising the nominal value and premium, upon subscription for each New Ordinary Share subscribed for during the preferential subscription period. Subscribers should make payment to the Iberclear member through which they have filed their subscription orders. Applications for New Ordinary Shares in exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights for which payment is not received in accordance with the foregoing shall be deemed not to have been made.

The Iberclear participant with whom orders for the subscription of New Ordinary Shares in exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights have been placed, shall pay to the Agent Bank all amounts payable with respect to such New Ordinary Shares, for same-day value, by no later than 11:00 (Madrid time) on the fifth SIBE trading day following the end of the preferential subscription period (which, in accordance to the envisaged timetable, is expected to be 29 July 2016).

If any Iberclear participant that has made payment in full of the Subscription Price subsequently fails to confirm to the Agent Bank the list of subscribers on behalf of whom such payment has been made, the Agent Bank shall allocate the New Ordinary Shares subscribed to such Iberclear participant, without any liability whatsoever for the Agent Bank, but without prejudice to any claim the Preferential Subscription Rights holder(s) in question may have against the defaulting Iberclear participant.

If an Iberclear member participant does not receive full payment of the Subscription Price for New Ordinary Shares on or before the last trading date of the preferential subscription period, which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, is expected to be 22 July 2016, the related Preferential Subscription Rights will lapse. Holders of Preferential Subscription Rights that lapse will not be compensated.

(B) New Ordinary Shares subscribed during the additional allocation period

Full payment of the Subscription Price for each New Ordinary Share allocated during the additional allocation period will be made by each Preferential Subscription Rights holder allocated additional New Ordinary Shares by no later than 11:00 (Madrid time) on 29 July 2016, via the Iberclear participant through which such Preferential Subscription Rights holder solicited the additional New Ordinary Shares. Applications for additional New Ordinary Shares in respect of which payment is not received in accordance with the foregoing will be deemed not to have been made.

Iberclear members may require that holders of Preferential Subscription Rights fund in advance the Subscription Price of the additional New Ordinary Shares requested by them at the time of such request. If a requesting holder of Preferential Subscription Rights prefunds and the number of additional New Ordinary Shares finally allocated to such requesting holder of Preferential Subscription Rights is less than the number of additional New Ordinary Shares requested and prefunded by him or her, the Iberclear member will return to such holder of Preferential Subscription Rights, without deduction for expenses and fees, the amount corresponding to the excess subscription monies or, as the case may be, the whole Subscription Price for any additional New Ordinary Shares (if no additional New Ordinary Shares are finally allocated to him or her), for same-day value as at the Madrid business day (excluding Saturdays) immediately following the end of the additional allocation period, all in accordance with the procedures applicable to such Iberclear member.

The Iberclear members receiving requests for additional New Ordinary Shares shall pay to the Agent Bank all amounts payable, for same-day value, by no later than 11:00 (Madrid time) on 29 July 2016.

If any Iberclear member that has made the payment in full of the Subscription Price subsequently fails to confirm to the Agent Bank the list of subscribers on behalf of whom such payment has been made, the Agent Bank shall allocate the New Ordinary Shares subscribed to such Iberclear member, without any liability whatsoever for the Agent Bank, but without prejudice to any claim the Preferential Subscription Rights holder(s) in question may have against the defaulting Iberclear member.

(C) New Ordinary Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period

Full payment of the Subscription Price for each Rump Share subscribed during the discretionary allocation period shall be made by the qualified institutional investors that have subscribed for such shares by no later than the third SIBE trading day immediately following the day on which the special stock exchange transaction relating to such New Ordinary Shares is carried out (the “Settlement Date”, such date expected to be 5 August 2016) through the Managers.

The Managers may require that the qualified investors which request the subscription for Rump Shares fund in advance the Subscription Price of the requested Rump Shares in order to secure payment in full in respect of such Rump Shares. If a qualified investor prefunds and the number of Rump Shares finally allocated to such investor is less than the number of Rump Shares requested and prefunded by it, the Managers will return to such investor, without deduction for expenses and fees, the amount corresponding to the excess subscription monies, for same-day value on the first Madrid business day following expiration of the discretionary allocation period.

For operational purposes to allow the admission of the New Ordinary Shares to listing to take place as soon as possible, the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, acting severally but not jointly nor jointly and severally, in the name and for the account of all the Managers who, in turn, will be acting (x) in the name and for the account of the final investors acquiring Rump Shares that the Managers have procured in the Offering, and/or (y) for its own account regarding any Rump Shares to be subscribed for by such Manager pursuant to their underwriting commitments or otherwise, have agreed to subscribe for and prefund in full the subscription monies corresponding to the Rump Shares subscribed by qualifying institutional investors during the discretionary allocation period or otherwise to be acquired by the Managers pursuant to their respective underwriting commitments subject to the satisfaction of the conditions contained in the Underwriting Agreement. Such prefunded subscription monies must be received by the Company, without deduction of any underwriting or other commissions and expenses, by no later than 9:00 (Madrid time) on 2 August 2016. The prefunded subscription monies shall be deposited through a funds transfer order into the Company’s account opened at the Agent Bank.

Assuming the execution of the capital increase deed, including the granting of the capital increase deed and its registration in the Commercial Registry of Madrid (escritura pública y su inscripción en el Registro Mercantil de Madrid), takes place no later than 2 August 2016, admission of the New Ordinary Shares to listing on the Spanish Stock Exchanges is, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, expected to take place on 2 August 2016, commencement of trading of the New Ordinary Shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges is, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, expected to take place on 3 August 2016 and settlement of the Rump Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period (via a special stock exchange transaction) is, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, expected to take place on 5 August 2016.

15.1.11 Payments

Payments in respect of New Ordinary Shares must be made by final subscribers:

- i) in relation to New Ordinary Shares subscribed during the preferential subscription period, upon subscription;
- ii) in relation to additional New Ordinary Shares subscribed during the additional allocation period by no later than 29 July 2016 (or such earlier time as required by the rules of the particular Iberclear member); and
- iii) in relation to New Ordinary Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period, no later than 5 August 2016, except as indicated in the immediately following paragraph.

Settlement in respect of Rump Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period to qualified institutional investors is expected to take place via a special transaction, to be executed on or about 2 August 2016 and to be settled on or about 5 August 2016. If the special transaction is not executed on such date, payment by qualified institutional investors of the Subscription Price for Rump Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period must be made no earlier than the date on which the special transaction is executed and by no later than the third SIBE trading day following such date.

15.1.12 Registrations, delivery and admission to listing and trading in Spain of the New Ordinary Shares

Following receipt of subscription monies due, the Company shall declare the share capital increase complete (fully or partially, as the case may be) and proceed to the granting of the corresponding capital increase deed before a Spanish notary public, for its subsequent registration with the Commercial Registry of Madrid.

Granting of the capital increase deed is, in accordance with the envisaged timetable, expected to take place on 2 August 2016, and its registration with the Commercial Registry of Madrid. Following registration, a notarial testimony of the capital increase deed, duly registered, will be delivered to the CNMV, Iberclear and the Madrid Stock Exchange, as the lead stock exchange for the listing of the New Ordinary Shares.

New Ordinary Shares issued upon exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights and pursuant to allocation in the additional allocation period and the discretionary allocation period will be registered with Iberclear as soon as practicable after registration with the Commercial Registry of the capital increase deed.

The Company will request admission to trading of the New Ordinary Shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges (which, in accordance with the envisaged timetable is expected to take place on 2 August 2016). Iberclear will notify the Eligible Shareholders and investors of the book-entry references of their respective holdings of New Ordinary Shares (subscribed during the preferential subscription period and the additional allocation period) via the Iberclear members.

Iberclear will also notify the Joint Bookrunners and Joint Global Coordinators, on a temporary basis, of the registration details of their respective holdings of New Ordinary Shares (allocated during the discretionary allocation period), in accordance with their pre-funding obligations or underwriting commitments, as applicable. We expect the New Ordinary Shares to start trading on the Spanish Stock Exchanges on or around 3 August 2016.

Following the transfer of Rump Shares allocated during the discretionary allocation period from the Joint Bookrunners and Joint Global Coordinators to the final subscribers, the Agent Bank will notify Iberclear via the Spanish Stock Exchanges of the information relating to the entities who have been allocated New Ordinary Shares, so that registration is made in accordance with the information received from the Managers.

The shareholders may obtain legitimization certificates (certificados de legitimación) in relation to their New Ordinary Shares as provided for under Royal Decree 878/2015 of 2 October.

15.1.13 Announcement of the result of the Offering

The Company will announce the results of the preferential subscription period and the additional allocation period through a significant information announcement (hecho relevante) on or about 29 July 2016, in which the commencement or not of the discretionary allocation period will be indicated. In the event that the discretionary allocation period takes place, the results of the Offering will be announced after this period ends (i.e., on or about 2 August 2016).

15.1.14 Termination

The Company may choose to revoke and terminate the capital increase if the Underwriting Agreement for the Offering is terminated. If the capital increase is revoked and terminated, the monies paid by subscribers would be returned to them. However, any investors who had acquired Preferential Subscription Rights would not receive any such amounts paid for such Preferential Subscription Rights from the Company.

The Underwriting Agreement also contemplates the possibility for the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, on behalf of the Managers, acting unanimously, to terminate the Underwriting Agreement until the time of registration of the capital increase deed with the Commercial Registry of Madrid if there shall have occurred in the good faith judgement of the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, acting unanimously, any of the following:

15.2 The New Ordinary Shares

The New Ordinary Shares to be issued will be created pursuant to the Spanish Companies Act. Each of the New Ordinary Shares will carry one vote at a meeting of the Company's shareholders. There will be no restrictions on the voting rights of the New Ordinary Shares. The ISIN number of the Existing Ordinary Shares is ES0105015012. The New Ordinary Shares will receive a provisional ISIN number which upon Admission will be replaced with the existing ISIN number of the Existing Ordinary Shares. Immediately following Admission, the New Ordinary Shares will be freely transferable under the By-laws, but will be subject to the selling and transfer restrictions referred to in section 6 of this Part XV ("The Offering"). The New Ordinary Shares will be represented in registered book-entry form and held through the clearance and settlement system managed by Iberclear.

The holding of New Ordinary Shares by investors may be affected by the law or regulatory requirements of the relevant jurisdiction, which may include restrictions on the free transferability of such New Ordinary Shares. Investors should consult their own advisers prior to an investment in the New Ordinary Shares.

15.3 Underwriting Agreement

On 7 July 2016 the Company entered into the Underwriting Agreement with respect to the New Ordinary Shares with the Managers and the Investment Manager. In consideration of the Managers entering into the Underwriting Agreement and providing the services as agreed thereunder, the Company has agreed to pay them certain commissions.

The Company has also agreed to pay certain expenses in connection with the Offering. The Company estimates that its total expenses (including the commissions and expenses payable to the Managers) will be approximately €4 million. The Company expects to receive approximately €143,174,316.68 million from the Offering, net of, among other items, the Managers' commissions and expenses.

To the extent the New Ordinary Shares are not fully taken up during the preferential subscription period and the additional allocation period and subject to the terms set forth in the Underwriting Agreement, the Managers have agreed to use reasonable efforts to procure subscribers and, failing which, to subscribe for any New Ordinary Shares not otherwise subscribed at the Subscription Price.

If all the New Ordinary Shares offered are subscribed for by Eligible Shareholders or qualified investors in the preferential subscription period, the additional allocation period and the discretionary allocation period, as the case may be, no New Ordinary Shares will be allocated to the Managers.

The Underwriting Agreement contemplates the possibility for the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, on behalf of the Managers, acting unanimously, to terminate the Underwriting Agreement until the time of registration of the capital increase deed with the Commercial Registry of Madrid under certain circumstances. These circumstances include the occurrence of certain material adverse changes in the Company's or the Investment Manager's condition (financial or otherwise), business affairs or prospects and certain changes in, among other things, certain national or international political, financial or economic conditions. See section 1.14 of this Part XV ("The Offering").

In addition, the Managers' obligations under the Underwriting Agreement are subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions precedent, including the delivery of customary legal opinions.

If the Underwriting Agreement is terminated or any of the aforementioned conditions precedent is not satisfied, then the subscription of any New Ordinary Shares by the Managers as a consequence of its underwriting commitment will be revoked, terminated and without effect.

The Company and the Investment Manager have given customary representations and warranties to the Managers, including, among other things and as applicable, in relation to information contained in this Prospectus. The Company and the Investment Manager have further given customary indemnities to the Managers in connection with the Offering and have assumed certain undertakings in connection with the Offering.

15.3.1 Company's lock-up

Under the terms of the Underwriting Agreement, the Company has agreed that, during the period from the date of the Underwriting Agreement to and including 180 days after the Admission, the Company will not, without the prior written consent of the Joint Global Coordinators and Joint Bookrunners, acting unanimously, (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed):

- iv) directly or indirectly, issue, offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option, or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase or lend or otherwise transfer or dispose of any ordinary shares or other shares of the Company or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for ordinary shares or other shares of the Company or file any prospectus under the Prospectus Directive or any similar document with any other securities regulator, stock exchange or listing authority with respect to any of the foregoing;
- v) enter into any swap or any other agreement or any transaction that transfers, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, the economic consequences of ownership of any ordinary shares or other shares of the Company; or

- vi) enter into any other transaction with the same economic effects, or agree to do or announce or otherwise publicise the intention to do any of the foregoing, whether any such swap or transaction described in any of (i), (ii) or (iii) above is to be settled by delivery of ordinary shares of the Company or any other securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for ordinary shares of the Company, in cash or otherwise.

The foregoing does not apply to (A) the issue and/or sale and offer by the Company of the preferential subscription rights and the New Ordinary Shares as described herein, (B) the issue and/or delivery of the Performance Fee Shares to be subscribed for by the Investment Manager according to the Investment Manager Agreement, and (C) the performance of ordinary treasury stock transactions in compliance with the applicable legal restrictions and consistently with the Company's past practices which can be executed only after 90 days following the Admission have elapsed.

15.3.2 Investment Manager Agreement's lock-up

Under the placing agreement entered into between the Company, the Investment Manager and J.P. Morgan in the context of the Company's initial public offering, the Investment Manager agreed that, during a period commencing on the date of such agreement (i.e. 13 February 2014) and ending three years following the date on which the Company's ordinary shares were initially admitted to trading in the Spanish Stock Exchanges (i.e. 5 March 2014) (or, with respect to the Performance Fee Shares, ending three years following the date on which such Performance Fee Shares were delivered to the Investment Manager), the Investment Manager will not, without the prior written consent of J.P. Morgan (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed):

- i) directly or indirectly, offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, lend or otherwise transfer or dispose of any Ordinary Shares or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for ordinary shares or file any registration statement under the Securities Act with respect to any of the foregoing; or
- ii) enter into any swap or any other agreement or any transaction that transfers, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, the economic consequence of ownership of the ordinary shares, whether any such swap or transaction described in sub-clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of ordinary shares or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for ordinary shares, in cash or otherwise.

The foregoing sentence shall not apply to (A) a disposal of ordinary shares effected to fund the payment or discharge by the Investment Manager of any liability to tax arising in connection with its receipt or acquisition of Performance Fee Shares and/or other Performance Fee Shares issued to the Investment Manager as part of the discharge of the Performance Fee; (B) a disposal of ordinary shares in connection with a takeover or sale of the Company that is recommended by the Board of Directors of the Company or if the Investment Manager is required by law to dispose of such Performance Fee Shares; or (C) following the termination of the Investment Manager Agreement.

15.4 Admission and dealings

Application will be made to list the Company's New Ordinary Shares on the Spanish Stock Exchanges and to have the Company's New Ordinary Shares quoted through the SIBE (Sistema de Interconexión Bursátil or Mercado Continuo) of the Spanish Stock Exchanges. The Company expects the New Ordinary Shares to be listed and quoted on the Spanish Stock Exchanges on or about 2 August 2016.

15.4.1 SIBE

The SIBE (Sistema de Interconexión Bursátil or Mercado Continuo) links the four Spanish Stock Exchanges, providing those securities listed on it with a uniform continuous market that eliminates certain of the differences between the local exchanges. The principal feature of the system is the computerised matching of bid and offer orders at the time of entry of the relevant order. Each order is executed as soon as a matching order is entered, but can be modified or cancelled until it is executed.

The activity of the market can be continuously monitored by investors and brokers. The SIBE is operated and regulated by Sociedad de Bolsas, S.A. ("Sociedad de Bolsas"). All trades on the SIBE must be placed through a brokerage firm, a dealer firm or a credit entity that is a member of a Spanish Stock Exchange.

In a pre-opening session held from 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. Madrid time each trading day, an opening price is established for each security traded on the SIBE based on a real-time auction in which orders can be entered, modified or cancelled but are not executed until the auction ends. During this pre-opening session, the system continuously displays the price at which orders would be executed if trading were to begin at that moment. Market participants only receive information relating to the auction price (if applicable) and trading volume permitted at the current bid and offer price. If an auction price does not exist, the best bid and offer price and associated volumes are shown. The auction terminates with a random period of 30 seconds in which share allocation takes place. Until the allocation process has finished, orders cannot be entered, modified or cancelled. In exceptional circumstances (including the inclusion of new securities on the SIBE) and after giving notice to the CNMV, Sociedad de Bolsas may establish an opening price without regard to the reference price (the previous trading day's closing price), alter the price range for permitted orders with respect to the reference price or modify the reference price.

The computerised trading hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Madrid time. During the trading session, the trading price of a security is permitted to vary up to a maximum so-called 'static' range of the reference price (the price resulting from the closing auction of the immediately preceding trading day or the immediately preceding volatility auction in the current trading session), provided that the trading price for each trade of such security is not permitted to vary in excess of a maximum so-called 'dynamic' range with respect to the trading price of the immediately preceding trade of the same security. If, during the trading session, there are matching bid and offer orders for a security within the computerised system which exceed any of the above 'static' and/or 'dynamic' ranges, trading on the security is automatically suspended and a new auction is held where a new reference price is set, and the 'static' and 'dynamic' ranges will apply over such new reference price. The 'static' and 'dynamic' ranges applicable to each particular security are set up and reviewed periodically by Sociedad de Bolsas. In a post-closing session auction held from 5:30 p.m. to 5:35 p.m. Madrid time, orders can be entered, modified or cancelled, but no trades can be made.

Between 5:30 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Madrid time, trades may occur outside the computerised matching system without prior authorisation of Sociedad de Bolsas (provided such trades are communicated to Sociedad de Bolsas), at a price within the range of 5% above the higher of the average price and closing price for the day and 5% below the lower of the average price and closing price for the day if (i) there are no outstanding bids or offers, respectively, on the system matching or bettering the terms of the proposed off-system transaction, and (ii) if, among other things, the trade involves more than €300,000 and more than 20% of the average daily trading volume of the stock during the preceding three months. These trades must also relate to individual orders from the same person or entity and be reported to Sociedad de Bolsas before 8:00 p.m. Madrid time.

At any time trades may take place (with the prior authorisation of Sociedad de Bolsas) at any price if, among other things:

- the trade involves more than €1.5 million and more than 40% of the average daily trading volume of the stock during the preceding three months;
- the transaction derives from a merger or spin-off, or from the reorganisation of a group of companies;
- the transaction is executed for the purpose of settling litigation or completing a complex set of contracts; or
- Sociedad de Bolsas finds another appropriate cause.

Information with respect to the computerised trades which take place between 9:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Madrid time, is made public immediately, and information with respect to trades which occur outside the computerised matching system is reported to the Sociedad de Bolsas by the end of the trading day and is also published in the Stock Exchange Official Gazette (Boletín de Cotización) and on the computer system by the beginning of the next trading day.

15.4.2 Clearance and Settlement System

The Spanish clearing, settlement and recording system has been recently adapted by Law 11/2015, of June 18, on the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms (Ley 11/2015, de 18 de junio, sobre recuperación y resolución de entidades de crédito y empresas de servicios de inversión) and Royal Decree 878/2015, of October 2 (Real Decreto 878/2015, de 2 de octubre, sobre compensación, liquidación y registro de valores negociables representados mediante anotaciones en cuenta, sobre el régimen jurídico de los depositarios centrales de valores y de las entidades de contrapartida central y sobre requisitos de transparencia de los emisores de valores admitidos a negociación en un mercado secundario oficial) to the provisions set forth in Regulation (EU) No 909/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of July 23, 2014, on improving securities settlement in the European Union and on central securities depositories, amending Directives 98/26/EC and 2014/65/EU and Regulation (EU) No 236/2012. Following this reform, which is expected to be implemented by September 18, 2017, the Spanish clearing, settlement and registry procedures of securities transactions will allow the connection of the post-trading Spanish systems to the European system Target 2 Securities.

Transactions carried out for equity securities on the SIBE are cleared through BME Clearing, S.A., as central clearing counterparty (“CCP”), and settled and recorded through Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores, S.A. (“Iberclear”), as central securities depository. Only participating entities of Iberclear are entitled to use it, and access to become a participating entity is restricted to (i) credit institutions, (ii) investment services companies which are authorized to render custody and administration of financial instruments, (iii) the Bank of Spain, (iv) the General Administration and the General Social Security Treasury, (v) other duly authorized central securities depositories and central clearing counterparties and (vi) other public institutions and private entities when expressly authorized to become a participating entity in central securities depositories. Iberclear is owned by Bolsas y Mercados Españoles, Sociedad Holding de Mercados y Sistemas Financieros, S.A. (Spanish Exchanges and Markets, Holding Company of Markets and Financial Systems), a holding company which holds a 100% interest in each of the Spanish official secondary markets and settlement systems.

The recording system is a two tier level registry: the keeping of the central record corresponds to Iberclear and the keeping of the detail records correspond to the participating entities in Iberclear. The central registry, which reflects (i) one or several proprietary accounts which show the balances of the participating entities’ proprietary accounts; (ii) one or several general third-party accounts that will show the overall balances that the participating entities hold for third parties; (iii) individual accounts opened in the name of the owner, either individual or legal person; and (iv) individual special accounts of financial intermediaries which use the optional procedure of settlement of orders. Each participating entity, in turn, maintains the detail records of the owners of such shares.

According to the above, Spanish law considers the owner of the shares to be:

- the participating entity appearing in the records of Iberclear as holding the relevant shares in its own name.
- the investor appearing in the records of the participating entity as holding the shares; or
- the investor appearing in the records of Iberclear as holding shares in a segregated individual account.

Obtaining legal title to shares of a company listed on a Spanish Stock Exchange requires the participation of a Spanish official stockbroker, broker-dealer or other entity authorized under Spanish law to record the transfer of shares. To evidence title to shares, at the owners’ request the relevant participating entity must issue a legitimation certificates (certificados de legitimación). If the owner is a participating entity or a person holding shares in a segregated individual account, Iberclear is in charge of the issuance of the certificate with respect to the shares held in the participating entity’s name.

BME Clearing, in turn, is the CCP in charge of the clearing of transactions closed on the Spanish Stock Exchanges. BME Clearing interposes itself on its own account as seller in every purchase and as buyer in every sale. It calculates the buy and sell positions vis-à-vis the participants designated in such buy or sell instructions. The CCP then generates and sends to Iberclear the relevant settlement instructions. The settlement and registration platform managed by Iberclear, which operates with the trade name of ARCO, receives the settlement instructions from BME Clearing and forwards them to the relevant participating entities involved in each transaction. Currently transactions are settled under the T+3 settlement standard and it is expected that from 3 October 2016 ARCO will operate under a “T+2 Settlement Standard”, by which any transactions must be settled within two stock-exchange business days following the date on which the relevant transaction was completed.

15.4.3 Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg

Shares deposited with depositories for Euroclear Bank, S.A./N.V., as operator of the Euroclear System (“Euroclear”), and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme (“Clearstream”) and credited to the respective securities clearance account of purchasers in Euroclear or Clearstream against payment to Euroclear or Clearstream will be held in accordance with the Terms and Conditions Governing Use of Euroclear and Clearstream, the operating procedures of the Euroclear System, as amended from time to time, the Management Regulations of Clearstream and the Instructions to Participants of Clearstream as amended from time to time, as applicable. Persons on whose behalf accounts at Euroclear or Clearstream are maintained and to which shares have been credited (“investors”) shall have the right to receive the number of shares equal to the number of shares so credited, upon compliance with the foregoing regulations and procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream.

With respect to the shares that are deposited with depositories for Euroclear or Clearstream, such shares will be initially recorded in the name of Euroclear or one of its nominees or in the name of Clearstream or one of its nominees, as the case may be. Thereafter, investors may withdraw shares credited to their respective accounts if they wish to do so, upon payment of the applicable fees described below, if any, and upon obtaining the relevant recording in the book-entry registries kept by the members of Iberclear.

Under Spanish law, only the record holder of the shares according to the registry kept by Iberclear is entitled to receive dividends and other distributions and to exercise voting, pre-emptive and other rights in respect of such shares. Euroclear or its nominee or Clearstream or its nominee will be the sole record holder of the shares that are deposited with the depositories for Euroclear and Clearstream, respectively, until such time as investors exercise their rights to withdraw such shares and cause them to obtain the recording of the investor’s ownership of the shares in the book-entry registries kept by the members of Iberclear.

Cash dividends or cash distributions, as well as stock dividends or other distributions of securities, received in respect of the shares that are deposited with the depositories for Euroclear and Clearstream will be credited to the cash accounts maintained on behalf of the investors at Euroclear and Clearstream, as the case may be, after deduction for applicable withholding taxes, in accordance with the applicable regulations and procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream.

Each of Euroclear and Clearstream will endeavour to inform investors of any significant events of which they have notice affecting the shares recorded in the name of Euroclear or its nominees and Clearstream or its nominees and requiring action to be taken by investors. Each of Euroclear and Clearstream may, at its discretion, take such action as it shall deem appropriate in order to assist investors to direct the exercise of voting rights in respect of the shares. Such actions may include (i) acceptance of instructions from investors to execute or to arrange for the execution of, proxies, powers of attorney or other similar certificates for delivery to the Company, or its agent or (ii) voting of such shares by Euroclear or its nominees and Clearstream or its nominees in accordance with the instructions of investors.

If the Company offers or causes to be offered to Euroclear or its nominees and Clearstream or its nominees, as the record holders of the ordinary shares that are deposited with the depositories for Euroclear and Clearstream, respectively, any rights to subscribe for additional shares or rights of any other nature, each of Euroclear and Clearstream will endeavour to inform investors of the terms of any such rights issue of which it has notice in accordance with the provisions of its regulations and procedures referred to above. Such rights will be exercised, insofar as practicable and permitted by applicable law, according to written instructions received from investors, or such rights may be sold and, in such event, the net proceeds will be credited to the cash account maintained on behalf of the investor with Euroclear or Clearstream.

15.5 Selling and transfer restrictions and investors' representations and warranties

Except in the case of Spain, no action has been or will be taken in any jurisdiction that would, or is intended to, permit a public offer of the New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights, or possession or distribution of this Prospectus or any other offering or publicity material, in any country or jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required.

The New Ordinary Shares may not be offered, sold or otherwise distributed directly or indirectly, and this Prospectus may not be distributed or published in or from any country or jurisdiction, except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any and all applicable rules and regulations of any such country or jurisdiction. Persons into whose possession this Prospectus comes should inform themselves about and observe any restrictions on the distribution of this Prospectus and the offer of New Ordinary Shares contained in this Prospectus. Any failure to comply with these restrictions may constitute a violation of the securities laws of any such jurisdiction. This Prospectus does not constitute an offer to acquire any of the New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights to any person in any jurisdiction to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation in such jurisdiction.

Investors should be aware that any sale or transfer of Preferential Subscription Rights must be done pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

15.5.1 United States.

Representations and agreements required from prospective investors in the United States and outside the United States

Persons in the United States who wish to exercise Preferential Subscription Rights must execute and timely return an investor letter to the Company in the form set forth in Annex A to this Prospectus in which they must confirm their status as a QIB and assume certain obligations with respect to the Preferential Subscription Rights and New Ordinary Shares, among other things.

Restrictions on offering under the Securities Act

The Preferential Subscription Rights and New Ordinary Shares have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, or with any securities regulatory authority of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States, and may not be exercised (with respect to the Preferential Subscription Rights), offered, sold, subscribed for, pledged or otherwise transferred except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and in compliance with any applicable state securities laws.

The Preferential Subscription Rights may only be exercised (i) within the United States by QIBs in reliance on Section 4(a)(2) under the Securities Act, who have executed and timely returned an investor letter to the Company in the form set forth in Annex A to this Prospectus, or (ii) outside the United States in offshore transactions (as defined in Regulation S) in reliance on Regulation S. In addition, the Managers, directly or through their US broker-dealer affiliates, may arrange for the offer and sale of Rump Shares (i) within the United States only to persons they reasonably believe are QIBs and in reliance on Rule 144A or another exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act, or (ii) outside the United States in offshore transactions (as defined in Regulation S) in reliance on Regulation S. Terms used above have the same meaning given to them by Regulation S and Rule 144A.

In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of the Offering, an offer or sale of Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares within the United States by a dealer (whether or not participating in the Offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with Rule 144A or pursuant to another exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

(i) Representations and agreements required from prospective investors in the United States

Such purchaser/acquiror acknowledges that the Preferential Subscription Rights and New Ordinary Shares granted, offered and sold in accordance with Rule 144A are “restricted securities” within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) under the Securities Act and that no representation is made as to the availability of the exemption provided by Rule 144 for resales of the Company’s shares;

- k. the Company and the Managers may require additional representations from investors resident in EEA jurisdictions that have implemented the AIFMD (as these terms are defined below).

15.5.2 European Economic Area

Directive 2011/61/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council on Alternative Investment Fund Managers (the “AIFMD”) was approved on 8 July 2011 and was implemented in Spain by means of Law 22/2014, of 12 November 2014, on venture capital entities, other closed-ended collective investment schemes and their management companies and the amendment of Law 35/2003 on Collective Investment Schemes (the “Law 22/2014”).

Under Law 22/2014, the Company is not an Alternative Investment Fund (an “AIF”) in Spain. In addition, the Company believes that it is not an AIF within the meaning of the AIFMD. However, it is uncertain whether the same conclusion could be reached in all the member states of the European Economic Area (“EEA”) according to the relevant legislative instruments that have implemented the AIFMD in each such jurisdictions.

Investors domiciled in EEA jurisdictions that have implemented the AIFMD by subscribing New Ordinary Shares either within the preferential subscription period (through the exercise of their Preferential Subscription Rights), the additional allocation period or the discretionary allocation period, will represent for the benefit of the Company and the Managers that such subscription complies with all applicable legislation, including relevant legislative instruments implementing the AIFMD, in such jurisdiction.

In addition to the above AIFMD considerations, as regards EEA jurisdictions that have implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a “Relevant Member State”), with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the “Relevant Implementation Date”), no offer of any Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares has been made, or will be made, to the public in that Relevant Member State, other than the Offering in Spain, except that an offer of Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, be made to the public in that Relevant Member State at any time:

- a. to any legal entity which is a “qualified investor” as defined under the Prospectus Directive;
- b. to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the Managers for any such offer; or
- c. in any other circumstances falling within Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive, provided that no such offer of Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares shall result in a requirement for the publication by the Company or the Managers of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of the above, the expression an “offer of Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares to the public” in relation to any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Preferential Subscription Rights or New Ordinary Shares, as the same may be varied in that Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Member State and the expression “Prospectus Directive” means Directive 2003/71/EC and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State (and amendments thereto, including the 2010 PD Amending Directive, to the extent implemented in the Relevant Member State) and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State and the expression “2010 PD Amending Directive” means Directive 2010/73/EU.

15.5.3 United Kingdom

In addition to what it is provided for in the previous section, the Managers (A) has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the UK Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (“FSMA”)) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Preferential Subscription Rights and New Ordinary Shares in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to the Company and (B) has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to the Preferential Subscription Rights and New Ordinary Shares in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

15.6 Interests of persons involved in the Offering

The Company is not aware of any link or significant economic interest between the Company and the entities participating in the Offering (Directors, Company Secretary, Investment Manager, Managers, Agent Bank and legal advisors), except for the strictly professional relationship derived from the legal and financial advice described therein in relation to the Offering.

16. PART XVI: TAXATION INFORMATION

The following summary is a general description of certain tax considerations relating to the Company, the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights. It does not constitute tax advice and does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Company, the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights, as applicable, whether in Spain or elsewhere, and does not deal with the tax consequences applicable to all categories of investors (such as look-through entities), some of which might be subject to special rules. This analysis does not cover all possible tax consequences of the transactions applicable to all categories of shareholders, some of which (e.g., financial institutions, collective investment schemes, cooperatives, etc.) may be subject to special rules. Furthermore, this summary does not take into account the regional special tax regimes in force in the Basque Country and Navarre, or the regulations adopted by the Spanish Autonomous Regions.

Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors as to the consequences under the tax laws of the country of which they are resident for tax purposes and the tax laws of Spain of acquiring, holding and disposing of New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights.

This summary is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Prospectus and is subject to any change in law that may take effect after such date. As a result, this description is subject to any changes in such laws or interpretations occurring after the date hereof, including changes having retroactive effect.

16.1 Spanish SOCIMI Regime

The following paragraphs are intended as a general guide only and constitute a high-level summary of the Company's understanding of current Spanish law in respect of the current SOCIMI Regime. The SOCIMI Regime was enacted originally in October 2009 and was amended at the end of 2012. The amendments introduced in 2012 improved the regime and facilitated the incorporation of the first SOCIMI during the second half of 2013. Interpretation of the rules is likely to develop as participants gain exposure to the regime. This summary is based on the key aspects of the Spanish SOCIMI Regime as they apply to the Company. The Company filed a request with the Spanish General Directorate of Taxes (the “DGT”) for the DGT to clarify certain aspects of the SOCIMI Act. The responsive ruling was issued on 10 February 2014. Investors should seek their own advice in relation to taxation matters.

16.1.1 Overview

The SOCIMI Regime is intended to facilitate attracting new sources of capital to the Spanish real estate rental market. It follows similar legislation adopted in the UK and other European countries, as well as a long-established real estate investment trusts regime in the United States. Some of the primary aims of these types of regimes are to minimize tax inefficiency of holding real estate through corporate ownership by removing corporate taxation at the level of the SOCIMI, as well as to promote rental activities and professional management of these types of businesses.

Provided certain conditions and tests are satisfied (see “Qualification as Spanish SOCIMI” below), a SOCIMI generally does not pay Spanish Corporate Income Tax on the profits deriving from its activities –technically, it is subject to a 0% Corporate Income Tax rate—. Instead, profits must be distributed and such income could then be subject to taxation.

Under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, a SOCIMI will be required to adopt resolutions for the distribution of dividends, after fulfilling any relevant Spanish Companies Act requirements, to shareholders annually within the six months following the closing of the fiscal year of: (i) at least 50% of the profits derived from the transfer of real estate properties, Qualifying Subsidiaries and interests in real estate collective investment funds, provided that the transfer has been carried out once the minimum holding period described below has ended; the remaining profits must be reinvested in other real estate properties or similar shareholdings within a maximum period of three years from the date of the transfer or, if not, 100% of the profits must be distributed as dividends once such period has elapsed; (ii) 100% of the profits derived from dividends paid by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; and (iii) at least 80% of all other profits obtained (i.e., profits derived from ancillary activities). If the relevant dividend distribution resolution were not adopted in a timely manner, the SOCIMI would lose its SOCIMI status in respect of the year to which the dividends relate.

16.1.2 Qualification as Spanish SOCIMI

In order to qualify for the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, a SOCIMI must satisfy certain conditions. A summary of the material conditions is set out below.

Trading requirement

SOCIMIs must be listed on a regulated market or alternative investment market in Spain or in other European Union or European Economic Area member state or on a regulated market of any other country which has a tax information exchange agreement with Spain uninterruptedly for the entire tax period. This trading requirement must be met during the whole fiscal year (without interruption) in which the special SOCIMI Regime is applicable.

Purpose of the SOCIMI / Minimum share capital

SOCIMIs must take the form of a listed joint stock corporation, such as a sociedad anónima, with a minimum share capital of €5 million. Furthermore, SOCIMI's shares must be in registered form, nominative and only one single class of shares is permitted. Since the ordinary shares of the Company are represented in nominative book entry form, this requirement is met.

A SOCIMI must have as its main corporate purpose:

- the acquisition, development and refurbishment of urban real estate for rental purposes;
- the holding of interests in the share capital or assets of: (i) other SOCIMIs; (ii) REITs that have the same corporate purpose of a SOCIMI and that shall be subject to a similar dividend distribution regime, (iii) unlisted SOCIMIs or unlisted non-resident entities entirely owned by a SOCIMI or REIT, IICIs (Instituciones de Inversión Colectiva Inmobiliarias) or other entities, irrespective of whether they are resident in Spain (provided that such foreign country has signed a tax information exchange agreement with Spain), which have as their main corporate purpose the acquisition of urban real estate assets for their lease and which are governed by the same regime established for SOCIMIs as regards legal or statutory mandatory profit distribution and investment policies and that do not hold participations in other companies ((i), (ii) and (iii) jointly referred as “Qualifying Subsidiaries”); or
- the holding of shares in real estate collective investment funds.

SOCIMIs are allowed to carry out other ancillary activities that do not fall under the scope of their main corporate purpose. However, such ancillary activities must not exceed 20% of the assets or 20% of the revenues of the SOCIMI in each tax year, in accordance with the minimum qualifying assets and qualifying income tests described below.

Restrictions on investments

At least 80% of the SOCIMI's assets must be invested in:

- urban real property to be leased and land plots acquired for the development of urban real property to be leased afterwards, provided that the development of such property starts within three years as from the acquisition date (“Qualifying Real Estate” and together with Qualifying Subsidiaries, “Qualifying Assets”);
- participations in Qualifying Subsidiaries (see “Purpose of the SOCIMI / Minimum share capital” above); or
- participations in real estate collective investment funds.

The DGT has confirmed that the assets should be measured on a gross basis, disregarding depreciation or impairments, in accordance with Royal Decree of November 16, 2007, approving the Spanish

General Accounting Plan (Plan General de Contabilidad), which sets forth the Spanish generally accepted accounting principles (“Spanish GAAP”).

In the event that a SOCIMI has subsidiaries that are deemed to be a part of the same group of companies for Spanish corporate law purposes, the calculation of this 80% threshold will be made on a consolidated basis according to Spanish GAAP. For these purposes, the group of companies would be integrated exclusively by SOCIMIs and other Qualifying Subsidiaries described in “Purpose of the SOCIMI / Minimum share capital” above.

There are no asset diversification requirements.

Restrictions on income

At least 80% of a SOCIMI’s net annual income must derive from the lease of qualifying assets (as described in “Restrictions on investments” above), or from dividends distributed by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds and companies.

The DGT considers that the annual income should be measured on a net basis, taking into consideration direct income expenses and a pro rata portion of general expenses. These concepts should be calculated in accordance with Spanish GAAP.

Lease agreements between related entities would not be deemed a qualifying activity and therefore, the rent deriving from such agreements cannot exceed 20% of a SOCIMI’s income.

Capital gains derived from the sale of qualifying assets are in principle excluded from the 80%/20% net income test. However, if a Qualifying Asset or interest in real estate collective investment funds is sold before the minimum holding period (as described below) is achieved, then (i) such capital gain would compute as non-qualifying revenue; (ii) all income derived from Qualifying Real Estate in all tax periods in which the SOCIMI’s special tax regime would have been applicable would be taxed in accordance with the general corporate income tax regime and at the general corporate income tax rate; and (iii) capital gains arising from the transfer of Qualifying Subsidiaries would be taxed in accordance with the general corporate income tax regime and at the general corporate income tax rate (currently, 25%).

Minimum holding period

Qualifying Assets and interests in real estate collective investment funds must be held by a SOCIMI for a three-year period from (i) the acquisition of the asset by the SOCIMI, or (ii) the first day of the financial year when the company became a SOCIMI if the asset was held by the company before becoming a SOCIMI. In case of urban real estate, the holding period requires that these assets are actually rented for at least three years; the period of time during which the asset is on the market for rent (even if vacant) is taken into account up to one year.

In addition, SOCIMIs benefit from the application of a 95% Transfer Tax (Impuesto sobre Transmisiones Patrimoniales y Actos Jurídicos Documentados) relief in relation to the acquisition of residential real estate assets intended for letting (or plots of land for the development of housing intended for letting), provided that, in both cases, the minimum holding period of such assets referred to above is complied with.

Mandatory dividend distribution

Under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, a SOCIMI is required to adopt resolutions for the distribution of dividends, after fulfilling any relevant Spanish Companies Act requirement, to shareholders annually within the six months following the closing of the fiscal year of: (i) at least 50% of the profits derived from the transfer of real estate properties, Qualifying Subsidiaries and interests in real estate collective investment funds, provided that the transfer has been carried out once the minimum holding period described below has ended; the remaining profits must be reinvested in other real estate properties or similar shareholdings within a maximum period of three years from the date of the transfer or, if not, 100% of the profits must be distributed as dividends once such period has elapsed; (ii) 100% of the profits derived from dividends paid by Qualifying Subsidiaries and real estate collective investment funds; and (iii) at least 80% of all other profits obtained (i.e., profits derived from ancillary activities).

If the relevant dividend distribution resolution was not adopted in a timely manner, a SOCIMI would lose its SOCIMI status in respect of the year to which the dividends relate.

The SOCIMIs must agree the dividend distributions of a given fiscal year within the six months following the closing of the fiscal year; those dividends must be due within the month following the distribution agreement.

Leverage

A SOCIMI is not subject to a specific limitation on indebtedness.

Recently approved tax limitations by the Spanish Government (tax deduction of financial expenses and annual depreciation, carrying-forward of tax losses, and tax credits) should have no practical impact provided that the SOCIMI is taxed at a 0% Corporate Income Tax rate if all the SOCIMI regime requirements are met.

Sanctions

The loss of SOCIMI status would trigger adverse consequences for the SOCIMI. Causes for such loss of status are:

- Delisting.
- Substantial failure to comply with its information and reporting obligations, unless such failure is remedied by preparing fully compliant annual accounts which contain certain required information in the following year.
- Failure to adopt a dividend distribution resolution or to effectively satisfy the dividends within the deadlines described under “Mandatory dividend distribution” above. In this case, the loss of SOCIMI status would have effects in the tax year in which the profits not distributed were obtained.
- Waiver of the SOCIMI Regime by the company.
- Failure to meet the requirements established in the SOCIMI Act unless such failure is remedied within the following fiscal year. However, the failure to observe the minimum holding period of Qualifying Assets and interests in real estate collective investment funds would not give rise to the loss of SOCIMI status, but (i) the capital gain would compute as non-qualifying revenue; (ii) all income derived from Qualifying Real Estate in all tax periods where the SOCIMI’s special tax regime would have been applicable would be taxed in accordance with the general corporate income tax regime and at the general corporate income tax rate; and (iii) capital gains arising from the transfer of Qualifying Subsidiaries would be taxed in accordance with the general corporate income tax regime and at the general corporate income tax rate (currently, 25%).

Should the Company lose its SOCIMI status, it would not be eligible to regain it for three years. In such case, the Company would have to pay Corporate Income Tax at the regular rate (25% for 2016 onwards), and would not be able to elect for the SOCIMI Regime for the following three fiscal years. The shareholders in a company that loses its SOCIMI status are expected to be subject to taxes as if the SOCIMI Regime had not been applicable to the company.

Furthermore, in the event of non-compliance with information obligations, penalties between €1,500 and €30,000 are established depending on the kind of information not provided.

16.2 Spanish tax considerations

The statements of Spanish tax law set out below are based on existing Spanish tax laws, including relevant regulations, administrative rulings and practices in effect on the date of this Prospectus and which may apply to investors who are the beneficial owners of shares in a SOCIMI. Legislative, administrative or judicial changes may modify the tax consequences described below.

The following is a summary of the material Spanish tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of New Ordinary Shares and Preferential Subscription Rights, as applicable, by Spanish and non-Spanish tax resident investors. This summary is not a complete analysis or listing of all the possible Spanish tax consequences of such transactions and does not address all tax considerations that may be relevant to all categories of potential purchasers, some of whom may be subject to special rules. In particular, this tax section does not address the Spanish tax consequences applicable to “lookthrough” entities (such as trusts or estates) that may be subject to the tax regime applicable to such non-Spanish tax resident entities under the Spanish Non-Resident Income Tax Law, approved by Royal Legislative Decree 5/2004 of 5 March, as amended (the “NRIT Law”).

Accordingly, prospective investors in the New Ordinary Shares and Preferential Subscription Rights, as applicable, should consult their own tax advisers as to the applicable tax consequences of their purchase, ownership and disposition of these securities, including the effect of tax laws of any other jurisdiction, based on their particular circumstances.

The description of Spanish tax laws set forth below is based on law currently in effect in Spain as of the date of this Prospectus, and on the administrative interpretations thereof. As a result, this description is subject to any changes in such laws or interpretations occurring after the date hereof, including changes having retroactive effect.

As used in this particular section XVI “Taxation Information”, the term “Spanish Shareholder” means a beneficial owner of New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights, as applicable: (i) who is an individual or corporation resident for tax purposes in Spain; or (ii) who is an individual or corporation not resident for tax purposes in Spain but whose ownership of shares is effectively connected with a permanent establishment in Spain through which such holder carries on or has carried on business or with a fixed base in Spain from which such holder performs or has performed independent personal services; and (iii) that does not hold 5% or more of the ordinary shares of the Company.

As used in this particular section XVI “Taxation Information”, the term “Non-Spanish Shareholder” means a beneficial owner of the New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights, as applicable: (i) who is an individual or corporation resident for tax purposes in any country other than Spain; and (ii) whose ownership of shares is not effectively connected with a permanent establishment in Spain through which such holder carries on or has carried on business or with a fixed base in Spain from which such holder performs or has performed independent personal services; and (iii) and that does not hold 5% or more of the ordinary shares of the Company.

16.2.1 Taxation of entities qualifying for the SOCIMI Regime

SOCIMIs and Spanish-resident Qualifying Subsidiaries may elect to apply the SOCIMI Regime. The election to apply the SOCIMI Regime must be adopted by the entity’s shareholders, and the Spanish tax authorities must be notified of such election prior to the last quarter of the tax year when the SOCIMI Regime is expected to apply. Such election will remain applicable until the company waives its applicability or loses its SOCIMI status. The Company is a Spanish SOCIMI and benefits from the SOCIMI Regime.

An entity eligible for the SOCIMI Regime may apply for the special tax regime even if when the election is made such entity does not meet all the eligibility requirements, provided that it meets such requirements within two years (as from the date the corresponding election is filed with the Spanish tax authorities). In addition, such entity will have a one-year grace period to cure any non-compliance with certain eligibility requirements.

Corporate Income Tax (“CIT”)

Generally, all income received by a SOCIMI is taxed under CIT at a 0% rate. Nevertheless, rental income and capital gains stemming from qualifying assets being sold prior to the end of the minimum holding period (three years) would be subject to the standard CIT rate (25% for 2016 onwards).

Furthermore, a special levy regime applies to dividends paid by the SOCIMI to domestic or foreign Substantial Shareholders. The SOCIMI must assess and pay a 19% Corporate Income Tax in respect of gross dividends distributed if the beneficiary of the dividends: (i) holds at least 5% of the shares of the SOCIMI, and is either exempt from any tax on the dividends or subject to tax on the dividend received at a rate lower than 10% or (ii) does not timely provide the Company with the information that justifies that dividends distributed by the Company are taxed at a rate equal to or higher than 10%. The DGT has recently issued two binding rulings (n.3308-14 and n.0323-15) indicating that the 10% test to be carried out in order to identify substantial shareholders shall be focused on the tax liability arising from the dividend income considered individually, taking into account (a) exemptions and tax credits affecting the dividends received by the shareholder, and (b) those expenses incurred by the shareholder which are directly linked to the dividend income (e.g., fees paid in relation to the management of the shareholding in the relevant SOCIMI distributing the dividends, or financial expenses (interest) deriving from the financing obtained to fund the acquisition of the shares of the relevant SOCIMI). According to these rulings, the tax treatment applicable to other items of income that may be obtained by the shareholder should not be taken into account. In addition, the DGT has confirmed that the withholding tax levied on a dividend payment (including any Non-Resident tax liability) should also be taken into consideration by the shareholder for assessing this 10% threshold.

The above-mentioned special levy will be considered an expense for the Company thus reducing the profits distributable to shareholders. The By-Laws contain indemnity obligations from Substantial Shareholders in favour of the Company designed to discourage the possibility that dividends may become payable to Substantial Shareholders. If a dividend payment is made to a Substantial Shareholder, the Company will be entitled to deduct an amount equivalent to the tax expenses incurred by the Company on such dividend payment from the amount to be paid to such Substantial Shareholder (the Board will maintain certain discretion in deciding whether to exercise this right if making such deduction would put the Company in a worse position).

16.2.2 Spanish resident individuals

Taxation on dividends

According to the Spanish Personal Income Tax Law (Ley 35/2006, de 28 de noviembre, del Impuesto sobre la Renta de las Personas Físicas y de modificación parcial de las leyes de los Impuestos sobre Sociedades, sobre la Renta de no Residentes y sobre el Patrimonio) (“PIT Law”), income received by a Spanish Shareholder in the form of dividends, shares in profits, consideration paid for attendance at shareholders’ meetings, income from the creation or assignment of rights of use or enjoyment of the shares and any other income received in his or her capacity as shareholder is subject to tax as capital income.

Gross capital income is reduced by any administration and custody expenses (but not by those incurred in individualized portfolio management); the net amount is included in the relevant Spanish shareholder’s savings taxable base and taxed at a flat rate of 19% for taxable income up to €6,000; 21% for taxable income between €6,000.01 and €50,000 and 23% for taxable income in excess of €50,000. No exemptions are allowed.

Any amount received as a consequence of a share premium distribution by companies listed on a regulated market as defined under the Directive 2004/39EC of 21 April (recasted by Directive 2014/65/EU, of 15 May), will reduce the acquisition cost of the shares in respect of such share premium received. Any share premium in excess of the basis is treated as a dividend for PIT purposes, being taxed as described in the preceding paragraph.

The payment to Spanish shareholders of dividends or any other distribution made by a SOCIMI is subject to a withholding tax at the rate of 19%. Such withholding tax is creditable from the PIT payable (cuota líquida); if the amount of tax withheld is greater than the amount of the net PIT payable, the taxpayer is entitled to a refund of the excess withheld in accordance with the PIT Law.

Taxation on capital gains

Gains or losses recorded by a Spanish shareholder as a result of the transfer of shares in the SOCIMI qualify for the purposes of the PIT Law as capital gains or losses and are subject to taxation according to the general rules applicable to capital gains. The amount of capital gains or losses is equal to the difference between the shares’ acquisition value (plus any fees or taxes incurred) and the transfer value, which is the listed value of the share as of the transfer date or, if higher, the agreed transfer price, less any fees or taxes incurred.

Capital gains or losses arising from the transfer of shares held by a Spanish shareholder are included in such Spanish holder's capital income corresponding to the period when the transfer takes place; any gain resulting from such compensation is taxed at a flat rate of 19% for taxable income up to €6,000; 21% for taxable income between €6,000.01 and €50,000 and 23% for taxable income in excess of €50,000.

Capital gains arising from the transfer of shares are not subject to withholding tax on account of PIT. Losses arising from the transfer of shares admitted to trading on certain official stock exchanges will not be treated as capital losses if securities of the same kind have been acquired during the period between two months before and two months after the date of the transfer which originated the loss. In these cases, the capital losses are included in the taxable base upon the transfer of the remaining shares of the taxpayer. No tax credits for avoidance of double taxation are allowed.

Allotment and exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights

The allotment and exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights is not considered to be a taxable event under Spanish law and therefore is not subject to the PIT.

Transfer of Preferential Subscription Rights

Up to 31 December 2016, if an individual Spanish Shareholder transfers all or part of his or her Preferential Subscription Rights, the proceeds received are, for tax purposes, applied to reduce the acquisition value of the existing ordinary shares to which they pertain. Such reduction in the acquisition value will have tax consequences in the future in the event of such shares being sold. Any amount received by a Spanish Shareholder for the transfer of Preferential Subscription Rights in excess of the acquisition value of his or her existing shares will be regarded as a capital gain taxed as described under “—Taxation on Capital Gains” above.

However, as from 1 January 2017, if a Spanish Shareholder sells any rights received, the sale proceeds will be treated (in full) as capital gain for PIT purposes and should be subject to withholding tax.

In any case such capital gains should be allocated to the Spanish Shareholder's savings PIT taxable base (to be sheltered only with income allocated to such savings PIT taxable base) and would be subject to the flat rate of 19% for the first €6,000, 21% between €6,001 and €50,000 and 23% for any amount in excess of €50,000.

Spanish Wealth Tax

Individual Spanish Shareholders are subject to Spanish Wealth Tax on all their assets (such as the New Ordinary Shares) for tax year 2016. Spanish Wealth Tax Law (Ley 19/1991, de 6 de junio, del Impuesto sobre el Patrimonio) provides that the first €700,000 of net wealth owned by an individual Spanish Shareholder will be exempt from taxation, while the rest of the net wealth will be taxed at a rate ranging between 0.2% and 2.5%. However, this varies depending on the autonomous region of residency of the taxpayer; some regions, like Madrid, do not effectively levy Net Wealth Tax.

Individual Spanish Shareholders subject to Spanish Wealth Tax filing obligations will be obliged to make reference (in the corresponding tax form) to the New Ordinary Shares owned at 31 December. These New Ordinary Shares should be reported at their average market value during the last quarter of the year. The Spanish Ministry of Finance and Taxation publishes annually such market value for the purposes of the Spanish Wealth Tax.

Furthermore, in accordance with article 66 of the Law 48/2015, of 29 October, on the Spanish General Budget for 2016 (Ley de Presupuestos Generales del Estado para el año 2016), as from 2017, a full exemption on Spanish Wealth Tax would apply (bonificación del 100%), and therefore from 2017 individual Spanish Shareholders will be released from formal and filing obligations in relation to this Spanish Wealth Tax, unless the derogation of the exemptions is extended again.

Prospective shareholders should consult their tax advisors.

Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax

Individuals resident in Spain for tax purposes who acquire shares by inheritance or gift will be subject to the Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax (“IGT”) in accordance with the IGT Law (Ley 29/1987, de 18 de diciembre, del Impuesto sobre Sucesiones y Donaciones) (“IGT Law”), without prejudice to the specific legislation applicable in each autonomous region. The effective tax rate, after applying all relevant factors, ranges from 7.65% to 81.6% depending on the amount of the gift or inheritance, the net wealth of the heir or donee, and the kinship with the deceased or the donor. Some tax benefits could reduce the effective tax rate.

Spanish Transfer Tax

Subscription, acquisition and transfers of shares will be exempt from Transfer Tax (Impuesto sobre Transmisiones Patrimoniales) and Value Added Tax, in accordance with the exceptions provided in article 314 of the Spanish Securities Market Act and the corresponding articles of the Spanish regulations of the referred taxes. Additionally, no Stamp Duty is levied on such subscription, acquisition and transfers.

16.2.3 Spanish corporate resident shareholders

Taxation on dividends

Dividends from a SOCIMI or a share of the Company’s profits received by corporate Spanish Shareholders, or by NRIT taxpayers who operate, with respect to its participation in the Company, through a permanent establishment in Spain, as a consequence of the ownership of the shares, less any expenses inherent to holding the shares, are included in the CIT or NRIT taxable base. The general CIT or NRIT tax rate is currently 25%. No tax credits for the avoidance of double taxation may apply.

Any amount received as a consequence of a share premium distribution by companies listed on a regulated market under the Directive 2004/39/EC of 21 April (recasted by Directive 2014/65/EU, of 15 May), will reduce the acquisition cost of the New Ordinary Shares in respect of such share premium received. Any share premium in excess of the basis is treated as a dividend for CIT purposes, being taxed as described in the preceding paragraph.

Also, CIT and NRIT taxpayers who operate, with respect to its participation in the Company, through a permanent establishment in Spain are subject to withholding tax on dividends at a 19% rate. Such withholding tax will be deductible from the net CIT payable, and if the amount of tax withheld is greater than the amount of the net CIT payable, the taxpayer will be entitled to a refund of the excess withheld in accordance with the CIT Law.

Share premium distributions will not be subject to withholding tax on account of CIT.

Taxation on capital gains

The gain or loss arising on transfer of the shares or from any other change in net worth relating to the shares are included in the tax base of CIT taxpayers, or of NRIT taxpayers who operate through a permanent establishment in Spain, in accordance with the CIT or NRIT Laws; such gain is taxed generally at a rate of 25%.

Allotment and exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights

The allotment and exercise of Preferential Subscription Rights is not considered a taxable event under Spanish law and therefore is not subject to the Spanish CIT.

Transfer of Preferential Subscription Rights

Taxation of the sale of Preferential Subscription Rights shall be determined by the accounting treatment of such sale by the transferor.

Spanish Wealth Tax

Not applicable.

Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax

In the event of acquisition of the New Ordinary Shares free of charge by a CIT taxpayer, the income generated for the latter will be taxed according to the CIT rules, the IGT not being applicable.

Spanish Transfer Tax

Subscription, acquisition and transfers of shares will be exempt from Transfer Tax (Impuesto sobre Transmisiones Patrimoniales) and Value Added Tax, in accordance with the exceptions provided in article 314 of the Spanish Securities Market Act and the corresponding articles of the Spanish regulations of the referred taxes. Additionally, no Stamp Duty is levied on such subscription, acquisition and transfers.

16.2.4 Non-Spanish Shareholders

Taxation on dividends

Dividends distributed to Non-Spanish Shareholders not acting through a permanent establishment in Spain are subject to Non-Resident Income Tax (“NRIT”), at the standard withholding tax rate at 19%. No exemptions are allowed on dividends distributed by a SOCIMI.

This standard rate can be reduced or eliminated as per the application of the EU Parent-Subsidiary Directive as the SOCIMI may qualify for its application according to the DGT criterion. The application of the EU Parent-Subsidiary withholding tax exemption requires the fulfilment of certain requirements. In addition, such exemption includes an anti-abuse provision by virtue of which the withholding tax exemption will not be applicable where the majority of the voting rights of the parent company are held directly or indirectly by individuals or entities who are not resident in a EU Member State or in a European Economic Area (“EEA”) Member State with which Spain has ratified an effective exchange of tax information in the terms set forth in Law 36/2006 of 29 November. This anti-abuse provision should not apply where the EU or EEA parent company proves that its incorporation and its operative respond to valid economic reasons and to substantive economic activities.

Shareholders resident in certain countries may be entitled to the benefits of a convention for the avoidance of double taxation (“DTC”), in effect between Spain and their country of tax residence. Such shareholders may benefit from a reduced tax rate under an applicable DTC with Spain, subject to the satisfaction of any conditions specified in the relevant DTC, including providing evidence of the tax residence of the shareholder by means of a certificate of tax residence duly issued by the tax authorities of the country of tax residence of the shareholder or, as the case may be, the equivalent document specified in the Spanish Order which further supplements the applicable DTC. The tax certificate is generally valid only for a period of one year from the date of issuance. In general, the US-Spain DTC provides for a tax rate of 15% on dividends.

According to the Order of the Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness of 13 April 2000, upon distribution of a dividend, the Company or its paying agent will withhold an amount equal to the tax amount required to be withheld according to the general rules set forth above, transferring the resulting net amount to the depositary. For this purpose, the depositary is the financial institution with which shareholder has entered into a contract of deposit or management with respect to the Company’s shares held by such shareholders. If the shareholder provides timely evidence (a certificate of tax residence issued by the relevant tax authorities of the shareholder’s country of residence stating that, for the records of such authorities, the shareholder is a resident of such country within the meaning of the relevant DTC, or as the case may be, the equivalent document regulated in the Order which further develops the applicable DTC) of the shareholder’s right to obtain the DTC reduced rate or an exemption, it will immediately receive the excess amount withheld, which will be credited to the shareholder. In the case of US persons, IRS Form 6166 will satisfy this certificate requirement. For these purposes, the relevant certificate of residence must be provided before the tenth day following the end of the month in which the dividends were paid. The tax certificate is generally valid only for a period of one year from the date of issuance.

If this certificate of tax residence, or as the case may be, the equivalent document referred to above, is not provided within this time period, the shareholder may subsequently obtain a refund of the amount withheld in excess from the Spanish tax authorities, following the standard refund procedure established by the Royal Decree 1776/2004, dated 30 July 2004, and the Order EHA/3316/2010 dated 17 December 2010, as amended.

Distribution of share premium by the Company (provided that the New Ordinary Shares are admitted to trading on a regulated market as defined in the Directive 2004/39/EC of the European Parliament and the Council of 21 April) should reduce the tax base cost of the New Ordinary Shares of the shareholder until offsetting it. Any excess over the acquisition value would be treated for tax purposes as dividends and the shareholder will be obliged to file a NRIT tax return in Spain in relation to such excess.

Spanish Refund Procedure

According to Spanish Regulations on NRIT Law, approved by Royal Decree 1776/2004 and the Order dated 17 December 2010, a refund for the amount withheld in excess of any applicable DTC-reduced rate can be obtained from the relevant Spanish tax authorities. To pursue the refund claim, the non-Spanish Holder is required to file: (i) the corresponding Spanish Tax Form (currently, Form 210); (ii) the certificate of tax residence and or equivalent document referred to above, (iii) a certificate from us stating that Spanish NRIT was withheld with respect to such Non-Spanish Shareholder and (iv) documentary evidence of the bank account in which the excess amount withheld should be paid.

For further details, prospective shareholders should consult their tax advisors.

Dividends distributed to Non-Spanish Shareholders qualified as foreign REITs

Dividends paid to Non-Spanish Shareholders that are qualifying foreign REITs may be exempt from withholding tax under the SOCIMI Regime.

Taxation on capital gains

Capital gains derived from the transfer or sale of the shares are deemed income arising in Spain, and, therefore, are taxable in Spain at a general tax rate of 19%. The current US-Spain DTC does not prohibit Spain from taxing capital gains on US persons.

Capital gains and losses will be calculated separately for each transaction. It is not possible to offset losses against capital gains. No tax credits for avoidance of double taxation are allowed.

Nevertheless, capital gains derived from the shares obtained by Non-Spanish Shareholders holding a percentage lower than 5% in the Company will be exempt from taxation in Spain provided the shareholder is tax resident in a country which has entered into a DTC with Spain which provides for exchange clause information (such as the US-Spain DTC). This exemption is not applicable to capital gains obtained by a Non-Spanish Shareholder acting through a country or territory that is defined as a tax haven by Spanish regulations.

Taxation of Preferential Subscription Rights

Distributions to shareholders of Preferential Subscription Rights to subscribe for New Ordinary Shares made with respect to the ordinary shares are not treated as income under Spanish law and, therefore, are not subject to Spanish NRIT. The exercise of such Preferential Subscription Rights is not considered a taxable event under Spanish law and thus is not subject to Spanish NRIT.

Until 31 December 2016, if these Preferential Subscription Rights are transferred by the shareholders, the amount received as a result of the transfer will reduce the acquisition cost of the shares to which they pertain. If the amount received exceeds this acquisition cost, the excess will be regarded as a capital gain and subject to Spanish NRIT in the manner described under “—Taxation on Capital Gains” above.

However, from 1 January 2017, if a shareholder sells any rights received, the sale proceeds will be treated (in full) as capital gain for NRIT purposes.

Pursuant to the NRIT Act, capital gains obtained by shareholders will not be subject to withholding in Spain. The shareholder will therefore be obliged to submit the relevant tax form and, if applicable pay the corresponding liability (such filing and payment obligation may also be fulfilled by the shareholder's tax representative or by the custodian of the shares in accordance with the proceeding and tax form provided for under Order EHA/3316/2010, of 17 December).

Spanish Wealth Tax

Unless an applicable DTC provides otherwise, Non-Spanish Shareholders are subject to Spanish Wealth Tax (Spanish Law 19/1991 as amended by Royal Decree-Law 13/2011 of 16 September) for tax year 2016, which imposes a tax on property and rights in excess of €700,000 that are located in Spain, or can be exercised within the Spanish territory, on the last day of any year. Non-Spanish tax resident individuals whose net worth is above €700,000 and who hold shares on the last day of any year would therefore be subject to Spanish Wealth Tax for such year at marginal rates varying between 0.2% and 2.5% of the average market value of the shares during the last quarter of such year.

Individuals who do not have tax residency in Spain and are tax resident in a State of the European Union or of the European Economic Area will be entitled to apply the specific regulation of the autonomous community where their most valuable assets are located and which trigger this Spanish Wealth Tax due to the fact that they are located or are to be exercised within the Spanish territory. Investors should consult their own advisers in this regard.

Shareholders who benefit from a DTC that provides for taxation only in the shareholder's country of residence are not subject to Spanish Wealth Tax.

In accordance with article 66 of Law 48/2015, of 29 October on the Spanish General Budget for 2016 (Ley de Presupuestos Generales del Estado para el año 2016), from 2017, a full exemption on Wealth Tax would apply (bonificación del 100%).

Shareholders that are non-Spanish resident corporations are not subject to Spanish Wealth tax.

Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax

Unless otherwise provided under an applicable Tax Treaty, transfers of shares upon death and by gift to individuals not resident in Spain for tax purposes are subject to IGT if the shares are located in Spain (as is the case with the Company's shares) or the rights attached to such shares are exercisable in Spain, regardless of the residence of the heir or the beneficiary. The applicable tax rate, after applying all relevant factors, ranges between 7.65% and 81.6%.

Generally, non-Spanish tax resident individuals are subject to Spanish IGT according to the rules set forth in the state IGT provisions. However, if the deceased or the donee is resident in an EU or European Economic Area member State, the applicable rules will be those corresponding to the relevant Spanish Autonomous Regions according to the law. Prospective shareholders should consult their tax advisers regarding these matters.

Spanish Transfer Tax

Subscription, acquisition and transfers of shares will be exempt from Transfer Tax (Impuesto sobre Transmisiones Patrimoniales) and Value Added Tax, in accordance with the exceptions provided in article 314 of the Spanish Securities Market Act and the corresponding articles of the Spanish regulations of the referred taxes. Additionally, no Stamp Duty is levied on such subscription, acquisition and transfers.

16.3 Certain US federal income tax considerations

The following is a description of certain US federal income tax consequences to the US Holders described below of receiving, exercising and disposing of Preferential Subscription Rights (for purposes of this section, the "Rights"), and owning and disposing of New Ordinary Shares, but it does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular person's decision to exercise or dispose of Rights, or own or dispose of New Ordinary Shares. This discussion applies only to US Holders that hold Rights or New Ordinary Shares (each, solely for the purpose of the discussion in this section 3 of this Part XVI ("Taxation Information"), a "Security"), as the case may be, as capital assets for US federal income tax purposes. This discussion does not address US federal (other than income), state, local and non-US tax consequences. In addition, it does not describe all of the tax consequences that may be relevant in light of a US Holder's particular circumstances, including alternative minimum tax consequences, any aspect of the Medicare contribution tax on net investment income and tax consequences applicable to US Holders subject to special rules, such as:

- certain financial institutions;
- insurance companies;
- real estate investment trusts;
- dealers or traders in securities that use a mark-to-market method of tax accounting;
- persons holding Securities as part of a straddle, conversion or other integrated transaction;
- persons whose functional currency for US federal income tax purposes is not the US dollar;
- entities or arrangements treated as partnerships for US federal income tax purposes;
- tax-exempt entities, "individual retirement accounts" or "Roth IRAs";
- persons that own or are deemed to own 10% or more of the Company's voting stock; or
- persons holding Securities in connection with a trade or business conducted outside of the United States.

If an entity or any arrangement that is treated as a partnership for US federal income tax purposes owns Securities, the US federal income tax treatment of a partner will generally depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Entities or arrangements treated as partnerships that own Securities and their partners should consult their tax advisers regarding the tax consequences of the Rights Offering and of owning or disposing of New Ordinary Shares.

This discussion is based on the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions, final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations, and the income tax treaty between the United States and Spain (the "Treaty"), all as of the date hereof and all of which are subject to change, possibly on a retroactive basis. US Holders and prospective investors should consult their tax advisers concerning the US federal, state, local and non-US tax consequences of receiving or exercising Rights, and owning or disposing of Securities, in their particular circumstances.

As used herein, a "US Holder" is a person that is eligible for the benefits of the Treaty, and for US federal income tax purposes is a beneficial owner of the relevant Security that is:

- a citizen or individual resident of the United States;
- a corporation, or other entity taxable as a corporation, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any state therein or the District of Columbia; or
- an estate or trust the income of which is subject to US federal income taxation regardless of its source.

PFIC Status

The Company believes that it was a passive foreign investment company (a "PFIC") for its most recent taxable year. The Company expects to be a PFIC for the current taxable year and in the foreseeable future and this discussion so assumes. See "—Ordinary Shares—Passive Foreign Investment Company" below.

Rights

Distribution of Rights. The receipt of Rights by a US Holder should be treated as a non-taxable distribution with respect to the US Holder's Existing Ordinary Shares for US federal income tax purposes.

Tax Basis and Holding Period of Rights. If the fair market value of the Rights on the date they are distributed equals or exceeds 15% of the fair market value on such date of the Existing Ordinary Shares with respect to which the Rights are distributed, then a US Holder's tax basis in its Existing Ordinary Shares must be allocated between the Existing Ordinary Shares and the Rights received with respect to such shares in proportion to their relative fair market values on the date of distribution.

If the fair market value of the Rights on the distribution date is less than 15% of the fair market value of the Existing Ordinary Shares with respect to which the Rights were distributed, then a US Holder's tax basis in the Rights generally will be zero and such US Holder's tax basis in its Existing Ordinary Shares generally will remain unchanged as a result of the Rights Offering. However, in such event, a US Holder may elect to allocate to the Rights a portion of the tax basis in such US Holder's Existing Ordinary Shares in accordance with the allocation method described in the preceding paragraph. A US Holder who wishes to make this election must attach a statement to this effect to its US federal income tax return for the tax year in which the Rights are received. The election will apply to all of the Rights received by the US Holder pursuant to the Rights Offering and, once made, will be irrevocable. US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the advisability and specific procedures for making such an election in the event that the value of the rights is less than 15% of the value of the Existing Ordinary Shares with respect to which the Rights were issued.

The holding period of a Right will include a US Holder's holding period for the Existing Ordinary Share with respect to which the Right was distributed.

Exercise of Rights. The exercise of Rights by a US Holder will not be a taxable transaction for US federal income tax purposes. A US Holder's tax basis in New Ordinary Shares acquired upon exercise of Rights will equal the sum of (i) the Subscription Price paid by the US Holder for the New Ordinary Shares and (ii) the portion of the US Holder's tax basis in the exercised Rights allocable to the New Ordinary Shares, each determined in US dollars. Generally under the Code, the holding period for stock acquired upon exercise of stock rights begins on the date the rights are exercised. However, under proposed Treasury Regulations that are not yet effective but have a retroactive proposed effective date (the "Proposed PFIC Regulations") the holding period of New Ordinary Shares acquired upon exercise of Rights would include the holding period for the Rights (determined as described in the preceding paragraph). US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the potential application of the Proposed PFIC Regulations.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition of Rights. A US Holder will generally recognize gain or loss on the sale or other taxable disposition of a Right. Although generally under the Code a sale of stock rights held as capital assets will give rise to capital gains or losses, under the Proposed PFIC Regulations the sale or disposition of Rights would be treated in the same manner as dispositions of PFIC stock, as described in "—Ordinary Shares—Passive Foreign Investment Company" below. US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the potential application of the Proposed PFIC Regulations to a sale or other taxable disposition of Rights.

Expiration of Rights. If a US Holder allows Rights to expire without selling or exercising them, the basis allocation rules described in "—Tax Basis and Holding Period of Rights" above will not apply, the US Holder will not recognize any loss as a result of such expiration and the US Holder's tax basis in its Existing Ordinary Shares will remain unchanged as a result of the Rights Offering.

Ordinary Shares

Passive Foreign Investment Company. The Company believes that it was a PFIC for its most recent taxable year and expects to be a PFIC for the current taxable year and in the foreseeable future.

In general, a non-US corporation will be a PFIC for any taxable year in which (i) 75% or more of its gross income consists of "passive income" or (ii) 50% or more of the average quarterly value of its assets consists of assets that produce, or are held for the production of, passive income. For purposes of the above calculations, a non-US corporation that directly or indirectly owns at least 25% by value of the shares of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of the other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of the other corporation. Passive income generally includes interest, rents, dividends, royalties and certain gains.

The Company has invested, and may invest in the future, directly or indirectly, in equity interests in subsidiaries and other entities that are PFICs (collectively, "Lower-tier PFICs"). Under attribution rules, US Holders will be deemed to own their proportionate share of Lower-tier PFICs and will be subject to US federal income tax according to the PFIC rules described in the following two paragraphs on (i) certain distributions by a Lower-tier PFIC and (ii) a disposition of shares of a Lower-tier PFIC, in each case as if the US Holder owned such shares directly, even though the US Holders have not received the proceeds of those distributions or dispositions directly.

A US Holder who owns New Ordinary Shares (or, under the Proposed PFIC Regulations, Rights) or, as discussed above, is deemed to own shares of a Lower-tier PFIC, during any taxable year in which the Company is a PFIC will generally be subject to adverse tax treatment. Except to the extent the US Holder makes a timely and effective “mark-to-market” election as discussed below, gain recognized on a sale or other disposition (including, under certain circumstances, a pledge) of the New Ordinary Shares (or, under the Proposed PFIC Regulations, Rights) or on an indirect disposition of equity interests in a Lower-tier PFIC will be allocated ratably over the US Holder’s holding period for the Securities. The amounts allocated to the taxable year of disposition will be taxed as ordinary income. The amounts allocated to each other taxable year will be subject to the tax at the highest rate in effect for that taxable year for individuals or corporations, as appropriate, and an interest charge will be imposed on the resulting tax liability for each such year. The total amount of the gain (or loss) will be the difference between the US Holder’s tax basis in the Securities disposed of and the amount realized on the disposition, in each case as determined in US dollars. US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the US federal income tax consequences of receiving any proceeds from the sale or disposition of a Security in foreign currency including the appropriate conversion rate and the possible recognition of foreign currency gain or loss.

To the extent that any distribution received by a US Holder on New Ordinary Shares (or a distribution by a Lower-tier PFIC to its shareholder that is deemed to be received by a US Holder) exceeds 125% of the average of the annual distributions received (or deemed received) during the preceding three years or the US Holder’s holding period, whichever is shorter, the distribution will be subject to taxation in the same manner as gain, as described in the preceding paragraph.

If the Ordinary Shares are “regularly traded” on a “qualified exchange,” a US Holder may make a mark-to-market election that would result in tax treatment different from the general tax treatment for PFICs described above. The Ordinary Shares will be treated as “regularly traded” in any calendar year in which more than a de minimis quantity of the Ordinary Shares are traded on a qualified exchange on at least 15 days during each calendar quarter. A foreign exchange is a “qualified exchange” if it is regulated or supervised by a governmental authority in the jurisdiction in which the exchange is located and with respect to which certain other requirements are met. The Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) has not identified specific foreign exchanges that are “qualified” for this purpose. US Holders of Ordinary Shares should consult their tax advisers as to whether the Spanish Stock Exchanges are qualified exchanges for this purpose. If a US Holder validly makes a mark-to-market election, the US Holder generally will recognize as ordinary income any excess of the fair market value of the Ordinary Shares at the end of each taxable year over their adjusted tax basis, and will recognize an ordinary loss in respect of any excess of the adjusted tax basis of the Ordinary Shares over their fair market value at the end of the taxable year (but only to the extent of the net amount of income previously included as a result of the mark-to-market election). If a US Holder makes the election, the US Holder’s tax basis in the Ordinary Shares will be adjusted to reflect the income or loss amounts recognized. Any gain recognized on the sale or other disposition of Ordinary Shares in a year when the Company is a PFIC will be treated as ordinary income and any loss will be treated as an ordinary loss (but only to the extent of the net amount of income previously included as a result of the mark-to-market election). If a US Holder makes the mark-to-market election, distributions paid on Ordinary Shares will be treated as discussed under “—Taxation of Distributions” below. US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the availability and advisability of making a mark-to-market election in their particular circumstances. In particular, US Holders should consider carefully the impact of a mark-to-market election with respect to their Ordinary Shares given that the Company may currently or in the future own interests in Lower-tier PFICs for which a mark-to-market election may not be available.

If the Company is a PFIC for any year during which a US Holder owns Ordinary Shares, it will generally continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to the US Holder for all succeeding years during which the US Holder owns the Ordinary Shares, even if the Company ceases to meet the threshold requirements for PFIC status.

The Company does not intend to provide US Holders with the information necessary to make a qualified electing fund election, which, if available, would allow the US Holders to elect a different tax treatment.

If a US Holder owns Ordinary Shares during any year in which the Company is a PFIC, the US Holder generally will be required to file annual reports on IRS Form 8621.

US Holders should consult their tax advisers concerning the Company's PFIC status and the tax considerations relevant to an investment in a PFIC.

Taxation of Distributions. Subject to the PFIC rules described above, distributions paid on New Ordinary Shares, other than certain pro rata distributions of Ordinary Shares, will be treated as dividends to the extent paid out of the Company's current or accumulated earnings and profits (as determined under US federal income tax principles). Distributions in excess of current and accumulated earnings and profits (as determined under US federal income tax principles) will be treated as a non-taxable return of capital to the extent of the US Holder's basis in the New Ordinary Shares and thereafter as capital gain. Because the Company does not calculate earnings and profits under US federal income tax principles, it is expected that distributions generally will be reported to US Holders as dividends. Dividends will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction generally available to US corporations under the Code, and will not be eligible for the favourable tax rates applicable to "qualified dividend income" of certain non-corporate US persons. The amount of any dividend income paid in euros will be the US dollar amount calculated by reference to the exchange rate in effect on the date of receipt, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into US dollars. If the dividend is converted into US dollars on the date of receipt, a US Holder should not be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss in respect of the dividend income. A US Holder may have foreign currency gain or loss, which will be US source ordinary income or loss, if the dividend is converted into US dollars after the date of receipt. A US Holder's tax basis in the euros received will equal the US dollar amount thereof included in income.

Dividends will be treated as foreign-source income for purposes of the foreign tax credit rules. For US federal income tax purposes, the amount of the dividend income will include amounts withheld in respect of Spanish withholding tax. Spanish taxes withheld from dividend payments at a rate not exceeding any applicable rate under the Treaty generally will be creditable against the US Holder's federal income tax liability, subject to applicable limitations that vary depending on the US Holder's circumstances. Any Spanish income taxes withheld in excess of the applicable Treaty rate will not be eligible for credit against a US Holder's US federal income tax liability. See "Spanish Tax Considerations—Non-resident Shareholders—Taxation of dividends" for a discussion on how to obtain the applicable Treaty rate. Instead of claiming a credit, a US Holder may elect to deduct such Spanish taxes in computing its taxable income, subject to applicable limitations. An election to deduct foreign taxes instead of claiming foreign tax credits must apply to all foreign taxes paid or accrued in the taxable year. The rules governing foreign tax credits are complex, and US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability or deductibility of foreign taxes in their particular circumstances.

Foreign tax credit for Spanish taxes imposed on dispositions of Ordinary Shares. As described in "Spanish Taxation—Non-resident Shareholders—Taxation on capital gains," transfers or sales of Ordinary Shares will be subject to Spanish taxation. Under the Treaty, US Holders may be able to credit Spanish taxes imposed on dispositions of Ordinary Shares, subject to applicable limitations. US Holders should consult their tax advisers as to whether they would be able to credit any such Spanish taxes against their US federal income tax liability in their particular circumstances.

Transfer reporting requirements

In certain circumstances, a US Holder that subscribes for New Ordinary Shares may be required to file Form 926 with the IRS if the Rights Offering Subscription Price paid by the US Holder, when aggregated with all transfers of cash made by the US Holder (or any related person) to the Company within the preceding twelve-month period, exceeds $100,000 (or its foreign currency equivalent).

Failure by a US Holder to timely comply with such reporting requirements may result in substantial penalties. US Holders should consult their tax advisers to determine whether this reporting requirement is applicable to them.

Information reporting and backup withholding

Payments of dividends and sales proceeds that are made within the United States or through certain US-related financial intermediaries generally are subject to information reporting and backup withholding unless the US Holder is a corporation or other exempt recipient (and, if required, establishes its status as such) or, in the case of backup withholding, the US Holder provides a correct taxpayer identification number and certifies that it is not subject to backup withholding. The amount of any backup withholding withheld from a payment to a US Holder will be allowed as a credit against the US Holder's US federal income tax liability and may entitle such US Holder to a refund, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Foreign financial asset reporting

Certain US Holders who are individuals (or entities closely-held by individuals) may be required to report information relating to their ownership of the Securities, unless the Securities are held in accounts at financial institutions (in which case the accounts may be reportable if maintained by non-US financial institutions). US Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding their reporting obligations with respect to the Securities.

17. PART XVII: CERTAIN ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of certain considerations associated with the purchase of the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights by an “employee benefit plan” (within the meaning of Section 3(3) of ERISA) that is subject to Title I of ERISA, a plan, individual retirement account or other arrangement that is subject to Section 4975 of the Code or provisions under any Similar Law, and entities whose underlying assets are considered to include “plan assets” of any such plan, account or arrangement (each, a “Plan”). This summary is general in nature and is not intended to be all-inclusive. Due to the complexity of these rules and the penalties that may be imposed upon persons involved in non-exempt prohibited transactions, it is particularly important that fiduciaries, or other persons considering purchasing the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights on behalf of, or with the assets of, any employee benefit plan, consult with their counsel to determine whether such employee benefit plan is subject to Title I of ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code or any Similar Laws.

Section 3(42) of ERISA provides that the term “plan assets” has the meaning assigned to it by such regulations as the US Department of Labor (the “Department”) may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of any entity shall not be treated as plan assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of any equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity is held by benefit plan investors. The Department has prescribed regulations (the “Plan Asset Regulations”) that generally provide that when a Plan subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (an “ERISA Plan”) acquires an equity interest in an entity that is neither a “publicly-offered security” (as defined in the Plan Asset Regulations) nor a security issued by an investment company registered under the US Investment Company Act, the ERISA Plan’s assets include both the equity interest and an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the entity unless it is established either that equity participation in the entity by “benefit plan investors” is not significant or that the entity is an “operating company,” in each case as defined in the Plan Asset Regulations. For purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations, equity participation in an entity by benefit plan investors will not be significant if they hold, in the aggregate, less than 25% of the value of any class of equity interests of such entity, excluding equity interests held by any person (other than a benefit plan investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, and any affiliates of such person. Section 3(42) of ERISA provides, in effect, that for purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations, the term “benefit plan investor” means an ERISA Plan or an entity whose underlying assets are deemed to include “plan assets” under the Plan Asset Regulations (for example, an entity 25% or more of the value of any class of equity interests of which is held by benefit plan investors and which does not satisfy another exception under the Plan Asset Regulations).

It is anticipated that (i) the New Ordinary Shares and the Preferential Subscription Rights will not constitute “publicly offered securities” for purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations, (ii) the Company will not be an investment company registered under the US Investment Company Act and (iii) the Company will not qualify as an operating company within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations. The Company will prohibit ownership by benefit plan investors in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights through deemed representations from its investors. However, no assurance can be given that investment by benefit plan investors in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights will not be “significant” for purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations.

17.1 Plan asset consequences

If the Company’s assets were deemed to be “plan assets” of an ERISA Plan whose assets were invested in the Company, this would result, among other things, in (i) the application of the prudence and other fiduciary responsibility standards of ERISA to investments made by the Company, and (ii) the possibility that certain transactions that the Company, the Investment Manager or their respective affiliates might enter into, or may have entered into, in the ordinary course of business might constitute or result in non-exempt prohibited transactions under Section 406 of ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code and might have to be rescinded. A non-exempt prohibited transaction, in addition to imposing potential liability upon fiduciaries of the ERISA Plan, may also result in the imposition of an excise tax under the Code upon a “party in interest” (as defined in ERISA), or “disqualified person” (as defined in the Code), with whom the ERISA Plan engages in the transaction. Governmental plans, certain church plans and non-US plans, while not subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, may nevertheless be subject to Similar Laws. Fiduciaries of such plans should consult with their counsel before purchasing or holding any New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights. Because of the foregoing, the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights may not be purchased or held by any person investing assets of any Plan.

17.2 Representation and Warranty

In light of the foregoing, by accepting an interest in any New Ordinary Shares or Preferential Subscription Rights, each purchaser and transferee will be deemed to have represented and warranted that no portion of the assets used to purchase or hold its interest in the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights constitutes or will constitute the assets of any Plan. Any purported purchase or holding of the New Ordinary Shares or the Preferential Subscription Rights in violation of the requirement described in the foregoing representation will be null and void ab initio.

17.3 Provisions Included in By-Laws

The By-Laws of the Company contain certain information obligations with respect to shareholders or beneficial owners of ordinary shares who are subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans (such as ERISA). Moreover, the Company will have the ability to request from any shareholder or beneficial owner of ordinary shares such information as the Company considers necessary or useful to determine whether any such person is subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans. Furthermore, according to the By-Laws, the Company will be able to take any measures it deems appropriate to avoid any adverse effects to the Company or its shareholders resulting from the application of laws and regulation relating to pension funds or benefit plans (in particular, ERISA). The purpose of these provisions is to provide the Company with the ability to minimize the risk that Benefit Plan Investors (or other similar investors) hold 25% or greater of any class of equity interest in the Company.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the general shareholders' meeting held on 21 April 2016 granted to the Board, with the express power of substitution, for a term of five years, (i) the power to issue debentures or bonds that are exchangeable for and/or convertible into shares of the Company or of other companies within or outside of its group, and warrants on newly-issued or outstanding shares of the Company or of other companies within or outside of its group, up to a maximum limit of €400 million; (ii) the authorisation to issue debentures, bonds or fixed rent securities up to a maximum limit of €500 million or to issue promissory notes also up to a maximum limit of €500 million; (iii) the power to increase the share capital up to a maximum equivalent to 50% of the Company's share capital as of 21 April 2016 or to 20% of the Company's share capital as of such date in the event of exclusion of preferential subscription rights; and (iv) the authorisation to acquire treasury stock under the terms and limits of the current applicable law. This authorisation superseded the authorisation of 18 December 2015 referred to below.

On 18 December 2015, the general shareholders' meeting had granted to the Board, with the express power of substitution, for a term of five years, the power to increase the Company's share capital up to a maximum equivalent to 50% of the share capital as of 18 December 2015. By virtue of this delegation, the Board executed a capital increase of €1,258,654 on 29 April 2016, in order to pay the Investment Manager the Performance Fee relating to 2015 which amounted to 629,327 shares.

In order to maintain the ratio between the number of Preferential Subscription Rights and the number of New Ordinary Shares, the Company undertakes to not sell or acquire any treasury shares up to at least 23:59 (Madrid time) on 8 July 2016.

18.4 Interests of major shareholders

Under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, the Company may become subject to a 19% Corporate Income Tax on the amount of dividends received by a Substantial Shareholder. The Company's By-Laws contain indemnity obligations from Substantial Shareholders in favour of the Company designed to discourage the possibility that dividends may become payable to Substantial Shareholders. If a dividend payment is made to a Substantial Shareholder, the Company will be entitled to deduct an amount equivalent to the tax expenses incurred by the Company on such dividend payment from the amount to be paid to such Substantial Shareholder. These provisions are summarised at section 6 of this Part XVIII ("Additional Information").

18.5 Tender offers

Tender offers are governed in Spain by the Spanish Securities Market Act and Royal Decree 1066/2007, of 27 July 2007, which have implemented Directive 2004/25/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 April 2004. Tender offers in Spain may qualify as either mandatory or voluntary offers.

Mandatory public tender offers must be launched for all the shares of the target company or other securities that might directly or indirectly give the right to subscription thereto or acquisition thereof (including convertible and exchangeable bonds) at an equitable price and not subject to any conditions when any person acquires control of a Spanish company listed on the Spanish Stock Exchanges, whether such control is obtained:

- by means of the acquisition of shares or other securities that directly or indirectly give the right to subscribe or acquire voting shares in such company;
- through agreements with shareholders or other holders of said securities; or
- as a result of other situations of equivalent effect as provided in the regulations (i.e., indirect control acquired through mergers, share capital decreases, target's treasury stock variations or securities exchange or conversion, etc.).

A person is deemed to have obtained the control of a target company, individually or jointly with concerted parties, whenever:

- it acquires directly or indirectly a percentage of voting rights equal to or greater than 30%; or
- it has acquired a percentage of less than 30% of the voting rights and appoints, in the 24 months following the date of acquisition of said percentage, a number of directors that, together with those already appointed, if any, represent more than one-half of the members of the target company's board of directors. Regulations also set forth certain situations where directors are deemed to have been appointed by the bidder or persons acting in concert therewith unless evidence to the contrary is provided.

Notwithstanding the above, Spanish regulations establish certain exceptional situations where control is obtained but no mandatory tender offer is required, including, among others:

- subject to the CNMV's approval, acquisitions or other transactions resulting from the conversion or capitalization of claims into shares of listed companies the financial feasibility of which is subject to serious and imminent danger, even if the company is not undergoing bankruptcy proceedings, provided that such transactions are intended to ensure the company's financial recovery in the long-term; or
- in the event of a merger, provided that those acquiring control did not vote in favour of the merger at the relevant general shareholders' meeting of the offeree company and provided also that it can be shown that the primary purpose of the transaction is not the takeover but an industrial or corporate purpose; and
- when control has been obtained after a voluntary bid for all of the securities, if either the bid has been made at an equitable price or has been accepted by holders of securities representing at least 50 per cent of the voting rights to which the bid was directed.

For the purposes of calculating the percentages of voting rights acquired, the regulations establish the following rules:

- percentages of voting rights corresponding to (i) companies belonging to the same group of the bidder; (ii) members of the board of directors of the bidder or of companies of its group; (iii) persons acting for the account of or in concert with the bidder (a concert party shall be deemed to exist when two or more persons collaborate under an agreement, be it express or implied, oral or written, in order to obtain control of the offeree company); (iv) voting rights exercised freely and over an extended period by the bidder under proxy granted by the actual holders or owners of such rights, in the absence of specific instructions with respect thereto; and (v) shares held by a nominee, such nominee being understood as a third-party whom the bidder totally or partially covers against the risks inherent in acquisitions or transfers of the shares or the possession thereof, will be deemed to be held by the bidder (including the voting rights attaching to shares that constitute the underlying asset or the subject matter of financial contracts or swaps when such contracts or swaps cover, in whole or in part, against the risks inherent in ownership of the securities and have, as a result, an effect similar to that of holding shares through a nominee);

- both the voting rights arising from the ownership of shares and those enjoyed under a usufruct or pledge or upon any other title of a contractual nature will be counted towards establishing the number of voting rights held;
- the percentage of voting rights shall be calculated based on the entire number of shares carrying voting rights, even if the exercise of such rights has been suspended; voting rights attached to treasury shares held directly or indirectly by the target company as per the information available on the date of calculation of the percentage of voting rights shall be excluded; and non-voting shares shall be taken into consideration only when they carry voting rights pursuant to applicable law; and
- acquisitions of securities or other financial instruments giving the right to the subscription, conversion, exchange or acquisition of shares which carry voting rights will not result in the obligation to launch a tender offer either until such subscription, conversion, exchange or acquisition occurs.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, upon the terms established in the regulations, the CNMV will conditionally dispense with the obligation to launch a mandatory bid when another person or entity not in concert with the potential bidder directly or indirectly holds an equal or greater voting percentage in the target company.

The price of the mandatory tender offer is deemed equitable when it is at least equal to the highest price paid or agreed by the bidder or by any person acting in concert therewith for the same securities during the 12 months prior to the announcement of the tender offer. When the mandatory tender offer must be made without the bidder having previously acquired the shares over the above-mentioned 12-month period, the equitable price shall not be less than the price calculated in accordance with other rules set forth in the regulations. In any case, the CNMV may change the price so calculated in certain circumstances (extraordinary events affecting the price, evidence of market manipulation, etc.).

Mandatory offers must be launched within one month from the acquisition of the control of the target company. Voluntary tender offers may be launched when a mandatory offer is not required. Voluntary offers are subject to the same rules established for mandatory offers except for the following:

- they might be subject to certain conditions (such as amendments to the by-laws or adoption of certain resolutions by the target company, acceptance of the offer by a minimum number of securities, approval of the offer by the shareholders meeting of the bidder; and any other deemed by the CNMV to be in accordance with law), provided that such conditions can be met before the end of the acceptance period of the offer; and
- they may be launched at any price, regardless of whether it is lower than the abovementioned “equitable price”. However, if they are not launched at an equitable price and if tender offer shares representing less than 50% of the voting rights are tendered in the offer (excluding voting rights already held by the bidder and those belonging to shareholders who entered into an agreement with the bidder regarding the tender offer), the bidder may become obliged to launch a mandatory tender offer.

In any case, by virtue of an amendment to the Spanish Companies Act pursuant to Law 1/2012, of 22 June, if certain circumstances have occurred during the two years prior to the announcement of the offer (basically, the trading price for the shares being affected by price manipulation practices, market or share prices being affected by natural disasters, force majeure, or other exceptional events, or the target company being subject to expropriation or confiscation resulting in a significant impairment of the company’s real value), the price in a voluntary tender offer must be the higher of (i) the equitable price and (ii) the price resulting from an independent valuation report, and must at least consist of cash as an alternative.

Spanish regulations on tender offers set forth further provisions, including:

- subject to shareholder approval within 18 months from the date of announcement of the tender offer, the board of directors of a target company will be exempt from the rule prohibiting frustrating action against a foreign bidder whose board of directors is not subject to an equivalent passivity rule;

- defensive measures included in a listed company's by-laws and transfer and voting restrictions included in agreements among a listed company's shareholders will remain in place whenever the company is the target of a tender offer, unless the shareholders resolve otherwise (in which case any shareholders whose rights are diluted or otherwise adversely affected will be entitled to compensation at the target company's expense); and
- squeeze-out and sell-out rights will apply provided that following a tender offer for all the target's share capital, the bidder holds securities representing at least 90% of the target company's voting capital and the tender offer has been accepted by the holders of securities representing at least 90% of the voting rights other than those held by or attributable to the bidder previously to the offer.

18.6 By-laws and certain applicable regulations

The following is a summary of the By-Laws of the Company. Any shareholder requiring further detail than that provided in the summary is advised to consult the By-Laws which are available at the corporate website of the Company (www.larespana.com).

18.6.1 Share capital

At the date of this Prospectus, the issued share capital of the Company consists of €21,254,166 divided into a single series of 60,627,083 registered shares in book-entry form, with a nominal value of €2.00 each. All of these shares are fully paid. Non-residents of Spain may hold shares and vote, subject to the restrictions described under "Restrictions on Foreign Investment".

18.6.2 Dividend and liquidation rights

Payment of dividends is proposed by the Board and must be authorized by the shareholders at a general meeting. Shareholders participate in such dividends from the date agreed by a general meeting.

The Spanish Companies Act requires each company to contribute at least 10% of its net income each year to a legal reserve until the balance of such reserve is equivalent to at least 20% of such company's issued share capital. A company's legal reserve is not available for distribution to its shareholders except upon such company's liquidation. The legal reserve of the Company will not exceed 20% of the share capital of the Company. The Company's By-Laws do not establish any reserve that is not available for distribution to its shareholders.

According to the Spanish Companies Act, dividends may only be paid out of profits (after the necessary transfer to mandatory reserves or distributable reserves and only if the value of the Company's net worth is not, and as a result of distribution would not be, less than its share capital).

In addition, no profits may be distributed unless the amount of the distributable reserves is at least equal to the amount of the research and development expenses recorded as an asset in the Company's statement of financial position.

The Spanish Companies Act also requires the creation of a non-distributable reserve equal to the amount of goodwill recorded as an asset on the statement of financial position and that an amount at least equal to 5.0% of such goodwill be transferred from the profit from each financial year to such non-distributable reserve until such time as the non-distributable reserve is of an amount at least equal to the goodwill recorded on the statement of financial position. If, in any given financial year, there are no profits or there are insufficient profits to transfer an amount equal to 5.0% of the goodwill recorded on the statement of financial position, the Spanish Companies Act requires that the shortfall be transferred from freely distributable reserves to the non-distributable reserve.

In accordance with Section 947 of the Spanish Commercial Code, the right to a dividend lapses and reverts to the Company if it is not claimed within five years after it becomes payable.

Upon liquidation of the Company, shareholders would be entitled to receive proportionately any assets remaining after the payment of the Company's debts, taxes and expenses of the liquidation.

18.6.3 Company's indemnity from Substantial Shareholder's CIT liability and shareholders' reporting obligation

The By-Laws require any shareholder to give notice to the Company's Board of any acquisition of ordinary shares which results in such shareholder reaching a stake in the Company equal to or higher than 5% of its share capital. Furthermore, together with this notice, such shareholder must provide evidence of its tax residence and status (i.e., such shareholder must provide a certificate issued by the relevant tax authorities of its country of residence, indicating the following: (i) that, according to the records of such authorities, such shareholder is a tax resident of such country and (ii) the rate at which dividends from the Company are subject to taxation in the relevant country).

A shareholder will be deemed to be a Substantial Shareholder if it holds a stake equal to or higher than 5% of the share capital of the Company and either (i) is exempt from any tax on the dividends or subject to tax on the dividends received at a rate lower than 10% (for these purposes, final tax due under the Spanish Non Resident Income Tax Law is also taken into consideration) or (ii) does not timely provide the Company with the information evidencing its equal or higher than 10% taxation on dividends distributed by the Company in the terms set forth in the By-Laws.

The Company will be subject to a special levy when paying dividends to domestic or foreign Substantial Shareholders. In particular, a SOCIMI must assess and pay a 19% Corporate Income Tax in respect of gross dividends distributed to Substantial Shareholders.

The DGT has recently issued two binding rulings (n.3308-14 and n.0323-15) indicating that the 10% test to be carried out in order to identify substantial shareholders shall be focused on the tax liability arising from the dividend income considered individually, taking into account (a) exemptions and tax credits affecting the dividends received by the shareholder, and (b) those expenses incurred by the shareholder which are directly linked to the dividend income (e.g., fees paid in relation to the management of the shareholding in the relevant SOCIMI distributing the dividends, or financial expenses (interest) deriving from the financing obtained to fund the acquisition of the shares of the relevant SOCIMI). According to these rulings, the tax treatment applicable to other items of income that may be obtained by the shareholder should not be taken into account. In addition, the DGT has confirmed that the withholding tax levied on a dividend payment should also be taken into consideration by the shareholder for assessing this 10% threshold.

According to the Company's Bylaws, if a dividend payment is made to a Substantial Shareholder, the Company will be entitled to deduct an amount equal to the CIT liability levied on any dividend distribution paid to it, increased in the amount that, once such CIT is deducted, offsets the CIT expense derived for the Company under the Spanish SOCIMI Regime, from the amount to be paid to such Substantial Shareholder.

For example, assuming that: (i) a gross dividend of €100 is due to a Substantial Shareholder, (ii) the CIT rate applicable to dividend distributions made to such Substantial Shareholder is 19% (in accordance with the provisions of the Spanish SOCIMI Regime relating to dividend distributions to Substantial Shareholders) and (iii) the Company is subject to a 0% CIT rate on any indemnity amount to be deducted from the dividend payment to such Substantial Shareholder, the indemnity amount to be deducted to such Substantial Shareholder will be the following:

Gross Dividend: €100

Special Taxation CIT Expense ("CITst"): €19

Indemnity amount to be deducted ("I"): €19

CIT tax base for the indemnity ("TBI"): €19

CIT Expense derived from the indemnity ("CITi"): €0

Effect for the Company: $C - CITst - CITi = 19 - 19 - 0 = €0$

The By-Laws include provisions for this calculation in case of an eventual amendment of the CIT rate applicable to SOCIMIs. In this event, the indemnity amount to be deducted from the amount to be paid to the Substantial Shareholder will be calculated taking into account its effect on the income statement of the Company (i.e., the amount of the indemnity to be paid would be increased to reflect the taxation of the indemnity or any other cost for the purposes of the Company CIT).

The purpose of providing the Company with the right to make these deductions is to offset any adverse impact resulting from the distribution of dividends to a Substantial Shareholder on the Company.

The Board may elect not to make these deductions in full or at all from dividend payments to a Substantial Shareholder in the event that, as a result of making such deductions, the Company would be in a worse position than if it did not make them.

The Spanish General Directorate of Taxes (DGT) has confirmed that any indemnity payment received from a Substantial Shareholder will compute towards the SOCIMI Regime requirement that at least 80% of the Company's net annual income must derive from rental income and from dividends or capital gains in respect of certain specified assets.

18.6.4 Provisions relating to shareholders who are subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans

The By-Laws of the Company contain certain information obligations with respect to shareholders or beneficial owners of ordinary shares who are subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans (such as ERISA). Moreover, the Company will have the ability to request from any shareholder or beneficial owner of ordinary shares such information as the Company considers necessary or useful to determine whether any such person is subject to a special legal regime applicable to pension funds or benefit plans. Furthermore, according to the By-Laws, the Company will be able to take any measures it deems appropriate to avoid any adverse effects to the Company or its shareholders resulting from the application of laws and regulation relating to pension funds or benefit plans (in particular, ERISA). The purpose of these provisions is to provide the Company with the ability to minimize the risk that Benefit Plan Investors (or other similar investors) hold 25% or greater of any class of equity interest in the Company.

18.6.5 Shareholders' meetings and voting rights

Pursuant to the By-Laws, rules of the general shareholders' meeting of the Company and the Spanish Companies Act, ordinary annual general shareholders' meetings are held during the first six months of each fiscal year on a date fixed by the Board. Extraordinary general shareholders' meetings may be called by the Board whenever it deems appropriate, or at the request of shareholders representing at least 3% of the share capital. Notices of all general shareholders' meetings are published in the Commercial Registry's Official Gazette (Boletín Oficial del Registro Mercantil) or a newspaper widely circulated in Spain, as well as on the corporate website of the Company (www.larespana.com) and at the website of the CNMV (www.cnmv.es) at least one month prior to the meeting.

In addition, according to the Spanish Companies Act, if the Company offers to shareholders the possibility to vote by electronic means accessible to all shareholders, the time limit for calling extraordinary shareholders' meetings may be reduced to at least 15 days before an extraordinary shareholders' meeting. The decision to abbreviate the period between the notice date and the extraordinary shareholders' meeting is to be taken by a majority of not less than two thirds of the voting capital in an ordinary annual general shareholders' meeting, and remains in force until no later than the following annual general shareholders' meeting.

The abbreviation of the time limit for calling extraordinary shareholders' meetings under the terms set out in the preceding paragraph was submitted to vote under item 12 on the agenda of the annual ordinary general shareholders' meeting of the Company held on 28 April 2015, but it could not be approved since the necessary quorum of attendance and voting to allow for the adoption of said resolution with the favourable vote of at least two thirds of the subscribed voting capital (the majority established for this resolution by the Spanish Companies Act) was not reached.

Action is taken at ordinary meetings on the following matters: the approval of the management carried out by the Directors, the approval of the annual accounts from the previous fiscal year, and the application of the previous fiscal year's income or loss. All other matters can be considered at either an extraordinary meeting or at an ordinary meeting if the matter is within the authority of the meeting and is included on the agenda.

Each ordinary share entitles the holder to one vote and there is no limit as to the maximum number of voting rights that may be held by each shareholder or by companies of the same group. Shareholders on record as holding any number of shares with voting rights are entitled to attend the general shareholders' meeting with the right to speak and vote. The notice calling the general shareholders' meeting shall indicate the date on which shares must be held by a shareholder in order for the latter to participate in a general meeting and to vote in respect of his shares.

Only holders of shares duly registered in the book-entry records maintained by Iberclear, and its member entities, at least five days prior to the day on which a general shareholders' meeting is scheduled and in the manner provided in the notice for such meeting, may attend and vote at such meeting.

Any ordinary share may be voted by proxy. Proxies must be in writing or in electronic form acceptable under the By-Laws, and are valid for a single general shareholders' meeting. Proxies may be given to any person, whether or not a shareholder. Proxies must specifically refer to the general shareholders' meeting. A proxy may be revoked by giving notice to the Company prior to the meeting or by attendance by the relevant shareholder at the meeting.

Proxy holders are required to disclose any conflict of interest prior to their appointment. In case a conflict of interest arises after the proxy holder's appointment, such conflict of interest shall be immediately disclosed to the relevant shareholder. In both cases, the proxy holder shall not exercise the shareholder's rights unless the latter has given specific voting instructions for each resolution in respect of which the proxy holder is to vote on behalf of the shareholder. A conflict of interest in this context may in particular arise where the proxy holder: (i) is a controlling shareholder of the Company, or is another entity controlled by such shareholder; (ii) is a member of the administrative, management or supervisory bodies of the Company, or of a controlling shareholder or another entity controlled by such shareholder; (iii) is an employee or auditor, of the Company, or of a controlling shareholder or another entity controlled by such shareholder; or (iv) is a natural person related to those mentioned in (i) to (iii) above.

A person acting as a proxy holder may hold a proxy from more than one shareholder without limitation as to the number of shareholders so represented. Where a proxy holder holds proxies from several shareholders, he/she will be able to cast votes for a shareholder differently from votes cast for another shareholder.

Pursuant to the Spanish Companies Act, entities rendering investment services may exercise voting rights on behalf of their clients when the latter appoint them as proxy holders. Financial intermediaries so appointed may cast votes for a shareholder differently from votes cast for another shareholder.

The By-Laws of the Company provide that, on the first call of an ordinary or extraordinary general shareholders' meeting, the presence in person or by proxy of shareholders representing at least 25.0% of its voting capital will constitute a quorum. If on the first call a quorum is not present, the meeting can be reconvened by a second call, which according to the Spanish Companies Act requires no quorum. However, according to the Spanish Companies Act, a resolution in a general shareholders' meeting to modify the By-Laws of the Company (including increases and reductions of share capital, bond issues, suppressions or limitations on the pre-emptive right over new shares, transformations, mergers, spin-offs, global assignments of assets and liabilities and the transfer of the registered address of the Company abroad), requires the presence in person or by proxy of shareholders representing at least 50.0% of the voting capital of the Company on first call, and the presence in person or by proxy of shareholders representing at least 25.0% of the voting capital of the Company on second call. On second call, and in the event that less than 50.0% of the voting capital of the Company is represented in person or by proxy, such resolutions may only be passed upon the vote of shareholders representing two-thirds of the Company's capital present or represented at such meeting. The interval between the first and the second call for a general shareholders' meeting must be at least 24 hours. Resolutions in all other cases are passed by a majority of the votes corresponding to the capital stock present or represented at such meeting.

Under the Spanish Companies Act, shareholders who voluntarily aggregate their shares so that the capital stock so aggregated is equal to or greater than the result of dividing the total capital stock by the number of Directors have the right, provided there are vacancies on the Board, to appoint a corresponding proportion of the members of the Board (disregarding the fractions). Shareholders who exercise this right may not vote on the appointment of other Directors.

A resolution passed in a general shareholders' meeting is binding on all shareholders, although a resolution which is (i) contrary to Spanish law or the by-laws of the company, or (ii) prejudicial to the interest of the company and is beneficial to one or more shareholders or third parties, may be contested. In the case of resolutions contrary to Spanish law, the right to contest is extended to all shareholders, directors and interested third parties. In the case of resolutions prejudicial to the interest of the company or contrary to the by-laws, such right is extended to shareholders who attended the general shareholders' meeting and recorded their opposition in the minutes, to shareholders who were absent and to those unlawfully prevented from casting their vote as well as to members of the Board. In certain circumstances (such as a significant modification of corporate purpose or change of the corporate form or transfer of domicile to a foreign country), the Spanish Companies Act gives dissenting or absent shareholders the right to withdraw from the company. If this right were exercised, the company would be obliged to purchase the relevant shareholding(s) in accordance with the procedures established under the Spanish Companies Act.

18.6.6 Shareholders right of information

The New Ordinary Shares grant their holders the right of information foreseen in the Spanish Companies Act, as well as any other rights which, as special manifestations of this right of information, are gathered in the Spanish Securities Market Act and in Law 3/2009, of 3 April, on structural changes in corporations (Ley 3/2009, de 3 de abril, sobre modificaciones estructurales de las sociedades mercantiles).

18.6.7 Shareholder suits

Under the Spanish Companies Act, the Directors are liable to the Company, the shareholders and the creditors for acts or omissions that are illegal or violate the By-Laws and for failure to carry out their legal duties with diligence.

Under Spanish law, shareholders must bring actions against the directors as well as any other actions against the Company or challenging corporate resolutions in the province where the Company is domiciled (currently Madrid, Spain).

18.6.8 Registration and transfers

The Ordinary Shares of the Company are in book-entry form and are indivisible. Joint holders of one share must designate a single person to exercise their shareholders' rights, but they are jointly and severally liable to the Company for all the obligations flowing from their status as shareholders, such as the payment of any pending capital calls.

Iberclear, which manages the Spanish clearance and settlement system of the Spanish Stock Exchanges, maintains the central registry reflecting the number of shares held by each of its member entities (entidades participantes) as well as the amount of these shares held by beneficial owners. Each member entity, in turn, maintains a registry of the owners of such shares. Since the ordinary shares of the Company are in registered form, an electronic shareholder registry will be kept to which effect Iberclear shall report to the Company all transactions entered into by its shareholders in respect of its ordinary shares.

Transfers of shares quoted on the Spanish Stock Exchanges must be made through or with the participation of a member of a Spanish Stock Exchange. Brokerage firms, official stockbroker or dealer firms, Spanish credit entities, investment services entities authorized in other EU member states and investment services entities authorized by their relevant authorities and in compliance with the Spanish regulations are eligible to be members of the Spanish Stock Exchanges. The transfer of shares may be subject to certain fees and expenses.

18.6.9 Restrictions on foreign investment

Exchange controls and foreign investments were, with certain exceptions, completely liberalized by Royal Decree 664/1999, of April 23, 1999 (Royal Decree 664/1999), in conjunction with the Spanish Foreign Investment Law (Ley 18/1992), bringing the existing legal framework on foreign investments in line with the provisions of the Treaty of the European Union.

Subject to the restrictions described below, foreign investors may freely invest in shares of Spanish companies as well as transfer invested capital, capital gains and dividends out of Spain without limitation (subject to applicable taxes and exchange controls) and only need to file a notification with the Spanish Registry of Foreign Investments maintained by the General Bureau of Commerce and Investments following the investment or divestiture, if any, solely for statistical, economic and administrative purposes. Where the investment or divestiture is made in shares of Spanish companies listed on any of the Spanish Stock Exchanges, the duty to provide notice of a foreign investment or divestiture lies with the relevant entity with whom the shares in book-entry form have been deposited or which has acted as an intermediary in connection with the investment or divestiture.

If the foreign investor is a resident of a tax haven, as defined under Spanish law (Royal Decree 1080/1991 of 5 July), notice must be provided to the Registry of Foreign Investments prior to making the investment, as well as after consummating the transaction. However, prior notification is not necessary in the following cases:

- investments in listed securities, whether or not trading on an official secondary market, as well as investments in participations in investment funds registered with the CNMV; and
- foreign shareholdings that do not exceed 50.0% of the capital of the Spanish company in which the investment is made.

Additional regulations to those described above apply to investments in some specific industries, including air transportation, mining, manufacturing and sales of weapons and explosives for civil use and national defence, radio, television and telecommunications. These restrictions do not apply to investments made by EU residents, other than investments by EU residents in activities relating to the Spanish defence sector or the manufacturing and sale of weapons and explosives for non-military use.

The Spanish Council of Ministers may suspend the aforementioned provisions relating to foreign investments for reasons of public policy, health or safety, either generally or in respect of investments in specified industries, in which case any proposed foreign investments falling within the scope of such a suspension would be subject to prior authorization from the Spanish government.

18.6.10 Exchange control regulations

Pursuant to Royal Decree 1816/1991 of December 20, 1991 relating to economic transactions with non-residents, and EC Directive 88/361/EEC, charges, payments or transfers between non-residents and residents of Spain must be made through a registered entity, such as a bank or another financial institution registered with the Bank of Spain and/or the CNMV (entidades registradas), through bank accounts opened abroad with a foreign bank or a foreign branch of a registered entity, in cash or by check payable to bearer. All charges, payments or transfers which exceed €6,010, if made in cash or by check payable to bearer, must be notified to the Spanish exchange control authorities.

18.6.11 Pre-emptive rights and increases of share capital

Pursuant to the Spanish Companies Act, shareholders have pre-emptive rights to subscribe for any new shares issued by the Company via monetary contributions and for any new bonds convertible into shares. Such pre-emptive rights may be waived under special circumstances by a resolution passed at a general shareholders' meeting or the board of directors (when the company is listed and the general shareholders' meeting delegates to the board of directors the right to increase the capital stock or issue convertible bonds and waive pre-emptive rights), in accordance with Articles 308, 417, 504, 505, 506 and 511 of the Spanish Companies Act. Furthermore, the pre-emptive rights, in any event, will not be available in an increase in share capital to meet the requirements of a convertible bond issue or a merger in which shares are issued as consideration.

The rights are transferable, may be traded on the SIBE (Sistema de Interconexión Bursátil or Mercado Continuo) and may be of value to existing shareholders because new shares may be offered for subscription at prices lower than prevailing market prices.

18.6.12 Reporting requirements

In addition to reporting obligations imposed on Substantial Shareholders, pursuant to Royal Decree 1362/2007 of 19 October 2007 as amended, any individual or legal entity who, by whatever means, purchases or transfers shares which grant voting rights in a company for which Spain is listed as the home State (Estado de origen) (as defined therein) and which is listed on a secondary official market or other regulated market in the EU, must notify the relevant issuer and the CNMV, if, as a result of such transaction, the proportion of voting rights held by that individual or legal entity reaches, exceeds or falls below a 3.0% threshold of the company's total voting rights. The notification obligations are also triggered at thresholds of 5.0% and multiples thereof (excluding 55.0%, 65.0%, 85.0%, 95.0% and 100.0%).

The individual or legal entity obliged to carry out the notification must serve the notification by means of the form approved by the CNMV from time to time for such purpose, within four business days from the date on which the transaction is acknowledged (Royal Decree 1362/2007 deems a transaction to be acknowledged within two business days from the date on which such transaction is entered into). Should the individual or legal entity effecting the transaction be a non-resident of Spain, notice must also be given to the Spanish Registry of Foreign Investments maintained by the General Bureau of Commerce and Investments.

The reporting requirements apply not only to the purchase or transfer of shares, but also to those transactions in which, without a purchase or transfer, the proportion of voting rights of an individual or legal entity reaches, exceeds or falls below the threshold that triggers the obligation to report as a consequence of a change in the total number of voting rights of a company on the basis of the information reported to the CNMV and disclosed by it.

Regardless of the actual ownership of the shares, any individual or legal entity with a right to acquire, transfer or exercise voting rights granted by the shares, and any individual or legal entity who owns, acquires or transfers, whether directly or indirectly, other securities or financial instruments which grant a right to acquire shares with voting rights, will also have an obligation to notify the company and the CNMV of the holding of a significant stake in accordance with the regulations.

Should the person or group effecting the transaction be resident in a tax haven (as defined by applicable Spanish regulations), the threshold that triggers the obligation to disclose the acquisition or disposition of the Company's ordinary shares is reduced to 1% (and successive multiples thereof).

The Company will be required to report to the CNMV any acquisition of its own ordinary shares which, aggregated together with all other acquisitions since the last notification, reaches or exceeds 1% of its share capital (irrespective of whether it has sold any of its own ordinary shares in the same period). In such circumstances, the notification must include the number of ordinary shares acquired since the last notification (detailed by transaction), the number of ordinary shares sold (detailed by transaction) and the resulting net holding of treasury ordinary shares.

All members of the Board must report to both the Company and the CNMV any percentage or number of voting rights held by them at the time of becoming or ceasing to become a member of the Board within four trading days.

In certain circumstances established by Royal Decree 1362/2007, the notification requirements on the acquisition or transfer of shares also apply to any individual or legal entity that, directly or indirectly, and independently of the ownership of the shares or financial instruments, may acquire, transmit or exercise the voting rights granted by those shares or financial instruments, provided that the aggregate proportion of voting rights of such person reaches, increases above or decreases below, the thresholds set forth above.

In addition, pursuant to Royal Decree 1333/2005 of 11 November 2005 (implementing European Directive 2004/72/EC), any member of the Board or senior managers (directivos) of the Company, as defined therein and any persons having a close link (vínculo estrecho) with any of them must similarly report any acquisition or disposal of ordinary shares of the Company, derivative or financial instruments linked to ordinary shares of the Company regardless of the size, including information on the percentage of voting rights which they hold as a result of the relevant transaction within five business days. In addition, any member of the Board or senior managers (directivos) of the Company, as defined therein must also report any stock based compensation that they may receive pursuant to any of the Company's compensation plans.

The Spanish Companies Act requires parties to disclose certain types of shareholders' agreements that affect the exercise of voting rights at a general shareholders' meeting or contain restrictions or conditions on the transferability of shares or bonds that are convertible or exchangeable into shares. If shareholders enter into such agreements with respect to the Company's ordinary shares, they must disclose the execution, amendment or extension of such agreements to the Company and to the CNMV, and file such agreements with the appropriate commercial registry.

Moreover, in accordance with Regulation (EU) No. 236/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 March 2012 on short selling and certain aspects of credit default swaps (as further supplemented by several delegated regulations regulating technical aspects necessary for its effective enforceability and to ensure compliance with its provisions), persons or entities having a net short position in relation to the issued share capital of a company that has shares admitted to trading on a trading venue shall notify the relevant competent authority where the position reaches or falls below a percentage that equals 0.2% of the issued share capital of the company concerned and each 0.1% above that. In addition, details of any net short position reaching or falling below a percentage that equals 0.5% of the issued share capital of the company concerned and each 0.1% above that must be publicly disclosed before 15:30 (Madrid time) on the following trading day.

In addition, on 19 December 2007 the CNMV issued Circular 3/2007 setting out the requirements to be met by liquidity contracts entered into by issuers with financial institutions for the management of their treasury shares to constitute an accepted market practice and, therefore, be able to rely on a safe harbour for the purposes of market abuse regulations.

18.6.13 Share repurchases

Pursuant to the Spanish Companies Act, the Company may only repurchase its own ordinary shares within certain limits and in compliance with the following requirements:

- the repurchase must be authorized by the general shareholders' meeting in a resolution establishing the maximum number of ordinary shares to be acquired, the minimum and maximum acquisition price and the duration of the authorization, which may not exceed five years from the date of the resolution; and
- the repurchase, including the ordinary shares already acquired and currently held by the Company, or any person or company acting in its own name but on the Company's behalf, must not bring its net worth below the aggregate amount of the Company's share capital and legal reserves.

For these purposes, net worth means the amount resulting from the application of the criteria used to draw up the financial statements, subtracting the amount of profits directly imputed to that net worth, and adding the amount of share capital subscribed but not called and the share capital nominal and issue premiums recorded in the Company's accounts as liabilities. In addition:

- the aggregate nominal value of the ordinary shares directly or indirectly repurchased, together with the aggregate nominal value of the ordinary shares already held by the Company and its subsidiaries, must not exceed 10% of the Company's share capital; and
- the ordinary shares repurchased must be fully paid-up. A repurchase shall be considered null and void if (i) the ordinary shares are partially paid-up, except in the case of free repurchase, or (ii) the ordinary shares entail ancillary obligations.

Treasury shares do not have voting rights or economic rights (for example, the right to receive dividends and other distributions and liquidation rights), except the right to receive bonus shares, which will accrue proportionately to all of the Company's shareholders. Treasury shares are counted for purposes of establishing the quorum for general shareholders' meetings as well as majority voting requirements to pass resolutions at general shareholders' meetings.

Regulation 596/2014 of 16 April, repealing, among others, Directive 2003/6/EC of the European Parliament and the European Council dated 28 January 2003 on insider dealing and market manipulation establishes rules in order to ensure the integrity of European Community financial markets and to enhance investor confidence in those markets. This regulation provides an exemption from the market manipulation rules for share buy-back programs by companies listed on a stock exchange in an EU member state. Article 5 of this Regulation states that in order to benefit from the exemption, a buy-back program must comply with certain requirements established under such Regulation 596/2014, and the sole purpose of the buy-back program must be to reduce the share capital of an issuer (in value or in number of shares) or to meet obligations arising from either of the following:

- debt financial instruments exchangeable into equity instruments; or
- employee share option programs or other allocations of shares to employees or to members of the administrative, management or supervisory bodies of the issuer or an associated company.

PIMCO

Pursuant to the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement (as defined herein) the Anchor Investor agreed to subscribe for an aggregate of 5,000,000 Ordinary Shares in the context of the Company’s initial public offering. As provided in the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, the Anchor Investor was granted a right of first offer with respect to certain Commercial Property Investments undertaken by the Company and a right of first offer with respect to certain Residential Property Investments undertaken by the Investment Manager. While the Anchor Investor does not have a first offer with respect to residential projects undertaken by the Company, on 30 January 2015, the Company, through two respective joint venture companies with the PIMCO Investor, each of the joint ventures 50% owned by each of Lar España and the PIMCO Investor, formalised the acquisition of the Lagasca 99 plot and a residential building located at Calle Claudio Coello 108 (which was subsequently sold in January 2016).

The fees paid to the Investment Manager in connection with Lagasca 99 are already included in the Management Fees, and therefore, do not imply additional costs for the Company beyond those included in the Management Fees.

In addition, each of the Company and the PIMCO Investor has lent an aggregate of €50 million to the two joint venture vehicles involved in the acquisition of the two properties referred to above (i.e. Inmobiliaria Juan Bravo 3, S.L. and Lavernia Investments, S.L.).

For more information on the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement see section 11.4 of this Part XVIII (“Additional Information”).

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager has been appointed on an exclusive basis to (subject to certain reserved matters described under “Reserved matters” below): (i) acquire real estate properties on behalf and for the account of the Company using the Company’s cash assets and manage the property and property-related assets of the Company, pursuant to and in accordance with the Investment Strategy and to enter into any agreement, contract, transaction or arrangement in relation to the purchase, acquisition, holding, exchange, transfer, sale or disposal of any property or property-related investment in Spain and has full authority to bind the Company in connection therewith and to delegate such authority; (ii) provide or procure the provision of various accounting, administrative, registration, reporting (including assistance and cooperation for due reporting by the Company to the CNMV), record keeping and other services to the Company as the Company may from time to time reasonably require including, without limitation, the preparation and submission to the Company of a report for review at any periodic meeting of the Board; (iii) act as the Company’s agent in the performance of the services under, and the conduct of material contractual dealings pursuant to, and in accordance with, the Investment Manager Agreement (subject to certain reserved matters described under “Reserved matters” below); (iv) carry out all actions required to provide the management services to be provided by the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement; (v) structure all investments in a manner which allows the Company to comply with the Spanish SOCIMI Regime requirements; (vi) coordinate with debt providers at the asset or corporate level; (vii) advise the Company on the acquisition of co-ownership, joint tenancy, tenancies in common and other interests in properties; (viii) arrange the letting (and/or re-letting) and/or development or improvement of properties which the Company has acquired and act as development manager in relation to any such development or improvement of properties; (ix) advise on the availability and appropriate source of funds to be utilised by the Company in making distributions to shareholders; (x) advise in relation to the exercise of any rights attaching to investments acquired on behalf of the Company; (xi) advise the Company in relation to any discretionary actions of which it is aware with respect to the Company’s investments including, without limitation, voting rights and of the date or dates by when such rights must be exercised or such action taken; (xii) manage the Company’s property investments or arrange to delegate authority to certain persons (to the extent and in the manner provided in the Investment Manager Agreement) to assist it in performing this function; and (xiii) procure advice for the Company from reputable insurance advisers in respect of the appropriate insurance for the properties of the Company and ensure that such insurance as approved in writing by the Company is put in place (at the cost of the Company) (collectively, the “Services”). This appointment is irrevocable so long as the Investment Manager Agreement subsists.

The Investment Manager has full discretionary authority to enter into transactions in respect of investment management services and other services to be provided under the Investment Manager Agreement, for and on behalf of the Company, subject, in each case, to certain reserved matters described under “Reserved matters” below, which require the consent of the Company’s Board.

The Investment Manager shall be the sole and exclusive provider of the Services to the Company for the duration of the Investment Manager Agreement, but the Investment Manager may delegate the provision of certain of the Services to the extent provided by the Investment Manager Agreement (see “Delegation” below).

Investment Manager’s duties

The Investment Manager shall, in providing the Services to be provided under the Investment Manager Agreement, do the following:

- (a) exercise the level of professional skill, care and diligence in relation to the performance of its duties which would reasonably be expected from a best in class, internationally recognised manager experienced in the management of commercial and residential properties similar to the Company's properties acting in accordance with the following criteria and in all cases with the same degree of care as in the management and provision of services corresponding to the Investment Manager's own business:

- (i) current good market practice and the principles of good real estate management;
 - (ii) in respect of any proposed lease or the assignment of any lease, what a reasonable and prudent institutional investor would determine to be in its interests, taking into account sound investment practice criteria, including but not limited to tenant mix, prevailing market conditions, the nature, size, type and location of the Company's properties, the financial standing of the proposed tenant (or the proposed assignee) and any proposed surety and the obligations of the tenant under the proposed lease; and
 - (iii) the best commercial interests of the Company;
- (b) act in accordance with applicable laws relating to the provision of the Services and the Company's activities for which the Investment Manager is responsible pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, and in accordance with the terms of the By-Laws (including without limitation the investment policy, the Investment Strategy and the financing strategy);
 - (c) maintain and comply with all regulatory authorisations, licences and approvals from time to time required by the Investment Manager in order for it to provide the Services;
 - (d) in the provision of the Services, have due regard to the Spanish securities market regulations which are applicable to the Company;
 - (e) act in accordance with the Company's Business Plan;
 - (f) employ or have available such number of competent and suitably qualified staff or consultants as the Investment Manager, acting reasonably as an advisor and manager in respect of properties similar in nature to those of the Company, considers adequate for the provision of the Services;
 - (g) ensure that the Key Persons devote such time to the supervision and performance of the obligations of the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement as is necessary to enable the Investment Manager to perform the Services in accordance with, and otherwise comply with its obligations under, the Investment Manager Agreement;
 - (h) not carry out any act, and use reasonable endeavours not to knowingly permit any act, which shall be or be likely to be fraudulent or dishonest; and
 - (i) use all reasonable endeavours to work in a professional and efficient manner with any other consultants or professionals appointed by or on behalf of the Company in respect of any property.

The Investment Manager is required to produce a Business Plan for the management of the properties held or acquired by the Company, which shall be subject to approval by the Board, annual budgets for the Company and provide an update on any situation that deviates materially from the proposed Business Plan. While the Investment Manager Agreement provides for annual Business Plans to be prepared each year, the Company's current Business Plan covers five years and is updated on an ongoing basis rather than annually.

Management Team

The Investment Manager has undertaken to appoint and maintain a team of property and financial professionals with extensive and proved experience in and in-depth knowledge of the Spanish real estate market through their involvement in Grupo Lar, the Management Team, to provide the Services to the Company, who the Investment Manager considers to be competent and suitably qualified for the proper performance of the Services in accordance with the Investment Manager Agreement.

If, during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement:

- (a) either of Mr. Luis Pereda or Mr. Miguel Pereda (the “Key Persons”) intends to resign or cease to act or be engaged as a director of the Investment Manager (otherwise than by a “Force Majeure Reason” understood as by reason of his death, permanent incapacity or a critical personal situation or event completely out of his control which makes it impossible for him to perform his duties), then the Investment Manager shall (i) provide the Company with written notice of such fact not less than three months prior to the date on which the relevant Key Person intends to so resign or cease acting (such three month period being the “Initial Notice Period”); and (ii) as soon as practicable following the giving of such notice, identify a suitable replacement for the Key Person with the appropriate level of qualification and experience and propose such person to the Board for approval (subject to the consent of the Company’s shareholders), whereupon the Company’s shareholders shall determine at their absolute discretion whether to approve the appointment of any such replacement, provided that if no suitable replacement has been appointed during the nine month period following the Initial Notice Period, the Company may terminate the Investment Manager Agreement, whereupon the Company shall give notice in writing to the Investment Manager;
- (b) Mr. Miguel Pereda intends to cease to be significantly involved in the delivery of the Services by the Investment Manager or does not intend to maintain his position as a director at the Investment Manager or the Company (in each case, otherwise than by a Force Majeure Reason), then the Investment Manager shall (i) provide the Company with written notice of such fact not less than three months prior to the date on which Mr. Miguel Pereda intends to so cease involvement or to maintain such position (the “Miguel Pereda Initial Notice Period”); and (ii) as soon as practicable following the giving of such notice, identify a suitable replacement for Mr. Miguel Pereda with the appropriate level of qualification and experience and propose such person to the Board for approval (subject to the consent of the Company’s shareholders), whereupon the Company’s shareholders shall determine at their absolute discretion whether to approve the appointment of any such replacement, provided that if no suitable replacement has been appointed during the nine-month period following the Miguel Pereda Initial Notice Period, the Company may terminate the Investment Manager Agreement, whereupon the Company shall give notice in writing to the Investment Manager;
- (c) either of the Key Persons ceases to be significantly involved in the delivery of the Services by the Investment Manager and does not maintain its position as a director at the Investment Manager due to a Force Majeure Reason, then a suitable person to replace the relevant Key Person shall be proposed by the Investment Manager for approval by the Board. The Board will submit the replacement to a shareholders meeting of the Company in order to obtain consent from the Company’s shareholders. If the Company’s shareholders’ meeting does not consent (by simple majority), then the Board may nominate alternative replacements and call further shareholders’ meetings if it deems it results in the interest of the corporate interest. For the avoidance of doubt, non-replacement or no agreement on the replacement will not give rise to the termination of the Investment Manager Agreement in this case; and
- (d) Mr. Luis Pereda intends to cease to be significantly involved in the delivery of the Services by the Investment Manager and is expected to remain less than significantly involved in the Company for longer than a six month period (otherwise than by a Force Majeure Reason) but intends to maintain his position as a director at the Investment Manager, then the Investment Manager shall (i) provide the Company with written notice of such fact immediately upon becoming aware of such circumstance occurring or becoming apparent; and (ii) during the four-month period following the giving of such notice, propose to the Board a detailed plan including the expected involvement and the responsibilities that will continue to be assumed by Mr. Luis Pereda and the detailed plan of action that the Investment Manager intends to implement to further reinforce the Management Team to adequately provide the same level and standards of Services to the Company as would be the case if Mr. Luis Pereda were to remain significantly involved in the delivery of the Services, and the Board and the Investment Manager will in good faith discuss and amend the proposed plan of the Investment Manager and will use reasonable endeavours to seek to agree to a reasonable solution. If at the end of the four-month period the proposed plan with the discussed adjustments is still not acceptable to the Board, the Board will allow a two-month period for Mr. Luis Pereda to substantially reinstate his prior level of involvement and functions undertaken for the Company under the Investment Manager Agreement. In the event that, following such two-month period, his prior level of involvement has not been substantially reinstated, the Company may terminate the Investment Manager Agreement by notice in writing to the Investment Manager.

Investment Strategy

In carrying out their functions under the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team must follow the Investment Strategy, with the aim to focus their investment decisions on the acquisition of primarily commercial properties in Spain which preferably require an active asset management and fit within the Company's purpose of creating a real estate Portfolio capable of paying dividends in line with the applicable Spanish SOCIMI Regime requirements, and generate capital returns for the Company's shareholders.

Investment criteria — Composition of the Company's real estate portfolio

The Company's Total GAV must be distributed as follows (measured as at the time investments are made):

- (a) Over 80% of the Total GAV must be invested in Commercial Property, that is:
 - (i) Office properties across Spain, primarily focusing on office properties in Madrid and Barcelona;
 - (ii) Retail shopping centres in Spain; retail parks including big box properties (i.e., retail stores that occupy large warehouse-style buildings) on a selective basis; and high street retail properties (i.e., retail stores located in the primary business and retail streets of a city, such as top fashion boutiques) on a selective basis; and
 - (iii) Other selected commercial real estate properties, for example, industrial properties, which are expected to represent a limited percentage of the Total GAV.
- (b) Up to but less than 20% of the Total GAV may be invested in Residential Property, i.e., first-home residential properties across Spain.

Type of properties

When investing in Commercial Property, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team shall focus on mis-priced assets or assets with active asset management opportunities, for example through repositioning, rental extension or rental optimisation, and adopt a conservative approach with regard to development opportunities in the context of the whole portfolio.

When investing in Residential Property, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team shall primarily focus on the following investment criteria: (i) fully-built assets, (ii) in very specialised cases, properties with a reduced component of development risk and (iii) new developments in niche markets with limited supply of first-homes.

The Company has the ability to enter into (including at the Investment Manager's request) a variety of investment structures, including joint ventures, acquisitions of controlling interests or acquisitions of minority interests within the parameters stipulated in the Spanish SOCIMI Regime. There is no limit imposed by the Spanish SOCIMI Regime on the proportion of the Company's portfolio that may be held through joint ventures. In addition, acquisitions of assets may be done through any type of agreement and structure, including though the acquisition of non-performing loans and other types of financial instruments.

When implementing the Company's Investment Strategy, the Investment Manager may not in any event invest more than 20% of the Company's equity capital in a single asset.

Leverage criteria

When implementing the Company's Investment Strategy, the Investment Manager and the members of the Management Team shall seek to use leverage over the long-term and consider using hedging where appropriate to mitigate interest rate risk, subject to the following principles:

- (i) The Company's total leverage target, represented by the Company's aggregate borrowings (net of cash) as a percentage of the most recent Total GAV of the Company, is around 50%.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board, including at the proposal of the Investment Manager, may modify the Company's leverage policy (including the level of leverage) from time to time in light of then-current economic conditions, the relative costs of debt and equity capital, the fair value of the Company's assets, growth and acquisition opportunities or other factors it deems appropriate.
- (ii) Debt financing for acquisitions are assessed on a deal-by-deal basis initially with reference to the capacity of the Company to support leverage.
- (iii) Debt on development properties are, to the extent possible, ring-fenced in order to exclude recourse to other assets of the Company. The policy of the Company will not contemplate incorporating special purpose vehicles for investments in non-development properties as a general rule.

The Investment Manager has undertaken, as a general rule and unless the nature of the investment advises otherwise, to carry out investments using proceeds from the initial public offering, the Offering and any other offerings of the Company's ordinary shares. When necessary, debt may be raised in line with the leverage criteria described above.

Director designation rights

Subject to applicable law and regulations and the Company's By-Laws, and subject to any proposed nominee being appropriately qualified to act as member of the Board and his or her identity having been approved by the Remuneration and Nomination Committee of the Company (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), the Investment Manager is entitled to require the Board to propose to the general shareholders' meeting of the Company the appointment of:

- (i) one non-executive Director of the Company nominated by the Investment Manager, provided that the Board is comprised of five or fewer persons; or
- (ii) up to two non-executive Directors nominated by the Investment Manager, provided that the Board is comprised of more than five persons.

Subject to compliance with the foregoing requirements, the Investment Manager is entitled to require the Board to propose to the Company's general shareholders' meeting to remove or replace any such person whom it has nominated as a member of the Board, provided that in the case of any such removal, the Investment Manager shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company (and any member of its group) against any and all costs, losses, liabilities and/or expenses suffered by the relevant company in connection with such removal.

No Director of the Company nominated by the Investment Manager pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement may be paid any fee or remuneration by the Company for his or her services as a non-executive director.

The Chairman of the Board is entitled to request the attendance of the Chairman of the Investment Manager to meetings of the Board and the Investment Manager must procure that the Chairman of the Investment Manager attend such meetings when so required, unless there is a material cause impeding such attendance. The Company's By-Laws and the Board's regulations permit and regulate such attendance commitment.

Reserved matters

The Investment Manager is entitled to perform the Services and to conduct and enter into transactions provided that it must seek prior written consent from the Company if such Services or transactions involve any of the following (each of them, a "Reserved Matter"):

- (i) any acquisition/disposal of a property investment or the entry into any binding agreement to acquire/dispose of a property investment where the aggregate acquisition cost/gross proceeds attributed to the Company in respect of such property investment is/are in excess of €30 million;
- (ii) any new financing or refinancing, including associated hedging arrangements, entered into in respect of a property investment where the amount of the facility to be entered into in respect of such arrangements is in excess of €30 million, or any material amendment thereof;
- (iii) any capital expenditure on a property investment in excess of, in aggregate, €10 million;
- (iv) any proposed lease agreement or termination where the annual rent is greater than 10% of the aggregate rental income of the Company;
- (v) any co-investment or joint venture in Commercial Property. If approved, the Investment Manager shall be entitled to manage the whole co-investment or joint-venture in its own name and on behalf of the Company. The Investment Manager has undertaken to submit in good faith to the Company any co-investment or joint venture offer in Commercial Property received from third parties for the whole stake that such third party has actually offered to the Investment Manager (pursuant to the terms of the Company's exclusivity right referred to below under "Exclusivity in Commercial Property and co-investment in Residential Property");
- (vi) any co-investment or joint venture in Residential Property with an investment by the Company of above €10 million. The Investment Manager has undertaken to submit in good faith to the Company any co-investment or joint venture offer in Residential Property received from third parties for at least a 20% stake in the total investment (pursuant to the terms of the Company's co-investment right referred to below under "Exclusivity in Commercial Property and co-investment in Residential Property");
- (vii) any hedging or use of derivatives, including related to debt facilities, interest, or the property investments (which may only be used to the extent (if any) permitted by any regulatory requirements applicable to the Company and/or the Investment Manager), unless comprised within the relevant financing as indicated in (ii) above;
- (viii) the entry by the Company into any transaction for the purchase of assets from, or the provision of services of a material nature by, any Investment Manager Affiliate, or for the sale of assets or provision of services of a material nature to any Investment Manager Affiliate except if covered under a framework agreement approved by the Board. The entry by the Company into any transaction for the purchase of assets from, or the provision of services of a material nature by, an individual associated with an Investment Manager Affiliate should also be considered a Reserved Matter. For the avoidance of doubt, Gentalia is not an Investment Manager Affiliate for purposes of the Investment Manager Agreement;
- (ix) any disposal of any right, title or interest in any of the Company's properties at less than its acquisition cost;
- (x) related-party transactions and situations which may give rise to a conflict of interest situation in connection with the Investment Manager and the Management Team including any transaction with third parties pursuant to which the Investment Manager is entitled to receive any compensation, fee or commission;
- (xi) the appointment by the Investment Manager of one or more managing agents, as provided in the Investment Manager Agreement, or the execution of any third-party service agreement for an annual amount exceeding €1 million; and
- (xii) any transaction executed with Gentalia, unless it is regulated under an arm's length basis framework agreement between the Company and Gentalia approved by the Board, and provided that the relevant assets fall within the parameters of such framework agreement.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investment Manager shall be entitled to perform Services and conduct and enter into transactions involving Reserved Matters without seeking prior written consent from the Company, provided that such Services or transactions are required to be performed by the Investment Manager as a matter of law or in order to respond to a bona fide emergency where time is of the essence. In addition, the Company's Board has in the past authorised the Investment Manager to take decisions on Reserved Matters and it may continue to do so in the future.

Where the Company's approval is required for a transaction under the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager shall, either by means of an update to the Business Plan or a separate proposal, submit a proposal to the Board as to the transaction in question and provide the Company with such information as the Board may reasonably require to consider and, if it decides to do so, approve the transaction.

Exclusivity in Commercial Property and co-investment in Residential Property

In accordance with the Investment Manager Agreement, subject to certain exceptions, the Investment Manager has agreed not to invest in Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company (or to provide services to any person other than the Company in connection with such assets) and will be required to offer to the Company at least a 20% interest of the overall investment in any Relevant Residential Opportunity it (or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates) may plan to carry out. In addition, subject to certain exceptions, each member of the Management Team has undertaken to offer the Company a 20% share (if in connection with a Residential Property) or the full share (if in connection with a Commercial Property) of the stake available to such member of the Management Team in any investment in which such member of the Management Team intends to participate and which fits within the Investment Strategy of the Company.

Set forth below is a detailed description of the Investment Manager and Management Team's undertakings under the Investment Manager Agreement.

Exclusivity in Commercial Property

The Investment Manager has agreed that, during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement, it will not, and it will require that none of the Investment Manager Affiliates will (i) acquire or invest (on its own behalf or on behalf of third parties or through joint venture agreements) in Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company (except for the following investments (each an "Exception") which are expressly permitted (a) one or more investments carried out by shareholders of the Investment Manager on their own behalf, provided that such investment or investments do not exceed €2 million in the aggregate throughout the life of the Investment Manager Agreement (or such a higher amount, if any, approved by the Company's Board in exceptional circumstances), and that they are notified to the Board of the Company following their undertaking, and (b) investments by the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliate in Commercial Property for its own occupation if expressly waived by the Board or (ii) act as investment manager, investment adviser or agent, or provide administration, investment management or other services, for any person, entity, body corporate or client other than the Company, for Commercial Property in Spain which is within the parameters of the Investment Strategy of the Company.

However, this exclusivity shall not apply:

- (i) to any dealings by the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliate in respect of any property or property-related asset owned or managed, totally or partially, by it as of the date of the Investment Manager Agreement (i.e., 12 February 2014). Therefore, the Investment Manager and Investment Manager Affiliates may continue or agree to act as investment manager or investment adviser for other persons or provide administration, investment management or other services for other clients without making the same available to the Company, in each such case provided that (a) it is done pursuant to an existing agreement which in each case is in place with the Investment Manager or such Investment Manager Affiliate at the date of the Investment Manager Agreement, or (b) such work relates to real estate properties which are subject to such an existing agreement.

In addition, the Investment Manager was free to close during 2014 up to two portfolio transactions, which were under negotiation at the time the Investment Manager Agreement was signed, involving retail assets, each amounting to between €80 million and €170 million;

- (ii) to any acquisition or investment (directly or indirectly) by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate of or in assets or properties which are adjacent to assets or properties held as of the date of the Investment Manager Agreement by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate or which are acquired, pursuant to an Exception, by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate following the date of the Investment Manager Agreement in accordance with its terms (such as extensions to assets already within those entities' existing portfolios or properties adjacent to existing or permitted new properties held by the Investment Manager or an Investment Manager Affiliate);
- (iii) following the passage of a resolution of the Company's general shareholders' meeting to discontinue the investment strategy of the Company, cease the business and operations of the Company, or sell, liquidate or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company;
- (iv) following the service by the Investment Manager of notice of termination of the Investment Manager Agreement due to a winding up event, an insolvency or court protection event or other similar event affecting the Company or an unremedied breach by the Company of a material term thereof; or
- (v) to the activities of or investments made by Gentalia. This notwithstanding, Grupo Lar shall, to the extent legally permitted, exercise its voting rights within the corporate bodies of Gentalia to prevent Gentalia from entering into transactions which fall under the exclusivity commitment assumed by Grupo Lar as Investment Manager.

Co-investment in Residential Property

The Company does not have exclusivity on any investment in Residential Property made or to be made by the Investment Manager or the Investment Manager Affiliates in or outside of Spain. However, pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager has committed to offer to the Company at least a 20% stake of the overall investment in each Relevant Residential Opportunity it (or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates) may plan to carry out. If the stake available to the Investment Manager (and any of the Investment Manager Affiliates (as the case may be)) in a Relevant Residential Opportunity is less than 20% of the overall investment to be made in such Relevant Residential Opportunity, the Investment Manager has undertaken not to participate in such investment opportunity (and shall procure the same of the Investment Manager Affiliates) and the Investment Manager shall be under no obligation to offer a stake in such investment opportunity to the Company.

The Company shall not be entitled to elect less than a 20% stake of the overall investment in each Relevant Residential Opportunity offered by the Investment Manager unless the Company and the Investment Manager agree otherwise on a case by case basis.

The Investment Manager must, before proceeding to effect the investment that is the subject of a Relevant Residential Opportunity, present such Relevant Residential Opportunity to the Company by notice in writing to the Corporate Manager (as defined in the Investment Manager Agreement) for consideration as a possible co-investment.

If the Company elects to co-invest, its Corporate Manager shall notify the Investment Manager of this as soon as reasonably practicable, and, in any event, within ten Madrid business days of service of notice to the Company by the Investment Manager.

If the Company gives notice to the Investment Manager that it does not intend to proceed with the co-investment, or if it does not serve notice within the prescribed period, the Investment Manager shall be free to carry out the Relevant Residential Opportunity without the Company.

If the Company decides to co-invest with the Investment Manager, such decision:

- (i) will have to be immediately notified by the Investment Manager to the Corporate Manager of the Company if the amount invested by the Company is below €10 million. The Corporate Manager of the Company will report to the secretary of the Board, on a monthly basis, on any co-investments carried out by the Company with the Investment Manager in Residential Property. Such co-investments will be subject to review and analysis by the Board in its first meeting to be held after the date of their reporting to the Board's secretary; and
- (ii) will constitute a Reserved Matter if the amount to be invested by the Company is above €10 million.

Commitment by members of Management Team

Pursuant to the respective commitment letters entered into by the members of the Management Team in accordance with the Investment Manager Agreement, if any member of the Management Team identifies an investment opportunity which fits within the Investment Strategy of the Company (each such opportunity, a "Management Team Investment Opportunity") in which such member of the Management Team or a person that is controlled by such member of the Management Team (excluding the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliate which is a corporation) (a "Controlled Person"), whether directly or indirectly, intends to participate, such member of the Management Team shall, before proceeding to effect such participation or the acquisition of the property which is the subject of that Management Team Investment Opportunity, give notice in writing of such opportunity to the Corporate Manager of the Company and offer the Company (a) at least a 20% share of the total stake available to such member of the Management Team or the Controlled Person (as the case may be) in the Management Team Investment Opportunity if such opportunity relates to a Residential Property, or (b) the full stake available to such member of the Management Team or the Controlled Person (as the case may be) in the Management Team Investment Opportunity if such opportunity relates to a Commercial Property. These commitments shall end on the earlier of: (a) the date of termination of the Investment Manager Agreement; (b) with respect to a particular member of the Management Team, the date on which the relevant member of the Management Team ceases to be a member of the Management Team; and (c) the date on which a resolution is passed to cease the business and operations of the Company.

These commitments, which are similar to the ones assumed by the members of the Management Team with respect to Grupo Lar, shall not apply:

- (i) to any investment carried out by one or more members of the Management Team on its or their own behalf provided that each such investment does not exceed €2 million (per member of the Management Team and on an aggregate basis during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement) and that it is notified to the Board of the Company following its undertaking;
- (ii) to any investment carried out by one or more members of the Management Team in Commercial Property for its or their own occupation if such investment is expressly waived by the Board of the Company;
- (iii) to any dealing by one or more members of the Management Team in respect of any property or property-related asset owned or managed, totally or partially, by him or them as of the date of the Investment Manager Agreement; and
- (iv) to any acquisition or investment (directly or indirectly) carried out by one or more members of the Management Team in assets or properties which are adjacent to assets or properties owned by one or more members of the Management Team as of the date of the Investment Manager Agreement or which are acquired pursuant to the exceptions set forth in (i) or (ii) above by one or more members of the Management Team following the date of the Investment Manager Agreement in accordance with its terms and the terms of the relevant commitment letter.

If the Company elects, acting in good faith, to participate in any Management Team Investment Opportunity, its Corporate Manager shall notify such decision to the relevant member of the Management Team as soon as reasonably practicable, and, in any event, within ten Madrid business days after the Company's receipt of notice of the Management Team Investment Opportunity from the relevant member of the Management Team.

If the Company notifies to the relevant member of the Management Team that it does not intend to participate in an Management Team Investment Opportunity, or if the Company does not notify its decision to the relevant member of the Management Team within the period stated above, the relevant member of the Management Team may proceed to participate in the Management Team Investment Opportunity without any participation from the Company.

Conflicts of interest

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager may not (and shall procure that no Investment Manager Affiliate shall), during the term of the agreement (i) sell, transfer or lease assets or properties to the Company or (ii) launch or invest in a property investment/real estate listed or unlisted fund or a property investment/real estate investment trust carrying on business in Spain to invest in Commercial Property.

Notwithstanding the above, on 30 March 2016 the Company acquired the remaining 41.22% stake in Puerta Marítima Ondara, S.L. owned by Grupo Lar, pursuant to a waiver of this provision granted by the extraordinary general shareholders meeting held on 18 December 2015.

In addition, the Company may not, during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement, sell, transfer or lease assets or properties to the Investment Manager, unless approved by the Company's Board.

The Investment Manager shall disclose in writing to the Company any actual or potential conflicts of interests which it and/or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates have or may have from time to time, subject to any obligations of confidentiality to which the Investment Manager is contractually bound.

Management fees

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is entitled to receive a Base Fee and a Performance Fee during the term of the Investment Manager Agreement (with respect to the latter, to the extent it becomes payable in accordance with the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement). The Investment Manager also is entitled to additional fees to be agreed with the Company in respect of the provision of any additional agreed services. To the extent such services are provided in respect of assets jointly owned by the Company and others, the Company is only responsible for the payment of its pro rata share of the resulting fees. Fees that fall due and payable to the Investment Manager are not subject to reduction or clawback due to any subsequent decrease that may occur in the EPRA NAV of the Company.

Payment of the Performance Fee is dependent on performance exceeding an annual hurdle and it is also subject to an annual high-water mark, each as described in greater detail below.

Base Fee and expenses

The Base Fee is paid to the Investment Manager monthly in arrears in cash in consideration for the provision of Services in the manner provided for in the Investment Manager Agreement. The Base Fee in respect of each month is calculated by reference to 1.25% per annum of the EPRA NAV (excluding net cash (cash minus debt)) as of the prior 31 December. The Base Fee amounts to a minimum of €2 million per annum, excluding VAT and costs, until the first date on which 50% or more of the proceeds of the Company's initial public offering (net of costs and expenses incurred by the Company in respect of such offering) has been invested by the Company in properties.

The Base Fee (together with any applicable VAT and other costs) is payable by the Company to the Investment Manager in arrears within ten Madrid business days following receipt by the Company from the Investment Manager of the relevant supporting valuation documentation.

Other than as otherwise agreed in writing from time to time, and notwithstanding any other provision of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Base Fee is deemed to include (and therefore such fees, costs and expenses are not paid separately by the Company) the (i) out of pocket day-to-day expenses of the Investment Manager, (ii) the fees and expenses of certain third parties appointed by the Investment Manager to carry out any of the Investment Manager's Services, and (iii) any fees, costs or expenses incurred by the Investment Manager when it or an Investment Manager Affiliate is performing the Services.

If, in connection with any co-investment undertaken by the Company under the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager receives any base fee or property management fees (for asset or portfolio management services) which are separate from the fees due under the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager has undertaken to grant the Company with a credit right equal to the Company's pro rata share (based on the Company's stake in the relevant co-investment) of the amount of any such fees received by the Investment Manager in connection with any such co-investment and, accordingly, the Company shall be entitled to set off an amount equal to such credit right against the Base Fee payable in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement.

The Base Fee is not deemed to include (and therefore such expenses must be paid separately by the Company) any costs to be borne by the Company such as the Company Costs (as defined herein) reasonably and properly incurred.

All development related expenses incurred including capital expenditures and any costs associated with them must be billed at cost.

Any and all expenses related to the Company's officers and employees hired upon the proposal of the Investment Manager must be deducted from the Base Fee.

Performance Fee

The Performance Fee has been designed to incentivise and reward the Investment Manager for generating returns to the shareholders of the Company. The return to shareholders for a given year is equivalent to the sum of (a) the change in the EPRA NAV of the Company during such year less the net proceeds of any issues of ordinary shares during such year; and (b) the total dividends (or any other form of remuneration or distribution to the shareholders) that are paid in such year (the result of the addition of (a) and (b), the "Shareholder Return"). The "Shareholder Return Rate" is the Shareholder Return for a given year divided by the EPRA NAV of the Company as of 31 December of the immediately preceding year. The EPRA NAV as of 31 December 2013 was deemed to be equal to the net proceeds of the Company's initial public offering (the "Initial EPRA NAV").

The "Relevant High Water Mark" at any time is the higher of (i) the Initial EPRA NAV, and (ii) the EPRA NAV on 31 December (adjusted to include total dividends paid during that year and exclude the net proceeds of any issuance of ordinary shares during that year) of the most recent year in respect of which a Performance Fee was payable.

The Performance Fee is due in respect of a given year if both of two key hurdles are met:

- (a) the Shareholder Return Rate for such year exceeds 10% (the amount in euro by which the Shareholder Return for the year exceeds the Shareholder Return that would have produced a 10% Shareholder Return Rate being the "Shareholder Return Outperformance" and the extent of the Shareholder Return Rate above 10% being the "Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate"); and
- (b) the sum of (A) the EPRA NAV of the Company on 31 December of such year and (B) the total dividends (or any other form of remuneration or distribution to the shareholders) that are paid in such year or in any preceding year since the most recent year in respect of which a Performance Fee was payable exceeds the Relevant High Water Mark (the amount by which such sum exceeds the Relevant High Water Mark being the “High Water Mark Outperformance”).

If the above hurdles are met, the Performance Fee in respect of such year will be a “promote” equal to the lesser of (x) 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance and (y) 20% of the High Water Mark Outperformance (the “Promote”).

Furthermore, in respect of a year in which the Performance Fee is payable and is based on Shareholder Return Outperformance, the Performance Fee will also include a “promote equalization” feature (the “Promote Equalization”), once a Shareholder Return Rate of 12% has been achieved, and it will apply only until a Shareholder Return Rate of 22% is achieved. The Promote Equalization feature entitles the Investment Manager to receive an additional 20% of the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance that reflects a Shareholder Return Rate of between 12% and 22%. Above 22% only the Promote will continue to apply. The Promote Equalization is intended to allow the Investment Manager to earn fees up to a maximum equivalent to 20% on the first 10% of the Shareholder Return for such year, which would not otherwise be payable.

Set out below are four examples². Examples (b), (c) and (d) assume that the hurdles to pay the Performance Fee are met and that the Performance Fees in respect of the relevant years are based on Shareholder Return Outperformance and so the Promote Equalization could apply (the Promote Equalization does not apply to years in respect of which the Performance Fee is based on High Water Mark Outperformance).

- (a) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 10%, the Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate would be 0% and the Investment Manager would receive no Promote or Promote Equalization in respect of that year.
- (b) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 12%, the Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate would be 2% and the Investment Manager would receive a Promote equal to 20% of the portion of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 2% (being the excess of 12% above 10%). In this case no Promote Equalization would apply. In total, the Investment Manager would receive $(20\% \times 2\%) = 0.4\%$ of the EPRA NAV as of 31 December of the previous year.
- (c) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 15%, the Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate would be 5% and the Investment Manager would receive (i) a Promote equal to 20% of the portion of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 5% (being the excess of 15% above 10%), plus (ii) a Promote Equalization equal to 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 3% (being the excess of 15% above 12%). In total, the Investment Manager would receive $(20\% \times 5\%) + (20\% \times 3\%) = 1\% + 0.6\% = 1.6\%$ of the EPRA NAV as of 31 December of the previous year.
- (d) If the Shareholder Return Rate for a given year were 25%, the Shareholder Outperformance Rate would be 15% and the Investment Manager would receive (i) a Promote equal to 20% of the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 15% (being the excess of 25% above 10%), plus (ii) a Promote Equalization equal to 20% of the Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 10% (being the excess of 22% above 12%). In this example, the maximum Promote Equalization is reached at a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate of 22% and the Promote Equalization ceases to apply to the portion of Shareholder Return Outperformance representing a Shareholder Return Outperformance Rate above 22% (above that level only the Promote will continue to apply). The Promote Equalization component is calculated on a yearly basis and does not allow for equalization of previous years' returns. In total, the Investment Manager would receive $(20\% \times 15\%) + (20\% \times 10\%) = 3\% + 2\% = 5\%$ of the EPRA NAV as of 31 December of the previous year.

² These are examples only and not Shareholder Return forecasts. There can be no assurance that the Shareholder Returns referred to in the examples can or will be met and they should not be seen as an indication of the Company’s expected or actual results or returns. Accordingly investors should not place any reliance on these examples in deciding whether to invest in the Ordinary Shares. In addition, prior to making any investment decision, prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors described in Part II (“Risk Factors”) of the Prospectus.

The Performance Fee is calculated annually as of 31 December of each fiscal year, expressed in euros. There is no maximum Performance Fee under the Investment Manager Agreement.

After delivery of a proposal from the Investment Manager setting out the Investment Manager's statement of the Performance Fee, the Company may agree with it, in which case the Investment Manager will issue an invoice within ten Madrid business days and the Performance Fee shall become due and payable 20 Madrid business days after the date of the invoice. Alternatively, the Company may dispute the proposed amount by giving notice in writing to the Investment Manager within ten Madrid business days of receiving it. If the Company disputes such proposal, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve the dispute, provided that if the parties do not reach agreement on the items in dispute within five Madrid business days of the Company having disputed it (or such longer period as they may agree in writing), the Performance Fee payable shall be determined by an independent expert by reference to the audited accounts of the Company and the valuation made by a RICS accredited appraiser in respect of the relevant year, following the approval by the Board of such accounts and the delivery by the auditors of an unqualified audit opinion in respect of such accounts.

The Investment Manager will invoice the aforesaid amount, as amended, if applicable, to reflect the agreement between the parties or the determination of the independent expert (as the case may be), and such invoice shall constitute a statement of the Performance Fee payable to the Investment Manager in respect of the relevant year and it shall become due and payable by the Company to the Investment Manager on the fifth Madrid business day following such agreement or determination.

If following the approval by the Board of the accounts of the Company and receipt of an unqualified audit opinion in respect of such accounts, the Company or the Investment Manager is reasonably of the opinion that the Base Fee and/or the Performance Fee (if any) already payable to the Investment Manager in respect of the relevant year are greater than, or less than, the amount that should have been paid having regard to the audited accounts of the Company, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve the dispute, provided that if the parties do not reach agreement, any adjustment shall be determined by an independent expert by reference to the audited accounts of the Company and the valuation made by a RICS accredited appraiser in respect of the relevant year. Following the agreement or determination of any adjustment, the Investment Manager shall: (i) where the adjustment relates to an overpayment of fees, pay or otherwise refund that sum to the Company within 20 Madrid business days (in Ordinary Shares if applicable); or (ii) where the adjustment relates to an underpayment of fees, deliver to the Company an invoice setting out the adjustment amount payable by the Company to the Investment Manager and such amount shall be deemed and be treated as a Performance Fee which fell due as of the date it should have been paid at originally (and the Average Closing Price in these circumstances for calculating the number of Performance Fee Shares to be allotted and issued shall be determined by reference to the date of the original invoice in respect of that Performance Fee; for these purposes, "Average Closing Price" is the average closing price on the Spanish Stock Exchanges in respect of ordinary shares of the Company over the period of twenty Madrid business days immediately prior to the business day immediately preceding the date of a relevant invoice from the Investment Manager setting out its statement of the Performance Fee that is payable in respect of a relevant period).

VAT due to the Investment Manager under the Performance Fee will be paid in cash.

The Investment Manager shall use the Performance Fee due to it (after deduction of corporate income tax and any other taxes applicable thereto) to subscribe for Performance Fee Shares (or, at the Company's choice, to acquire existing treasury ordinary shares from the Company), subject to certain limited exceptions described further below. Any such payment will not be considered net proceeds of any issues of ordinary shares for purposes of calculating Shareholder Return. The Company's liability to pay the Performance Fee in respect of any year shall be satisfied by the release by the Investment Manager of the sum due to it as that Performance Fee in consideration for the allotment and issue by the Company to the Investment Manager of such number of Performance Fee Shares, rounded down to the nearest whole number, as is determined by dividing the relevant Performance Fee by the Average Closing Price for the applicable period relating to that issue of Performance Fee Shares (such Average Closing Price being determined by reference to the period of twenty Madrid business days immediately prior to the business day immediately preceding the date of the invoice from the Investment Manager in respect of such Performance Fee). The Company may opt to recognize the accrued Performance Fee as a credit to be capitalised and therefore satisfied in Performance Fee Shares issued as a result of such capitalisation.

The Performance Fee Shares to be issued or sold to the Investment Manager shall be issued or sold on the date on which the Performance Fee becomes due and payable and shall be subject to a lock-up period of three years, during which time there shall be no disposal of the Performance Fee Shares by the Investment Manager, except that such lock-up shall not apply: (i) to a disposal of Performance Fee Shares effected to fund the payment or discharge by the Investment Manager of any liability to tax arising in connection with its receipt or acquisition of Performance Fee Shares and/or other Performance Fee Shares issued to the Investment Manager as part of the discharge of the Performance Fee; (ii) to a disposal of Performance Fee Shares in connection with a takeover or sale of the Company that is recommended by the Board or if the Investment Manager is required by law to dispose of such Performance Fee Shares; or (iii) following the termination of the Investment Manager Agreement by the Company (save in the case when the Company has elected to terminate it by reason of a material breach by the Investment Manager of a term of the Investment Manager Agreement), or due to a Company's material breach or insolvency event or due to other termination events which are not under the Investment Manager's sole control.

Any distributions or dividends attributable to Performance Fee Shares held by the Investment Manager declared and paid during the lock-up period shall be paid to and for the benefit of the Investment Manager.

If the Company determines (acting reasonably and having due regard to any reasonable representations made by the Investment Manager) that issuing any or all of the Performance Fee Shares to the Investment Manager on any relevant date is materially prejudicial for the Company for any reason (including as a result of any applicable law which prevents the issue of ordinary shares on that date or if the issue of ordinary shares to the Investment Manager would result in (i) the Investment Manager being required to make a mandatory offer to the Company's shareholders pursuant to the applicable Spanish takeover rules or other applicable law, or (ii) the Company or the Investment Manager breaching the applicable Spanish takeover rules, or (iii) the Investment Manager becoming beneficially entitled to or controlling, directly or indirectly, at least 10% of the share capital or voting rights in the Company (despite the Investment Manager having used reasonable endeavours to dispose of sufficient Performance Fee Shares, where permitted by law, to avoid this occurring), or (iv) the Company breaching any applicable listing rules), then the Company shall instead pay the Performance Fee to the Investment Manager in cash. Such cash will not be subject to any lock-up arrangement and will not be subject to any re-investment obligation in the Company's shares.

If any change in the Company's share capital arising from reorganisation, restructuring, scheme of reconstruction or arrangement, consolidation, subdivision, bonus issue, share buy-back or other capital reorganization or restructuring (a "Capital Restructuring") occurs during any year which the Company or the Investment Manager believes (acting reasonably) will change the calculation or the amount of the Performance Fee (if any) payable in respect of that or any subsequent year having regard to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement and (to the extent it is applicable) the basis of calculation of the Performance Fee, the Company and the Investment Manager shall negotiate in good faith to agree an appropriate adjustment to the calculation of the Performance Fee payable in respect of that or any subsequent year. If a dispute or difference arises between the Company and the Investment Manager in relation to the effect (if any) of a Capital Restructuring on any calculation of the Performance Fee and/or in relation to what adjustment (if any) is appropriate, which they cannot resolve by mutual agreement within two months of the matter first being notified by one party to the other in writing, the matter shall be referred to an independent expert for determination.

Delegation

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager shall be entitled, without prejudice to its liability for delivery of the Services under the Investment Manager Agreement, to delegate the performance of some of the Services to be delivered and provided by it thereunder to any person provided that the Investment Manager has exercised and continues to exercise reasonable care and due diligence in relation to the selection, appointment and on-going monitoring of the delegatee. The cost of any such delegation by the Investment Manager shall be for the account of the Investment Manager unless otherwise provided for in the Investment Manager Agreement or as agreed in writing with the Company. Each such delegatee may act as an authorized agent of the Company on the same terms as the Investment Manager's agency appointment. For the avoidance of doubt, the Investment Manager shall be responsible for the acts and omissions of such delegatee as if they were its own.

Where the Business Plan in respect of any property envisages the carrying out of works or the taking of other steps which will involve the appointment of professionals, contractors or other third parties (but not for the purpose of delegating to those parties day-to-day Services which would otherwise be carried out by the Investment Manager) then the Investment Manager will on behalf of the Company appoint such parties and the Company will be responsible (either directly or indirectly) for the properly incurred and documented reasonable costs, fees and expenses of such parties.

If at any time, the Company is not satisfied with the Services provided by any delegatee of the Investment Manager appointed, the Board of the Company may at any time, upon reasonable notice to the Investment Manager, withdraw its approval in respect of such delegation and the Investment Manager shall forthwith terminate the relevant delegation arrangement in accordance with its terms, always in accordance with the termination conditions of the relevant contract.

The Investment Manager shall ensure that no person appointed commences performance of its obligations or becomes entitled to payment of any fees until such person has furnished to the Investment Manager appropriate documents regarding insurance which are consistent with the Investment Manager's customary practices.

Company's Obligations

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Company shall:

- (i) respond as soon as reasonably practicable to any reasonable request by the Investment Manager to approve the form of, and sign, any documents in respect of the provision of the Services (including in respect of a transaction or proposed transaction provided that the relevant transaction is not a Reserved Matter or has been approved by the Company in principle or specifically in the Business Plan or otherwise);
- (ii) in the case of a transaction or proposed transaction that is a Reserved Matter or has not been approved by the Company in principle (or specifically in the Business Plan or otherwise), give due and reasonable consideration to and respond as soon as reasonably practicable to proposals from the Investment Manager in respect thereof upon receipt of all information reasonably requested from the Investment Manager;
- (iii) supply, or procure the supply, to the Investment Manager on request of all such reasonable information as shall be within the possession of the Company and which is necessary for the performance of the Investment Manager's obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement;
- (iv) ensure that the members of the Board are reasonably available to discuss matters with the Investment Manager, and facilitate the performance by the Investment Manager of its duties under the Investment Manager Agreement;
- (v) upon reasonable advance notice from the Investment Manager, convene a meeting of the Board (or a duly appointed committee thereof) to consider any issues which the Investment Manager may, acting reasonably, wish to raise with the Board from time to time;

- (vi) provide all reasonably necessary co-operation and assistance to the Investment Manager to allow the performance by the Investment Manager of its obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement;
- (vii) give due consideration to (but without for the avoidance of doubt being obliged to follow) all recommendations made, and advice given by, the Investment Manager relating to the conduct of transactions and potential transactions and the performance of the Services and respond to such recommendations as soon as reasonably practicable having regard to all the circumstances;
- (viii) (until the Investment Manager Agreement is lawfully terminated by the Company or the Investment Manager) grant a non-exclusive licence to the Investment Manager and all others engaged in respect of the Services and the management of the Company's properties (and all those authorised by them) to enter upon said properties in order to carry out the Services and to manage them; and
- (ix) (upon prior written approval) permit the Investment Manager to refer to its involvement in the Company's properties for its own publicity purposes, provided that such publicity does not have an adverse effect on them.

Business Plan

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the strategy for the provision of the Services and the management of the Company's properties will derive from a combination of the Company's business plan (the "Business Plan") considered and approved in writing by the Board and from approvals in writing given by the Board where required.

Preparation of Business Plans

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, no later than 45 days preceding the end of the period to which a Business Plan relates, the Investment Manager shall produce and submit to the Board a draft Business Plan for the following year in respect of the Company for the Board's consideration, comment and approval, discuss the draft Business Plan with the Company and incorporate such changes and alterations as the Board shall require (acting reasonably).

Once any draft Business Plan prepared or revised by the Investment Manager is in a form acceptable to, and approved in writing by, the Board it shall become the Business Plan for the year in question.

While the Investment Manager Agreement provides for annual Business Plans to be prepared each year, the Company's current Business Plan covers five years and is updated and reviewed by the Board on an ongoing basis rather than annually.

Updating the Business Plan

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager may from time to time, as and when it considers necessary, advise the Board of any proposals that it may wish to make for amending the Business Plan and discuss the proposals with the Board with a view to incorporating the proposals within the Business Plan. These proposals may include significant steps such as selling the Company's properties, redevelopment, significant changes of user and/or financing proposals. For the avoidance of doubt, however, discretion and the final decision as to whether to accept these recommendations or advice shall always remain with the Board.

In addition, upon request by the Company, the Investment Manager shall update the Business Plan at any time as a result of any event or circumstance that might have a material effect on the Company.

Discontinuation

If the shareholders of the Company pass a resolution at or following the fifth anniversary of the Investment Manager Agreement requiring the Board and/or the Company to discontinue the Investment Strategy for the Company described in this Prospectus and any amendments thereto published in accordance with the applicable Spanish securities market regulations, the Investment Manager shall, at the request of the Board, assist the Company's financial advisers to carry out a strategic review to consider alternative options for the Company (including, without limitation, a sale or merger of the business or liquidation of the Company's assets and return of capital) in order to deliver value and liquidity to the Company's shareholders.

Reporting and Record Keeping Obligations of the Investment Manager

Accounts and Reports

Pursuant to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager shall prepare and deliver to the Company a report within 90 Madrid business days of the end of each quarter ending on 31 March, 30 June, 30 September or 31 December (each of them, a "Quarter"), or such other period as may be agreed in writing by the Company and the Investment Manager, containing the following information for the immediately preceding Quarter: (a) financial information: statement of financial position, profit and loss account, sources and uses of funds and cash flow analysis; (b) Business Plan follow up: level of fulfilment on key metrics and forecast and potential adjustments based on up to date real data; (c) commercial highlights: leasing activity, focusing on main leases signed, cancelled, or negotiations in place; capital expenditure, focusing on main investments and forecasted capital expenditure; and summary of evolution of each asset (improving conditions, traffic, etc.); (d) investments: forecasted investments/divestitures, state of on-going negotiations; (e) financing activities: update forecast and special focus on key metrics such as loan-to-value ratio, debt coverage ratio, interest coverage ratio, main covenants, etc.; and (f) legal issues that relate to the portfolio, including any material litigation in respect of any significant property.

The report prepared following the Quarter ending 31 December shall also contain the annual business plan in respect of each of the Company's properties, and the proposed annual budget.

The Investment Manager shall, prior to the commencement of each accounting period, present an annual operating budget to the Company for the expected costs of operating the Company for approval in writing by the Board. As soon as reasonably practicable following each Quarter, the Investment Manager shall deliver to the Company a report on actual operating expenditure against the approved operating expenditure budget with updated operating costs projections for the remainder of the accounting period. Actual and potential cost overruns against budget shall be explained by the Investment Manager.

The Investment Manager shall additionally provide to the Company all such reports and information in relation to the Company's business and/or the Company which the Company may reasonably require including, without limitation (i) information required in connection to compliance with the applicable Spanish securities market regulations, including periodical reports and significant information announcements (Hechos Relevantes) to be filed with the CNMV, and (ii) reports and information to be provided to shareholders of the Company.

Consultation and Quarterly Meetings

The Investment Manager and the Company must consult each other at regular intervals (at mutually convenient times and periods) to consider whether any other information should be prepared and delivered to the Company.

The Investment Manager shall be available to meet with the Company (if requested) on a quarterly basis or at such other times required by the Board in order to comply with its obligations to review the reports referred to under "Reports and Accounts" above and to discuss any issues arising from them and to review performance against the Business Plan and to consider whether it is necessary to amend the Business Plan in light of such performance.

Record Keeping

The Investment Manager shall, in respect of each of the Company's properties:

- (i) in conjunction with the managing agents (if any) prepare, maintain and keep up to date, in accordance with good estate management practice:
 - (a) estate management records including: (1) books and records of all transactions and other business activities and operations conducted by the Investment Managers pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement; (2)

- evidence of compliance of the real estate property with any applicable laws;
- (3) copies of all insurance contracts (or cover notes if the insurance contracts are not available), endorsements and receipts for premiums; and (4) copies of all relevant VAT records and in particular (but not limited to) rent demands in the form of VAT invoices for the Company and VAT invoices from third parties; and
- (b) a schedule of all critical dates (including renewal dates) in respect of the leases.
- (ii) act upon, or have a managing agent act on its behalf upon, such notices as it shall receive in relation to the Company's properties, including notices relating to the fire certificates, maintenance contracts, planning consents, building regulation approvals and such other notices as it shall receive from any tenant or occupier under any lease or from any third party; and
- (iii) to the extent not maintained by the managing agent (if any), maintain or procure the maintenance of all accounting records in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Spain (or other jurisdiction, if relevant).

Records

All registers, records, accounts or contracts relating to the Investment Manager's asset management of the Company's properties together with all supporting invoices, correspondence and documentation will, unless otherwise directed by the Company, be kept safely in the Investment Manager's office (or at the offices of the lawyers appointed on behalf of the Company) and will (or relevant extracts will) be available at all times upon giving reasonable notice to the Investment Manager by the Company for inspection, audit and copying by the Company (which the Company shall be entitled to do at any time and from time to time).

Term of the Investment Manager Agreement and Termination

The Investment Manager Agreement is subject to an initial term of five years from the date on which the Company's ordinary shares were initially admitted to trading on the Spanish Stock Exchanges (i.e. 5 March 2014) and, with effect from the expiry of the five-year period, it shall continue thereafter for consecutive three-year renewal periods until terminated by either party giving not less than six months' prior notice in writing by 30 June of the relevant year to the other party terminating the agreement.

The Investment Manager Agreement shall terminate automatically on the earliest of:

- (i) the date of completion of a sale by the Company of its interests in all of its properties following the passage of a resolution of the Company's general shareholders' meeting to cease the business and operations of the Company;
- (ii) the introduction of or change in any law which has the effect of making unlawful or materially preventing the provision by the Investment Manager of the services under the Investment Manager Agreement to the Company;
- (iii) the date on which the Investment Manager fails or ceases to have all required regulatory authorisations, licences and/or approvals, provided that the Investment Manager has agreed to use all reasonable endeavours to be authorised as an AIFM (as defined herein) pursuant to the AIFMD (as defined herein) and, notwithstanding any other provision in the Investment Manager Agreement, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Investment Manager seeking such authorisation shall be for the account of the Investment Manager; and
- (iv) such other date as may be agreed in writing between the parties.

Additionally, a party thereto may terminate the Investment Manager Agreement at any time upon notice in writing to the other party if (a) the other party is wound-up or suffers a winding up event, an insolvency or court protection event; or (b) the other party is in breach of a material term thereof (including non-payment of fees due to the Investment Manager, in which case the Investment Manager shall be entitled not only to terminate the Investment Manager Agreement, but also to receive from the Company (i) a compensation for losses and damages (daños y perjuicios) incurred, (ii) in the case where it is agreed or determined that cash amounts are due and payable to the Investment Manager, the payment of default interest equivalent to 2% monthly accruing on a daily basis calculated on any such cash amount due to the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement, provided that no such default interest shall arise in the case where the Company has cash settled the amount so agreed or determined within the three month period commencing on the date that such amounts are determined as due provided further that in the case where payment is made outside of said three month period such default interest shall be payable from the referred due date, and (iii) in the case where it is agreed or determined that there has been delay in payment of any Performance Fee to the Investment Manager in breach of the Investment Manager Agreement, the Company shall procure that the Investment Manager is restored to the position it would have been in had the Performance Fee been paid and the Performance Fee Shares subscribed for in accordance with the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement in the absence of such delay, and such breach, if capable of remedy, has not been remedied to the reasonable satisfaction of the non-defaulting party, within 30 days of the defaulting party being notified of such breach.

The parties to the Investment Manager Agreement have expressly agreed that the Investment Manager shall be entitled to receive pro rata the Performance Fee corresponding to the relevant period of the year during which the termination of the agreement takes place, if any. Therefore, should the Investment Manager Agreement be terminated, the Company (and/or the Company's new investment manager), would be obliged to adhere to practices that allow calculation of the Performance Fee to be paid to Grupo Lar at the end of the year in which the agreement is terminated. This would imply conducting a year-end EPRA NAV calculation (which will require a valuation of the Company's real estate assets by a RICS certified appraiser) and assessing the Performance Fee calculations assuming that due performance fees in respect of such period should be equal to those that would have been payable under the agreement had it not been terminated (and disregarding any management fees payable to any replacement investment manager) and then determining the pro rata allocation of such calculated amount that is due to the Investment Manager in light of the relevant period during the year in which the termination has taken place. If the parties do not reach an agreement on the amount of the Performance Fee, they shall negotiate in good faith to resolve the dispute, provided that if the parties do not reach an agreement on the items in dispute within five Madrid business days (or such longer period as they may agree in writing), the Performance Fee payable shall be determined by an independent expert by reference to the audited financial statements of the Company and the valuation made by a RICS accredited appraiser in respect of the relevant year, following the approval by the Board of such accounts and the delivery by the auditors of an unqualified audit opinion in respect of such financial statements.

Upon termination of the Investment Manager Agreement the Company is required to effect a change of name so as to exclude the word "Lar" from its name and the Investment Manager is obliged to procure the resignation or removal of its nominee member(s) of the Board. During the transition period between any termination of the Investment Manager Agreement and the appointment of a replacement investment manager, the Investment Manager is required to co-operate with the Company to ensure the orderly transition to the new investment manager subject to the Investment Manager being paid the Base Fee during such period.

Indemnities

Investment Manager indemnity

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Company shall indemnify the Investment Manager, its directors, officers and employees against any and all liabilities, and properly incurred costs or expenses (excluding consequential or indirect loss or damage) incurred by the Investment Manager in the performance of its obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement or arising from any claim which is made against the Investment Manager in its capacity as the investment manager of the Company (provided that such liabilities, costs or expenses do not relate to a matter in respect of which the Investment Manager has not acted in good faith), provided that the Investment

Manager shall not be indemnified to the extent that such liabilities, costs or expenses have arisen as a result of the Investment Manager acting outside the scope of its authority (other than with the written consent of the Company) under the Investment Manager Agreement, or as a result of its fraud, negligence, wilful default or breach in the performance of its obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement.

Company indemnity

The Investment Manager Agreement sets forth that the Investment Manager shall indemnify the Company, its Directors, officers and (if any) employees against any liabilities and properly incurred costs or expenses (excluding consequential or indirect loss or damage) arising as a result of the Investment Manager's fraud, negligence, wilful default or breach by the Investment Manager in the course of its appointment, or in the performance of its obligations, under the Investment Manager Agreement.

Additionally, the Company is required to notify the Investment Manager of any claim in respect of which the Investment Manager will be required to indemnify the Company and to keep the Investment Manager advised of all developments concerning such claim.

The Investment Manager may require the Company to take reasonable steps in the defence of any claim or, if it is reasonable for it to do so, assign any rights which it may have against a third party, where such rights may be contractually subrogated or assigned. The Company is also required, to the extent reasonably practicable to do so, to consult in good faith with the Investment Manager prior to admitting, settling or compromising any claim for which the Investment Manager is required to indemnify the Company and also to consult in good faith with the Investment Manager as to the conduct of any proceedings relating to any claim.

If the Company has made a bona fide claim against the Investment Manager in respect of a breach of the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement and such claim has been settled or resolved in writing or determined in favour of the Company by a court prior to the settlement of the Investment Manager's liability (if any) to the Company in respect of such claim, then in respect any Performance Fee Shares which are issued to the Investment Manager and which remain, at the date on which the claim is settled or resolved, subject to a lock-up period, that lock-up period shall expire at the end of the relevant lock-up period or, if later, the date on which the Investment Manager pays to the Company the full amount of the claim.

The above conduct of claim procedure shall also be applicable, mutatis mutandis, if the Company is to indemnify the Investment Manager pursuant to the terms described in "Investment Manager indemnity" above.

Insurance

According to the Investment Manager Agreement, the Investment Manager is required to maintain at its own cost appropriate professional indemnity insurance in an aggregate amount of not less than €35 million covering potential claims under the Investment Manager Agreement until two years after the date of its termination.

Dispute resolution

If any dispute or difference shall arise between the Investment Manager and the Company in relation to any fees or certain expenses that may be payable to the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement, such dispute or difference may, on written notice given by either party at any time and served on the other, be referred to and be determined by an independent person who shall have been qualified in respect of the general subject matter of the dispute or difference for not less than ten years and who shall be a specialist in relation to such subject matter. The independent expert shall be appointed by agreement between the both parties of the Investment Manager Agreement. If within ten Madrid business days after service of the notice the parties have been unable to agree, the dispute shall be subject to governing law and jurisdiction set forth below.

The costs of appointing the independent expert shall be shared between both parties to the dispute in such proportions as the independent expert shall determine or, in the absence of such determination, equally between the parties to the agreement.

The courts of the city of Madrid (Spain) have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any dispute arising out of or in connection with the Investment Manager Agreement.

18.11.2 Underwriting Agreement

On 6 July 2016 the Company entered into an English law Underwriting Agreement with respect to the New Ordinary Shares with the Managers and the Investment Manager.

To the extent the New Ordinary Shares are not fully subscribed for during the preferential subscription period and the additional allocation period and subject to the terms set forth in the Underwriting Agreement, the Managers have agreed to procure subscribers and, failing which, to subscribe for any New Ordinary Shares not otherwise subscribed.

Further details of the Underwriting Agreement are set out in section 3 of Part XV (“The Offering”).

18.11.3 Audit Services

Deloitte, registered in the Official Registry of Accounting Auditors (Registro Oficial de Auditores de Cuentas) under number S-0692, is providing audit services to the Company and its subsidiaries. The Company’s audited consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with IFRS-EU.

The audit fees charged by Deloitte are negotiated annually and are set forth in Deloitte’s annual engagement letter.

18.11.4 Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement

Pursuant to the subscription agreement entered into between the Company, the Investment Manager and the Anchor Investor on 12 February 2014 (the “Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement”), the Anchor Investor agreed to subscribe for an aggregate of 5,000,000 Ordinary Shares in the context of the Company’s initial public offering.

The terms of the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement include an undertaking from the Anchor Investor to the Company pursuant to which the Anchor Investor shall take all steps within its control to ensure that any Ordinary Shares subscribed by it shall be held by such number of entities of the Anchor Investor Group such that neither the Anchor Investor nor any single entity of the Anchor Investor Group shall at any time become a Substantial Shareholder.

Pursuant to the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, so long as an Anchor Investor Agreement Termination Event has not occurred, the Company, the Anchor Investor and the Investment Manager have the rights and obligations summarised below.

Anchor Investor’s right of first offer with respect to certain Commercial Property Investments undertaken by the Company

If the Company seeks or intends to seek equity capital from one or more third parties in connection with any investment in Spain (either directly or indirectly via an equity investment) in office properties, retail properties, shopping centres, retail parks and high street retail, and other selected commercial real estate properties, for example industrial properties but excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, any debt or other credit based investments with respect to the foregoing (hereinafter, a “Commercial Property Investment”) under consideration by the Company (each, a “Commercial Property Co-Investment Opportunity”), the Company shall in good faith provide the Anchor Investor or any entity in the Anchor Investor Group named by the Anchor Investor (any of them, an “Anchor Investor Entity”) with a right of first offer to participate together with the Company in any such investment, except in certain cases where the Commercial Property Co-Investment Opportunity is offered by a third party investor to the Company. In connection with each applicable Commercial

Property Co-Investment Opportunity (i) the Company shall offer to the Anchor Investor Entity the full stake in the relevant Commercial Property Investment for which the Company is seeking a co-investor and (ii) the Anchor Investor Entity shall have the right to participate in the stake offered to it by the Company (but not less than such stake) in the relevant Commercial Property Investment.

A Commercial Property Co-Investment Opportunity (including involving a joint venture) offered by a third party investor to the Company (directly or indirectly through the Investment Manager) shall not trigger any first offer or co-investment rights for an Anchor Investor Entity if the Company believes in good faith that undertaking the investment with such third party investor would provide it with a clear competitive advantage in respect of that investment. However, in such case, the Company shall request the relevant third party investor to permit that participation in the Commercial Property Investment be offered to the Anchor Investor Entity and, if such investor consents to the Company's request, the Company shall procure that the relevant third party investor offers such participation in the Commercial Property Investment to the Anchor Investor Entity. If the third party investor does not consent to the Company's request that participation in the Commercial Property Investment be offered to the Anchor Investor Entity, the Company shall be free to participate in the investment and the Anchor Investor Entity shall have no first offer or co-investment rights in connection with such investment.

Anchor Investor's right of first offer with respect to certain Residential Property Investments undertaken by the Investment Manager

Subject to certain exceptions relating to Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunities (as defined below) relating to purchases from SAREB or offered by a third party investor to the Investment Manager, the Investment Manager shall in good faith provide the Anchor Investor Entity with a right of first offer to participate together with the Investment Manager in any investment (either directly or indirectly via an equity investment) in first-home residential properties across Spain, excluding (i) investments in second-home residential properties, or (ii) any debt or other credit based investments with respect to any first-home residential properties across Spain (hereinafter, a “Residential Property Investment”) undertaken by the Investment Manager (each, a “Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity”).

In connection with each Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity (i) the Investment Manager shall offer to the Anchor Investor Entity the stake in such investment that would have remained available to the Investment Manager (and not to third parties) after deducting (a) any stake in such investment that the Company accepts from the Investment Manager and which is offered to it pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, and (b) any stake in such investment that the Investment Manager chooses to retain for itself; and (ii) the Anchor Investor Entity shall have the right to participate in the stake offered to it by the Investment Manager (but not less than such stake) in the relevant Residential Property Investment.

According to the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, in any situation where a conflict of interest exists or may exist, regarding any Residential Property Co-Investment Opportunity between the Company and the Anchor Investor Entity based on their relationships with the Investment Manager pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement and the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement, respectively, or otherwise, the relationship between the Company and the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager's obligations under the Investment Manager Agreement shall prevail over the relationship between the Anchor Investor Entity and the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager's obligations under the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement. Therefore, the Company's first offer or co-investment rights in connection with any investment in Residential Property under the Investment Manager Agreement may override any first offer or co-investment rights of the Anchor Investor Entity under the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement.

The Anchor Investor has agreed not to compete, directly or through any member of the Anchor Investor Group, with the Company or the Investment Manager in competitive processes (including offerings for sale or tenure through an expression of interest, public lot draws, public auctions, requests for offers to purchase or requests for proposals) in respect of Commercial Property

Investments and Residential Property Investments in Spain, but rather partner with the Company and the Investment Manager, as applicable, subject to certain exceptions if the Anchor Investor believes in good faith that a co-investment with the Company or the Investment Manager is impossible or inadvisable.

In addition, the Anchor Investor has agreed to provide the Investment Manager with a right of first offer to participate together with the Anchor Investor or an Anchor Investor Entity in any co-investment opportunity in respect of any Commercial Property Investment or Residential Property Investment (in each case only where management services of the type set out in the Investment Manager Agreement are expected to be provided in relation to such opportunity) which is being considered by the Anchor Investor Group in Spain (each, an “Anchor Investor Co-Investment Opportunity”).

The Anchor Investor acknowledged and agreed that the Investment Manager may be required to offer all or part of the participation in any such Anchor Investor Co-Investment Opportunity to the Company pursuant to the terms of the Investment Manager Agreement, in which case the Company shall also have the right to participate in such investment opportunity in accordance with the terms of the Anchor Investor Subscription Agreement. In connection with each Anchor Investor Co-Investment Opportunity, the Anchor Investor shall offer to the Investment Manager the stake in respect of which it is seeking a co-investor, subject to certain exceptions if the Anchor Investor believes in good faith that a co-investment with the Investment Manager or the Company (if applicable) is not possible. There is no requirement that any co-investment opportunity offered by the Anchor Investor to the Investment Manager will be consistent with the Investment Strategy of the Company.

Payment of certain fees by Anchor Investor to Investment Manager

The Anchor Investor has agreed to pay a base fee and a performance fee to the Investment Manager for any services rendered by the Investment Manager in respect of any investment in which the Anchor Investor co-invests with the Company or the Investment Manager. The base fee will be agreed on a case by case basis, at market terms. Except with respect to certain investments, the performance fee will, to the furthest extent applicable, have the same economic terms and structure as the Performance Fee to be received by the Investment Manager under the Investment Manager Agreement. However, in the case of an investment which meets certain specified criteria (relating to its risk profile), the Anchor Investor and the Investment Manager will negotiate in good faith the performance fee relating to such investment.

2 SCOPE OF INSTRUCTIONS

- 2.1 We have considered the properties as set out in above, which we understand are held by the Company or its subsidiaries. We have based our analysis on the floor areas supplied to us by the Company, which we assume to be correct.
- 2.2 We are instructed to prepare this valuation for the purpose of being incorporated as part of the prospectus to be filed with the Spanish Securities Market Commission (Comisión Nacional del Mercado de Valores) (the "CNMV") in the context of the Offering, and that the investors will rely on the information in the Prospectus in making their decision as to whether or not to invest in Lar España.
- 2.3 The effective date of the valuation is at 30 June 2016. Notwithstanding the above, we are of the opinion that the Market value of the properties has not materially changed from 30 June 2016 to 7 July 2016.
- 2.4 Our report has been prepared in accordance with the RICS Valuation - Professional Standards, as amended ("the Red Book"). We confirm that we are a Valuer acting as an external Valuer, as defined within the "Red Book". Furthermore, we confirm that the Valuer conforms to the stipulated requirements.
- 2.5 We confirm that we have sufficient knowledge, skills and understanding to undertake the valuation competently.

3 BASIS OF VALUATION

- 3.1 It is our understanding that you require us to report in accordance with the Red Book. In the absence of instructions to the contrary, the valuation has been prepared on the basis as set out subsequently. The basis of valuation of properties classified as investments is Market Value. Valuations based on Market Value shall adopt the definition and the conceptual framework settled by the International Valuation Standards Council (IVSC), defined in the Red Book as follows:

MARKET VALUE

"The estimated amount for which an asset or liability should exchange on the valuation date between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm's length transaction after proper marketing wherein the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion."

- 3.2 We value a 100% interest in all of the properties including those assets held by Lar España on a joint ownership basis, namely Juan Bravo 3 – Lagasca 99, held 50% by Lar España. We assume that there are no ownership, title, management or voting right issues that might materially impact on the value of the ownership held by Lar España notwithstanding the fact that our valuation is on the basis of a sale of 100% of the assets (see also footnote to table in 13.1).

- 3.3 All of the properties in the portfolio are held as income producing investments with the exception of the residential development project at Juan Bravo 3 – Lagasca 99, Madrid and the shopping centre development project in Sevilla. In the case of Cardenal Marcelo Spinola 42, there is limited rental income in the short term owing to the need for comprehensive refurbishment of this office building, however it is a property which we classify as an investment.
- 3.4 The Juan Bravo property, an asset held in the course of development, is subject to license modification approval for Phases I and II of the construction works. License approval to demolish the basement floors was granted in February 2016. For the purpose of this valuation, we assume the license for Phase I to be forthcoming in the coming weeks in accordance with the Company's expectations. We have not been provided with any data by the Company that would lead us to conclude that this license will not be forthcoming or subject to unreasonable delay.
- 3.5 The Cardenal Marcelo Spinola property is a refurbishment project where our analysis takes account of funds that have so far been spent on the property as at the valuation date. We have been informed by the Company that €5,400,000 have been spent as at 30 June 2016 and hence our opinion of value reflects this.
- 3.6 The Palmas Altas property, an asset under development (in planning phase) is subject to the modification of the detail study ("Estudio de Detalle") whereby the building volume and placement within the plot may change prior to obtaining the building licence.

The project is also subject to the transfer of 12,000 sqm. of building rights from another plot located within the same Plot Sector.

For the purpose of this valuation and in accordance to the information received from the Company, we have assumed:

- a) final approval of the detail study to be granted in the coming months,
- b) planning license approval to build 60,000 sqm. to be obtained by January 2017,
- c) final approval for the transfer of 12,000 sqm. of building rights to be obtained by November 2017, and
- d) modification of the licence to allow the construction of a total of 72,000 sqm. to be obtained by February 2018,

We have not been provided with any data by the Company that would lead us to conclude that these licenses and planning approvals will not be forthcoming or subject to unreasonable delay.

4 ASSUMPTIONS, DEPARTURES AND RESERVATIONS

- 4.1 We can confirm that our valuation is not made on the basis of any specific departures from the Practice Statements contained in the Red Book save for those assumptions and Special Assumptions referred to above in Section 3.
- 4.2 We have prepared our valuation on the basis of the agreed instructions.
- 4.3 We have made no Special Assumptions and our valuation is not subject to any special instructions, nor departures from the Red Book.
- 4.4 The Glossary within the Red Book defines a Special Assumption as an assumption that assumes facts that differ from the actual facts existing as at the valuation date.
- 4.5 You should note that if the Special Assumptions above were not adopted there could be a material difference in value.

RESERVATION

Our valuation has been based upon full disclosure of all required information with the exception of certain points referred to above in Section 3. We refer you to Section 10 below, concerning the extent of our inspections.

5 TENURE AND TENANCIES

- 5.1 We have not had access to Title Deeds nor read any title documentation or made formal searches on the Properties.
- 5.2 Our valuation has been based on the information which you have supplied to us as to tenure, tenancies and statutory notices. We assume that such data provided is accurate, particularly that relating to percentage ownerships, referred to in Paragraph 3.2 above.
- 5.3 Unless disclosed to us to the contrary and stated in our report, our valuation is on the basis that:
- a) each property possesses a good and marketable title, free from any unusually onerous restrictions, covenants or other encumbrances;
 - b) in respect of leasehold properties, there are no unreasonable or unusual clauses which would affect value and no unusual restrictions or conditions governing the assignment or disposal of the interest;
 - c) the properties valued exclude mineral rights, if any; and
 - d) vacant possession can be given of all accommodation which is un-let, or occupied either by the Company or by its employees on service occupancies.

6 TOWN PLANNING

- 6.1 We have not made formal searches and have relied on informal enquiries and any information received from the Company (see paragraph 11.1 below) in relation to town planning.
- 6.2 In the absence of information to the contrary, our valuation is on the basis that the properties are not affected by proposals for road widening or Compulsory Purchase.
- 6.3 Our valuation is on the basis that the properties have been erected either prior to planning control or in accordance with a valid planning permission and are being occupied and used without any breach. Unless advised to the contrary we further assume that the properties comply with other regulations, such as those relating to defective premises (edificios en "Estado de Ruina") or disabled access issues.
- 6.4 From our enquiries, and on the basis of information supplied to us, we are unaware of any additional value that may be attributable to the properties in relation to un-utilised building rights. In the event that this assumption is incorrect, we would recommend that you facilitate further information to us in order that we can review such detail and assess if it has a material effect on our opinions of value.
- 6.5 In paragraphs 3.4 and 3.6 above we comment upon license/planning issues in respect of the Juan Bravo and Palmas Altas properties respectively.

7 STRUCTURE

- 7.1 We have neither carried out a structural survey of the properties, nor tested any services or other plant or machinery. We are therefore unable to give any opinion on the condition of the structure and services. However, our valuation takes into account any information supplied to us and any defects noted during our inspection. Otherwise, our valuation is on the basis that there are no latent defects, wants of repair or other matters which would materially affect our valuations. We would point out that, as we have not undertaken any technical survey of the properties under the scope of this instruction, we cannot comment on what technical degree the assets would comply with current regulatory requirements for an ongoing operator in terms of obtaining new licenses.

7.2 We have not inspected those parts of the properties that are covered, unexposed or inaccessible and our valuation is on the basis that they are in good repair and condition.

7.3 We have not investigated the presence or absence of High Alumina Cement, Calcium Chloride, Asbestos and other deleterious materials. In the absence of information to the contrary, our valuation is on the basis that no hazardous or suspect materials and techniques have been used in the construction of the properties. You may wish to arrange for investigations to be carried out to verify this.

8 SITE AND CONTAMINATION

8.1 We have not investigated ground conditions/ stability and, unless advised to the contrary, our valuation is on the basis that all buildings have been constructed, having appropriate regard to existing ground conditions.

8.2 We have not carried out any investigations or tests, nor been supplied with any information from you or from any relevant expert that determines the presence or otherwise of pollution or contaminative substances in the subject or any other land (including any ground water). Accordingly, our valuation has been prepared on the basis that there are no such matters that would materially affect our valuation. Should this basis be unacceptable to you or should you wish to verify that this basis is correct, you should have appropriate investigations made and refer the results to us so that we can review our valuation.

8.3 In respect of any high voltage electrical supply equipment close to the properties, the possible effects of electromagnetic fields have been the subject of media coverage. Studies have revealed that there may be a risk, in specified circumstances, to the health of certain categories of people. The perception of this risk may affect the marketability and value of property close to such equipment. Unless noted to the contrary we have neither noted nor been advised of equipment close to the properties and therefore our valuation assumes that there is no material effect on value.

9 PLANT AND MACHINERY

9.1 In respect of the properties, usual landlord's fixtures such as lifts, air conditioning and central heating have been treated as an integral part of the buildings and are included within the assets valued.

9.2 Process related plant/machinery and fixtures/trade fittings have been excluded from our valuation.

10 INSPECTIONS

10.1 Our valuation advice is based upon our inspection of the portfolio undertaken in the last 12 months.

10.2 In accordance with normal market practice in Spain, we have not measured the site or floor areas of the properties and, for the purpose of this valuation, we have relied on site areas and floor areas as provided to us by the Company. We understand these areas represent the effective Gross Lettable Area (GLA) of each property (constructed areas including ancillary covered floor areas).

11 GENERAL PRINCIPLES

11.1 Our valuation is based on the information which the Company has supplied to us or which we have obtained from our enquiries. We have relied on this being correct and complete and on there being no undisclosed matters which would affect our valuation.

11.2 Our valuation of the properties is not subject to any Special Assumptions, except for those referred to in Section 3 above.

11.3 No allowances have been made for any expenses of realisation or any taxation liability arising from a sale or development of the properties.

- 11.4 No account has been taken of any leases granted between subsidiaries of the Company, and no allowance has been made for the existence of a mortgage, or similar financial encumbrance on or over the properties.
- 11.5 Our valuation is exclusive of any Value Added Tax (Impuesto sobre Valor Añadido) although, in relation to transfer taxes, we have prepared our valuation on the basis that a sale of the properties would incur IVA and not Impuesto sobre Transmision Patrimonial (ITP).
- 11.6 A purchaser of the properties is likely to obtain further advice or verification relating to certain matters referred to above before proceeding with a purchase. You should therefore note the conditions on which this valuation has been prepared.
- 11.7 The valuation of The Properties has been undertaken by Mr. R J Cardiff, MRICS and Mr. Anthony Loughran MRICS.
- 11.8 Where grants have been received, no allowance has been made in our valuation for any requirement to repay the grant in the event of a sale of the properties.
- 11.9 Our valuation does not make allowance either for the cost of transferring sale proceeds outside of Spain or elsewhere within the Company, or for any restrictions on doing so.
- 11.10 Our valuation approach has been supported by a cashflow analysis, incorporating projections of future income and expenditure, which are not predictions of the future, but our best estimate of current market thinking on likely future cashflow. These estimates constitute our judgement as at the date of this report and may be subject to change in the future, hence we make no warranty to representation that these projections of cashflow will materialize.
- 11.11 A valuation is a prediction of price, not a guarantee. By necessity it requires the valuer to make subjective judgements that, even if logical and appropriate, may differ from those made by a purchaser, or another valuer.
- 11.12 The purpose of the valuation does not alter the approach to the valuation.
- 11.13 Property values can change substantially, even over short periods of time, and so our opinion of value could differ significantly if the date of valuation was to change. If you wish to rely on our valuation as being valid on any other date you should consult us first.
- 11.14 We strongly recommend that the properties not be sold without proper exposure to the market.
- 11.15 You should not rely on this report unless any reference to tenure, tenancies, and legal title has been verified as correct by your legal advisers.
- 11.16 We have no current conflict of interest in respect of the properties or any party connected with them, hence there is nothing that has prevented us from accepting this instruction.
- 11.17 This Valuation Report should be read in conjunction with our terms of engagement and in particular our Standard Terms and Conditions of Appointment of Cushman & Wakefield as Valuers and the General Valuation Principles, previously supplied to you, a further copy of which is attached within the Appendix I to this report.

11.18 Valuation of Development Properties

It is practically impossible to value most development properties on a straightforward comparison basis, due to their highly individual characteristics. We have therefore used the residual valuation approach. This approach assumes the property's capital value equates to the end value of the property once developed, less the costs of realization (which may include site assembly and purchase, demolition, build costs, professional fees, planning, finance, marketing costs and developer's profit).

To form an opinion of value we have had to make certain assumptions for the input variables. We consider these assumptions are appropriate and reasonable, but they cannot be guaranteed. You should therefore satisfy yourself that our assumptions are appropriate and consistent with your own knowledge of the actual costs and input variables. If there is any difference, you should inform us as the value reported is only valid within the context of the assumptions that we have adopted.

You should also be aware that the residual value is highly sensitive to even small movements in the input variables. Accordingly, the result must be treated with caution, as a small correction to even a single input could have a disproportionately adverse effect on the outcome.

12 DISCLOSURE

- 12.1 The valuation was prepared by Mr. Anthony Loughran MRICS and reviewed by Mr. Reno Cardiff MRICS.
- 12.2 Cushman & Wakefield, from time to time, provides other professional or agency services to the client and has done so over the beginning of the Lar España's business after its initial public offering last year.
- 12.3 In relation to the preceding financial year of Cushman & Wakefield, the proportion of the total fees payable by the client to the total fee income of the firm is less than 5%.
- 12.4 We would confirm that no potential conflict of interest has been identified in relation to this instruction.

13 VALUATION

- 13.1 Subject to the foregoing, in particular our Basis of Value set out in Section 3 above, and based on values current as at 30 June 2016, we are of the opinion that the Market Value of the interests in the properties, which we understand in all cases to be freehold, amounts to:

ASSET	MARKET VALUE AS AT 30 JUNE 2016	PASSING RENT AS AT 30 JUNE 2016
Portal de la Marina	€91,500,000	€ 5,980,775

- 13.2 The opinion stated above totaling €638,295,000 represents the aggregate of the values attributable to the individual properties and should not be regarded as an opinion of value of the portfolio as a whole in the context of a sale as a single lot.

14 CONFIDENTIALITY AND RESPONSIBILITY

- 14.1 Our valuation is for the specific purpose stated. We will not accept responsibility to any third party in respect of its contents other than the shareholders and investors that will rely on the information in the Prospectus in making their decision as to whether or not to invest in Lar España.
- 14.2 To the fullest extent permitted by the law (including any mandatory responsibility arising from the listing rules of any stock exchange) we do not assume any responsibility to and we hereby exclude all liability arising from use of and/or reliance on this report by any person or persons other than those parties to whom this report is addressed.

Any person who contravenes this provision shall be responsible for all of the consequences of the same, including indemnifying Cushman & Wakefield against all consequences of the contravention. APPENDIX I GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF VALUATION

1. PRELIMINARY

- 1.1 These general valuation principles (the "Valuation Principles") shall apply to all valuation instructions, other than agency services and other forms of professional services (to which separate terms will apply), provided by Cushman & Wakefield Spain Limited, Sucursal en España and having its registered office at Edificio Beatriz, José Ortega y Gasset, 29 – 6ª Planta, 28006 Madrid, Spain ("C&W", "we" or "us") to the client to whom an instruction confirmation letter (the "Letter") is sent ("you"). They shall apply separately to each service subsequently provided to you.
- 1.2 The Valuation Principles are to be read in conjunction with the relevant Letter and the Terms of Business attached thereto. In the event of any ambiguity or conflict between the relevant Letter, the Terms of Business and these Valuation Principles, the provisions in the relevant Letter shall prevail. These Valuation Principles may only be varied in writing by agreement between the parties. It is our practice to review and upgrade our Valuation Principles frequently and new versions will be sent to you and agreed with you.

2. VALUATION BASES

- 2.1 Unless we have said otherwise within the Letter, the date of valuation will be the date of our report.
- 2.2 Unless we have said otherwise in the relevant Letter, the valuation will be prepared in accordance with the RICS Valuation Professional Standards current at the date of the Letter (the "Red Book") by valuers conforming to its requirements, acting as external valuer.
- 2.3 Each property will be valued on a basis appropriate to the purpose of the valuation, in accordance with the Red Book. The basis of valuation that we will adopt for each property is specified in the relevant Letter. The definitions are as follows:

(i) Market Value

Market Value is "the estimated amount for which an asset or liability should exchange on the valuation date between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm's length transaction after proper marketing and where the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion".

(ii) Market Rent

Market Rent is "the estimated amount for which a property would be leased on the valuation date between a willing lessor and a willing lessee on appropriate lease terms in an arm's length transaction after proper marketing wherein the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion".

(iii) Existing Use Value

Existing Use Value is "the estimated amount for which an asset should exchange on the valuation date between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm's-length transaction after proper marketing and where the parties had acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion, assuming that the buyer is granted vacant possession of all parts of the asset required by the business, and disregarding potential alternative uses and any other characteristics of the asset that would cause its Market Value to differ from that needed to replace the remaining service potential at least cost".

(iv) Fair Value

The Red Book contains two alternative definitions for Fair Value as follows:

1. The definition adopted by the International Valuation Standards Committee (IVSC): "the estimated price for the transfer of an asset or liability between identified knowledgeable and willing parties that reflects the respective interest of those parties".
2. The definition adopted by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB): "the price that would be received to sell an asset, or paid to transfer a liability, in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date".

Unless we have said otherwise within the Letter, we will adopt the IASB definition of Fair Value.

2.4 When assessing either Existing Use Value, Fair Value or Market Value for balance sheet purposes, we will not include directly attributable acquisition or disposal costs in our valuation. Where you have asked us to reflect costs (as required under FRS15), they will be stated separately.

2.5 In the case of specialised properties (where valuation methods such as market comparison or an income (profits) test cannot be reliably applied), we may use Depreciated Replacement Cost ("DRC") as a method of estimating Value. The valuation using this method of a property in the private sector will include a statement that it is subject to the adequate profitability of the business, paying due regard to the value of the total assets employed. If the property is in the public sector, the valuation will include a statement that it is subject to the prospect and viability of the continued occupation and use. Any writing down of a valuation derived solely from the DRC method to reflect the profitability/viability of the entity in occupation is a matter for the occupier. If the valuation is being undertaken for inclusion in accounts prepared under International Financial Reporting Standards, our report will contain a statement that because of the specialised nature of the property, the value is estimated using a DRC method and is not based on the evidence of sales of similar assets in the market. If we consider that the value of the asset would be materially lower if the business ceased, the report will contain a statement to this effect.

3. GENERAL VALUATION ASSUMPTIONS

3.1 Unless otherwise agreed, we will provide the Services in relation to any property on the following assumptions:

- (i) the property and any existing buildings are free from any defect whatsoever;
- (ii) all buildings have been constructed having appropriate regard to existing ground conditions or that these would have no unusual effect on building costs, property values or viability of any development or existing buildings;
- (iii) all the building services (such as lifts, electrical, gas, plumbing, heating, drainage and air conditioning installations and security systems) and property services (such as incoming mains, waste, drains, utility supplies, etc) are in good working order without any defect whatsoever;
- (iv) roads and sewers serving the property have been adopted and that the property has all necessary rights of access over common estate roads, paths, corridors and stairways and to use common parking areas, loading areas and other facilities;
- (v) there are no environmental matters (including but not limited to actual or potential land, air or water contamination, or by asbestos or any other harmful or hazardous substance) that would affect the property, any development or any existing buildings on the property in respect of which the Services are provided or any adjoining property, and that we shall not be responsible for any investigations into the existence of the same and that you are responsible for making such investigations;

- (vi) any building, the building services and the property services comply with all applicable current regulations (including fire and health and safety regulations);
- (vii) the property and any existing building comply with all planning and building regulations, have the benefit of appropriate planning consents or other statutory authorisation for the current use and no adverse planning conditions or restrictions apply (which includes, but is not limited to, threat of or actual compulsory purchase order);
- (viii) appropriate insurance cover is, and will continue to be, available on commercially acceptable terms for any building incorporating types of construction or materials which may pose an increased fire or health and safety risk, or where there may be an increased risk of terrorism, flooding or a rising water table;
- (ix) items of plant and machinery that usually comprise part of the property on an assumed sale are included in the property but items of plant and machinery that are associated with the process being carried on in the property or tenants trade fixtures and fittings are excluded from the property;
- (x) in reflecting the development potential of any property, that all structures will be completed using good quality materials and first class workmanship;
- (xi) any occupational leases are on full repairing and insuring terms, with no unusually onerous provisions or covenants that would affect value;
- (xii) in respect of any lease renewals or rent reviews, all notices have been served validly within any time limits;
- (xiii) vacant possession can be given of all accommodation which is unlet or occupied by the entity/borrower or its employees on service tenancies; and
- (xiv) any mineral rights are excluded from the property.

4. VALUATION ASSUMPTIONS FOR PROPERTY VALUED HAVING REGARD TO TRADING POTENTIAL

- 4.1 Unless we have agreed otherwise, for trading related property (such as hotels, marinas and self storage properties where the property is trading and is expected to continue, we will value on the basis and assumption of a fully equipped operational entity, having regard to trading potential.
- 4.2 Where we are instructed to value a property having regard to its trading potential, we will take account of any trading information that either the operator has supplied to us or that we have obtained from our own enquiries. We will rely on this information being correct and complete and on there being no undisclosed matters that could affect our valuation. The valuation will be based on our opinion as to future trading potential and the level of fair maintainable turnover and fair maintainable operating profit likely to be achieved by a reasonably efficient operator.
- 4.3 Unless we have said otherwise in the relevant Letter:
 - (i) the valuation will be made on the basis that each property will be sold as a whole including all fixtures, fittings, furnishings, equipment, stock and goodwill required to continue trading;

- (ii) we will assume that the new owner will normally engage the existing staff and the new management will have the benefit of existing and future bookings or occupational agreements (which may be an important feature of the continuing operation), together with all existing statutory consents, operational permits and licences;
- (iii) we will assume that all assets and equipment are fully owned by the operator and are not subject to separate finance leases or charges;
- (iv) we will exclude any consumable items, stock in trade and working capital; and
- (v) we will assume that all goodwill for the properties is tied to the land and buildings and does not represent personal goodwill to the operator.

5. STRUCTURE

- 5.1 We will not carry out a structural survey of any property nor will we test services. Further, no inspection will be made of the woodwork and other parts of the structures which are covered, unexposed or inaccessible. In the absence of information to the contrary, the valuation will be on the basis that the property is free from defect. However, the value will reflect the apparent general state of repair of the property noted during inspection, but we do not give any warranty as to the condition of the structure, foundations, soil and services. Our report should not be taken or interpreted as giving any opinion or warranty as to the structural condition or state of repair of the property, nor should such an opinion be implied.
- 5.2 If we give the age of a building in our report, this will be an estimate and for guidance only.

6. MEASUREMENTS

- 6.1 Where we are required to measure a property we will generally do so in accordance with the latest edition of the RICS Code of Measuring Practice. However, you should specifically note that the floor areas contained in any report we may publish are approximate and if measured by us will be within a 3% tolerance either way. In cases where the configuration of the floor plate is unusually irregular or is obstructed, this tolerance may be exceeded.
- 6.2 We will not be able to measure areas that we are unable to access. In these cases we may estimate floor areas from plans or by extrapolation. Where we are required to measure land or site areas, the areas will be approximate and will be measured from plans supplied or from Ordnance Survey plans. They will not be physically checked on site.
- 6.3 The areas we report will be appropriate for the valuation purpose, but should not be relied upon for any other purpose.

7. PLANNING AND STATUTORY REGULATIONS

- 7.1 Unless specifically instructed in writing to make formal searches with local planning authorities, we shall rely in the provision of our Services on the information provided informally by the local planning authority or its officers. We recommend that your lawyers be instructed to confirm the planning position relating to the property and review our comments on planning in the light of their findings.

- 7.2 We may consider the possibility of alternative uses being permitted. Unless otherwise notified by you in writing, we shall assume that the property and any existing buildings comply with all planning and building regulations existing uses have the benefit of appropriate planning consent or other statutory authorisation, and that no adverse planning conditions or restrictions apply.
8. VALUATION EXCLUSIONS
- 8.1 We will not inspect title deeds and we will therefore rely on the information supplied as being correct and complete. In the absence of information to the contrary, we will assume the absence of unusually onerous restrictions, covenants or other encumbrances and that the property has a good and marketable title. Where supplied with legal documentation, we will consider it but we will not take responsibility for the legal interpretation of it. Unless agreed we will not obtain information from The Land Registry.
- 8.2 You should confirm to us in writing if you require us to read leases and if so, provide all the relevant documentation within a reasonable time for consideration bearing in mind the date for receipt of our report. You should not rely upon our interpretation of the leases without first obtaining the advice of your lawyers.
- 8.3 We will take into account any information that you provide concerning any tenants' improvements. Otherwise, if the extent of tenants' alterations or improvements cannot be confirmed, we will assume that the property was let with all alterations and improvements evident during our inspection (or, in the case of valuation without inspection, as described within the information that you provide).
- 8.4 Our valuation will take into account potential purchasers' likely opinion of the financial strength of tenants. However, we will not undertake any detailed investigations on the covenant strength of the tenants. Unless informed to the contrary by you, we will assume that there are no significant arrears and that the tenants are able to meet their obligations under their leases or agreements.
- 8.5 Any plans we provide to you indicating the site of a property are for identification only. We will rely on our inspection and information that you provide in outlining the extent of each property, but you should not rely upon our plans to define boundaries.
- 8.6 Where comparable evidence information is included in our report, this information is often based upon our oral enquiries and its accuracy cannot always be assured, or may be subject to undertakings as to confidentiality. However, such information would only be referred to where we had reason to believe its general accuracy or where it was in accordance with expectation. In addition, we have not inspected comparable properties.
- 8.7 For a recently completed development property, we will not take account of any retentions or outstanding development costs. For a property in the course of development, we will reflect your advice on the stage of construction, the costs already incurred and those still to be spent at the date of valuation, and will have regard to any contractual liabilities.
- 8.8 We will not make any allowance in our Services for the existence of any mortgage or other financial encumbrance on or over the property nor take account of any leases between subsidiaries.
- 8.9 Any valuation figures provided will be exclusive of VAT whether or not the building has been elected.
- 8.10 We will not make any allowance in any valuation advice provided for the expenses of realisation or any taxation liability arising from the sale or development of the property.

- 8.11 Unless we have said otherwise in the Letter, each property will be valued individually; in the case of a portfolio, we will assume that the properties would be marketed in an orderly way and not placed on the market at the same time.
- 8.12 The components of our valuation calculations (such as future rental values, cost allowances, or void periods) may only be appropriate as part of the valuation calculation. They should not be taken as a forecast or prediction of a future outcome. You should not rely on any component of the valuation calculation for any other purpose.
- 8.13 We will value in the local currency. If we are to report to you in another currency, unless we have agreed otherwise we will adopt a conversion rate equivalent to the closing rate ("spot rate") on the valuation date.
- 8.14 Our valuation does not make allowance either for the cost of transferring sale proceeds to another state, or for any restrictions on doing so.
- 8.15 A reinstatement assessment for insurance purposes is a specialist service and can only be given by a building surveyor or other person with sufficient current experience of replacement costs. In instances where we are instructed to provide an indication of current reinstatement costs for insurance purposes, this will be given solely as a guide without warranty. The property will not be inspected by a building surveyor or qualified building cost estimator. Our informal assessment will be based upon an estimate of local prices from our general knowledge in undertaking residual analysis. This assumes total demolition and identical reconstruction in materials presently available and using modern building techniques. We will assume that the relevant authorities will issue any consents necessary without delay (including Listed Building Consent where applicable) to enable total demolition and identical reconstruction in materials presently available and using modern building techniques. We will make no allowance for the unavailability of materials, or for any abnormal site conditions that could not be overcome in the design of the structural elements of the building. (Please note that this approach may not be suitable for Listed Buildings, for which you should obtain specialist advice.) You should not rely on our informal assessment as the basis for insurance cover.

9. REGULATED PURPOSE VALUATIONS AND MONITORING

- 9.1 In circumstances where a valuation, although provided for a client, may also be of use to third parties, for instance the shareholders in a company (otherwise defined as a "Regulated Purpose Valuation" in the Red Book), we are required to state our policy on the rotation of the surveyor who prepares the valuation and the quality control procedures that are in place.
- 9.2 Irrespective of the purpose of the valuation, we will select the most appropriate surveyor for the valuation having regard to his/her expertise and the possible perception that independence and objectivity could be compromised where a valuer has held the responsibility for a particular client for a number of years. This may result in us rotating the surveyor responsible for repeat valuations for the same client although we will not do so without prior discussion with the client.
- 9.3 For all Regulated Purpose Valuations we are required by the Red Book to state all of the following in our report:
- (i) the length of time the valuer continuously has been the signatory to valuations provided to you for the same purpose as the report, together with the length of time we have continuously been carrying out that valuation instruction for you;
 - (ii) the extent and duration of the relationship between you and us;
 - (iii) in relation to our preceding financial year the proportion of the total fees, if any, payable by you to our total fee income expressed as one of the following:
 - less than 5%; or

- if more than 5%, an indication of the proportion within a range of 5 percentage points;
- (iv) where, since the end of the last financial year, it is anticipated that there will be a material increase in the proportion of the fees payable, or likely to be payable, we shall include a further statement to that effect in addition to (iii) above.

9.4 The valuation may be subject to monitoring under the RICS's conduct and disciplinary regulations.

We have assumed that where consent from a statutory authority is required for development/alterations to a property, such consent has been obtained for any existing buildings or structures.

Valuation Date:

30th June 2016.

Notwithstanding, we are of the opinion that the market value of the properties has not materially changed from 30th June 2016 to 7th July 2016.

UK Referendum:

Following the Referendum held on 23 June 2016 concerning the UK's membership of the EU, a decision was taken to exit. It is not clear to what extent other EU markets will be affected by this decision. We will be monitoring the markets closely and recommend that the valuation reported is kept under regular review.

Purpose of Valuation:

We understand that the valuation report is prepared for the use of Lar España Real Estate Socimi, S.A. for its inclusion as part of the prospectus to be filed with the Spanish Securities Market Commission (Comisión Nacional del Mercado de Valores) in the context of the Offering and that the investors will rely on the information in the Prospectus in making their decision as to whether or not to invest in Lar España Real Estate Socimi, S.A.

Inspection:

The properties were inspected externally and internally by Teresa Martínez (MRICS), Rocío Valverde (MRICS) and Lucía Aguirre (MRICS).

Personnel:

We confirm that the personnel responsible for these valuations are qualified for the purpose of the valuation in accordance with the RICS Appraisal and Valuation Standards.

Status:

In preparing this valuation we have acted as external valuers, subject to any disclosures made to you.

Disclosure:

We have not had any recent involvement in these properties.

Taxation:

No allowance has been made of any expenses of realisation, or for taxation (including VAT) which might arise in the event of disposal and the properties have been considered free and clear of all mortgages or other charges.

The values presented are net after deducting purchaser's costs such as real estate transfer tax and other expenses.

Source of Information:

We have relied upon the information provided by Lar España Real Estate Socimi, S.A. regarding to areas, rent roll, lease agreements, car park spaces, passing rents, sales, etc.

Our valuation is based on a significant amount of information which is sourced from third parties. We have relied upon the accuracy, sufficiency and consistency of the information supplied to us. JLL accepts no liability for any inaccuracies contained in the information disclosed by the client or other parties. Should inaccuracies be subsequently discovered, we reserve the right to amend our valuation assessment.

Finance:

In our analysis we assume that a reasonable level of financing will be available at commercially viable rates in order to facilitate the closure of transactions.

General assumptions:

The report has been made with the following general assumptions and limiting conditions:

- As in all studies of this type, the estimated results are based upon competent and efficient management and presume no significant changes in the economic environment from that as set forth in this report. Since our forecasts are based on estimates and assumptions which are subject to uncertainty and variation, we do not represent them as results which will actually be achieved.
- Responsible ownership and competent property management are assumed.
- The information furnished by others is believed to be reliable, but no warranty is given for its accuracy.
- It is assumed that there are no hidden or unapparent conditions of the properties, subsoil or structures.
- It is assumed that the properties will be in full compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local environmental regulations and laws unless the lack of compliance is stated, described, and considered in the report.
- It is assumed that the properties will conform to all applicable zoning and use regulations and restrictions.

Potential Transaction:

This report is not a Due Diligence report and we would expect that any purchaser would complete a full Due Diligence prior to closing any transaction (commercial, legal, technical, planning, environmental, etc.). A potential purchaser would not rely on this report to close a transaction, as the purpose of this report is not to support such a transaction.

Basis of Valuation:

The valuation has been undertaken on the basis of Market Value as defined by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.

Market Value - The estimated amount for which an asset or liability should exchange on the valuation date between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm's length transaction after proper marketing and where the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion".

This definition, which is included in the appendices of this report, is not materially different to that adopted by both TEGOVA (The European Group of Valuers Associations) and the IVSC (The International Valuation Standards Committee).

The valuation has been carried out in accordance with the Practice Statement and the relevant Guidance Notes in the RICS Appraisals and Valuations Manual prepared by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors and with the General Principles adopted in the Preparation of Valuations and Reports. We enclose a copy as an appendix to this report.

Valuation Methodology:

The valuation of the properties has been based on our experience and knowledge of the property markets and supported by financial analysis which establishes that an acceptable return would be achievable to the potential investor/developer. We have also taken into account comparable market transactions, which serve to indicate the general posture of investors in the market. For the purpose of arriving at our opinion of Market Value we have adopted the following method according to the type of property to be valued:

Discounted Cashflow Technique (DCF)

DCF methodology has been used for the valuation of Albacenter, L'Anec Blau and El Rosal Shopping Centres; Media Markt, El Alisal and Vistahermosa Retail Parks.

We have adopted a 10 year cashflow period. The income flow is developed over the period of the cashflow on a monthly basis to take account of CPI increases and the timing of market rent reviews, lease expiries etc.

For CPI increases we generally adopt consensus forecasts. Rental growth forecasts are based on JLL econometric forecasts of prime rents in Madrid, adjusted for each individual property to reflect our commercial view of rental growth prospects.

We make adjustments to the gross projected income flows as appropriate to reflect:-

- Any non- recoverable outgoings such as IBI if appropriate
- Service charge shortfalls.

- An allowance for management fees if not recoverable.
- An allowance for structural repairs, normally around 1% of income.
- Void costs – including:
 - Service charge costs.
 - IBI costs if appropriate.
 - Letting/Reletting/Renewal fees.
 - Refurbishment costs if appropriate.

Due to the uncertainty of the occurrence or duration of future voids, we form a judgement based on the quality of the shopping centres and location and generally adopt an average letting period in the absence of any information on the future intentions of individual tenants. Specific assumptions as to voids and other factors are explained for each individual valuation.

Residual Method

Residual Method has been used for the valuation of the Plot of Land located on Sagunto, where a retail project is being developed.

This technique takes as a starting point the value of the completed and let development, or final sales value, depending on whether the property comprises an office development or residential/retail project, from which is deducted all costs of development including urbanisation costs, construction costs, demolition costs, professional fees, licence fees, marketing costs, finance costs, developer's profit etc. to arrive at the price a developer could afford to pay for the site.

The method is therefore appropriate for the analysis of the approach of an investor – developer to sites of these characteristics. We therefore consider that the project would be undertaken on the most profitable basis possible in accordance with the anticipated future market demand, and in accordance with the relevant planning and building legislation in order to obtain the highest possible rents achievable in the market taking into account the location and limitations of the general area.

Income Capitalisation Approach

Income Capitalisation Approach has been used for the valuation of Alovera II, Arturo Soria 336, Edificio Egeo and Joan Miró 21.

This is the traditional method of valuing investment properties. The market value is derived by capitalising the estimated net income from the property on a term and reversion basis.

It involves the capitalisation of the present income over the period of its duration together with the valuation of each subsequent different rent likely to be received following market rent reviews or following reletting for their separate estimated durations, each discounted to a present value.

The yield or yields applied to the different income categories reflect all the prospects and risks attached to the income flow and the investment. The yields are derived from a combination of analysis of completed comparable investment transactions and general experience and market knowledge. The most important yield is the equivalent yield (see definitions below), although regard must be had to the yield profile of the investment over time, particularly the initial yield at the date of the valuation.

2 Appendix

Appendix 1: General Principles Adopted in the Preparation of Valuations and Reports

2.1 General Principles adopted in the preparation of Valuations and reports

These General Principles should be read in conjunction with JLL's General Terms and Conditions of Business except insofar as this may be in conflict with other contractual arrangements.

1 RICS Valuation – Professional Standards January 2014

All work is carried out in accordance with the Practice Statements contained in the RICS Valuation Standards January 2014 published by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors, by valuers who conform to the requirements thereof. Our valuations may be subject to monitoring by the RICS.

2 Valuation Basis:

Our reports state the purpose of the valuation and, unless otherwise noted, the basis of valuation is as defined in the Valuation Standards January 2014. The full definition of the basis, which we have adopted, is either set out in our report or appended to these General Principles.

3 Disposal Costs Taxation and Other Liabilities:

No allowances are made for any expenses of realisation, or for taxation, which might arise in the event of a disposal. All property is considered as if free and clear of all mortgages or other charges, which may be secured thereon.

No allowance is made for the possible impact of potential legislation which is under consideration.

We do not normally read leases or documents of title. We assume, unless informed to the contrary, that each property has a good and marketable title, that all documentation is satisfactorily drawn and that there are no encumbrances, restrictions, easements or other outgoings of an onerous nature, which would have a material effect on the value of the interest under consideration, nor material litigation pending. Where we have been provided with documentation we recommend that reliance should not be placed on our interpretation without verification by your lawyers.

5 Tenants:

Although we reflect our general understanding of a tenant's status in our valuations, enquiries as to the financial standing of actual or prospective tenants are not normally made unless specifically requested. Where properties are valued with the benefit of lettings, it is therefore assumed, unless we are informed otherwise, that the tenants are capable of meeting their financial obligations under the lease and that there are no arrears of rent or undisclosed breaches of covenant.

6 Measurements:

All measurement is carried out in accordance with the Code of Measuring Practice issued by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors, except where we specifically state that we have relied on another source. The areas adopted are purely for the purpose of assisting us in forming an opinion of capital value. They should not be relied upon for other purposes nor used by other parties without our written authorisation.

7 Estimated Rental Value:

Our opinion of rental value is formed purely for the purposes of assisting in the formation of an opinion of capital value. It does not necessarily represent the amount that might be agreed by negotiation, or determined by an Expert, Arbitrator or Court, at rent review or lease renewal.

8 Town Planning and Other Statutory Regulations:

Information on town planning is, wherever possible, obtained either verbally from local planning authority officers or publicly available electronic or other sources. It is obtained purely to assist us in forming an opinion of capital value and should not be relied upon for other purposes. If reliance is required we recommend that verification be obtained from lawyers that:-

- i the position is correctly stated in our report;
- ii the property is not adversely affected by any other decisions made, or conditions prescribed, by public authorities;
- iii that there are no outstanding statutory notices.

Our valuations are prepared on the basis that the premises (and any works thereto) comply with all relevant statutory and EC regulations, including fire regulations, access and use by disabled persons and control and remedial measures for asbestos in the workplace.

9 Structural Surveys:

Unless expressly instructed, we do not carry out a structural survey, nor do we test the services and we therefore do not give any assurance that any property is free from defect. We seek to reflect in our valuations any readily apparent defects or items of disrepair, which we note during our inspection, or costs of repair which are brought to our attention. Unless stated otherwise in our reports we assume any tenants are fully responsible for the repair of their demise either directly or through a service charge.

10 Deleterious Materials:

We do not normally carry out investigations on site to ascertain whether any building was constructed or altered using deleterious materials or techniques (including, by way of example high alumina cement concrete, woodwool as permanent shuttering, calcium chloride or asbestos). Unless we are otherwise informed, our valuations are on the basis that no such materials or techniques have been used.

11 Site Conditions:

We do not normally carry out investigations on site in order to determine the suitability of ground conditions and services for the purposes for which they are, or are intended to be, put; nor do we undertake archaeological, ecological or environmental surveys. Unless we are otherwise informed, our valuations are on the basis that these aspects are satisfactory and that, where development is contemplated, no extraordinary expenses, delays or restrictions will be incurred during the construction period due to these matters.

12 Environmental Contamination:

Unless expressly instructed, we do not carry out site surveys or environmental assessments, or investigate historical records, to establish whether any land or premises are, or have been, contaminated. Therefore, unless advised to the contrary, our valuations are carried out on the basis that properties are not affected by environmental contamination. However, should our site inspection and further reasonable enquiries during the preparation of the valuation lead us to believe that the land is likely to be contaminated we will discuss our concerns with you.

13 Insurance:

Unless expressly advised to the contrary we assume that appropriate cover is and will continue to be available on commercially acceptable terms, for example in regard to the following:

Composite Panels

Insurance cover, for buildings incorporating certain types of composite panel may only be available subject to limitation, for additional premium, or unavailable. Information as to the type of panel used is not normally available. Accordingly, our opinions of value make no allowance for the risk that insurance cover for any property may not be available, or may only be available on onerous terms.

Terrorism

Our valuations have been made on the basis that the properties are insured against risks of loss or damage including damage caused by acts of Terrorism as defined by the 2000 Terrorism Act. We have assumed that the insurer, with whom cover has been placed, is reinsured by the Government backed insurer, Pool Reinsurance Company Limited.

Flood and Rising Water Table

Our valuations have been made on the assumption that the properties are insured against damage by flood and rising water table. Unless stated to the contrary our opinions of value make no allowance for the risk that insurance cover for any property may not be available, or may only be available on onerous terms.

14 Outstanding Debts:

In the case of property where construction works are in hand, or have recently been completed, we do not normally make allowance for any liability already incurred, but not yet discharged, in respect of completed works, or obligations in favour of contractors, subcontractors or any members of the professional or design team.

15 Confidentiality and Third Party Liability:

Neither the whole, nor any part, nor reference thereto, may be published in any document, statement or circular, nor in any communication with third parties, without our prior written approval of the form and context in which it will appear except for the purpose stated herein.

16 Statement of Valuation Approach:

We are required to make a statement of our valuation approach. In the absence of any particular statements in our report the following provides a generic summary of our approach.

The majority of institutional portfolios comprise income producing properties. We usually value such properties adopting the investment approach where we apply a capitalisation rate, as a multiplier, against the current and, if any, reversionary income streams. Following market practice we construct our valuations adopting hardcore methodology where the reversions are generated from regular short term uplifts of market rent. We would normally apply a term and reversion approach where the next event is one which fundamentally changes the nature of the income or characteristics of the investment. Where there is an actual exposure or a risk thereto of irrecoverable costs, including those of achieving a letting, an allowance is reflected in the valuation.

Vacant buildings, in addition to the above methodology, may also be valued and analysed on a comparison method with other capital value transactions where applicable.

Where land is held for development we adopt the comparison method when there is good evidence, and/or the residual method, particularly on more complex and bespoke proposals.

There are situations in valuations for accounts where we include in our valuation properties which are owner-occupied. These are valued on the basis of existing use value, thereby assuming the premises are vacant and will be required for the continuance of the existing business. Such valuations ignore any higher value that might exist from an alternative use.

B.4a	Descripción de las tendencias recientes más significativas que afecten al emisor y a los sectores en los que ejerce su actividad:	Los efectos que han tenido la crisis de crédito internacional, la crisis de deuda soberana europea y la crisis económica que afecta a España desde el año 2007 sobre el mercado inmobiliario español han sido considerables, dando lugar a una fuerte caída cíclica y a un reajuste estructural de precios de los activos inmobiliarios. Desde los máximos del año 2007, el mercado español de activos inmobiliarios terciarios ha experimentado una fuerte corrección sobre los valores a esa fecha, con caídas en Madrid de aproximadamente un 29,2% en el sector de oficinas, un 42% en locales comerciales y un 43,4% en el sector industrial, todo ello para el período comprendido entre 2007 y el 31 de marzo de 2016 (Fuente: CBRE Q1 2016). El alquiler también ha sufrido un duro ajuste desde el año 2007. El precio medio en alquiler del metro cuadrado de oficinas en Madrid y Barcelona ha disminuido en un 33,1% y en un 25,5% respectivamente, entre 2007 y el primer trimestre de 2016, y un 39,1% y un 10,0% en comercial y logístico, respectivamente (Fuente: CBRE Q1 2016). La actividad en el mercado de operaciones inmobiliarias se ha visto también negativamente afectada, con carácter material, por la recesión económica, lo que ha supuesto una fuerte caída del volumen de inversión en terciario, al pasar de unas cifras de casi 13,6 mil millones de euros en 2007 a aproximadamente 2,9mil millones de euros en 2013, con una recuperación parcial en 2014 (7,8 mil millones de euros) y volúmenes más elevados en 2015 (8,8 mil millones de euros) (Fuente: Real Capital Analytics/ Knight Frank, Marzo 2016). Desde el inicio de la crisis de crédito a mediados de 2007, el número de entidades bancarias dispuestas a financiar la adquisición de inmuebles terciarios en España ha caído sustancialmente y dicha caída, acompañada de un endurecimiento de los criterios para la concesión de nuevos préstamos por parte de las
